Chapter 441-443

Chapter 441 Today, of course he must maintain an absolute unflappable demeanor.

"What you said is indeed true.

"Willow has an engagement with someone else by accident.

"However, that person is just a disabled person and he's still a loser who had to rely on the Quinns to survive. He has also been a freeloader in their family. 1

"And I'm here to help Willow out of her misery.

"After today, that loser will be kicked out of the Quinn Residence. "I'll give him some money that is enough for him to live on for the rest of his life out of humanitarianismn."

Sean's life was well-arranged for the rest of his life with a few words from Quill.

"Young Master Zimmer really has a big heart! This is also a kind of sacrifice!" +

"Young Master Zimmer can do so much for Ms. Quinn, it's really enviable."

Amidst the flattery, the smile on Quill's face became even wider

He was looking forward to the confession ceremony tonight

Moreover, the words he just said were also embellished and published by various media

If there were people who did not know that Willow had a loser fiancé before, then the whole River City knew about it now.

Everyone knew that Quill was going to confess to Willow and cuckold that loser freeloader.

After all, if a man's fiancée was stolen by another man, any normal man would have no face to live in this world, right?

This was what Quill wanted.

He just wanted to make Sean ashamed to live in this world.

At this time.

In Willow's house. "Okay, dear audience in front of the TV, let's take a break and look forward to the confession ceremony tonight." After hearing this, Fion turned off the TV and turned to look at Sean and Willow.

"Sean, I remember you still have a bet with me, right?"

"What's the situation now? It's the ninth today, aren't you rich? Aren't you capable?"

"Didn't you say that you can grab the right to use the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel from Young Master Zimmer?"

"This is the answer you gave me?"

Fion pointed at the TV and asked Sean with a sneer.

"Mom, what are you talking about?"

Willow frowned immediately. She had been keeping Sean from lighting Quill before.

It was because she was afraid that Quill would lose his temper and attack Sean.

Now, Fion deliberately said such words to anger Sean so Willow was naturally dissatisfied.

"Why? Did I say something wrong?"

"It was him, Sean Lennon, who shot his mouth off saying that he'll do something to defeat Quill and make us feel respected. Why doesn't he dare to speak a word now?"

Fion snorted coldly and took a sip from the teacup.

"It's not even evening yet.

"Are you sure it would be Quill who would finally stand on the top floor of the hotel and confess to Willow?"

Sean raised his head slightly and glanced at Fion. "Oh, what's the matter? "If it's not Young Master Zimmer, then who else could it be? You? "Now that Young Master Zimmer is on TV, how about you?"

"Aren't you still confined to a wheelchair and nested at home?" Fion put the teacup on the table with a bang. Her face was full of disdain.

Chapter 442

Chapter 442 "Mom, I don't want to argue with you.

"I'm going out with Sean today to do something.

"It may take two days. Just call me if anything happens." Willow stood up and pushed Sean to leave. "Stay right there!"

"Where are you going? Are you crazy?" Fion slapped the table, stood up, and scolded angrily as she stared at Willow. "I've already bought the train ticket. Sean and I will go to the Joules Town to do something." Willow's footsteps paused slightly but she still explained to Fion. "You cannot go!" Fion patted the sofa again without the slightest consultation in her tone. "I know what you're thinking. You want to hide from Young Master Zimmer, right?"

"I tell you, don't even think about it.

"Today, you must go to Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel!"

Fion thumped the sofa with a fist and shouted in exasperation. "Mom, you know that I don't like Quill, why're you still forcing me to go there? "Tell me, why should I go there?" Willow shook her head gently. Then, she sighed and looked at Fion. "Why do you have to go? If you accepted Young Master Zimmer, you'll be able to live it up and enjoy endless wealth and glory.

"No one in the Quinn family dares to look down on you anymore. Do you know how many girls in River City envy you when they heard that Young Master Zimmer is going to confess to you?"

Fion stroked her sleeves and kept talking with one hand on her hip.

"Mom!

"I'm used to eating a simple diet and I don't like fancy and expensive food.

