

Fled With CEO's Twin Babies Chapter 71 - 80

Chapter 71 The Child

“Let go of me!” Ben cried out in alarm. But seeing that Joe was unmoved, he knew that things were not that simple, so he gave up struggling.

Their posture attracted a lot of attention, but Joe ignored them and went straight to the registration desk with Ben between his arms.

“Name.” Joe ignored the nurse’s curious gaze and asked Ben in a low voice.

Ben turned his head and ignored him.

Joe slapped Ben’s butt unceremoniously. “Speak!”

Ben covered his butt, and his eyes turned red. However, looking at the determined gaze of Joe, Ben could only grit his teeth and make up a fake name. “Ryan Shore.”

As soon as he finished speaking, a nurse came from not far away.

When the nurse saw Ben, she asked in surprise, “Ben Clinton? Why are you in the hospital again? Are you allergic?”

Joe’s gaze suddenly fell on Ben’s face.

Ben didn’t expect to meet the nurse who had taken care of him last time. She even recognized him. Finally, he couldn’t help crying.

The nurse who had been suspicious suddenly grabbed the child into her arms and asked, “Who are you? Where are his parents?”

Joe was caught off guard and was taken away. His eyes darkened as he said, “Put the child down.”

Seeing that something was wrong, Jack quickly explained the incident of them meeting the child and showed his work card at Smith Group to the nurse. Only then did the nurse reluctantly believe them.

But she still held Ben and said, “There is information about his parents in our hospital. I will contact them.”

Joe glanced at her coldly. “Why should I believe you?”

Under his gaze, the nurse felt a little uncertain, but she still insisted, “Since we don’t believe each other, why don’t we contact the child’s parents on the spot.””

Joe did not express an opinion. The nurse at the front desk quickly found Charlotte and called her.

“Hello?”

The moment Charlotte’s voice sounded from the speaker of the phone, Joe narrowed his eyes.

Before the nurse could speak, he asked, “Is that Charlotte speaking?”

On the other end of the phone, Charlotte was stunned. She subconsciously glanced at the phone number again. “Joe?”

Knowing that the situation was not good, Ben quickly shook off the nurse’s hand and slipped out of the crowd while the nurse and Joe were focused on the phone.

The nurse turned pale with fright and hurried to chase after him,

Just as Joe was about to give chase, he was suddenly stopped by a slender figure. “Joe, are you here to pick me up from the hospital?”

Joe looked at Wendy in front of him. The miscarriage incident had greatly damaged her vitality and she had lost a lot of weight.

Now she was looking at him expectantly, and the birthmark on Im was very obvious.

After a moment of silence, Joe said to Jack, “Send Miss Swan back. I’ll go find the child.”

After that, he strode away.

Wendy looked at Jack in shock. “Child? What child?”

Jack wailed in his heart, but he showed a perfect smile on his face and explained the matter of the child. “Mr. Smith has a strong sense of responsibility and may feel that the child was brought to the hospital by himself, so he personally went to find him.”

Wendy secretly clenched the belt of her bag and forced a smile. “It doesn’t matter. Take me back first.”

Jack quickly agreed and left the hospital with Wendy.

Chapter 72 A Relative’s Child

When Charlotte arrived, Joe and a nurse were standing on either side of Ben. Ben lowered his head and did not speak.

After all, he was still a child. How could he outrun Joe and the nurse?

He was caught before he could leave the hospital.

“You came at the right time, Miss Clinton. This...” The nurse glanced at Joe awkwardly. She didn’t know what was going on with this man. She had told him that he could leave, but he remained unmoved.

Charlotte clenched her fists tightly, but her face remained indifferent and calm.

“It doesn’t matter, I know him.” Charlotte politely thanked the nurse for taking care and then looked at Ben.

No one knew that when she heard Joe’s voice on the nurse’s phone, her heart skipped a beat and she almost smashed her phone to the ground. She used almost all her strength to barely keep herself calm.

Charlotte rushed all the way to the hospital. When she saw Ben standing next to Joe, her legs went weak.

