

Heartstrings On Fire Chapter 101 - 110

Chapter 101

Recently, Agnes noticed a massive change in Ava's attitude

Ava was always deliberately avoiding her. After coming back to the dorm at night, she would no longer make chit chat, just reading her script alone or going to bed.

Agnes tried to talk to her many times, but Ava always made an excuse to dodge it.

Agnes could tell Ava was acting colder and colder towards her, but she was totally clueless because there was no fight or anything between them.

One afternoon, Agnes walked up to Ava with her lunch box in hand.

Just as she sat down, Ava abruptly got up and switched her seat, making Agnes feel super embarrassed and sad. At least now she knew for sure Ava didn't like her.

Justin sat next to Agnes when she ate alone with her head down...

Justin directly took the food from Agnes' hands and threw it into the trash can next to him. Agnes was dumbfounded, "Justin, what the hell are you doing?"

Justin replied. "Is the crew's food okay to eat? Look how thin you have become?"

Agnes was speechless. He was really not afraid of offending people. The director was right there, he awkwardly looked at his own lunch after hearing Justin's words, not sure whether to eat it or not.

But Justin didn't care, he grabbed Agnes's arm and said, "From now on, you're eating with me. Whatever you want to eat, I have the chef whip it up for you."

Agnes wasn't pleased, but she was dragged away by Justin anyway. She glared at him, and they almost had an argument.

All this was observed by Ava, who was fuming.

Beatrice had been watching from the sidelines. It seemed like her words last time had had some effect. It was time to make the next move.

She walked up to Ava and sat down, saying, "Looks like Justin has a crush on Agnes, Agnes is really a mistress of love."

Ava said. "What do you want to say?" Beatrice said, "Justin's food looks good, but I don't know if there are peanuts in it. Agnes is allergic to peanuts, even a little bit of peanut dust can give her hives all over her body, which won't go away for half a month.*"

Ava frowned, "What are you trying to say?"

Beatrice nonchalantly said. "I'm saying the shooting time for 'The Magical Romance of Cinderella' is only three months, so the schedule is pretty tight. I doubt the director would wait for an actress for half a month. If Agnes has to be replaced because of health issues, you're the most likely replacement. Then you can act with Justin, who knows, maybe because of the scene..."

Before Ava could respond, Beatrice stood up. “It’s always been a shame to me that you didn’t get the role. You’re far prettier and a better actress than Agnes. But there are a lot of unfair things in this industry, who can stay in this industry for a long time?”

Late at night, Agnes suddenly had an asthma attack, Ava was actually still awake.

When she got down from the bed and saw Agnes, she was taken aback.

Agnes was covered in red hives, her whole face was swollen.

What’s worse, Agnes was coughing non-stop, she seemed to be unable to breathe at all.

Chapter 102

“Agnes, what’s up with you?” Ava gently tapped on Agnes’s face

Agnes’s face was burning up, Ava noticed, she was running a high fever

Ava couldn’t help but feel afraid.

Earlier in the day, Beatrice had told her some things, and later at night, she sprinkled some peanut powder on Beatrice’s pillow.

She thought it was just a common allergy, but she didn’t expect it to be this serious, Ava quickly sought help.

Everyone in the crew was startled awake, and Agnes was rushed to the hospital.

Agnes felt her consciousness blurred, dizzy, the world seemed chaotic.

When she opened her eyes again, all she saw were blurry figures, all wearing white doctor’s coats and nurse uniforms, and one silhouette.

She vaguely heard the doctor’s voice, ‘Ms. Pritchard, this is an anaphylactic shock, the allergen causes asthma which leads to shock. Ms. Pritchard’s condition is quite serious and needs to be hospitalized for observation.’

“Thank you, Dr. Porras.”

“Mr. Whitfield, you’re too kind”

Then the doctors and nurses left.

The tall silhouette turned around, and Agnes finally saw that face, it was Jared.

Jared found that Agnes had woken up and immediately came over and asked, “Agnes, how are you feeling, do you need some water?”

Agnes shook her head, “Why are you back?”

Agnes remembered that Jared should be on a business trip to Japan these days, how could he suddenly appear in front of her.

