

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 471-480

Chapter 471 This image of him was recorded in its entirety by the reporters and media. It could be predicted that the gossip news of River City tomorrow would be quite explosive.

Vrooi vroom!

Quill stepped on the accelerator and drove the cad liimself.

Although he really wanted to find out who the man sitting in the hot air balloon was.

However, lie could not stay here at the hotel any longer now. Otherwise, those reporters would have probably driven him mad.

"Check it! Check it out for me!

"I want to know who messed up my plan!"

Quill gripped the steering wheel with one hand and slammed the steering wheel with the other. Several bodyguards in the car did not dare to say anything, they just agreed to everything Quill said.

"I don't care who he is, I don't care what his identity is.

"He's dead meat! He's absolutely dead meat!" Quill gritted his teeth and shouted angrily. He hated the man who confessed to Willow, even more than he hated Sean.

"Young Master Zimmer, don't worry, we'll check it out."

All the bodyguards did not dare to disobey Quill at all because they feared him. The hot air balloon slowly floated over the hotel and floated quite far away. When the fuel was about to run out, it slowly returned to the roof of the hotel. During this process, not only did those onlookers not leave but they gathered in greater numbers.

They all wanted to see who the mysterious man who confessed to Willow was.

However, even after a long time had passed since the hot air balloon descended, no one came out the front doors.

Some people speculated that the two stayed at the hotel, while others thought that they left –through the back door.

Although the people left, this extremely grand scene today was burned into their memory.

At this time.

In Willow's house.

The entire Quinn family gathered here at this time. After they returned from the hotel, they drove here and waited quietly.

The reason was naturally that they wanted to wait for Willow to come back and ask her who that person was. "The phone still can't get through?"

Old Madam Quinn frowned when she saw Fion put down her phone.

"It got through but no one answered."

Fion put down the phone and shook her head.

Everyone frowned and wondered what happened to Willow.

"Has Willow been in contact with anyone recently?"

Old Madam Quinn thought for a while then frowned and asked again. "Old Madam Quinn, nope, she didn't." Kent waved his hand and said, "You also know that in addition to being busy with work, Willow only focuses on her family.

"Basically, all the focus is on Sean, she has no time for love at all."

After Kent finished speaking, Simon and Faye did not resute these words.

It was because this was indeed the truth.

Willow spent the past two years focusing on work and taking care of Sean. During this period, many people did try to pursue her but she still remained unchanged, she did not even give anyone a chance.

Old Madam Quinn nodded slightly but still kept frowning

"But, based on what I loow about Willow.

"It's absolutely impossible for her to accept a stranger's confession.

"Since she accepted it, it means that this person must be acquainted with her."

Old Madam Quinn's tone was quite certain.

Everyone also agreed and nodded again.

"Grandma, that person can't really be Sean, right?"

Simon frowned. He thought for a while and he could not help but say it out loud.

"Impossible! Absolutely not!" Faye did not even think about it and replied directly.

The others had different thourits in their minds!

"I'm back."

At this moment, Willow's voice suddenly came from outside.

Everyone stood up in unison and looked outside.

They had never been so concerned about Willow.

Tap!

When the door opened, a wheelchair slowly wheeled in.

Immediately afterward, Willow's figure also appeared from behind.

When they saw this wheelchair and Sean in a suit and leather shoes, the Quinn family was stunned on the spot. 'This wheelchair, this suit...! 'Isn't that what the guy who got out of the motorhome was wearing?' "Willow, th-this..."

Fion pointed at Sean and raised her head to look at Willow.

Old Madam Quinn and the others did not speak, they were all waiting for Willow's answer.

"What's wrong, mom?"

Willow asked with a calm expression. "You and Sean, where did you guys come back from?" Fion paused for a moment and asked daringly soon after. In fact, at this time, they already had the answer in their hearts. However, they could not accept it presently. "Me and Sean were sitting in the hot air balloon.

After Willow said that, she directly pushed Sean towards his room.

The Quinn family, who was standing behind, were frozen on the spot. There was a buzz in their heads.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 472

Chapter 472 It was really Sean! The mysterious man who appeared on the top floor of the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel and made a grand confession to Willow.

He also rode a romantic hot air balloon with Willow in the air. The mysterious man was really

Sean!

The Quinn family could not accept this fact at all.

However, they also felt that Willow would not lie about this matter.

After looking at Sean's suit at this time, they were even more confused and countless thoughts flashed in their minds.

"Willow, you... What did you say?"

Fion touched her forehead and stepped forward to ask

At this time, Willow had already wheeled Sean away and was about to enter his room.

After hearing Fion speak, Willow hesitated for a while and slowly stopped walking forward.

Then, she turned around and looked at the Quinn family calmly.

At this moment, the Quinn family suddenly discovered that Willow's eyes had undergone a huge change compared to before

The former Willow was always a little restrained when facing the Quinn family.

After all, she was persecuted by the entire Quinn family and Old Madam Quinn even turned her back on her because of Sean's affairs.

It could be said that Willow was a little timid and nervous when facing the Quinn family.

However, at this moment, Willow's eyes were calm and she looked at the Quinn family fearlessly. Whether it was Old Madam Quinn or a few collective members of the Quinn family, Willow was not nervous at all. She looked at all of them very calmly.

