

Cruel Heart Lover Novel

Chapter 23

For the convenience of riding, Selena wore a tight black leather jacket and leather pants. After arriving in a hurry, she took off her helmet and gloves, and her long hair fell like a waterfall on her shoulders.

Seeing her appear in this form, Saul almost couldn't help whistling.

"Rickey, do you really think that I dare not touch you?" In the corner of the living room, Daniel grabbed his son who had nowhere to run, and the little boy struggled violently in his arms like an angry little beast. , crazily shining immature little paws.

"No!" Seeing this, Selena hurried over and snatched Rick over.

Little Treasure looked up at the person coming with his small head up, his expression froze for a second, then his big eyes turned red, and he plunged into Selena's arms, never letting go.

Looking at the little bun who was cute, soft and cute yesterday, his eyes were full of fear, and his whole body was shaking, Selena was so distressed.

As soon as he got angry, he didn't care that the other party was a terrible *oss, and crackled, "Mr. Lu, I know that I am an outsider and have no position to say anything, but I still want to say something, your education method is really very problematic, It is time for a child to be warm when he is so young, not to mention that Rick is in a special situation, has been stimulated, and has no mother by his side. You should be more patient and tolerant to him. How can you be so fierce to him? You didn't see him Are you so scared? You still want to fight him!"

Daniel: "It's my fault."

Saul: Hehe.

Hearing his brother cleanly admit his mistake, Saul's face was filled with laughter.

When I said there was a problem with your education method, you just sprayed me in the face, and Selena said you were so obedient!

After Selena came, Little Treasure saw the owner's puppy, which was obedient. He was completely different from the little lion who went berserk just now, and was led back to the room obediently by Selena, motionless.

On the sofa, Selena gently patted Rick's head, "What happened? Didn't you feel fine this morning?"

Saul sighed: "What else could it be? Rick misses you and wants to see you, but my brother won't let me. I want to call you, but my brother won't let me. I'm afraid I'll disturb you. As a result, Rick started to make trouble, messing around Run, smash the living room into a mess, my brother doesn't want to condone his bad habit, the two of them got into a stalemate, and then it became what you saw when you came..."

"Just because you didn't see me or call me?" Selena was a little hard to understand. Although Daniel said before that Rick is currently relying on her, but how much influence does she have?

"What do you think? You underestimated your own influence!" Seeing that she was confused, Saul listed them one by one, "Do you remember that day in the warehouse, when you passed out, Rick didn't allow anyone to touch you?" You, in the end, it was my elder brother who personally carried you to the hospital!"

Selena subconsciously glanced at Daniel, uh, Daniel carried her to the hospital himself...?

“Also in the hospital, Rick woke up to see you were not there, thought you were dead, ran away on the spot, and almost jumped off the building, my brother showed him the note you left for Rick, and he calmed down. Last night In order to see you, Rick threatened my brother with a hunger strike. As for tonight, because he was too full after you called him, the universal hunger strike plan was useless, so there was this...”

Uh, too full? Tonight she did tell Rick on the phone to ask him to eat more, is it her fault?
