

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 401-410

Chapter 401 There were nearly thirty company executives in the conference room.

The Quinn family was among the top three, if not the best.

At the very least, Quinn Corporation was the most powerful, compared to those small pharmaceutical companies,

However, Harry had agreed to accept all the companies' cooperation except Quinn Corporation's! What did that mean?

Was that not a slap in the face for Quinn Corporation? They would even accept small third-rate companies, but not Quinn Corporation. What they meant was already obvious.

"What do you mean, Mr. Clarke?"

Simon was furious but kept his anger under control as he got up and asked Harry.

"Do I have to tell you what I mean?" Harry turned around slowly and looked at Simon sarcastically. Sean did not want to bother with these people. Harry, on the other hand, had time to mess with Simon.

Harry asked, and Simon fell silent. All the other company executives looked down slightly, feeling surprised. Especially those pharmaceutical companies. They had lost hope when they saw Quinn Corporation here.

After all, Quinn Corporation might not be as good as it used to be, but a skinny camel was still bigger than a horse. These small companies were no match for Quinn Corporation's pharmaceutical business. Therefore, they all thought the Quinn family would win over the deal. However, what happened now took them by surprise.

"Mr. Clarke, we mean no harm. "I just think..."

Faye gave Harry a winning smile and was about to speak.

"I don't care what you think I only care about what I think.

"Now, are there any other questions?"

Harry waved his hand to interrupt and said indifferently.

Faye froze when Harry did not relent. "Mr. Clarke, you and I both know that the smartest decision is for Reach For Will Group to cooperate with Quinn Corporation. "The Quinn family has a long history in River City. Ordinary small companies are no match for us, whethier in terms of qualifications or connections.

"Not only have we been around for a long time, but we also have a cooperation with Larson Pharmaceuticals of River City and are close to the Zimmer family of River City.

"As long as Reach For Will Group cooperates with us, you are bound to gain the greatest profit. Both of us can also achieve a win-win situation."

Simon took a deep breath and spoke to Harry.

Just because he was hedonistic did not mean he did not know what to say.

What he said to win over the cooperation alone was rather smart.

"So what are you trying to express by saying these?" Harry asked indifferently, standing where he was. Simon clenched his teeth slightly and was silent for a few seconds before speaking again. "You know we can achieve a win-win situation by working together, Mr. Clarke. "So, is there something Quinn Corporation didn't do right if you're refusing to cooperate with us?"

Simon understood that everything happened for a reason.

Reach For Will Group's attitude toward Quinn Corporation was not without reason.

"If you want to know why, listen carefully. "Firstly, Reach For Will Group isn't short of money. Secondly, we're not short of power, and thirdly, we're not short of those connections you mentioned. "Reach For Will Group's partners can have nothing, but you should know how to conduct yourself with integrity. "Do you know how to conduct yourself with integrity?"

There was a chill in Harry's eyes. He had looked into the last two years of Sean's life.

He knew exactly how the Quinn family treated Sean.

Based on these, how was Harry going to be nice to Simon?

"How... how do I not know how to conduct myself with integrity?"

Simon's eyes widened as he looked at Harry with confusion.

"How dare you call yourself a man with integrity?"

"Secretary Lane, see them to the door."

Harry laughed and turned to leave.

It was an insult to Simon.

Simon could do nothing but grit his teeth and bear it.

Even if they wanted to fall out with Reach for Will Group, they had to consider whether they could afford it.

"Simon, let's..."

Faye felt embarrassed and recruitment too.

They thought the cooperation was in the bag, and Old Madam Quinn also had high hopes for the two of them.

Now, forget about the cooperation. They were even humiliated by Reach For Will Group. The two of them did not know what to tell Old Madain Quinn and how to deal with the rest of the Quinn family.

“F*ck! I should have let Willow come.”

Simon clenched his teeth in remorse.

“By the way, speaking of Willow...”

Faye frowned slightly and said, “Sean said Reach For Will Group would never work with Quinn Corporation. He seems to be right...”

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 402

Chapter 402 Simon blinked when he heard what Faye said, his mind in a whirl. “Yes! He spoke with great certainty. “But how did he know? Does he have prophetic powers?” Simon’s eyes widened, his heart full of surprise. “Come on. Let’s go home first.”

Faye waved her hand and was about to leave with Simon.

Just then, Harry, who had already left, returned. “Oh, I’m sorry. I didn’t finish speaking.” Harry slowly walked into the conference room and looked at Simon and Faye.

The two of them felt a pang in their hearts while anticipation appeared in their eyes.

‘Has Harry changed his mind to cooperate with the Quinn family? ‘After all, with the Quinn family’s qualifications, Harry must have had some second thoughts, right?’ “Mr. Clarke, have you thought it through?”