To put it bluntly, the former Willow was alone and unsupported, so she had no confidence at all.

However, the current Willow seemed to have a lot of confidence and she did not have to flatter and please anyone at all.

In the past, she had no one to depend on and could only live meekly.

Now, she did not have to do that at all. "Whatever you want to know, I can tell you, "But, whether the answer is what you want, I can't guarantee it." Willow's words were meaningful. Among the Quinn family, a few people went red. Therefore, at this time, they did not dare to look at Willow.

"The Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel was reserved by Sean. "All of this was also arranged by Sean for me

"I've made things very clear now"

Willow glanced over the faces of every member of the Quinn family,

After hearing Willow's answer again, the Quinn family looked at each other with complicated feelings. Immediately afterward, Old Madam Quinn and the others looked at Sean again,

At this time, Sean was sitting in a wheelchair with a very indifferent expression.

He knew that the Quinn family was looking at him but he did not even look at them at all, as if he had no interest in talking to them.

Normally, Simon would definitely say that Sean was arrogant and even Old Madam Quinn would not take it seriously. He would definitely target Sean together with Faye

At this time, however, they could not help being surprised when they heard that this hotel was reserved by Sean today. Moreover, could the multimillion-dollar luxury motorhome and the team of ten Porsche escorts outside the hotel also belong to Sean? If Sean really had such great ability, then they would not dare to make fun of Sean as before

“Any other questions?”

Willow stretched out her palm ready to push Sean back to the room.

A burst of light refraction made everyone’s eyes narrow slightly and their gaze was focused on Willow’s fingers soon after. On Willow’s middle finger, a shiny diamond ring came into view

The shape designed by world-class designers, coupled with the arrangement of fine diamonds, highlighted the brilliance of the main diamond,

The entire Quinn family could not help but show their amazed expression

This diamond ring was probably worth a lot of money

“Willow, this diamond ring?”

Fion’s eyes lit up and she could not help asking

“Sean gave it to me.”

Willow did not hide anything and said it directly and truthfully

“My goodness!”

Suddenly, Faye exclaimed with a face full of shock “What’s wrong?”

Old Madam Quinn frowned slightly and looked at Faye.

'It's just a piece of diamond ring which will only cost 100,000 dollars the most. Why is Faye so surprised?' "Grandma, th-that diamond ring is called True Love. Every diamond, whether the main diamond or the fine diamond, is strictly selected, and the workmanship... "Anyway, I've seen this diamond ring with my friends and it's worth a million!" Faye's eyes widened with envy. "Hsss! A million-dollar diamond ring?" The entire Quinn family was stunned 'Is this true?'

However, they knew that Faye had always looked down on Willow and Sean, so she would definitely not speak for Willow and them.

As for something worth 100,000 dollars, usually, she would say that it was not worth 10,000 dollars.

Now, Faye said that this diamond ring was worth a million, so it was definitely not wrong. A million-dollar diamond ring!

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 473

Chapter 473 Even if the Quinn family had such great financial resources, they were all shocked, Including Willow, she could not help but be stunned, She did not expect this diamond ring to be so expensive. Sean clearly told her that this diamond ring was not worth much, so she did not expect it could be worth millions

Willow quickly put down her palm because she suddenly felt uncomfortable for a while,

It would naturally be uncomfortable no matter who was holding millions of dollars in their hands!

The Quinn family looked at each other and could not say a word.

"I'm going to bring Sean to rest first."

Willow was silent for a few seconds. This time, she did not stop, she pushed Sean directly into the room and closed the door smoothly.

It was not until Willow and Sean had left for a long time that the Quinn family slowly recovered

"I'm not dreaming, right?" Fion took a deep breath, looked at Sean's door, and mumbled to herself with a dull look in her eyes

"This, it's really not a dream..."

Kent adjusted his glasses and replied softly

"D*11n!"

After hearing this, Fion was ever more stunned

As for Old Madam Quinn and the others, they were also very confused,

"Fion, what the h*ll is going on here?"

"Where did Sean get the money from?"

"Didn't you tell us that Sean's penniless?"

"The only property he owns is a small broken box and there's no money in it at all

"And what happens now?"

Old Madam Quinn looked at Fion and asked several questions in a row.

Alas, how could Fion answer those questions at this time!

"Old Madam Quinn, ... I don't know either

“But I can feel that the recent Sean is very different from before.”

Fion shook her head and explained softly soon after

After Fion finished speaking, the Quinn family still could not refute it.

Old Madam Quinn was also shaken a little bit.

Compared with the million-dollar diamond ring that Sean bought for Willow, Old Madam Quinn valued other things more.

Sean was able to snatch the hotel from Quill for his own use

Even the hotel did not hesitate to offend Quill for Sean's sake. This was definitely a big matter!

It was absolutely impossible for the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel to offend the Zimmer family in order to make money

Since they did this, it meant that in the eyes of the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel, Sean was more important than the Zimmer family!

The more Old Madam Quinn thought about it, the more confused her mind became Sean has now turned into a big shot who is more important than the Zimmer family in River City?

The more they thought about this, the more unbelievable it seemed

They wanted to ask Sean about it but after seeing Sean's attitude of not wanting to talk to them at all, they gave up temporarily

“Fion, if you've got a chance, just ask Willow what the h*ll is going on...”