“Is this your child?” Joe looked at Charlotte with a heavy gaze, with complicated emotions surging in his deep eyes.

“No.”

Before Charlotte could answer, Ben answered first. He ran all the way to her side and held her hand. “I am her relative’s child.”

Joe raised his eyebrows. “Your relative’s child?”

Feeling the strength of Ben holding her hand, Charlotte suddenly became confident. She looked at Joe as usual and asked, “What’s the matter, Mr. Smith?”

Joe looked at her for a long time, and Charlotte looked back at him calmly.

After a while, Joe said coldly, “In that case, I’ve handed over the child to you. Do you need me to send you back?”

As soon as he said that, Charlotte hurriedly refused. “No need. My assistant is waiting for us.”

Unexpectedly, Joe stopped her. “Coincidentally, my car was driven away by Jack. You don’t mind sending me off, do you?”

Chapter 72 A Relative’s Child

He glanced at Ben meaningfully. No matter how unwilling Charlotte was, she could only reluctantly agree.

Frank was stunned when he drove over. Why was Mr. Smith here?

However, Charlotte did not say anything, so he could only pretend that he knew nothing.

When choosing her seat, Charlotte was in a dilemma again.

It was impossible for Ben to sit in the passenger seat, and Joe was even more unwilling to. Charlotte couldn't let Joe and Ben be alone anymore, so she could only squeeze into the back. seat herself as well.

After sitting down awkwardly, Charlotte looked at Joe and asked, "Where is Mr. Smith going? We will send you back first."

"The child has been lost for so long. Don't you want to send him back first?" Joe glanced at Ben, who had become innocent since Charlotte appeared. However, Ben stared at the road ahead without even giving him a glance.

Charlotte said coldly, "No need. The child is living with me now."

As soon as she said that, Joe became more curious, but he didn't show anything.

Then there was silence all the way.

Ben stole a glance at Charlotte with a hint of uneasiness,

He had not expected that his perfectly planned plan would encounter the meeting between his mother and Joe, and cause such a scene.

His mom must be very angry now, right?

But because Joe was present, he did not dare to say much to Charlotte and could only hold it in.

They drove Joe all the way to his villa. Before he could say anything, he saw Wendy standing weakly at the door. “Joe.”

Chapter 73 I Did It All

When Wendy saw that it was Charlotte who had sent Joe back, her expression changed slightly. The more it was like this, the more she had to calm herself down.

Wendy stepped forward with a smile, took the hand of Joe, and said to Charlotte, “What a coincidence! Since you’ve brought Joe back, how about having a meal together? Mrs. Morris happened to have made my favorite chicken soup. You can try it.”

Charlotte was calm when seeing Wendy, she subconsciously glanced at Ben instead.

As expected, his expression was tense. He didn’t even spare Joe a glance.

“No, I still have something to do.” Charlotte held the hand of Ben and made a gesture to Frank, and the car immediately flew away.

Only then did Joe frown and look at Wendy. “Why are you here?”

Wendy lowered her eyes. “I’m scared to be in the apartment alone. Can I stay here?”

Joe frowned slightly, but he did not refuse. “If you want to stay, then stay.”

Wendy was delighted. She didn’t expect it to be so simple!

“Thank you, Joe.” Wendy threw herself at Joe and hugged his arm. “I know you care about me the most.”

Joe let out a casual hum and spoke again, “You can sleep in the guest room.”

Wendy stiffened and looked at Joe in disbelief. “I’ll sleep in the guest room?”

“Do you have a problem with that?” Joe raised an eyebrow.

Of course, Wendy had a problem with that. She had already taken the initiative, but why didn't Joe...

"No." Wendy forced a smile. "Then I want to choose the room. closest to yours."

Joe didn't say anything. He turned around and walked into the villa.

On the other side, Ben was silent for a long time until Frank sent them to the gate of the kindergarten.