Simon gulped as he looked at Harry expectantly. “I think I heard you say you’re close with the Zimmer family of River City?” Harry pulled the hem of his suit. Accustomed to wearing military uniforms, he felt uncomfortable in a suit. “Yes! We’re very close with the Zimmer family! "And perhaps we'll become in-laws in a few days." Simon froze slightly before replying with a nod.

Faye was expectant too. Harry must have known that the Zimmer family was powerful, so he was afraid to offend the Zimmer family.

He would cooperate with the Quinn family for the Zimmer family's sake.

"Oh."

Harry nodded slightly and said, "Since you're close, I'd appreciate it if you could tell them not to bother. We won't cooperate with the Zimmer family either."

What Harry said made Simon and Faye's expressions freeze again.

"We can consider cooperating with any company in River City except the Quinn family and the Zimmer family. Please don't show up at Reach For Will Group's building again."

Harry spoke calmly and turned away without hesitation. "Mr. Clarke. What do you mean?"

Simon could not hold back his anger.

"What do I mean?"

"I just don't like you.

"Is that reason good enough?"

Harry smiled faintly and turned to leave the conference room.

Simon and Faye froze in place. The other company executives could not suppress their smiles. 'He doesn't like you. What are you gonna do?' Forceful! Domineering! Unreasonable! However, there was nothing Simon could do.

Harry's approach made it seem as if Reach For Will Group was founded specifically to go against the Quinn family and the Zimmer family. It was really hard to fathom.

Willow's home.

Several times on the way home from work, Willow wanted to ask Sean why he did what he did. However, she eventually forced herself to bite her tongue. Since she had chosen to trust Sean and that things had gotten this far, it was pointless for her to question it now. However, the two of them had just reached home for less than ten minutes when Fion came in shouting at the top of her voice. "Where is he? Where the h*ll is he? "You messenger of death! You jinx! You're a pest that only causes trouble!"

Fion stepped into the living room with one hand on her waist.

She pointed at Sean and cursed as soon as she saw him.

This time, Willow did not stand in the way or explain. She had already figured out that someone from the Quinn family must have passed the news on to Fion.

In the past two years, word spread quickly to Fion whenever Sean did something embarrassing.

It had happened so many times. They did it to have a good laugh, of course. Fion was the type to blow up easily, so it was inevitable that Sean would be scolded.

"Tell me! What trouble did you cause today?" Fion walked into the living room and shouted as she pointed at Sean's nose.

"Mom, enough. You don't understand company affairs."

Willow shook her head and defended Sean in the end.

"I don't understand, but at least I'm not dragging them down. "But what did Sean do? He told you to give up such a good opportunity when it's right in front of you. "It's alright if he's just being silly, but you played along. Have you become a fool?" The more Fion spoke, the angrier and the louder she got. In the end, she was already shouting. Willow fell silent, unable to find a proper retort. "Hmph! Sean, let me ask you something. What on earth are you up to? "It doesn't matter if you're not ambitious, don't want to achieve anything, and are just going to sit around all day. "But Willow has to work to make money! Do you know that the Old Madam rarely appoints Willow for work? "She had finally gotten an opportunity, but you made Willow give it up. Tell me. What on earth are you up to?" The more Fion spoke, the angrier she got. She reached out and smacked the table.

"Why waste time on something you know is impossible?"

"I just don't want Willow to waste her time and energy."

Sean glanced at Fion and spoke calmly.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 403

Chapter 403

"Bullsh*t!"

"Do you think I, Fion Wilson, don't know anything? "Reach For Will Group even signed contracts with small third-rate companies.

"Quinn Corporation isn't as powerful as it used to be, but it's still a lot better than those third rate companies. "It's a done deal as long as the Quinn family asks them to cooperate with them. It's a godsend!"

"How dare you argue with me when you slapped away the credit that was handed to Willow?"

Fion suddenly stepped forward and pointed at Sean's nose. Her fingertip was less than 20cm away from Sean's face. "Reach For Will Group would never work with the Quinn family. "So the credit you're talking about is nothing but a joke." Sean glanced at Fion, speaking as calmly as ever. There was a great deal of confidence in the voice. "How dare you say such a thing?"

"Who gave you the nerve to talk like that?"

Fion sneered, not believing Sean.

“Just because I’m Sean Lennon.

“Just because I founded Reach For Will Group! “Just because I can decide if they’re going to cooperate with the Quinn family with one word. “Is that clear enough?”

Sean’s expression remained unchanged while he replied sternly.

The living room was instantly dead silent as soon as he said that. Fion and Willow looked at Sean in shock. Sean seemed calm. It was as if he was telling the truth.

Moments later, Fion came to herself and swore with a cold snort.

“Bullsh*t!

“I would be a fool to believe you!”

“Sean, stop it.” Willow also scolded him with a frown, asking Sean to stop it. Sean pondered for two seconds, shook his head, and said no more. Reach For Will Group was Willow’s fallback, so he could not let the Quinn family know too much right now.

Otherwise, it would only cause unnecessary trouble for Willow and Sean.

