

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 511-520

Chapter 511

The woman gritted her teeth, thought about it for a few seconds, and held back temporarily. Anyway, they would definitely ask for an explanation for this matter today.

Since so many parents spoke out together, this kindergarten certainly dared not ignore it, right?

"Your good days are coming to an end soon!"

The woman snorted coldly, rubbed her face soon after, and entered the venue with the crowd.

"Mr. Lennon, Ms. Light, shall we go in too?"

After everyone entered the venue, Principal Leed walked over with a polite smile on his face.

"Let's go."

Sean nodded and entered the venue with Candy and Leah afterward.

Countless parents brought their children together to listen carefully in the very spacious auditorium.

The few people who sat on the stage included parenting experts, senior teachers, as well as Principal Leed.

Sean did not pay attention to what they said during the process.

Instead, Candy sat upright and listened very carefully.

She cherished this parent-teacher meeting accompanied by a father.

Principal Leed and several teachers started to interact with parents after they spoke on the stage for less than 20 minutes.

Many parents raised their hands and asked questions about their child's education.

The parenting experts on the stage also answered carefully.

"Principal Leed, I've got a question here that needs an explanation from all of you."

The woman, who was slapped by Sean, stood up forcefully and shouted loudly until her voice directly drowned everyone's voices.

Principal Leed frowned slightly, looked at the woman soon after, and said, "Please ask."

The woman snorted coldly, glanced at Sean, stood up, and said, "You guys are not doing things fairly."

"You've been teaching the children to be fair and just and to obey the law. But you've not set a good example as a teacher, do you think it is appropriate?"

"Even the Dragon Kingdom advocates fairness and justice, and democratic rule of law, but what have you done?"

The woman said with a questioning tone.

"What are you talking about?"

Principal Leed and a few of them froze a little.

"What am I talking about?"

"I just want to know, why does that student named Candy in this kindergarten always receive an extra meal portion every time?"

The woman asked with a cold snort as she pointed at Sean and the two of them.

With this woman taking the lead, many parents chimed in and heckled.

Principal Leed could not help frowning.

Fairness and justice were good but privileges were everywhere.

This woman was a little strange, right?

"I want to ask, on what grounds do they get such special treatment?"

When the woman saw that Principal Leed did not speak, she became even more arrogant and shouted aggressively.

"On what grounds?"

"Let me tell you the reason."

At this moment, the door of the conference room was pushed open, and a voice followed.

Two bodyguards in black pushed the door and stood guard on both sides of the door, and a middle-aged man in a suit followed.

"Mr. Tomme!"

After seeing this middle-aged man, Principal Leed and the others immediately stood up and greeted him respectfully.

Sean narrowed his eyes slightly. He had some impressions of this middle-aged man in his mind.

The chairman of Tomme Ltd. in River City, Jack Tomme.

Sean met him last time because of Candy.

Jack glanced over and nodded at Sean with a smile.

He was very busy but when he heard that Sean came to the kindergarten in person, he rushed over immediately.

It was just that he did not expect to have to come this soon.

“Let me introduce myself.

“My name is Jake Tomme, the chairman of Tomme Ltd.

“This kindergarten is owned by our company.”

Jack introduced himself to the crowd.

Everyone nodded lightly. Some parents still knew about Jack Tomme.

After all, Tomme Ltd. was also somewhat famous in River City.

“I don’t care who you are.

“We send our children here, then we’re your customers!

“Now, tell me, on what grounds do they get such special treatment?”

The woman snorted coldly and questioned Jack.

“We’re a semi-welfare kindergarten.

“The fees charged by us far exceed the expenses of the children in school.

“I think every parent is aware of this, right?”

Jack leaned forward with both hands on the table and looked at everyone.

Everyone was stunned when they heard the words and nodded silently soon after.

The fees of Sunny Kindergarten were indeed several grades lower than other kindergartens.

It used to be an orphanage but it was later acquired by Tomme Ltd. and they transformed it into a kindergarten.

Those orphans could also live here without paying any fees.

Many people in River City knew about these things and some charitable people would come to donate.

No one could refute what everyone knew.