Chapter 73 I Did It All

At this time, the principal, Mrs. Fox had gone crazy with anxiety. She asked all the teachers in the kindergarten to look for Ben, but they couldn't believe that he, a living person, had disappeared into thin air.

When she saw Charlotte coming in with Ben from outside the kindergarten, she was stunned.

"Ben Clinton, you..."

Before the principal could continue, Ben took the initiative to stand out and bow deeply to her. "Mrs. Fox, I'm sorry for sneaking out and making you worry!"

The principal was stunned for a long time before she squatted down and said to Ben seriously, "You sneaked out? That's not right. Do you know how many teachers are worried about you and are looking for you? Besides, it's so dangerous outside the kindergarten. What if someone wants to hurt you?"

Ben lowered his head even lower.

At this time, Anna also rushed up and hugged Ben.

"It's great that you're fine!" Looking at the depressed Ben, Anna asked quietly, "What's wrong?"

Ben was silent for a moment, but he said nothing in the end.

Charlotte smiled apologetically at the principal and said, “I’m sorry, Mrs. Fox. I will educate the two children well and make sure that the same thing will never happen again.”

After leaving the kindergarten and returning home, Charlotte looked at them with a frown. “Whose idea was it today?”

Anna lowered her head and took two small steps forward. “It’s me...”

“No, it’s me!” Ben was also anxious. He quickly apologized to Charlotte. “Anna just thought it, I did it all.”

Chapter 74 Do You Want a Father?

When the two children admitted their mistakes together,

Charlotte laughed angrily. “Now you know to take responsibility, but have you ever thought that no matter how smart Ben is, he is just a child? What will he do if he encounters any danger on the way?”

Ben opened his mouth as if to defend himself, but Charlotte continued,

“I know you want to say that you can call the police at any time, but what if the police fail to arrive in time? How can you escape?” Charlotte looked at Ben and Anna seriously and asked.

The two children lowered their heads.

Seeing them like this, Charlotte couldn't help feeling sour. "You... spent so much effort to see him... Do you want..."

Ben and Anna were really anxious this time. They thought that Charlotte was angry with them and was ready to send them away. They quickly rushed over to hug her legs and cried, "Mom, we will not tell anyone that you are our mother, and we will not see him again! Please, don't send us away."

Charlotte was stunned.

At first, she thought that after their last conversation, the two children should have believed her and were no longer worried that they would be sent away. But now she found that they had not forgotten what had happened before. They just hid it inside deeper.

Charlotte was hard to care educating them. She took the two children into her arms and explained seriously, "I am indeed very angry about what happened today, but I am angry that you deliberately concealed it and sneaked out of the kindergarten regardless of your own safety. I criticized you because I hope you can correct your behavior. I will never abandon you."

Looking at their big watery eyes, Charlotte was no longer angry. She touched their hair and asked, "Do you want a father?"

Ben and Anna were shocked. They looked at Charlotte hesitantly, not knowing what she meant.

Charlotte didn't know why she would say such a word, but when she really said it, she realized that this problem had lingered in her mind for a long time.

Thinking of what he had seen at the gate of the villa today, Ben quickly shook his head and said, “No! As long as Mom and we are here.”

M Mustafa khany... posted a video

Although he was encouraged by Anna to see Joe today, he still had some expectations in his heart. However, when he saw the intimacy between Joe and Wendy, the little expectation in his heart was completely extinguished.

Since he had someone else he liked, it was impossible for him to be their father anymore.

Anna did not understand, but she was always used to making decisions with her brother.

Now she naturally shook her head and said, “Yes! We don’t want!”

She hugged the thigh of Charlotte, looked up, and said, “Mom, I just want to see what Dad looks like, not to find that bad man!”

Although Ben had never told her what had happened today, there was always some strange telepathy between the twins.

That meant that the man had made Ben unhappy. She didn’t want such a father.

However, the more sensible and tolerant they were, the more Charlotte felt sorry for them.