Jared said, “Of course I must come back. You almost didn’t wake up.”

Agnes said, “It’s not that serious. I just had an allergic reaction. These little accidents happen once or twice a year, there’s no danger to my life.”

Hearing Agnes say this, Jared's face immediately turned serious, "Agnes, are you st d? Knowing your allergic reactions are so severe, and still have one or two every year?" Agnes said with a grievance, 'It's not something I can control, who can predict accidents?'"

Agnes knew her severe peanut allergy, it was hereditary

Normally she was very careful when eating, she would avoid anything related to peanuts, but this time she was not sure what happened

Jared said, "I don't think this could be an accident, think hard, have you ever told anyone about your peanut allergy?"

Agnes frowned.

She had never mentioned it, but in the crew, besides her, Beatrice knew.

If it were really done on purpose. Beatrice would definitely not do it herself, Agnes was absolutely sure about this.

Agnes said in a low voice, "Don't always assume the worst in people, maybe it really was just an accident, maybe I accidentally ate some."

Jared said. "This industry is not as simple as you think, I don't understand why you want to act."

Why act? Isn't it just to avoid him?

Agnes didn't feel good about it, she just pulled the blanket over her head, "Don't bother me. I'm going to sleep"

Next, Jared pulled the blanket off again and said, "Apply the medicine before you sleep"

Jared got a box of ointment and said, "This is the medicine prescribed by the doctor, the rash on your body can't go away, you need to apply it three times a day. It has anti-inflammatory and anti-itching effects, take off your clothes first"

Agnes cheeks suddenly turned red. She said, "I can apply it myself, you can go out first."

Jared stood by the bed, staring hard at Agnes, his cold gaze seemed like it could carve out a hole in her body.

Jared said coldly. "Do you take them off yourself, or do I have to help you?"

Agnes couldn't help but feel a bit scared seeing Jared's stone-cold expression.

Chapter 103

But Agnes knew Her body was covered in red mashes, even in her most intimate areas.

She felt a bit embarrassed when Jared applied the medicine for her.

Plus, she always seemed to be butting heads with him.

Agnes turned her face away and said, "You might not necessarily beat me."

She was a fifth-degree black belt in Taekwondo after all.
Even though Jared was taller and bigger than her, he seemed like a gentle giant. If they were to fight, she doubted he would win.
Jared didn't bother arguing with Agnes
He walked over and was about to unbutton Agnes's shirt.
Agnes naturally resisted, but Jared had her pinned to the bed with one swift move.
Agnes had never realized that Jared was quite formidable
Pressed by him like this, Agnes couldn't exert any strength at all. "Let go of me," Agnes shouted
Jared smirked, looking at her struggling beneath him, "You might want to stop showing off. Your skills are all flash and no substance."
She had trained in Taekwondo for over a decade and won countless medals, and he had the audacity to call her skills all flash and no substance?
Agnes felt greatly insulted. She gritted her teeth and turned over. She managed to wriggle free from Jared's grip like a fish.
Quickly, she grabbed Jared by the collar and threw him onto the bed.
In a split second, the tables were turned.
Agnes had Jared pinned down.
To prevent any counterattacks, Agnes pressed her entire body onto him, looking like an octopus sprawled on a man.
A triumphant smile spread across Agnes's face, "How about that? Still think my skills are all flash and no substance?"
Seeing Agnes's rare mischievous expression, Jared laughed, "You seem to have recovered well. With all this energy, why don't we..."
Jared leaned in closer, causing Agnes to blush.
She was familiar with this look from Jared. Her heart was pounding.
As Jared got closer, Agnes's mind went blank. She had completely forgotten what had just happened and their current situation.
Her guard was down, but the warning bells in her head started ringing.
As Jared drew nearer, Agnes instinctively backed away, distancing herself from him.
The next second, Jared pulled Agnes towards him and flipped her onto the bed.
Agnes was once again pinned down by Jared, creating an incredibly intimate atmosphere.
Jared mimicked Agnes's previous move, pressing his entire body onto her.
Agnes was once again unable to move
"What are you trying to do. Jared?" Agnes asked anxiously.
Jared raised an eyebrow, coolly responding with one word, "Do something intimate with you."