Old Madam Quinn was silent for a few seconds. Then, she said as she looked at Fion

“Okay, Old Madam Quinn I’ll find a chance to ask Willow.”

Fion nodded quickly and responded

Old Madam Quinn and the others had already seen Willow at this time, so it would be meaningless to stay any longer, so they all said goodbye and left.

Inside the room.

After Willow pushed Sean to the side of the bed, she immediately raised her palm and looked carefully at the diamond ring on her finger.

“Sean, didn’t you say that this diamond ring is not worth much?

“Faye will definitely not deliberately go out of her way to mention that my things are expensive. Is this diamond ring really worth one million?”

The more Willow thought about it, the more incredulous she felt

She even wanted to take it off now and did not even dare to wear it

“Ahem, yeah, it’s not worth much

“Money is nothing compared to you.”

Sean coughed softly and replied lightly When Willow heard the words, countless emotions flooded in her heart

Then, she slowly sat on the chair. “You told me before that you were going to tell me everything on the ninth. “So, can you tell me now?”

Willow sat up straight and asked the doubts that had been suppressed in her heart.

“I mean... if you promise to be with me, then you’re the person I’m closest to and most trusted

"In that case, of course I won't hide anything from you,

"So now, have you promised to be with me?"

The corners of Sean's mouth twitched and revealed a smile.

"You!"

Willow's face blushed when she heard this and she felt some resentment towards Sean in her heart.

This Sean really did not understand women well!

Some things did not need to be presented so directly. How should Willow answer this?

"Who wants to be with you

"Even if I've decided not to know, I don't want to be with you either." Willow pretended to be angry, pouted, and spoke "Then there's nothing I can do about it. I can only tell everything to my woman without any reservations."

Sean had a smile on the corner of his mouth. His tone was a little light,

"Hmph! Say it or not, it's up to you! Now, I don't feel like listening to it anymore."

After Willow finished speaking, she stood up and walked towards the door.

However, just as her palm was about to touch the doorknob, she stopped again.

"You promise to tell me everything?" Willow asked softly with her back facing Sean

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 474

Chapter 474 "Of course."

Sean nodded.

"...Okay! I promise to be together with you, so tell me now!"

Willow gathered up her courage, turned around, and sat back on the chair.

Sean could not help laughing in his heart but he did not dare to say anything else. With Willow's reserved personality, it was extremely difficult for her to say such words.

"Whatever you want to know, just ask."

Sean sat in a wheelchair with arms folded in front of his chest and he put away his bantering look

When Willow heard the words, she wanted to ask directly but she really did not know how to ask the question

She clearly had a lot of questions in her heart but at this time, she had a feeling that she could not ask Willow was silent for a few seconds before asking this question.

"Then tell me first, where did your money come from?" This was her biggest doubt. After all, Sean bought a car and a house during this time and even reserved the entire Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel

Where did Sean get so much money from?

"This money is all mine.

"Some of them were given to me by the Dragon Kingdom and some were obtained by myself."

Sean looked at Willow and said very seriously.

“What do you mean?”

Willow did not understand what Sean meant for a while.

“The money was given to me by the upper management of Dragon Kingdom “I used to live in the army and you should know that “There are still some spoils of war that I’ve captured.” What Sean said was indeed the truth, but Willow did not live in that world after all, so she could not fully understand what Sean said. “Anyway, all those money came from a legitimate source, right?” Willow nodded slightly and confirmed again for the last time. “Yes.”

Sean nodded heavily. “Okay, I believe you.” Willow nodded and did not doubt Sean anymore.

“Then how did you manage to reserve the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel?”

“I really can’t believe that the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel is willing to offend the Zimmer family for you?”

Willow pondered for two seconds before asking this question again

“Because I have money!

“It’s also because Quill is nothing compared to me “I told you before, I don’t give a sh*t about Quill and he’s not qualified to be my opponent at all

Sean slowly raised his head and mentioned Quill with a nonchalant tone. Regarding the situation of the Zimmer family, Sean also knew something from Zander Young

The strongest backer of the Zimmer family was a man named Jason Yeast from the River City army.

It was said that they were distantly related.

When Sean was in power, small fry like Jason Yeast was nothing at all.

"You, what's your identity before?"

After hearing what Sean said, Willow went silent for a few seconds. Then, she raised her head and asked seriously

Sean also looked at Willow and countless thoughts flashed through his mind.

These things should not be said lightly

However, Sean really did not want to hide too much from Willow when facing her

Sean also believed that Willow would keep it a secret for him

Therefore, after hesitating for a few seconds, Sean slowly sat up straight

"I once held the power controlling millions of troops." After Sean said these words, Willow slowly widened her eyes.

Sean once said this to her but she never believed it.

At this time, Willow almost could not help but believe it.

"No, it's impossible, you're so young..."

"My grandfather has been in the army for so many years. I heard from my grandma that he only managed two hundred thousand soldiers. You..."

Willow slowly shook her head after being silent for a few seconds. "I was originally an orphan but was adopted by my adoptive father and he brought me to the army.

"I've lived in the army since I was a child and I entered the army to train at the age of ten.

"I survived multiple battlefields and I was invincible. When I was twenty years old, I was directly promoted to a nine-star commander..."