Of course, the last card should be taken out at the critical time to play the biggest role.

“Sean, no matter what you say, Simon and Faye have taken what was supposed to be Willow’s credit.

“Just watch how they’ll humiliate you and Willow at the celebration party!” Exasperated, Fion clenched her teeth slightly. She wanted to slap Sean out of the house.

Buzz buzz.

Willow’s plione buzzed.

Willow glanced at the caller ID and answered the call.

"Hello, Manager Lucas. What's the matter?"

"What?"

Manager Lucas said something to Willow that caused her eyes to widen.

The next moment, Willow turned around and looked at Sean.

"Okay, okay, I got it..."

Willow's eyes glazed over slightly as she hung up the call. "Hmph! I don't know why you're confident that Reach For Will Group won't cooperate with Quinn Corporation.

"Do you think you own Reach For Will Group?"

Fion sneered and turned to enter her room.

"Sean, do... do you have anything to do with Reach For Will Group? 2

"Do you really own... Reach For Will Group?" Fion stopped dead in her tracks when Willow spoke with her eyes wide open. 'Has Willow lost her mind? Does she believe everything Sean says?'

"Willow, what nonsense are you talking about?"

Frowning, Fion glared at Willow and asked.

"Mother, I'm not talking nonsense! "Manager Lucas just called me. Reach For Will Group has refused to cooperate with Quinn Corporation."

Fion's eyes widened when Willow said this.

'Has what Sean said come true?

'Doesn't that mean Simon and Faye went there for nothing?' "Are you telling the truth?"

Fion gulped before asking with her eyes wide open. "It's true!

"Thirty companies went to Reach For Will Group today.

"Reach For Will Group accepted 29 cooperation proposals but rejected Quinn Corporation. "Simon and Faye went there in vain..."

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 404

Chapter 404 Willow repeated to Fion what the manager had told her. She slowly looked at Sean as she spoke. "What did you say? They signed with all the other companies but not the Quinn family?"

Fion could not bother with the rest. Her heart was full of surprise.

'Why does Reach For Will Group seem to have a feud with the Quinn family?'

"Yes! Reach For Will Group accepted the contracts of the other companies there. "Only Simon's contract was rejected." Willow nodded and gave Sean another glance.

Sean looked calm and unsurprised.

It was as if he had expected it, and everything was under his control.

"Reach For Will Group accepted companies that were less successful than Quinn Corporation, but they only rejected the Quinn family. What's with that?"

"Does the owner of Reach For Will Group has something against the Quinn family?" Fion sat down slowly on the sofa, frowning and thinking. Willow gently sighed to herself. It was so obvious that they did not even have to think about it. Reach For Will Group was deliberately picking on the Quinn family! They just had no idea why Reach For Will Group was doing this. Did their owner really have a feud with the Quinn family?

Why else would something they were so confident at getting turn out like this?

"I told you there's no point wasting time." Sean rolled his wrists, his voice calm.

Fion gave Sean a complicated look, with doubt lurking deep in her eyes.

"Why did Sean know this in advance?"

'He's not a member of Reach For Will Group, and he certainly doesn't know Reach For Will Group's top management. Why was he so sure?' Fion was not the only one puzzled. Even Willow seemed suspicious. "Sean, what does this have to do with you?"

Willow asked as she slowly turned to look at Sean,

Sean glanced at Fion and answered, "Simon and Faye are incompetent. It's expected that they would fail."

Fion immediately nodded at Sean's explanation.

"You're right! They're not as capable as Willow.

"If Willow had done the talking, she might have succeeded."

Fion was convinced about it.

However, Willow still looked at Sean a little hesitantly.

She knew more about business than Fion did.

Therefore, she knew more about the ways things were done.

Reach For Will Group's attitude toward the Quinn family was definitely for a reason.

Considering what Sean had said earlier, Willow subconsciously thought Sean had something to do with this.

However, on second thought, she laughed at herself and shook her head.

How could Sean possibly contact Reach For Will Group?

Even if Sean could contact Reach For Will Group, they would never give up a great business partner like the Quinn family for Sean, would they? "Oh, let's stop talking about it. "I didn't expect such a result.

"I hoped they could succeed." Willow waved her hands slightly and said as she sat down on the couch.

"Hey, girlie. Have you lost your mind? "If Simon and Faye succeeded with the partnership, I wonder how they're gonna brag about it in front of you. "Great. They've gone there for nothing. I'll see how they're gonna brag about it now. Hehe." Fion chuckled, feeling happy.

"Mother, how can you think that way?

"We're all members of the Quinn family. We should be happy that the Quinn family is getting better."

Willow glanced at Fion with a frown, her voice sounding unhappy. "Hmph! So what? You're just too kind. "Think about how they've treated us."

Fion snorted as she replied a little indignantly.

"Yes, you think of them as a family, but they don't necessarily think the same.

"Besides, the Quinn family has never given us a cut of their profit.