It took Agnes a moment to understand what he meant. Her face turned beet red.

This shameless man!

It was a rather crude expression, but the way this man put it made her heart race and lose control.

But Agnes was still a bit rational, she said angrily: “Jared, this is in the hospital!”

To her surprise, Jared raised an eyebrow again, a mischievous smile on his face, “Perfect, I’ve never tried it in a hospital before!”

Chapter 104

Agnes could feel Jared getting closer, his warm breath sweeping past her ear

But Agnes was completely immobilized, all she could do was close her eyes tight, and keep saying, “get away from me, go away, Jared, let go of me!”

Jared was definitely doing it on purpose, just to tease her

But her reaction was so cute, it made him want to tease her even more

However, Jared knew this was not the right time. Agnes was covered in a rash and it would take some time to apply the medicine

Just as Jared was about to get up, the door of the hospital room was suddenly pushed open, and a man appeared in the doorway

He saw everything that was happening and heard Agnes scream.

He froze for a second, and then, like a provoked bull, he rushed over pulled Jared off Agnes, and gave him a strong shove Jared, you beast!”

Agnes was stunned to see Justin suddenly appear.

Justin shielded Agnes behind him and said to Jared, “I didn’t expect the gentleman everyone thought to be so shameless and despicable”

Jared, who had been shoved frowned at the man in front of him. “Who are you and what are you doing here?”

Justin was somewhat in disbelief that there was someone in this world who didn’t recognize him.

He got even angrier, but first he turned to Agnes, “Little princess, this bad guy didn’t do anything to you, did he?”

Agnes sneaked a glance at Jared, sure enough his expression was already very bad.

Seeing Agnes’s blank expression, Justin was even more worried about what kind of stimulation she had received

Justin said, “Little princess, don’t be afraid. Even if he is the youngest CEO of the Tim Group, we will call the police, I am a witness, if he dares to disrespect you, we will discredit him.”

Agnes looked at Justin's serious face, and realized that things seemed to be getting serious.

Agnes wanted to explain, "Justin, it's not what you think "

Justin was still comforting her, "Don't succumb to his threats, no matter what happened, I will help you, tell me the truth."

Seeing Justin so persistent, Agnes simply blurted out, "Justin, he's my husband."

Upon hearing the word "husband", Justin was stunned.

Agnes nervously bit her lip and lowered her head

This was the first time she had publicly acknowledged in front of Jared that he was her husband.

Jared, who had been watching Justin with displeasure, finally had a change in his face.

Jared walked up to Justin, "Justin, do you still want to call the police?"

Justin was at a loss, even though Ivan had said that Agnes was married last time, he was skeptical. After all, he had just heard that she had broken up with her childhood sweetheart, how could she be married so soon.

But, the person in front of him....

Justin's face became serious, "I clearly saw you just now..."

He clearly saw Jared forcing Agnes, with Agnes even screaming for help.

Jared sneered, his voice cold and arrogant, "Since you're not married, you might not understand that this is the way we interact as a couple."Chapter 104

Chapter 105

Justin's face instantly turned unsightly, and there was a hint of embarrassment in his gaze towards Agnes.

Agnes herself was also very embarrassed, feeling very awkward being seen in this situation by someone else.

But in Justin's eyes, this was just the shyness of a young woman. If her husband was Jared...

'Sorry for disturbing I'll go back first, Justin said

Justin turned around and left. As he walked to the door, Agnes called out to him. "be careful on the road"

Agnes didn't know why she called out to him, but she felt that Justin was different from his usual self at the moment, as if he had suffered a major blow

Justin stopped in his tracks, and Agnes didn't know what to say, so she could only say.

"Thank you for coming to see me,

Justin paused for a moment, then left.

The hospital room suddenly became very quiet.

"It seems like you're very disappointed," Jared suddenly said.

Agnes reflexively said. "I'm not. Justin and I have nothing to do with each other."

Agnes didn't know why she was in such a rush to explain, but deep down she was afraid that Jared would misunderstand

Jared's face looked a little better.