Sean slowly raised his head and countless memories flickered in his eyes

Willow had extremely complicated feelings following Sean's words,

'If what Sean said was true, then he must have been brilliant back then, right?

"Then later why did you..."

Willow quickly closed her mouth when she realized she was not supposed to ask this question.

She was afraid of evoking Sean's sad past.

"It's okay

"Later, my adoptive father fell into an ambush by the enemy and was killed in battle

"In a fit of rage, I commanded an army of millions, conquered four thousand kilometers of land and lost territory, and killed countless enemies to avenge my adoptive father "But after the war, I collapsed in exhaustion. I didn't expect that the most trusted brother by my side would take the opportunity to poison me while I was vulnerable in order to usurp my position

"Fortunately, the leader of the personal guards by my side did not join forces with the traitor, and he tried his best to take me out of danger.

"I was an orphan with no relatives. He remembered the marriage contract that Old Master Quinn made for you and me, so he did everything he could to get me here."

Sean slowly retracted his gaze and his tone was very calm.

When he just regained consciousness, he gritted his teeth with hatred whenever he mentioned Blaze Lake

Now, he had been able to say these things calmly,

"Uhm... Is this all true?"

Willow's eyes widened with excitement.

"Everything I said is true." Sean looked at Willow with an extremely honest and serious expression

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 475

Chapter 475 When Willow and Sean looked at each other, countless thoughts flashed in their minds.

'If everything Sean said is true.

"Then Sean must be very imposingly high up in the army before?" However, Willow felt a burst of sadness for no reason when looking at Sean's current appearance.

"No, I wouldn't believe it."

Willow gritted her teeth slightly. She would rather that Sean used to be just an ordinary person

Otherwise, how uncomfortable would such a huge contrast be?

Even Willow, a bystander, also felt extremely uncomfortable, let alone Sean was the party involved.

Therefore, Willow would rather not believe it.

Sean and Willow looked at each other for a few seconds and suddenly he understood what Willow was thinking. Then, he shook his head helplessly.

Indeed!

Even if Willow believed it, so what?

Sean was a nine-star commander in the army before who held the Nation Defending Sword and controlled an army in the millions.

With just a single word, he could dominate an entire city with all the power of the Northwest

However, that was the past,

The current him was just an ordinary person after all

Although Zander Young and Harry Clarke were still by his side, he was no longer holding real authority after all.

“Willow, I’m not telling you this to prove anything to you.

“I just don’t want to hide anything from you.”

Sean looked at Willow and shook his head gently,

“If... If you’re as good as you say... “The Dragon Kingdom won’t leave you alone because they attach great importance to those in the army

“If you made a huge contribution to the Dragon Kingdom, how could they ignore you?” Willow bit her lip slightly, raised her head, and asked afterward.

After hearing this, Sean shook his head and smiled bitterly

It was just that Sean’s matter was really too special and complicated and it was hard to explain with just a few words.

Furthermore, the things involved were also extremely complicated and mysterious. There were many people involved as well and even Sean might not be able to fully understand what happened.

To look past the fact that Sean could explain clearly to Willow about the matter, because even if it could be explained clearly, there were some things that he really could not let Willow know.

"I heard that you have a best friend, Rachel Sumners, who's in the army?"

Sean thought for two seconds and raised his head to look at Willow soon after.

"Yes! She also seems to be posted in the Northwest army you mentioned

"What's wrong? Do you know each other?"

Willow frowned slightly and asked subconsciously.

"No, I heard from you the other day that she seems to be leaving soon?"

Sean shook his head and asked softly

"We haven't been in touch for a while.

"Every time it was her who contacted me, neither Lexie nor I can contact her."

Willow nodded and said helplessly

Of course Sean knew that not just anyone could directly contact the army after all,

In fact, Rachel had violated the rules by calling Willow.

"I want to see her when she comes back."

Sean waved his hand slightly and said softly.

Many things in the Northwest army, including things that happened after Sean left the army, were not very clear to Sean now

Although Sean knew a lot of things from Zander, Zander did not know everything

Firstly, Zander Young, who used to be Sean's subordinate, was bound to be under special surveillance by Blaze Lake.

After all, it was extremely difficult to keep himself alive so he did not dare to inquire about too many things

Secondly, what Zander and Rachel did was different,

As a valiant general in the army, Zander was mostly in charge of killing the enemies on the battlefield.

As for Rachel, she was in charge of collecting intelligence. Hence, Rachel must know and understand a lot more than Zander.

If Sean could meet with Rachel, he would definitely know everything about the Northwest army.

No matter what happened back then or what it was now. "Uhm... Okay. When Rachel comes back, I'll call Lexie and you for dinner together."

Willow thought for a while and nodded immediately. "Willow, you must be feeling tired already, you should rest early "I've already washed up myself in the hotel, so I won't hold you up any longer." Sean slowly reached out and touched Willow's fair and flawless face.

Willow nodded when she heard the words and said with a blushed face soon after, "If I knew it was you, I should have put on makeup..."

Willow felt a little embarrassed looking at the cheap clothes on her body that she bought from the flea market and the deliberately messed up hair. "It's okay, I like you, I still like you no matter what you look like."