"So this time, I'm with Aunt Fion."

Sean nodded slightly and sided with Fion,

"Hmph! You're perceptive." Fion froze slightly and then smiled with satisfaction,

"Well..."

Willow twisted her fingers and sell silent.

"Willow, being kind is a good thing, but being kind will only encourage some people to take advantage of you. "Some people have no heart. "So you've got to think for yourself sometimes."

Sean hesitated for a few seconds but gave Willow some life advice anyway. Judging by how the Quinn family was treating Willow's family right now, they probably would not accommodate Willow in the future.

Old Madam Quinn was still alive. Although she was a little dismissive of Willow's family, she would not be too ruthless after all.

Once Old Madam Quinn was gone, Willow's family's status in the Quinn family was in further jeopardy. 1

It was uncertain whether they could stay.

"Sean, you don't have to speak anymore. I..."

Willow paused and said, "I know everything."

Sean nodded slightly and said no more,

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 405

Chapter 405 Currently. Old Madam Quinn's residence. Simon, Faye, Samuel, and a couple of Quinn Corporation key personnel gathered here. However, everyone looked a bit grumpy, including Old Madam Quinn. Word of Reach For Will Group's refusal to cooperate with the Quinn family had spread throughout the Quinn family. Not only did the whole Quinn family know, but so did River City's business world.

You could imagine how many people were gossiping about the Quinn family behind their backs and making jokes about it.

"It was supposed to be a sure thing, yet you brought me such a result.

"I wonder what did you talk about?" Old Madam Quinn asked as she looked at Simon and Faye with a sullen expression.

She now thought Simon and Faye must have been incompetent, which was why they failed to secure the deal.

"Grandma, that's not what happened.

"Reach For Will Group seems like they have a feud with our family.

"It's not our fault that they rejected us before we could speak."

Simon and Faye were both quick to explain. "Yeah, old Madam. Even if Simon and Faye are foolish, they know what to say and what not to say. "They certainly wouldn't mess around, especially when it's so important." Several members of the Quinn family were also defending Simon and Quinn. **Then explain to me why other companies can get deals with Reach For Will Group. "Why are we being treated differently? "Even if Quinn Corporation isn't the strongest in terms of financial strength and qualifications in River City, we're an established enterprise. We have a high standing in River City. "Reach For Will Group would never do this without some reason.

"I'm old, but my head can still figure these things out." Old Madam Quinn looked at the crowd as she frowned. "Grandma, we really didn't offend Mr. Clarke. "Let's say we offended him. The Zimmer family of River City didn't offend them, did they? "The Zimmer family hasn't sent anyone over, yet he asked us to tell them not to send anyone to talk about cooperation with them.

"Because Reach For Will Group will never work with the Quinn family and the Zimmer family in River City.

“Grandma, those were Mr. Clarke’s exact words.”

Simon and Faye repeated what Harry had said.

“This...”

Old Madam Quinn’s eyebrows furrowed deeper at that. “So it’s not just the Quinn family that has offended Reach For Will Group. “Even the Zimmer family of River City has offended them?

“Or is it because we are close to the Zimmer family that they refuse to work with us?”

Old Madam Quinn turned the ring on her hand gently as she got lost in thought with a frown.

“Old Madam, I don’t think Reach For Will Group refused to cooperate with us because we’re close with the Zimmer family. “There are a lot of companies that are friendly and even cooperate with us. “However, those companies have struck up deals with Reach For Will Group, including Larson Pharmaceuticals.” Samuel said to Old Madam Quinn, based on information he had gotten from his investigation.

“That’s strange.

“Have the Zimmer family and the Quinn family offended anyone at the same time recently?”

Old Madam Quinn put down her hands. Reach For Will Group only opposed the Quinn family and the Zimmer family.

That meant both families must have offended the same person for something like this to happen. Everyone immediately recalled what had happened during this time when Old Madam Quinn said so.

However, one competitor after another was quickly eliminated.

“No, we’re not in the same industry with the Zimmer family, so we don’t have many business deals with them.

“So there’s basically no common competition.” The more they thought about it, the more confused they were.

“It just occurred to me that Sean said... Reach For Will Group will not cooperate with the Quinn family in the meeting earlier?”

Samuel mentioned the point with a slight frown. Old Madam Quinn and the others immediately remembered what Sean had said. In the conference room earlier, Sean’s voice was calm as his eyes were confident, Everyone in the Quinn family made fun of Sean, saying he was talking nonsense.

They could not believe Sean was right. Could it only be a coincidence?

Smack! Samuel suddenly smacked the table. “Old Madam, if the Zimmer family and the Quinn family share an enemy, who else could it be but Sean?”

The people in the room fell deep in thought when Samuel said that.