For the first time, she seriously thought about the other half. If a father could make the two children happy, it didn't seem so irresistible, did no

Charlotte suddenly thought of David's fore

Chapter 75 The Amusement Park

Early the next morning, David, who came to see the two little guys, also learned that they had sneaked out of the kindergarten. He deliberately sighed exaggeratedly and said, "I've been taking care of you for so long, but I haven't seen you sneak out to see me!"

Seeing that Ben and Anna were getting anxious, he squatted down again and looked at them seriously. He said, "I know you are very smart, but there are some things that adults can do, but not children. What do you want your mom to do if something happened to Ben? When she gave birth to you, it already took half of her life. Now you can't take her other half."

"Got it." Ben and Anna glanced at Charlotte secretly. After making sure that she was no longer angry, they agreed loudly.

Before entering the kindergarten, Charlotte also reminded them, "Yesterday, Mrs. Fox was frightened by you. Remember to apologize to her today."

Ben and Anna nodded obediently.

After they left, David asked Charlotte, "Did Joe find anything?"

Recalling the expression of Joe yesterday, Charlotte shook her head. "I don't think so."

2/4

If he really noticed that something wasn't right, he wouldn't let them leave just like that.

David suddenly turned his head and looked at Charlotte very seriously. "Have you ever thought that the children may need a father? I..."

Before he could finish, Charlotte stopped him. "It's not convenient to talk about it now. Let's talk about it in the evening."

David looked at her in surprise.

In the past, when he mentioned this topic, Charlotte had always avoided and rejected it. But this time, she took the initiative to talk to him.

"Okay, okay, okay! I'm free at any time tonight. I'm absolutely free." After that, he strode away with a smile.

Charlotte looked at his back and felt a little helpless.

At this time, Joe was also thinking about the child he saw yesterday. He felt that something was wrong.

"Joe?"

Wendy had gotten up early to make breakfast for Joe, but when she came out, she saw him sitting at the table, deep in thought.

Only then did Joe come back to his senses. Seeing Wendy's move, he frowned slightly and said, "Where's Mrs. Morris?"

You can ask her to make breakfast. You don't have to do it yourself."

Wendy smiled gently and said, "I'm just a little excited to live with you for the first time. If you don't mind, I can do it..."

"No need." Joe rejected her indifferently. "You can find something you like to do. You don't have to do this."

After saying this, he was slightly stunned and suddenly remembered what Mr. Bush had said when he was in CAL Restaurant that day.

Charlotte had learned cooking for him for three years, but he had never tasted it once.

When he saw Wendy looking aggrieved, he said, "I'll eat it today!"

Wendy immediately turned from sadness to joy. She smiled at Joe and said, "I knew you would feel sorry for me."

Joe fell silent.

Before leaving, Wendy even sent him to the gate of the house thoughtfully and gave him a gentle smile. "I heard that the amusement park has been very lively recently. Can you accompany me for a walk tonight?"

She lowered her head slightly and seemed to be very depressed.

Joe stopped saying no, and he agreed in the end.

Wendy was overjoyed. She leaned over as if she wanted to kiss Joe, but Joe took a step back and straightened his collar. "I'm leaving now."

Before Wendy could react, he had already turned around and left.

As Wendy watched Joe drive away from the villa, her expression turned gloomy.

Chapter 76 Godfather

After arriving at the company, Joe immediately went to find Jack. “Go and investigate the child from yesterday and see what relationship he has with Charlotte.”

Jack nodded in agreement. Just as he was about to leave, he was stopped by Joe. “Find out more about the background of the Clinton Family. Is that child related to them?”

An excellent assistant would never ask the boss why he did this. He would only finish everything quickly. Jack’s gaze swept over the folder in his hand.

In the cafe, Ben and Anna sat beside Charlotte and ate ice cream obediently, but it created a headache for Charlotte.

When these two little ones learned that she was going to meet David, they insisted on coming with her no matter what. She had no choice but to bring the children here.

That was what David saw when he came in with a bunch of roses.

The smile on his face froze for a moment, and then quickly returned to normal. “Why did you follow along?”

“We came specially to see you, David!” Anna said softly, “You promised us to go to the amusement park last time.”