Sean looked at Willow and said these words completely subconsciously,

"You..." Willow's face became even rosier.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 476

Chapter 476 Sean seldom said such loving words to her and every time Sean said so, it was from the heart inadvertently Willow knew that what Sean said to her was indeed the truth of his heart "Sean, thank you for everything you've done for me." Willow stood up slowly and whispered as she touched the million-dollar diamond ring with her fingers "It's worth doing anything for you, rest early." Sean said as he nodded with a smile and waved his hand.

"Hmm."

Willow responded and then glanced at Sean's leg again. Her mouth moved slightly but she did not say anything In the end, she still did not say anything and slowly turned to leave

In the living room.

After Willow came out, she ran into Fion and Kent.

"Mom, what are you guys doing here?"

Willow frowned slightly and asked speechlessly.

"Ahem, Willow, tell me the truth, what's going on here?"

Fion took Willow's palm and sat on the sofa

"Everything I say is the truth!

"The hotel was reserved by Sean and he was the one who consessed to me."

Willow was a little helpless She suddenly felt that she should not tell the truth to the Quinn family

Otherwise, she would not be annoyed by those questions now

“Then have you accepted him?”

Fion nodded and asked again.

Willow was a little hesitant about how to answer.

“You should accept it! Why don’t you accept it?”

What Fion said made Willow stunned on the spot.

Was this still the Fion she knew?

Why would Fion say such words?

“Ahem, no, that’s not what I meant. I just wanted to ask how was Sean able to reserve this hotel?”

“Does he have anything to do with the owner of the hotel? otherwise, the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel will definitely not offend the Zimmer family for him.

“Now their hotel has offended the Zimmer family to death!”

Fion still could not understand what was going on after thinking for the whole day.

She even felt that only a fool would do something like how the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel offended the Zimmer family because of Sean

“Mom, I don’t know what’s going on either

“In short, Sean’s not as useless as you think “Uhm, he.”

Willow could not help thinking of the past events that Sean told her just now.

“What’s it?”

Fion immediately sat up straight and asked.

“He Nothing, anyway, just don’t ask anymore.”

“Anyway, you can’t be so harsh with him.”

Willow hesitated for two seconds but still did not tell Fion what Sean had told her.

Even though Fion was Willow’s biological mother, she felt that the fewer people who knew about Sean’s past, the better.

“Hmph! Still wanna hide from me?”

“I tell you, I’ve no interest in knowing the business between both of you.”

“But your grandma will definitely question us about this. If Sean really has the ability to change the Quinn family’s opinion of him, then there might be a chance for the two of you.”

“But if Quill takes the lead, you won’t have a chance to refuse anymore.”

Fion immediately said with arms folded in front of her chest. She was trying to be tricky.

“Okay, I understand. Mom, you and dad should rest early.” Willow paused and got up and went back to her room soon after.

After returning to the room, Willow wanted to call Old Madam Quinn.

However, Willow thought that even if she got through the phone, what could be done? Was it to tell the Quinn family how powerful Sean used to be in the army?

It was useless.

Therefore, Willow hesitated and put down the phone soon after She did not know what the Quinn family would do and she had no right to interfere.

At this time, in the Quinn family's ancestral residence As the residence of Old Madam Quinn, usually, it was very quiet and conducive for health preservation.

However, the Quinn family's ancestral residence was extremely lively in the past two days. The affairs of the Reach For Will Group and the matter of Willow being confessed to were piled up together, which made the Quinn family busy for a while.

Usually, they would come here to discuss the matter.

However, everyone was extremely silent tonight The Quinn family looked at each other but none of them could find the right words to start the conversation

"Simon, usually you're quite close to Young Master Zimmer. "Now tell me what's going on"

In the end, it was still Old Madam Quinn who spoke first and asked Simon, "Grandma, uhm, the."

Simon stammered. Even Quill himself did not know what was going on, how could Simon be able to explain to Old Madam Quinn?

"I want to know that Young Master Zimmer has been vigorously promoting since some time ago that he'll climb to the roof of the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel on the ninth to confess to Willow

"Today's confession indeed went as planned, but why was it not him who confessed to Willow? "Is he making fun of the Quinn family?" Old Madam Quinn's expression was somewhat unsettling

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 477

Chapter 477

“Grandina, don’t be angry, this matter.

“There must be a misunderstanding in this matter.”

Simon wiped his forehead and quickly spoke “Misunderstanding?

“I’ve seen everything with my own eyes. Now you’re telling me it’s a misunderstanding?”

When Old Madam Quinn heard this explanation, she became even more impatient.

“Grandma, maybe this is really a misunderstanding.

“Although it wasn’t Young Master Zimmer who confessed to Willow, it’s also not necessarily

Sean.

“Anyway, I won’t believe it.”

Faye took over the conversation and said with a cold short “What do you mean?” When Old Madam Quinn heard this, she turned to look at Faye “Grandma, think about it, how much does it cost to reserve the entire Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel? I think it will cost at least a few million dollars?

“Or maybe it will cost nearly ten million dollars. Can Sean come up with so much money?

“If he can really come up with so much money, he’ll not have to rely on the Quinns to survive, right?”

Faye pouted and said disdainfully After hearing this, several members of the Quinn family nodded silently in agreement.

It was really difficult for them to associate Sean as a rich man who could simply take out tens of millions of funds easily.

“Could it be that Willow would deceive us with this kind of thing?”

“If there really is someone else who confessed to Willow, why did that person disappear?”