Then they all nodded. The Quinn family had always disliked Sean and often made fun of him. As for the Zimmer family, Quill and Sean were bitter rivals, and they had a feud over Willow. Therefore, it would be fair to say that Sean was the enemy both families shared. “You mean Sean had something to do with this? “Is he the reason Reach For Will Group refused to work with the Quinn family and the Zimmer family?” Old Madam Quinn pondered for two seconds before looking up at Samuel.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 406

Chapter 406 “Old Madam, I’ve been thinking about it, and it’s possible.”

Samuel nodded, his voice sounding serious.

“Uncle Sam, that’s impossible! “Who is that cripple Sean to speak for Reach For Will Group?”

“He does know a few people in River City, but Reach For Will Group isn’t a small company.

“Even Mr. Larson of Larson Pharmaceuticals might not be qualified to talk to Reach For Will Group. Who is Sean to do that?”

Simon curled his mouth slightly, and what he said was met with much agreement.

It was indeed quite impossible.

Sean was nothing but a cripple in a wheelchair.

However, Reach For Will Group had a registered capital of more than hundreds of millions of dollars. They seemed mediocre at first, but as soon as they struck, they won Aerial Dragon District’s golden land at a whopping price of two hundred million dollars. Reach For Will Group was aggressive. It was as if they were going to take over River City’s business world. Even the Zimmer family of River City might not be able to deal with someone with such a presence. Who was Sean to do that?

“If he were that capable, he wouldn’t have leeches off the Quinn family.

“Even a security guard for Reach For Will Group has a salary higher than most people, don’t they?” Faye curled her lips slightly, sounding disdainful. Pigs could fly if Sean could speak for Reach For Will Group. “You must look into the matter carefully. “Everything happens for a reason. Look into it first.” Samuel and the rest immediately nodded when Old Madam Quinn said that.

At the same time,

The Zimmer family’s villa,

Smack!

Jon hung up and slammed his phone to the ground.

The phone costing tens of thousands of dollars was instantly smashed into pieces with a loud bang 1

Jon was still furious, so he smashed an antique vase on the table.

Just now, Zimmer Corporation's executive sent word.

The people they sent to Reach For Will Group could not even get through Reach For Will Group's main entrance.

The Zimmer family was respectable in River City, but Reach For Will Group did not give them any face. People from Zimmer Corporation were shut out. Everyone else was allowed to go in, except for the Zimmer family. Were they not humiliating the Zimmer family? "B*stards! They've gone too far! They've gone too far!" Jon clenched his teeth and paced back and forth across the room with his hands behind his back

"Dad, let it be. We don't need to cooperate with the Zimmer family." Quill replied nonchalantly as he scrolled through short videos. "What the 11*11 do you know?" "Reach For Will Group is aggressive. They're going to do something big in River City.

"If we don't get ready now, we'll be in a muddle when the time comes."

Jon growled as he glared at Quill in exasperation. Quill rolled his eyes and remained silent.

"If only Mr. Yeast hadn't told me to keep it low-key for a while.

"I really want to pull some strings and fight Reach For Will Group.

"Even if they have deep pockets, this is River City. This is our territory!"

Jon snorted coldly, annoyed and unconvinced.

Although Reach For Will Group was strong, a strong lion was no match for a tiger in its jungle. The Zimmer family was not necessarily afraid of Reach For Will Group in River City.

If he wanted to go tough, Jon could use the connections he had built over the years to easily crush Reach For Will Group.

However, Jason had told Jon to lay low for a while. Jon took Jason's advice seriously. "Dad, don't worry. "Once I get my hands on Willow, we'll have a chance to take over the Quinn family's business."

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 407

Chapter 407 "The Zimmer family will have no one to be afraid of once we take over the Quinn family. We will rule River City's business world when that happens." Quill chuckled, his face full of disdain.

"Then hurry and do it!

"You must bag Willow on the ninth!

"Otherwise, I'm gonna strip you out of your skin!" Jon snorted coldly before turning to leave the living room. Quill immediately picked up his phone and made a few phone calls.

It was silent the entire night. » The next day, River City, which was already not calm these days, was hit by a heavy bombshell again. Some time ago, the heir of the Zimmer family had booked the entire Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel to confess his love to a certain girl. At the time, all the girls who had been involved with Quill had butterflies in their stomachs. They wondered if he was confessing to them.

Today, word got out. The person Quill was going to confess his love to was the heiress of the Quinn family, Willow Quinn!

Once the news broke, it caused a stir in River City, which was already eventful.

Willow's looks were indeed one in a million. She deserved a grand confession from Quill.

However, many people knew that Willow was engaged.

To the vegetable fiancée had also lived with the Quinn family for two years.

It would be a real-life love triangle if Quill confessed to Willow!

A lot of people were interested in this story.

There were people who were envious, jealous, sarcastic, and waiting for a show to unfold.

At the same time,

An office on Larson Pharmaceuticals' top floor.

Homer sat behind his desk as he heard his subordinate report the news.