"Also, Sean has now changed our lives.

"We now have a car and a house! We can only be happy when we live contentedly. Aren't these enough?

"Also, even if I'm with Ouill, it's only because of him that the Quinn family dare not look down on me anymore. "Why can't we rely on our own ability to make grandma value me? "Lastly, you said that the others envy me, I don't need this envy and I don't want to live in the eyes of others. "If I lived in the eyes of others, I would not have made this choice two years ago." Willow finished speaking word by word and each word was sonorous and powerful. "You can live without the eyes of others, but the Quinn family can't be laughed at!" At this moment, a voice came from outside the door.

Immediately afterward, Old Madam Quinn, Samuel Quinn, who was Willow's eldest uncle, Simon Quinn, Faye Quinn, and a few other members of the Quinn family, who were very favored by Old Madam Quinn, walked in. "Old Madam Quinn, here you are." Fion immediately stepped forward and greeted Old Madam Quinn. "Grandma, uncle..." Willow also bowed her head slightly and greeted everyone. "Willow, tonight, you have to go." || After Old Madam Quinn sat down, she went straight to the point. "Grandma, I've already told my mother just now that I won't go." As for Willow, her attitude was also not the slightest hesitant or nervous. When Old Madam Quinn heard the words, she raised her eyes slightly and glanced at Willow but she was not angry.

Chapter 443

Chapter 443 It was as if she had expected Willow's attitude long ago.

"Old Madam Quinn, please have some tea."

Fion brought a few cups of tea and placed them in front of everyone.

"Willow, why are you still standing there? Sit down and talk."

Willow had no choice but to sit after Fion said so.

Old Madam Quinn and the others surrounded Willow as if they were interrogating a prisoner. They directly ignored Sean as if there was no such person in the living room. Sean did not speak because he wanted to see what the Quinn family would do in order to cling to power. Moreover, the attitude of the Quinn family also determined the next actions of the Reach For Will Group toward the Quinn Corporation. "We went to the company just now but couldn't find you." Old Madam Quinn looked at Willow and said as she lifted the teacup. "Grandma, I've already passed everything to my assistant. "I want to take Sean to the Joules Town for two days." Willow folded her arms and raised her head to look at Old Madam Quinn.

"Willow, are you crazy?"

"As the general manager of the branch office, you can actually say that you want to take a rest and even go out to play? "Do you think it's appropriate to do this?" Faye looked at Willow as she snorted coldly and pouted.

“Why is it inappropriate? “In the past two years, you’ve all been resting for every weekend and having long holidays at every festival and the new year. “In the past two years, I’ve had less than ten days off in total. During New Year’s Eve, I was still eating instant noodles in the company and helping you prepare the year–end report. “I just want to rest for two days now, why is it inappropriate?”

Willow slowly turned her head, looked at Faye, and asked.

The words from Willow made Faye instantly speechless and flushed with shame.

This was because everything Willow said was true without a single word of lies. In the past two years, under the instigation of Old Madam Quinn, they had been extremely harsh to Willow.

All the dirty work was left to her but she could not get the benefits of the company’s dividends at all.

The reason was naturally that Old Madam Quinn wanted Willow to know that she had to pay a price for choosing Sean.

“Hmph! Willow, that’s your own fault. Who told you to oppose grandma and take in such a loser?”

Faye snorted coldly and glanced at Sean.

“He is not a loser!”

Willow raised her head suddenly with eyes full of coldness. “Enough!” Old Madam Quinn frowned slightly and scolded, making both of them shut their mouths. She did not come here today to make them quarrel with Willow. “Willow, you made that decision two years ago today and although I don’t agree with it, I didn’t interfere too much. “That’s why he was able to stay with us for two years and this saved his life. “However, what the Quinn family has done could be considered to be the pinnacle of benevolence and righteousness. “From today, you’ve to live for yourself and the Quinn family. You can’t be dragged down by him anymore. “You should be able to understand what I mean.” Old Madam Quinn slowly put down the teacup as she spoke with a meaningful tone.