It was fine to say that Tomme Ltd. did it on purpose to build up its image or that they had ulterior motives but they did do real things to help.

“Every student enjoys subsidies from our company.

“Everyone enjoys the subsidies from those generous people who donate.

“And Mr. Lennon donated one million dollars to the kindergarten some time ago.

“Just now, Mr. Lennon once again donated two million dollars in cash to the kindergarten.”

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 512

Chapter 512

“If anyone doesn't believe it, they can take this card to check!”

Jack slowly raised a bank card, which was the one that Sean asked Ziegler to donate to the kindergarten.

Sean shook his head slightly because he did not want everyone to know what he did.

Sean only heard that the kindergarten was formerly an orphanage, so he helped out only after thinking about his life in the orphanage.

“Part of the subsidies your children enjoy is a donation from Mr. Lennon.

“Including all the children’s expenses in the kindergarten and even the schoolbags distributed, part of it is a donation from Mr. Lennon.

“So, is it too much for Mr. Lennon’s child to get an extra cookie and a piece of chocolate in the kindergarten?”

Jack put down his bank card and turned his eyes to look at every one.

“No, it’s not too much...”

Many parents lowered their heads silently.

“Now, do

you still want to ask me what’s the reason?”

Jack turned to look at the woman again and asked softly.

The woman was speechless and sat down silently.

There was dead silence in the entire venue.

Everyone no longer had any comments.

Even many people were a little ashamed when thinking about their words before.

As for the slapped couple, although they were not ashamed, they did not dare to provoke Sean again.

Only a very wealthy person could donate millions to kindergartens at will!

Hence, they dared not provoke such a big shot.

Therefore, these few slaps they got today were considered to be for nothing.

After Jack spoke, this parent-teacher meeting soon ended.

Those parents all looked at Sean and Leah with eyes were filled with complicated emotions and quickly left with their children soon after.

Both Sean and Jack also left after they talked with each other for a while.

At first, Sean did not feel anything about Jack.

However, ever since he knew that Tomme Ltd. had done such a thing, his impression of Jack had changed somewhat.

Perhaps they were trying to use this to help their company build an image.

At least they did.

This was enough.

“Candy, what do you want to eat? I’ll take you to eat something delicious.”

Sean touched Candy’s little head and spoke softly with a smile in the car.

Sean thought in his heart that it was not bad to have such a daughter.

He just did not know if Willow would be willing to have a child for him.

“Dad... Uncle Sean, I don't want to eat anything, I just want to be with you.”

Candy subconsciously wanted to call Sean as dad, but she quickly swallowed her words.

She was young but very sensible.

“Okay, then I'll accompany you wherever you want to go.”

Sean was silent for a few seconds and his expression became softer.

“Then I want to go to the amusement park!

“My mother never took me there.”

Candy immediately raised her little hand and shouted.

“Okay, let's go to the amusement park.”

Sean nodded lightly and agreed. “Okay! Sit tight.”

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 513

Chapter 513

Ziegler, the driver in front, responded immediately and drove towards the nearby amusement park soon after.

“Sean, you don't need to donate to them.

“The kindergarten has the backing of Tomme Ltd., so there should be no shortage of money.

“And I think they’re doing it just to gain the public’s favor.”

Leah thought about the matter earlier but still advised Sean because she felt a little distressed about the millions of dollars that he spent.

“Perhaps.

“However, actions are more important than thoughts.

“To judge a person’s good and evil, look at what he does, not what he thinks in his heart. If people who have evil thoughts in their hearts are considered bad people, then there will be no good people in the world.

“So, it’s not what’s on their minds that matters, it’s what they do.”

Sean smiled lightly and did not explain too much.

“Uhm... okay.”

Leah seemed to understand that Sean could spend his own money on whatever he wanted and it was naturally difficult for others to interfere.

Sean played with Candy the entire day.

By the time they were sent back, it was almost seven o’clock in the evening when they returned home.

Willow had already got off work and was busy cooking in the kitchen.

“I’m a Barbie girl, in the Barbie world, life in plastic, it’s fantastic...’ Willow seemed to be in a good mood today, humming a song while cooking. “What’s the matter, Barbie girl? What’s the happy thing that happened today?”