"Wait, what did you say? "Quill Zimmer's going to confess to... Willow Quinn... of the Quinn family?" The more Homer heard, the more he found it strange, so he slowly got up.

He was confused right now. "Yes, Mr. Larson. The entire River City knows about it now."

The subordinate in front of him nodded and answered.

Homer rubbed his head in a trance and asked, "Are you sure it's Willow?"

Homer felt as if he had done something wrong. 'Isn't Willow Sean's fiancée?' 'And Quill's trying to confess his love to Sean's fiancée?' 'Isn't he f*cking bullying liim?'

Sean and Quill must be enemies!

"Shit!

"Shit! I made a f*cking mistake!" Homer's eyes widened as he smacked the desk with his hand and sank into the chair, confused.

He remembered his previous conversation with Quill at Quinn Corporation. Quill's attitude was vague. He seemed to be saying that he had facilitated Larson

Pharmaceuticals' cooperation with the Quinn family. Homer did not think much at the time. He did not humiliate him because he wanted to sign a deal with the Zimmer family. Homer finally understood everything. "Quill Zimmer! Are you trying to get me killed? "Get the car ready! Get the car ready now! I'm going to Quinn Residence!" Homer smacked the table, turned around, and walked outside. "Don't panic, Mr. Larson. Take it easy." His subordinates had never seen Homer in such a panic.

"The Larson family will be f*cking destroyed if I don't hurry!" Homer shouted, his heart filled with rage.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 408

Chapter 408 Homer had always been smart, but he was foolish this one time. He had no idea Quill had such feelings for Willow. It was a no-brainer that Sean and Quill were on bad terms. Homer dared to get so close with Quill and got fooled by him. Homer felt like he had eaten a fly. "Disgusting! It's f*cking disgusting!" Homer sat in the car, yelling profanities. There was nothing of his usual composed image left. "Mr. Larson, what on earth happened?"

The assistant in the front passenger seat was confused.

"Just leave it. Go to Quinn Residence. "I must explain it. If I offended Mr. Lennon..."

Homer did not finish his sentence, but he dared not disregard it either.

He was respectful of Sean-not just because Sean had saved Old Master Larson's life.

It was also because he knew about Charles' incident.

Sean killed Charles and was arrested.

However, River City CIA personally came and saved Sean.

He had a terrifying background. Homer dared not disrespect Sean because of this alone! Now, Homer must first clarify the cooperation with the Quinn family before talking about other things. "Mr. Larson, shall we go to the Quinn Corporations' headquarters or..." The assistant did not ask any more questions when they saw Homer silent. They just asked for the destination.

"Who calls the shots in the Quinn family?"

Homer took a deep breath and let himself calm down.

"It might seem to be the eldest son of the Quinn family, Samuel Quinn. "But it should actually be Old Madam Quinn." The assistant thought for a while before quickly answering. "Then go straight to Old Madam Quinn's residence."

Horner nodded and gave the orders to the driver.

If you wanted to talk to the Quinn family, you would go to the person who called the shots in the Quinn family,

At the same time.

Old Madam Quinn's residence.

In the spacious courtyard, Old Madam Quinn and several members of the Quinn family were sitting together talking.

Samuel, Simon, and Faye were all there. Regardless of their ability, these people were smooth talkers, and they were each better than the other.

Working together, they could fool Old Madam Quinn. Old Madam Quinn was not a fool, but these people were her children and grandchildren, so she did not keep her guard up. She would not even think about their bad qualities, and old Madam Quinn believed everything they said. These people only told Old Madam Quinn what she wanted to hear. Over time, Old Madam Quinn liked them even more. After all, the Quinn family was big and had a lot of members, and only those who spoke up would get rewarded. People like Willow and Kent, who only worked hard and did nothing else, were doomed to be unpopular.

Old Madam Quinn preferred to talk to Simon and the rest.

“Have you looked into the incident with Reach For Will Group? “What was the cause?” Old Madam Quinn looked at Samuel. She could not sleep last night because of this. “Not yet, Old Madam. “But we’ve contacted the Zimmer family and asked them to help us look into it. “I believe we will soon find out why.”

Old Madam Quinn nodded when Samuel finished speaking.

They could not rush this matter either.

“Grandma, let’s not talk about that first.

“You know what? Young Master Zimmer has announced it to the public. “He’s going to confess his love to Willow in three days, and the news has spread all over River City.” +

Simon waved the teacup before him as he spoke to Old Madam Quinn.

“Really? Already?” Old Madam Quinn froze. It seemed that Quill was really serious about the matter this time!

“Yes! It’s already well-known news!

“The whole River City now knows that Young Master Zimmer is going to confess to Willow.”

Simon chuckled with satisfaction in his eyes.

“Okay! Good job.”

Old Madam Quinn nodded approvingly.

She had always found Quill to be the perfect candidate for a grandson-in-law.

Now, Quill was telling the entire city that he was confessing his love to Willow, and that expressed the Zimmer family’s stance.