David pinched her nose affectionately and said, “I knew you didn’t come here because you missed me. Now the amusement park is closed...”

“The amusement park is celebrating its anniversary recently. It will open in the evening.” Ben raised his mobile phone so that David could see it clearly.

David had no choice but to say helplessly, “I’m really afraid of you two! Let’s go!”

Charlotte looked at him apologetically, only to see David holding a child in each of his arms and saying with a hearty smile, “We can talk at any time. It’s more important to play with them first.”

It was the first time for the two children to come to the amusement park in Atlanta. As soon as they entered, they excitedly took David and started playing with roller coasters and pirate ships, and other projects. They were full of enthusiasm, but when David came down, his face turned pale.

Charlotte asked with concern, “Are you all right?”

“I’m fine.” David stared fiercely at the Drop Zone not far away. “I’ll show them how powerful I am today!”

After that, he ran forward, picked up the two children, and ran quickly for a while.

Ben and Anna were shocked at first and then burst out laughing.

Charlotte couldn’t help smiling when she saw this scene behind them.

But what she didn’t know was that Joe and Wendy, who were not far away, saw everything clearly.

It took Wendy a lot of effort to persuade Joe to come out for a walk with her. She deliberately said, “Miss White and Mr. Johnson seem to be a family! After our engagement, we will definitely have a few more children. Then, we can go out and play together, alright?”

Joe looked gloomy and did not answer Wendy.

Seeing this, Wendy called out again, “Joe?”

Joe replied perfunctorily and took out his phone to call Jack. “Tell her to show up tomorrow.”

After hanging up the phone, Joe looked at Wendy and said, “You can’t be exposed to the wind as you are weak now. Let’s go back.”

Charlotte did not know about this episode. She stepped forward and wiped the sweat off the two children, “Let’s rest for a while.”

At this moment, Anna suddenly hugged Charlotte and said softly, “If only David is our father...”

Charlotte was shocked and looked at Anna, “Why do you think so?”

“David treats us the best! He always brings us delicious food, teaches us stories, and takes us out to play. I heard from the children in kindergarten that a dad does these things.” Anna counted her little fleshy hands and said, “Mom, will David become our dad?”

Charlotte was speechless. At this time, David came back with Ben, which helped her out.

The two children played all night and fell asleep in the car when they got home.

“..”

Charlotte looked at David, who beamed with smiles, and a trace of guilt flashed in her heart. “I’m sorry, I clearly knew your feelings, but I never gave you a positive answer!”

David shook his head indifferently and said, “I’m willing to do

How can it be your fault? I’ve prepared to wait for a long time.”

Seeing that he was so calm, Charlotte slightly lowered her head.

She did not know if she had made the right decision at this moment, but when she thought of what Anna said, she finally made up her mind.

“I want you to be the godfather of the children, is that okay?” Charlotte looked straight into the eyes of David calmly. “Today, when Anna told me that she wanted a father, I suddenly realized that they really need a father in our life. You have a good relationship with the children, so I want to...”

“I’m crazy to be unwilling.” David glared at her grumpily. “Don’t you know how much I like Ben and Anna? I’m absolutely willing to be their godfather!”

“But...” Charlotte was worried that she didn’t make it clear and wanted to explain again, but she was stopped by David. “I know what you mean. Don’t I have more opportunities to get close to you and pursue you as their godfather?”

Chapter 77 Fiancée

Charlotte nodded blankly. “But I...”

“You don’t have to say more.” David interrupted her again. “I’ll fight anyone who says different!”

Charlotte looked at David with bright eyes, and a deep sense of guilt welled up in her heart.

At this moment, Charlotte felt that she was very despicable. She had no feelings for David, but what she did now undoubtedly gave him hope. Was this really right?

“Miss White?”

Just as Charlotte was about to say something to David, she heard a familiar female voice. Then, she saw Wendy walking over with Joe.

David stopped smiling in an instant. “I didn’t expect to encounter annoying flies when we went out to play. What bad luck!”