Sean held back a smile and asked earnestly.

“Hey! Sean, you’re back!”

Willow took the spatula and hurried to the kitchen door.

“Do you have anything to do tomorrow?”

“If you have nothing to do, go to the airport with me.”

Willow said these in an excited tone.

“Why? Who are you picking up?”

Sean froze a while when he heard the words and asked with some doubts.

“It’s Rae! Rae’s coming back!”

Willow smiled, turned, and entered the kitchen after finished speaking to Sean.

Sean was stunned for a moment and there was a complex look in his eyes.

Was Rachel Summers finally coming back?

In fact, Sean had been waiting for her to come back.

She was in charge of intelligence work in the Northwest army at the beginning, so she knew many things.

Hence, she might be able to solve a lot of doubts for Sean.

“But, what I look like now... I just don’t know if she can still recognize me...”

Sean slowly shook his head and smiled bitterly.

“Sean, come with me tomorrow!”

“Didn’t you say that you were in the army before?”

“I want to let Rae see if she knows you, the big shot in the army.”

Willow said half-jokingly in the kitchen.

“Alright...”

Sean nodded lightly and could not help but felt some anticipation in his heart

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 514

Chapter 514

“Are you sure?”

“You’re not going to keep fooling me now, are you?”

Willow, who was in the kitchen, muttered speechlessly.

“I haven’t been fooling with you since the beginning.”

Sean turned the wheelchair, moved towards the kitchen, and spoke with a very serious tone.

“Pfft! I’ll know tomorrow if you are right or not.”

Willow pouted and deliberately showed a nonchalant look.

In fact, Willow actually believed Sean in her heart.

It was because Sean had absolutely no need to deceive her with these things.

“Unlucky! I lost again today!”

At this moment, Fion mumbled as she rushed in from outside.

“What are you doing here?”

“Willow is cooking in the kitchen, why aren't you helping?”

Fion immediately shouted angrily upon seeing Sean at a glance.

Sean shook his head helplessly. In the past two years, every time Fion came back from losing in gambling, she would vent her anger at Willow and Sean.

However, Fion was heavily addicted to gambling and even poorer at it.

The more she lost, the more she would gamble.

After such a long time, Sean had long been used to it.

“Mom, I told Sean not to come and help.

“Why do you always look for trouble every time you come back after gambling?”

Willow was in the kitchen and could not take it anymore so she stuck her head out immediately and said to Fion.

“Hmph! Go and do your cooking.”

Fion sat on the sofa and frowned at Sean.

“Sean, I ask you, did the army give you the money that you spent?”

Fion looked at Sean for two seconds and suddenly asked this question.

Sean paused and nodded afterward.

It was not too much to say that the wealth in his hand was given to him by the army.

Even though a large part of it was the spoils of war he captured, the higher management let him keep the things that should have been handed in, so it was indeed given to him by the army.

When Fion heard this, she could not help but snort coldly.

Quill had already told her that Sean's money was nothing more than the pension given to him by the army.

When the money is spent, Sean would still be the loser that had nothing before.

"Sean, you were just a veg before, so I won't say anything about you yet.

"But now that you've regained your consciousness and still do these silly things, then you're really a loser."

Fion said disdainfully as she pouted and looked at Sean.

"Why?"

Sean frowned. A hint of coldness flickered in his eyes.

"You're still asking me why?"

"How much money can the army give you to let you splurge as you like?"

"It doesn't matter if you were a veg before and now you've regained the consciousness of a normal person.

"You've some money in your hand and you don't want to use it to do some investment, but splurge as you like? Let me ask you, what will you do when you're done splurging your money?"

"If you just continue to spend as you like, won't you be a pauper with nothing in the future?"

Fion became angrier the more she talked as if Sean was splurging her money.

Sean narrowed his eyes slightly and finally understood why Fion was so angry.

"You don't have to worry about this.

"If a person splurges as he likes and becomes a pauper with nothing in the future, it's just because that person is not rich enough.

"And how much money I have is beyond your imagination."

Sean said calmly as he slowly turned his head to look at Fion.