That stance pleased Old Madam Quinn.

“Grandma, if Young Master Zimmer and Willow got married, the Quinn family would have our power doubled.

“With the Zimmer family’s help, the Quinn family would be able to thrive in River City without working with Reach For Will Group.” Simon smiled, his face full of confidence.

“Yes! That’s right.”

The others also nodded slowly.

“You’re right “But the question is, what does Willow think about it? Old Madam Quinn frowned as she mentioned this. Willow had never liked Quill. What if she rejected him forcefully? “What can she think?” Curling her lips slightly, Faye said, “If she marries Young Master Zimmer, she would never have to worry about making a living and could live a life of never-ending luxury. Many girls would kill to marry into the Zimmer family.”

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 409

Chapter 409

Hold Madam Quinn shook her head and said, “That’s true, but I watched all of you grow up. and I know Willow.

“She doesn’t care that much about these things.

“So the Zimmer family’s money and power probably won’t impress her.”

Everyone was a little silent when Old Madam Quinn said that.

To be honest, Willow was indeed not a materialistic girl.

Otherwise, why would she refuse so many young and wealthy suitors and insist on taking care of Sean for two years? "Old Madam, don't overthink it. "Marriages should be arranged by parents. "Willow is a descendant of the Quinn family, so it makes sense for the Quinn family to help her pick a husband." Samuel shook his head and curled his mouth slightly as he replied. "Sam's right! "In the past, marriage has always been arranged by parents. "Some people even got married without knowing what the other person looked like. "Willow's considered lucky. Young Master Zimmer has been courting her for almost a year, hasn't he?" The crowd immediately agreed as soon as Samuel said this. "On the ninth three days from now, you have to get Willow there no matter what, Old Madam.

"She's going whether she likes it or not. "Otherwise, the Quinn family would be humiliated.

"And if we don't cherish this opportunity, it will be even more difficult for us to get on the Zimmer family's good side in the future."

When they saw that Old Madam Quinn was silent, they tried to persuade her again in case she changed her mind.

Samuel and the rest did not care who Willow married.

What mattered the most was whether the other party could bring great benefits to Quinn Corporation.

If they married the Zimmer family, it was a no-brainer that the Quinn family would rise in status.

Therefore, they would not hesitate to make Willow marry Quill even if he was blind, lame, and deaf.

"Are we going to force her?"

Old Madam Quinn hesitated for a few seconds before looking up at the crowd. Willow was a tough nut to crack. Old Madam Quinn was worried Willow might do something if they were too pushy. Besides, old Madam Quinn remembered how Sean saved her life.

Therefore, she was a little conflicted and doubtful.

“She has to go even if we have to force her. “Old Madam, not to put ourselves down, but you know what’s going on with the Quinn family. “Our financial power and status in River City are in jeopardy and are deteriorating day by day. It can’t withstand any change. “If we don’t find a strong partner soon, it will be difficult for us to develop in River City. “It’s okay if the Quinn family fails when the time comes, we won’t starve to death.

“But I think we’ll be disappointing the Old Master!”

Samuel spoke so seriously that he just needed to burst into tears to win his best actor award.

Old Madam Quinn heaved a long sigh to herself at the end of his speech.

She did not want the Quinn family to be destroyed under her watch. After all, Old Master Levi Quinn built the Quinn family to the giant it was today. Now that Old Master Quinn was gone, Old Madam Quinn was in charge of the Quinn family. If the Quinn family fell apart, she might not be able to face Old Master Quinn when she met him on the other side.

“Okay!” Old Madam Quinn nodded heavily and said, “Then tell Kent to bring Willow over on the ninth even if he had to drag her there. “With the Zimmer family’s help, we’re not going to fall apart.” Everyone smiled when Old Madam Quinn said that.

“Oh, Old Madam, don’t worry. You saw how Young Master Zimmer treats us. “For example, our deal with Larson Pharmaceuticals is basically free money!

“Would Larson Pharmaceuticals have entered into such a non-profitable contract if not for the Zimmer family?”

Everyone nodded again when Samuel mentioned it. The deal with Larson Pharmaceuticals was the help the Quinn family needed. Quill helped them to secure the cooperation, so he was the Quinn family’s savior! “Indeed, the Quinn family would have been worse off without Larson Pharmaceuticals.”

Old Madam Quinn also nodded. From that matter alone, she approved of Quill. Larson Pharmaceuticals was famous in River City. Without the Zimmer family, they would have ignored the Quinn family, “Old Madam, I know you’re still thinking about Sean saving you.

“But that one thing alone shouldn’t get in the way of Quinn Corporation’s development. He just knows some medical skills, while Young Master Zimmer has given us the Larson Pharmaceuticals’ deal.

“Sean can’t even imagine something like that, can he?

“If he’s that capable, I’ll swear loyalty to him, and it wouldn’t be a problem.”