He walked over again and said, "Is there anything else? If not, I'll apply the medicine for you."

After such a loss. Agnes was no longer making a fuss, and began to undress.

Jared turned around and walked to the door, locking the room's door

When he walked back to the bed, Agnes had already undressed and was lying face down on the bed.

Her figure was very good, and the curve of her back looked like it had been traced by a brush, but her back was now covered with small red bumps.

Jared sat down beside Agnes and applied the ointment, smoothing it out with his fingers

Agnes was both in pain and itchy all over, but the coldness of the ointment instantly relieved the pain and itching. She closed her eyes and sighed, "Apply more, yes, night there, you can scratch it for me first."

Jared looked at Agnes, lying on the bed like a lazy cat, and now she was no longer shy.

Just a moment ago, he had wanted to apply the medicine for her as if he was trying to kill her.

Jared's face showed a faint smile, gently scratching Agnes's back, which made him feel like he was stroking a cat.

Agnes's skin was very good, as smooth as silk, and when his fingers touched her, he felt like he was carrying an electric current.

Jared lowered his head and planted a kiss on Agnes's back, slowly moving downwards...

Jared felt that his self-control was gradually collapsing, and his breathing became heavy

But Jared found that Agnes had no reaction to his teasing
When he looked at Agnes again, she had fallen asleep comfortably...
Jared was helpless, sighed, and could only continue to apply the medicine for Agnes.
When Agnes woke up again, it was already the next morning, and there was no one else in the room..
She noticed that the red bumps on her body had improved somewhat, and feeling bored,
Agnes got up and took a walk, then turned on the TV.
The morning entertainment news was playing
The news headline was “The Award-winning Actor Justin Drives Late at Night to Take Mysterious Woman to the Hospital, Suspected Secret Love affairs Exposed!”

Chapter 106

The news released a photo taken by a passerby at a hospital and uploaded online.
The photo showed Justin hugged her tightly, his face filled with worry and concern, while she seemed to be in a deep sleep.
The news reports were complicated, nad her identity was also exposed and she was labeled as the “The Princess of Starlight International Group” Justin, being an artist from the Starlight International Group, dating the Grand Princess of the same group seemed reasonable.
So, when the news broke, no one questioned its authenticity.
On the contrary, Justin’s fans couldn’t handle the truth, they were heartbroken, and the forums were buzzing like a beehive
The topic made it to the hot headlines, with fans’ cries echoing everywhere.
Agnes, after reading the news, let out a deep sigh. This was serious trouble.
Just as she turned off the TV, she saw Jared standing behind her, his gaze fixed on the TV.
Agnes jumped with surprise. “When did you get here? You didn’t make a sound!”
Jared said, “Just when the news was talking about you two living together in secret.”
H
Agnes was speechless. This man did it on purpose, knowing that the news was fake, but deliberately teasing her. Agnes rolled her eyes, noticing that it was already nine in the morning
She asked, “Aren’t you going to work today?”
She knew he was always busy and, to her knowledge, Jared never took a day off.
Ignoring her question, Jared simply said, “Come and have breakfast”

Only then did Agnes notice the wooden box in Jared's hands. It looked fancy

A surprised Agnes asked, "Did you make it yourself?"

Jared snorted. "Bought it."

Well, okay then.....

The box contained Agnes's favorite chicken soup.

After a taste, Agnes exaggerated, "Did you apprentice with the chef from this shop? The tastes are exactly the same"

Jared, noticing the smirk on Agnes's face, replied calmly. "Agnes, are you trying to tease me?"

Agnes went back to her porridge, feeling a strange sense of joy.

He obviously made it himself, but he wouldn't admit it.

Agnes ate a lot, but Jared hadn't eaten.

When Agnes looked up, she found Jared's gaze on her face

His deep eyes, coupled with his unbeatable handsome face, were a deadly combination for any woman.

Feeling a bit uncomfortable under his gaze, Agnes asked, "Why aren't you eating?*"

Jared suddenly said, 'My dear wife, let's make it public.'

Agnes choked on the porridge she just put in her mouth.

Jared had never affectionately called her 'dear wife' before. The few times he did were either jokes or leases.