“What does Mr. Johnson mean?” Wendy looked embarrassed. “I’m just here to say hello to you. Do you have to say that?”

David sneered and said, "I don't remember our relationship reaching the point where it was necessary to say hello to each.

other. Besides, even if they divorced, it can't cover up the fact that you used to be a mistress. Well, are you proud of being a mistress?"

"You!" Wendy looked around in a panic. As expected, everyone's eyes became strange.

Joe looked at the child on the shoulder of Charlotte with gloomy eyes. "Didn't you say that they are just children of your relatives? They seem to be very close to you."

Ben was sleeping on the shoulder of David obediently, while Charlotte was holding Anna in her arms.

This was the first time Joe had seen Anna.

Her exquisite long eyelashes cast a shadow before her eyes. Even without opening her eyes, Joe could tell how exquisite her facial features were.

With just a glance, his heart inexplicably softened a little.

"Is this his sister?" Joe looked at Charlotte.

Charlotte didn't want to answer, but she was afraid that her attitude would arouse his suspicion, so she could only nod lightly.

Chapter 77 Fiancée

3/4

David interrupted Joe. "Mr. Smith should forget about other people's children. Hurry up and have a baby with Mrs. Smith to play with yourself!"

Wendy did not expect David to speak up for her. She pursed her lips and smiled. "Joe and I will naturally have our own children..."

“Didn’t you have one before?” Charlotte looked at Wendy’s lower abdomen in confusion. Wendy wished that there had never been a child. She glared at Charlotte and asked, “Are you happy that I lost my child?”

Charlotte paused. She didn’t expect that Wendy had lost her child and she would still be in the mood to go to the amusement park after losing her child.

“Let’s not argue with a fool.” David sneered and was about to leave with Charlotte. “I’ll go first with my fiancée...”

“You did nothing but she becomes your fiancée? Mr. Johnson, your engagement is a complete mess.” Joe snorted derisively.

However, David smiled and said, “Don’t worry, Mr. Smith. I’ll definitely send you an invitation when we get married. I won’t talk to you anymore. If we continue, the children are about to wake up!”

After that, he pulled Charlotte and strode away, leaving only Joe and Wendy behind.

“Joe?” Wendy glanced at Joe nervously. “Let’s go.”

Joe watched the two of them leave hand in hand and grunted in agreement.

David took Charlotte home along the way. He was still a little reluctant at the entrance. “This community is too small. Next time, let’s move to another one that the gate is far away from home.”

Charlotte burst into laughter. Why did she feel that David was a fool at the moment?

Chapter 78 Long Time No See

David was also very annoyed. He used to be a young master who had sowed all his wild oats, but why did he become an idiot in front of Charlotte?

He didn't deserve his reputation at all!

He looked at Charlotte seriously. "Can I hug you?"

"What?" As soon as Charlotte asked in confusion, she fell into a warm embrace.

David was wearing an unknown brand of men's perfume, which was very fragrant and carried a sense of elegance. It smelled good.

She even felt a gentle kiss on her hair, which made her feel more guilty.

"I..." As soon as Charlotte opened her mouth, David raised a finger to cover her mouth. "Don't say anything else, and don't ruin my happiness at this moment."

Charlotte looked at him helplessly. "Ben and Anna are waiting for me. I'm going in."

David pulled her into his arms again and said, "I know that you haven't completely accepted me yet. It doesn't matter. I can wait until that day. So, don't feel guilty. Just play with my feelings as much as you want."

Charlotte glared at him grumpily. "What are you talking about?"

David laughed, let go of Charlotte, and strode away.

Charlotte also turned to enter the door. Tom asked with a smile, "Miss Clinton, are you very happy today?"

She touched her lips subconsciously and found that they had been raised all the time.

Early the next morning, David came to the gate of the villa to pick up the two children and Charlotte.

Charlotte was a little surprised. "Why are you so early?"

"As children's godfather, shouldn't I have come earlier? What if the godfather turns into a real father?" David said lively.