“Besides Sean, I can’t think of anyone else”

Old Madam Quinn was not a fool. Now that the facts were in front of her eyes, how could she be led astray just because Faye and the others said a few words?

“Grandma, even if it’s really Sean, there must be something strange about this

“Anyway, if it’s said that the hotel was reserved by Sean, then I definitely don’t believe it

“Let’s ask Young Master Zimmer first to see what’s going on.” After Faye finished saying these words, she immediately got met with the approval of many people.

It was because they were now extremely conflicted.

If Sean’s ability was stronger than the Zimmer family, then they really needed to think about how Willow should choose.

Therefore, they were all very concerned about what was going on

At this time, in the villa of the Zimmer family. Quill and Jon both sat on the sofa with gloomy faces.

After Jon came back from the hotel, he called the guests he had invited one by one and apologized in person After finishing everything, Jon was only able to breathe a sigh of relief and rest

“Tell me now, what the h*ll is going on here?”

Jon shouted at Quill and started scolding him on the spot

“Dad, I don’t know.”

Quill gritted his teeth slightly and felt extremely aggrieved at this moment

“You don’t know? You’re such an incompetent fool!

“Would you know if I died one day? What do you know?”

“You tell me what else do you know besides eating, drinking, and having fun all day?”

Jon looked at Quill and cursed one nonstop The more he cursed, the angrier he felt in his heart

Quill looked down at his phone then suddenly raised his head and said, “Dad, Simon said that the man who confessed to Willow today might be Sean,

After hearing what Quill said, Jon frowned and was stunned on the spot.

“Sean? That cripple Sean?”

Jon was a little confused. He looked at Quill and asked.

“Yes! It’s him!”

Quill gritted his teeth and he felt more and more suffocated.

He could lose to anyone but losing to Sean would make him feel worse than death

“Is this true?”

Jon squinted slightly and asked. “It shouldn’t be wrong Simon dares not lie to me.”

Quill shook his head and said with a confident tone.

“Wait a minute, let me think about it.”

Jon stretched out his palm and gently rubbed his temples as if thinking about something

Snap!

After a few seconds, Jon opened his eyes and clapped his palm suddenly “I got it!”

There was a sinister smile on Jon’s face.

The night was getting deeper and deeper, Some people turned off the lights to rest, some worked overtime to make money, and some people got drunk in bars. At the same time node, different things would happen in different places,

At this time, in Janestown.

In the room, two middle aged men sat opposite each other.

Both of them had dignified appearance and burly stature

An authoritative aura was exuded on their square shaped face

With a buttoned-up collar suit, which made them look more concise and elegant, comfortable and respectable

“The war in the Northwest is tense and the major clans in the North have sinister motives. They must have the idea of making a comeback

“The Dragon Kingdom has a vast territory and a large number of people. There is never a shortage of patriotic youth.

“Of course, a thousand troops are easy to get but one general is hard to find

“At this time, no one capable in the Dragon Kingdom can be found.” A middle-aged man, standing by the window with his hands behind his back, muttered to himself.

There was a deep sadness in his voice “The Northern clan is aggressive and has broken several lines of defense of ours “With two more victories, they can directly step into the land of the Dragon Kingdom “Once they get to that point.

Another middle aged man also muttered, “The consequences will be unimaginable”

With those words, the atmosphere in the room fell silent immediately.

“In the past, there was a valiant general, Sean Lennon, guarding the Northwest

“Slaughtering enemies, quelling wars, unrivaled, and he alone could control thousands of miles of mountains and rivers

“The Northern clan dynasties were suppressed and dared not resist. They dared not even place half a step in the Dragon Kingdom. “It’s a pity... It’s a pity that the Dragon Kingdom is still here, but there is no valiant general like Sean Lennon, in this Dragon Kingdom anymore...” The middle-aged man by the windowsill spoke in a regretful tone and a choked voice.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 478

Chapter 478 The middle-aged man behind him slowly widened his eyes.

Deep in his eyes, there was full of horror.

What shocked him was not the words of the middle-aged man by the window,

It was the man’s choked tone he spoke with

Only he knew how terrifying the identity of the middle aged man by the window was.

As for someone who had the ability to make such a person with a terrifying identity lament his loss, you could imagine the position of Sean in his heart.

"I'm so sorry for your loss."

The short haired middle aged man behind him said softly,

"I'm just... Sigh... God envies talent!"

"I'm just worried about the future of the Dragon Kingdom."

The middle aged man by the window slowly waved his hand and let out a long sigh

"During the period when Commander Lennon was guarding among the armies in the Northwest, the Southern clans acted honestly and the Northern dynasties remained quiet out of fear

"He alone took up the responsibility of guarding the Dragon Kingdom, just like a towering mountain shielding the nation.

"In the territory of the Dragon Kingdom, the country is prosperous and the people are safe and living in peace

"Someone said before that, with him, it will surely ensure the stability and peacefulness of the Dragon Kingdom for a century

"At that time, I didn't believe it."

After hearing the middle-aged man by the window say these words, the short haired middle aged man behind him also sighed.

At that time, he did not believe it either.

However, who would have thought that Sean died on the battlefield

Later, after being recommended and supported by countless people, Sean's capable assistant, Blaze Lake, was elected to lead the millions of soldiers in the Northwest

However, Blaze was unworthy of the rank, In the past two years, he had fought countless times but he had lost more and won few.