In their marriage, Agnes never felt they were equals.

The seven-year age difference was one thing, but the most important thing was their life experiences.

Jared had reached the peak of his life, while Agnes was just an ordinary person

Most of the time, Agnes felt like she was a junior, a child, a subordinate, or even like a pet in front of Jared.

Therefore, Jared suddenly called her his wife, which made Agnes unable to accept it for a while. Agnes couldn't stop coughing, her eyes watering

Jared, with a serious face, helped Agnes pat her back to ease her coughing.

But her reaction to his suggestion of going public was bigger than he expected

What was he to her? A boyfriend she was ashamed of?

For the first time, Jared felt both angry and defeated.

Chapter 107

Right at this moment, Agnes's phone suddenly rang, and she quickly stood up to answer it

Lucky for her, the call came just in the nick of time, otherwise Agnes really had no idea how she was gonna respond to Jared's question.

Go public?

If she did, it would mean there's no turning back, but Agnes was still on the fence. About Mamie, she still hasn't figured it out. And she was clueless about how Jared really felt about her.

The call was from Director Zoe. After hanging up, Agnes walked back to the dining table.

Jared was still sitting there Agnes took the initiative and said, "Director Zoe said we're having a press conference tomorrow afternoon to announce my leading role in the TV series and clarify my relationship with Justin."

Agnes could tell Jared seemed a bit ticked off.

Was it because she didn't give him a clear answer just now?

Agnes's allergic reactions had improved a lot, only a few red spots remaining on her face, but there were still a bunch on her body.

Based on past experiences, it would probably take about half a month to fully recover

In the afternoon, people from the crew started to arrive in droves, but Justin was a no-show.

Not until the press conference did Agnes see Justin again, but he seemed a bit off.

Up until they were about to go on stage, he didn't say a word to Agnes

Ivan had already given her the speech for the press conference, but Justin was running the show, Agnes just had to sit there and look pretty

The venue was packed, surrounded by reporters from major media outlets. Apparently, Justin's fans also showed up, crowding the outside of the hotel venue.

The press conference went as planned, the crew announced Agnes's identity, and Zoe personally declared Agnes as the leading actress of "the Magical Romance of Cinderella" Justin clarified that his relationship with Agnes was strictly professional Next up was the Q&A session. Most of the questions were prearranged with the media, so there were no curveballs.

The press conference wrapped up quickly. As everyone was about to leave, the conference room door was suddenly flung open.

A girl who looked like a student barged in, without warning, she hurled eggs at Agnes and yelled, "Get out of showbiz, you sneaky climber, get out!"

Nobody had time to react, they could only watch as she lobbed the eggs in Agnes's direction.

Agnes was completely blindsided, she was frozen in place, she even forgot to dodge.

In the critical moment, Justin shielded Agnes with his body, taking the hit from the flying eggs.

Two loud splats were heard

The two eggs splattered on the back of Justin's head, leaving everyone in the room speechless.

After a moment of silence, Justin's agent yelled, "Where's Security?"

Security had already rushed over and quickly dragged the egg-throwing woman out of the room.

As she was being dragged out, she continued to loudly protest, claiming Agnes had climbed her way to the top through illicit means.

Then, camera flashes went on and on

Justin's agent and assistant stood in front, frantically waving their hands and saying, "Stop filming, everyone please stop filming"

Chapter 108

Agnes was momentarily stunned

She noticed that the two eggs that had hit Justin's head didn't break but fell hard onto the table

She reached out and touched them, only to find they were cold

Agnes was shocked, it was basically like being hit with two rocks.

Justin, Justin, are you okay?"

Justin stood up straight, touched the back of his head.

Blood it was blood

Justin was quickly rushed to the hospital where the doctor said his condition was serious, with a slight concussion.

The girl who threw the eggs was reportedly taken to the police station. Investigations showed she was Justin's fan, who couldn't stand Agnes and Justin acting together and acted out in this way

However, what should have been a serious press conference turned into a farce.

In the end, to grab attention, the media focused on the female lead of the new drama being egged and Justin stepping up to protect her.