As soon as Ben and Anna saw David, they ran over quickly. Early in the morning, they heard that David had become their godfather, and now they were even more excited.

They called him “godfather”, and then gradually became

Chapter 78 Long Time No See

“dad” instead.

Charlotte originally wanted to stop them, but when she saw the smiles on the children’s and David’s faces, she finally kept silent.

Charlotte said helplessly, “I see. Let’s go.”

When she opened the door, she found a bunch of Louis XIV roses on the seat, and the dew on the flowers could still be seen clearly.

She looked back at David, lowered her head, and held the flowers in her arms with a smile.

David who had been a little nervous finally breathed a sigh of relief. It seemed that Charlotte did not reject his advances, and he was finally relieved.

After delivering the children to the kindergarten and promising to pick them up as soon as possible, the two of them came to the gate of the Horizon Group happily. However, as soon as they got out of the car, David changed his face.

Charlotte followed his gaze and saw a beautiful woman standing at the door. She suddenly had a guess. “That’s your...”

Long Time No See

David looked embarrassed. “My ex...”

Charlotte suddenly understood.

As early as when she met David, she knew that he had an unusually rich past. This was the first time that she had seen it with her own eyes.

She said lightly, “It doesn’t seem like she ran into you by chance. Would you like to go over and say hello?”

David looked gloomy. Yesterday, they just met Joe, and today, someone came to the Horizon Group. He would never believe that this matter had nothing to do with Joe.

After thinking for a moment, he took Charlotte by the hand and came to the woman. “Why are you here?”

When the woman named Lily saw David, she immediately smiled and said, “Long time no see, David. I miss you so much.”

As she spoke, she ignored Charlotte, who he was holding, and rushed straight towards him.

Chapter 79 I Have a Son with You

David darkened his face.

It had not been easy for him to get this girlfriend. How could he allow others to destroy it so easily?

David pushed Lily away quickly and pulled Charlotte aside. Without giving Lily a chance to speak, he said coldly, “I already have a girlfriend. Stay away from me.”

Lily glanced at Charlotte casually and continued to say to David, “Just a girlfriend. I used to be your girlfriend as well.”

David looked even gloomier. “She’s different from you. As long as she wants to, she’ll be my future wife.”

Only then, it was the first time that Lily looked straight at Charlotte.

She looked Charlotte up and down with picky eyes, and there was a flash of madness in her eyes. “I don’t believe that you will give up your freedom for a woman. Have you forgotten the most indulgent time when you played...”

“Enough.” David raised his voice and interrupted her. “I don’t know why you are here, but you should understand that we will never be together again, and you can’t destroy my relationship with her.”

Lily blinked innocently and said, “But I have a son with you.”

“What nonsense are you talking about?” David widened his eyes. He didn’t believe that Lily would do such a thing.

Although he had dated a lot of women, Lily left a deep impression on him. The reason was that this woman was too crazy.

Not only did she not allow him to have any contact with others, but she had also chased after his car on the street several times and almost caused a car accident.

It was absolutely impossible for Lily to secretly give birth to a child for him.

But Lily said with certainty, “I’m telling the truth. If you don’t believe me, me, I’ll bring the child to you tomorrow!”

David stepped forward with a gloomy face and said, “No matter why you are here, I advise you not to court death.”

In the face of his depression, Lily seemed to be unaware of anything and said calmly, “But you don’t want your child to have no father since childhood, do you? He has thought that you were just going abroad to work.”

Chapter 79 I Have a Son with Your

“Enough!” David scolded in a low voice. The atmosphere between the three was so weird that it attracted the attention of many passers-by. He could only stare at Lily fiercely. “Get lost!”

Lily was not afraid at all. She even winked at Charlotte and said, “See you tomorrow.”

Charlotte did not respond.

After Lily left, David looked at Charlotte anxiously and said, “I have been breaking up with her for seven or eight years, and we have never had any contact, let alone met, and I don’t know why she suddenly appeared...”

Seeing him so nervous, Charlotte smiled helplessly. “It doesn’t matter, I believe you.”