Numerous soldiers were injured and killed. Moreover, the thousands of miles of national territory that Sean had recovered in the past were taken away by the clans of the Northern dynasty It could be said that the current border of the Northwest was already in critical condition and jeopardy.

Once the Northwest army could not resist, the clans of the North and South would join forces and they would definitely be able to leap across the border and approach the territory of the Dragon Kingdom.

At that time, the Dragon Kingdom was a real disaster.

"Blaze and Sean are very different

"Sean has an iron-blooded personality. He had been trained in the army for many years and he's sturdy

"He seldom speaks but he has excellent strategies and he made use of his troops like a god

"And Blaze indeed has a glib tongue but most of the time it's just an empty talk. In terms of leading troops to fight in actual combat, he cannot hold a candle to Sean

"In the past two years, the war has been punctuated with successive defeats. So, Blaze has an inescapable responsibility."

The middle aged man by the windowsill said this with a coldness in his tone.

"You're right.

"But... We're now confronted by a formidable enemy, so we can't replace the general at the last minute.

“It took Blaze two years to finally consolidate his control of the army in the Northwest ”

“If there’s a need to replace the general immediately, is there anyone else who can hold this post? Even if it’s replaced, who can do better than Blaze? Will those soldiers in the Northwest obey their orders?”

The short-haired middle-aged man behind him expressed his concerns.

The middle-aged man by the windowsill fell into silence when he heard the words

If it was not for this, Blaze would have been replaced long ago

“Yeah, you’re right.

“I’m afraid that apart from Sean, no one can revitalize the army of millions in the Northwest

“Of course, people can’t be resurrected from the dead, he’s gone after all...”

The middle-aged man by the windowsill’s hands shook slightly “Yeah, it’s a pity that he’s gone Blaze reported that even Sean’s corpse could not even be found.

“We want to build a monument for such a hero but we don’t know where to start.”

The two middle-aged men looked at each other and sighed, feeling more and more regretful in their hearts

“I would like to use the rest of my life to exchange for Sean to revive to save the world and protect the prosperity of the Dragon Kingdom.”

“But... but...”

Inside the room, there was a long sigh.

If Sean was still alive, he was willing to pay the price needed to help Sean ascend. However, people could not be resurrected from the dead. So, he could only sigh in sorrow.

The night sky was full of stars.

Time was like quicksand,

In the dead of night. In Willow's house.

"Whew!"

Inside the room, Sean exhaled a long breath and wiped the sweat from his forehead.

Swoosh!

Sean's wrist flipped and several silver needles on his leg were withdrawn by him

A smile appeared on the corner of Sean's mouth when he could feel the warmth from his legs.

Originally, the nervous system of the leg was damaged, Sean could not feel whether it was itchy or painful

By feeling the warmth in his legs, Sean knew that the nerves in his legs were slowly recovering

This was definitely a breakthrough

"The heavens would not destroy anyone."

Sean slowly raised his head, looked at the lights on the ceiling, and muttered to himself.

Originally, Sean thought that once the sequelae of the semi-finished pill appeared, it would be impossible for him to stand up again in his life.

However, now it seemed that his luck was not so bad. Fate, after all, did not leave him to suffer

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 479

Chapter 479 According to Sean's judgment, this pill should have played the greatest role. Of course, this was also related to Sean's own physique and the special needle treatment used to assist in the treatment.

If it was on someone else, there was an 80% chance that there would be indelible sequelae.

Sean had trained on the battlefield for many years and he had developed very good physical fitness.

Coupled with his wonderful magical special needle treatment and after adjuvant treatment, this semi-finished pill had exerted a great effect.

"About three days.

"I should be able to stand up by then."

Sean felt the warmth of his legs again and muttered to himself soon after.

The injury on his legs was about to recover.

Did that not mean that the death of Quill and the others was coming soon?

When Sean was paralyzed in a wheelchair, he was like a tiger with its claws cut off.

When he was able to stand up, he would be like the tiger returning to the mountain and roaring in the forest.

The concerns he had when he was still disabled would not be a problem when he returned to normal.

It was because there were a lot of things he could not do when he was in a wheelchair.

However, if he could stand up, those things that were once impossible to do would not pose any difficulty for him.

Sean slowly turned his head, looked at the night outside the window, and muttered to himself

“Blaze Lake, my good brother

“You must wait for me!!

The next day.

River City

The popularity of what happened last night was still extremely high

Many news media were reporting on what happened last night

After all, no one expected such a reversal to happen last night, Quill, who was supposed to play the lead role, was barred from the hotel and could not even enter the entrance.

Including the guests and celebrities they invited, they were all barred and suffered from cold and hunger outside the hotel entrance for two hours. However, the confession ceremony last night really went smoothly. The photo of Willow and a mysterious man taking off in a hot air balloon was in stark contrast to the photo of Quill’s face deformed with anger. This reversal situation was definitely more eye-catching, Therefore, countless news media were publishing this matter to satisfy the curiosity of those popcorn-munching masses.

Jon used his connections and spent money to get several well-known media to delete the news

However, in the current society, they could not stop all kinds of large and small self-medias and YouTubers at all.