They came to dispel rumors, but this made it seem more like they were confirming their ambiguous relationship.

Agnes had just completed her discharge procedures, and now Justin had to be hospitalized

In the evening. Ivan also came to see Justin in the hospital

Ivan said, “The director plans to stop work for half a month, you two take a good rest.” Agnes was already very worried, her full body rash needed half a month to heal, so this was just right.

But what Agnes was more worried about was the current media coverage

She sought out Ivan, wanting to clear up this issue again.

Ivan comforted her, “Having a scandal isn’t necessarily a bad thing, it can also increase your popularity, who in the entertainment industry doesn’t have some scandal, true or false, this level of scandal won’t cause too much negative impact, so don’t worry too much.”

Ivan’s words made sense, but Agnes still felt uneasy

She didn’t want people to misunderstand that she and Justin had some special relationship, maybe because she was afraid Jared would be upset.

Ivan looked at Agnes and asked, “Are your allergy symptoms better?”

Agnes nodded, “They’ve improved a bit.”

Ivan asked, ‘Do you want me to look into this for you?’

Agnes quickly understood what Ivan meant.

Before, Jared had also said that this was definitely intentional. In their view, this kind of thing was common and obvious.

Agnes said, “No need. I want to solve this myself.”

Ivan said indifferently. “That’s fine

Agnes quickly returned to her dormitory at Lakeside College.

Because both she and Justin had accidents, filming had to be suspended, and many people from the crew had gone home for a vacation.

But when Agnes returned to her dormitory, Ava hadn’t left.

Ava sat alone at her desk reading the script. When she saw Agnes appear at the door, a complex emotion flashed across her face.

Then she said, “Agnes, you’re back”

Agnes nodded and walked in, then went to her bed, lifted her own pillowcase, as if she was looking for something

Ava was uneasy inside, but there was no expression on her face.

She asked, “Agnes, are you looking for something? Do you need my help?”

Agnes hugged her pillow and asked, “Did you wash my pillowcase for me?”

Ava had indeed helped Agnes wash her pillowcase and duvet cover

After that incident. Ava was very scared. At that time, she had hidden the peanut powder under Agnes’s pillow. To cover up this fact, after Agnes was sent to the hospital, Ava cleaned everything on Agnes bed

Ava denied it, “I dignit, Agnes, what are you talking about?”

Agnes directly refuted. “There’s a clear smell of laundry detergent on the pillow, but it’s not the one I usually use Ava, did you do something to my pillow that made me allergic to peanuts? Is that so?”

Chapter 109

Ava didn’t expect Agnes to be so straightforward. Although she asked, her tone was already affirmative.

Ava hung her head, her voice barely a whisper, “Why suspect me? There are so many people in the crew who are green with envy over you. Why do you suspect me?”

In asking this, Ava had already somewhat admitted her guilt.

Agnes felt a pang of disappointment. She wished Ava would deny it

Agnes said ‘Maybe it’s intuition, You’ve been acting strange lately. And during my hospital stay, you were the only one who didn’t visit’

It took Ava a while to respond, “Yes, I did it I knew you were allergic to peanuts, so I put peanut powder under your pillow”

Ava suddenly looked up. “But I didn’t know it would be so severe. I thought it would just cause some hives and you’d get over it.”

Agnes asked, Beatrice told you about my peanut allergy, didn’t she?”

Ava’s voice dropped even lower, “Yes”

“She must not have told you that inhaling peanut powder could trigger an allergic asthma attack, Agnes said with a disappointment, “I always knew Beatrice had it out for me, but I never thought you’d help her.”

Tears rolled down Ava’s cheeks. “I’m sorry. Agnes I know it’s too late for apologies. I’ll step down from the show. But, considering our old school ties, can we keep this between us? If this gets out, my career in show business is done.”

Agnes was silent for a long time. Ava actually didn’t have hope in her heart.

How could she expect Agnes to keep her a secret if she had caused Agnes to be like this?

After a long time, Agnes finally spoke “Let’s forget about this matter. I’ll treat it as something I ate wrongly” Ava looked up in disbelief, “What did you say? Are you really not going to care about it? But I made you like this.”