According to her understanding of David, he was definitely not the kind of person who was irresponsible to abandon others.

David breathed a sigh of relief. Looking at Charlotte who didn’t mind at all, a subtle complexity rose in his heart again.

“Do you really not care about it at all?” David tried to hold it back, but he still asked.

Charlotte was stunned. After seeing the disappointment in the eyes of David, she pursed her lips and did not speak.

The atmosphere between the two of them instantly became delicate.

In the end, David sighed and said, “It doesn’t matter. I can wait for you.”

Charlotte opened her mouth but said nothing in the end.

Chapter 80 This is Your Son

What they didn’t know was that as soon as Lily left, she called Jack. “I have already met them, but they don’t seem to believe me.”

Jack maintained a professional smile. “Miss Lily, you’re a smart person. You should know what to do.”

Lily sneered and hung up the phone.

Only then did Jack enter the office of Joe with the information he had found. “Mr. Smith, I’ve found out the information about that child. His birth certificate shows that his father is indeed a Mr. Clinton, but the relationship between him and Miss Clinton has not been found yet. Also, he is now registered in Miss Clinton’s Citizenship Certificate, and he has a younger sister.””

Joe furrowed his brows and glanced at the information. “He’s only four years old?”

Jack nodded.

If that was the case, the time would not match at all.

Joe casually threw the document on the table and said coldly, “Got it.”

He suddenly sneered. He actually had that sort of suspicion?

Could it be that he has gone mad?

Charlotte had escaped from him without hesitation. How could she give birth to his children?

“There’s no need to investigate them in the future,” Joe said coldly.

Jack was stunned for a moment and then nodded in reply.

“Lily has just met Mr. Johnson and Miss Clinton.” Seeing that Joe was not in a good mood, Jack quickly told him another piece of news.

Joe nodded. “By the way, tell Mr. Goergie Johnson and Mrs. Lucky Johnson about it. Such a good thing must be known to them.”

After hearing the news, Mr. Goergie Johnson and Mrs. Lucky Johnson were also very shocked. They called David to confirm it as soon as possible, but he denied it. So they could only look at each other.

David didn't show up after school in the afternoon.

Both Ben and Anna were very disappointed. Anna pouted and asked, "Where is David? Didn't he say that he would be the first to pick us?"

Thinking of what had happened this morning, Charlotte could only sigh. "He has something urgent to deal with, so he can't pick you up today."

Anna nodded dejectedly and took Ben's small hand.

Charlotte noticed the actions of the two children, and a trace of dim flashed in her eyes.

Judging from today's situation, Lily would not let it go so easily.

Early the next morning, David came with a cake and apologized to Ben and Anna. After coaxing them for a while, they reluctantly forgave David.

After delivering them to the kindergarten, David said seriously, "I'll pick you up and see you off recently. Lily, that woman..."

Charlotte was confused. Seeing his serious look, she finally agreed.

Sure enough, they saw Lily again at the gate of the Horizon. Group, and there was even a little boy standing beside her.

David was furious.

He told Charlotte not to get out of the car. "They should be coming for me. Wait in the car first.”

After that, he opened the door and got out with uncontrollable anger on his face.

Charlotte was worried that he would do something impulsive, so she hesitated for a moment and followed him.

David walked up to Lily angrily and said, “What the hell do you want to do? Didn’t I make it clear enough to you yesterday?”

From the beginning to the end, his eyes never fell on the boy.

But Lily pushed the boy forward with a strange smile on her face. “This is your son.”

The boy looked like he was six or seven years old. He looked at David with some hope and timidity in his gaze. “Are you my father? Mommy said that my father went abroad to work and will be back for a long time.”

Seeing the child’s eyes, David was even angrier. He didn’t want to say anything unpleasant in front of the child, so he just said coldly to Lily, “You’d better take the child and leave as soon as possible, or you won’t want to know the consequences.”

Lily was not afraid at all. Instead, she smiled and said, “Why don’t we do a paternity test.”