Therefore, by the next morning, the entire River City knew what happened last night

Everyone knew that the confession ceremony carefully prepared by Quill, which has been widely hyped up since a few days ago, had ended up being hijacked by someone else

That mysterious young man not only snatched the right to use the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel from Quill.

He confessed to Willow on the rooftop of the hotel instead

Not only that, Quill, who was so full of himself in the past few days, could not even enter the hotel, which was totally embarrassing

After the news spread, the Zimmer family instantly became a laughingstock in River City.

Quill was even more embarrassed to go out to meet people and spent the whole morning hiding at home reading the news.

After looking at the hot news that added fuel to the fire, he was even angrier

Bang!

The tablet that the servant just brought over was smashed by Quill again.

"D*mn! #sshole!"

Quill was furious. He grabbed the things on the table and smashed them on the ground indiscriminately,

After the smashing sounds ended, the living room was in an instant mess. "What the h*ll are you doing?"

Jon walked over with a gloomy face and scolded Quill,

"Dad! I can't bear it! The Zimmer family can't endure this indignity in vain!"

Quill gritted his teeth slightly and sat on the sofa indignantly. "Then what can you do? You don't even know who that person is." Jon snorted coldly and sat down with a gloomy expression "Dad, didn't I tell you yesterday?"

"Simon said that it was Sean who reserved the hotel!"

"It was also Sean who confessed to Willow on the rooftop of the hotel." Quill thought about it for a while and replied to Jon. "Is it really him? How did Simon know?"

Quill frowned slightly when he heard the words and he quickly asked soon after.

"Willow and Sean said it themselves,

"But I'm still a little bit unconvinced."

Quill pouted. 'If Sean really had that ability, would the Quill family look down on him so much?

He did not even believe that the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel would offend the Zimmer family for the cripple Sean

Jon pondered for two seconds and said, "Leave this matter alone

"The Zimmer family was completely humiliated by the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel yesterday.

"If they hadn't stopped us from entering, we wouldn't have lost such a huge dignity,

“The Zimmer family has lost such a huge face. If we don’t do something, won’t we be laughed at?

After hearing what Jon said, Quill was stunned for a moment and asked, “Dad, what are you going to do?”

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 480

Chapter 480 “I’ve already contacted the other socialites who were blocked at the entrance with us last night. “We’ll team up today to find the person in charge of the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel and have a good talk with them,”

Jon narrowed his eyes slightly with a hint of coldness in his eyes. Since the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel had let the Zimmer family lose such a huge dignity, the Zimmer family definitely would let them suffer.

“Dad, I’ll go with you.” Quill immediately stood up and said to Jon “No! You’ve other things to do.”

Jon went close to Quill’s ear and then whispered in it for a while

The more Quill listened, the more excited he became until his eyes lit up

“Dad, I understand, I promise I’ll do it well.”

After Quill heard this, he slapped his chest hard.

In the afternoon

Jon, together with more than a dozen of other River City celebrities, rushed to the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel together

These dozen people were all guests invited by Quill to the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel yesterday but they were also blocked outside the hotel

Hence, they wanted to give this hotel a good lesson together with Jon today

More than a dozen luxury cars worth more than one million lined up together and drove directly to the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel

Once the door was opened, Jon and a dozen people got out of the car followed by a few bodyguards per person. A group of dozens of people rushed towards the hotel entrance in a stampede.

"Mr. Zimmer, wait a minute, look at the signboard on that." Suddenly, a middle-aged man stopped Jon and pointed his finger up. "What's so good to look at the signboard, let's go straight to their general manager"

Jon gave a nonchalant look and did not even raise his head to look at the signboard.

"No, Mr. Zimmer, their hotel seems to have changed its name..."

However, the middle-aged people next to Jon all stopped slowly and their expressions seemed a little dazed.

"What does it mean? Could it be that the ownership of this hotel has changed?"

"They knew that they've offended us and couldn't continue their business, so they changed ownership in one night?" Jon's face was full of disdain and then he looked up.

At first glance, Jon was slightly taken aback with eyes widened slightly.

He quickly rubbed his eyes and looked up again.

The only thing he saw was that originally the signboard with the three big characters 'Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel' had changed.

The two words 'Lakeside Hotel' had not changed but in front of these two words, there had been a change

"Reach For Will Lakeside Hotel, Reach For Will..."

Jon murmured and immediately fell silent soon after.

At the same time, these middle-aged people behind him also had dull faces.

The three words 'Reach For Will

As for the ordinary people in River City, they might not react for a while. However, for the big shots in the River City's business circle like Jon and the others, these three words were absolutely reverberating! At the beginning of its establishment, the registered capital of that group was already considerable.

Immediately afterward, they lavishly won the Aerial Dragon District with a winning bid price of 200 million dollars.

Then, they gave out orders, signed numerous collaborations, and got involved with many companies.

The Reach For Will Group's reputation had instantly indicated they would become the master of River City's business district.

Moreover, because they had given out numerous business orders before, many large and small companies had relationships with them.

It was no exaggeration to say that many small companies relied on the Reach For Will Group to survive. The Reach For Will Group was quite extraordinary in terms of financial resources and connections

Not many people dared to offend them easily. At this time, the name of this hotel had changed to 'Reach For Will Lakeside Hotel'.

The meaning was obvious This hotel had definitely been acquired by the Reach For Will Group!