Agnes managed a bitter smile, “Driving you out of the show won’t do me any good. At least now, you’ll think twice before trusting Beatrice. I hope you won’t be used by her anymore. And you did rush me to the hospital. That says something about you”

Ava’s eyes welled up with tears. She regretted her actions the moment she saw Agnes struggling to breathe.

“I owe you, Agnes, Ava said sincerely. “Till repay this favor I was blind with jealousy Thanks for forgiving me.”

Agnes was silent for a moment. Then she asked, “Why were you so cold to me? Why did you let Beatrice use you?”

Ava bit her lip, hesitated for a moment, then said, “One night, I saw Justin drop you off. You’d had dinner together, but you told me you ate at the snack street. I thought you were lying Beatrice told me you took this role to get close to Justin.”

Agnes sighed She had already guessed it.

Sure enough, it was because of the trouble caused by Justin.

Chapter 110

Agnes solemnly clarified, “I was indeed with Justin that night, and we did go to the snack street for some barbecue, I didn’t lie to you I just didn’t tell you explicitly, that’s my fault. I was just afraid to upset you. Justin is such a flirt, always teasing me, but my acting career has nothing to do with him. I promise you, there will be no romantic involvement between us in the future.”

Agnes was the one who was wronged, yet she could still explain it this way. Ava felt both ashamed and touched at the same time

Ava said, “Actually, I’ve already figured it out. Justin and I are people from two different worlds. I’ve always looked up to him, but as messed up as I am now, I’m not worthy of his affection Agnes, I won’t do anything s***d anymore, even if you and Justin are together, I will wish you well”

Agnes could only laugh helplessly, “I can’t possibly be with Justin”

Ava seriously said, “But I think Justin really likes you”

Otherwise, she wouldn’t have been so jealous.

Agnes felt like she couldn’t explain it well, ‘Let’s put it this way, Ava. For example, if someone really likes a certain type of food and thinks it’s the most delicious food in the world, it doesn’t mean everyone else likes it, understand?’

Ava was stunned, “But Agnes, Justin is the most handsome man in the world!”

“He’s hot-tempered, stubborn, and pretentious. He’s not good at all.”

“Hey, Agnes, that’s a bit over the top.”

And somehow, they ended up bickering just like they usually did.

“You two really get along well. Agnes, I don’t know whether to call you s***d or dumb, she almost ruined your face, yet you can still joke around with her. People like you really deserve to be bullied.”

A shrill female voice rang out from the doorway. Agnes and Ava looked over, and it was Beatrice standing there.

Ava stood up, “Beatrice, it was you pulling the strings behind the scenes.”

Beatrice walked in, "I have no idea what you're talking about."

Agnes said, "If you really don't know, how did you know she almost ruined my face?"

Beatrice was temporarily speechless.

Agnes said, "Beatrice, I know you're the puppet master behind all this, and I will remember it."

Beatrice burst into laughter, "So what if it was me, what proof do you have? And Agnes, with your weak personality, what could you possibly do to me?"

Agnes smiled, "I might not be able to do anything to you, but what if Justin knew that the egg-thrower at the press conference was arranged by you? What would be the outcome? Considering Justin's personality, wouldn't he have Director Zoe kick you out of the crew? You should know Justin's personality, no one can interfere with his whims. You're just a minor role, while Justin is the sole male lead. If Director Zoe found out you were causing trouble that led to Justin getting hurt and affecting the shooting schedule, would he blacklist you?"

Hearing this, Beatrice's face turned pale, "Agnes, you can't just make things up. It was clearly one of Justin's fans who broke in, what does it have to do with me?"

"You said it was one of Justin's fans, but that person showed no liking for Justin at all. Even after attacking him, she just kept insulting me, not showing any regret. Beatrice, there's no need for you to deny it. That person is still in the police station, and the record is out. She has confessed everything, including that you paid her. Beatrice, would you like to give it a try?"

Beatrice turned pale, she knew that Agnes' return to the set today was inevitably to settle scores with Ava, after all, Agnes was no fool.

She just came to enjoy the show, but didn't expect to be cornered by Agnes instead.