Samuel took a sip from his coffee cup and said sternly.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 410

Chapter 410 “Haha! Uncle Sam, stop joking around. Could a loser like Sean get Larson Pharmaceuticals to sign a deal with us?

“If he’s that capable, I, Simon Quinn, will take his last name.” Simon laughed, his face full of disdain.

The others roared with laughter too. –

Vroom vroom vroom!

Just then, there was a sudden car engine roar outside Quinn Residence.

Judging by the loudness of the sound, there was probably more than one. “Hmm? Who’s out there?” Old Madam Quinn asked with a frown as she put down her coffee cup.

Thud!

As she spoke, the gate had been pushed open from the outside. Then one bodyguard in black after another stepped in.

Ten men, twenty men. Twenty bodyguards in black. Each one was wearing a black suit and black sunglasses. Burly, expressionless, and not someone to be messed with. "What are you doing?" Simon slammed his hand onto the table and shouted at them. As tough as they might seem, this was the Quinn family's territory. "What's the matter? Does the Quinn family not welcome me?" Twenty bodyguards in black stood on either side, and Homer stepped through the gate.

"... Mr. Larson?"

Everyone was surprised to see Homer. They were talking about their cooperation with Larson Pharmaceuticals, and Homer was here the next second.

Speak of the devil!

"What are you talking about, Mr. Larson? Please hurry inside!

"Simon, get Mr. Larson a chair." Old Madam Quinn immediately got up and greeted Homer personally.

"Yes!"

Simon quickly turned to go inside and get a chair.

However, Homer only waved his hand slightly.

"Old Madam, take it easy.

"I came here today to talk to you about something.

"Since everyone's here, then I might just as well do it." Homer had no intentions to sit down. He walked up in front of the crowd and spoke indifferently

"Well..."

"I wonder what made you come here, Mr. Larson?"

Homer's attitude made Old Madam Quinn, Samuel, and the others a little dumbfounded.

"It's not a big deal. "I just want to talk about Larson Pharmaceuticals' cooperation with the Quinn family." Homer spoke slowly, organizing his words in his mind. "Is there something wrong with the cooperation?" Old Madam Quinn's heart rate quickened slightly when she heard that.

"No, no, no, there's nothing wrong with the cooperation. "Even if there's a problem, Larson Pharmaceuticals won't have any problem with it.

"Because the partnership was supposed to be for the Quinn family to make money."

Homer waved his hand slightly, but what he said confused Old Madam Quinn and the others even more.

"What do you mean, Mr. Larson?" Old Madam Quinn looked at Homer, her eyes inquisitive. "I want to ask, aren't you curious why Larson Pharmaceuticals signed this contract with the Quinn family?" Homer thought for a moment and decided to go straight to the point. "Of course, you did it for Young Master Zimmer, didn't you?"

"I heard that you're also related to the Zimmer family."

Simon immediately answered, thinking he was clever.

"Ahem, yes, yes..."

"We all remember Young Master Zimmer and Larson Pharmaceuticals' kindness."

Samuel coughed softly and replied while standing "You're wrong"

However, Homer shook his head slowly. "Larson Pharmaceuticals is willing to sign a deal with the Quinn family with no profit and even lose our own money..."

"All because Mr. Lennon asked Larson Pharmaceuticals to help the Quinn family."

Homer slowly glanced across the crowd's faces and told them the truth.

"What?"

Old Madam Quinn was stunned when she heard that.

'Mr. Lennon?' 'Who is Mr. Lennon, and why did he want to help the Quinn family?'
However, with Homer's status, they knew he would never joke with them about such things.

Why did Mr. Lennon want to help the Quinn family though?

"Mr. Larson, I can't remember who's the Mr. Lennon you mentioned..."

Old Madam Quinn pondered for a few seconds before looking up and asking.

Samuel and the others also looked at Homer curiously.

"The Mr. Lennon I'm talking about is a member of the Quinn family.

"Ms. Willow Quinn's fiancé, Sean Lennon."

Homer looked serious as he told the truth.

"Sean... What?"

Old Madam Quinn's eyes widened immediately. Samuel and the others were so shocked that their head stopped working on the spot. It was as if they had been struck by lightning.

It turned out that everything Sean had said was true.

Sean was Mr. Lennon!

Quill was not responsible for Larson Pharmaceuticals' cooperation with the Quinn family.
It was Sean!

It was unbelievable!

“Larson Pharmaceuticals gave the Quinn family this deal as a favor to Mr. Lennon.

“Which means it’s entirely a gift from Mr. Lennon.

“As long as Mr. Lennon is in the Quinn family, we can keep on cooperating.

“We could continue the contract for another five or ten years. Larson Pharmaceuticals can afford that.

“But if Mr. Lennon’s no longer with the Quinn family, we’ll terminate the contract immediately.”

Old Madam Quinn’s eyes kept widening as Homer spoke. Then she slowly sat down on the chair

The truth was out!

It turned out Sean was responsible for all this!