After hearing Sean's words, Fion laughed sardonically. She was really pissed off by Sean's arrogance.

"Okay! Okay!

"I can't be bothered to talk to you.

"Tomorrow, go to Old Madam Quinn's house with me."

Fion waved her hand impatiently. She did not want to talk too much with Sean at all.

"I've something to do tomorrow. I'm going to pick up someone with Willow."

Sean refused directly. If it was not necessary, he really did not want to have any unnecessary contact with the Quinn family.

Therefore, Sean did not want to go even though Fion asked him to go.

“Who are you going to pick up?”

“Old Madam Quinn has called me and asked me to take you there.”

After Fion finished speaking, she got up and walked into the bedroom. She did not give Sean a chance to speak at all.

At the same time, Willow just came out of the kitchen with two plates of dishes.

“Sean, did Mom say something about you again?”

After seeing that there was something wrong with Sean’s expression, Willow immediately came over and asked.

“Nothing.”

“She asked me to go to Old Madam Quinn’s house with her tomorrow.”

Sean waved his hand and did not intend to hide it from Willow.

“What are you going to do at grandma’s house?”

Willow frowned suspiciously.

“Don’t worry.”

“I’ll handle it if anything happens.”

Sean waved his hand and chuckled as if he was not too concerned about it.

He was not afraid of the Quinn family, merely too unbothered to keep in touch with them.

“Okay, if anything happens, just tell me.”

Willow nodded and when she was about to enter the kitchen to serve the rest of the dishes, she stopped after just two steps.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 515

Chapter 515

“Sean, I know that you endured all this for me.

“Actually, I think you don’t have to do this. You don’t have to feel that you owe me and let yourself be hurt to protect me.

“If you’re unhappy here, don’t just say nothing.”

Willow said very seriously with her back facing Sean.

“Are you trying to drive me away?”

Sean shook his head and asked as he looked at Willow’s back.

“No! I didn’t mean that!”

Willow turned around immediately, looked at Sean very seriously, and said, “If I wanted to drive you away, I would not have helped you at all over the past two years.

“I didn’t drive you away before, I won’t drive you away now, and I also won’t drive you away in the future.

"It's just..."

Willow bit her mouth with a bit of struggle on her face.

"It's enough to have these words from you.

"It's my own choice, you don't have to think too much about it.

"Willow, remember that these predicaments are only temporary.

"After I've fully recovered, everything about the Quinn family and even this River City, everything will change.

"Please believe me."

Sean slowly raised his head and looked at Willow with a firm and serious expression.

Originally, Willow still had a thousand words in her heart but when she saw Sean's expression, she did not know what to say anymore.

In the end, a thousand words turned into a light nod.

The next day.

Willow went to work normally.

Rachel Summer's flight would be arriving in River City in the afternoon.

Hence, there was nothing much to do in the morning.

Sean, along with Fion and Kent, went to Old Madam Quinn's house.

Sean originally thought that the entire Quinn family would be waiting for him here again.

Unexpectedly, there was only Old Madam Quinn today.

This made Sean somewhat confused.

“Here you are! Come and have a seat.”

Old Madam Quinn had been waiting for a long time in the courtyard.

After seeing Sean and the two of them coming over, she immediately asked the maid to serve some tea.

The tea was good and the fragrance was aromatic.

However, Sean always felt that something was wrong with Old Madam Quinn today.

There was a flash of struggle in her eyes from time to time and there was some hint of shame in her face.

It was as if something happened and you did not know how to process it.

“Mom, is there something wrong with you calling us here?”

Kent poured a cup of tea for Old Madam Quinn and asked softly afterward.

Fion, who has always had a dominant personality, was respectful and polite in front of Old Madam Quinn and sat in a chair somewhat uncomfortably.

“Yeah, there’s something I want to discuss with you all.”

Old Madam Quinn nodded and said as she took the teacup.

“Please say it.”

Kent nodded and wanted to pour tea for Sean again but was slapped lightly by Fion.

She thought that Sean was the one who was supposed to pour the tea for them.

Kent did not want to quarrel with Fion, so in the end, he just put the teapot in front of Sean.

“Sean, I see that you’ve been doing pretty well recently.”

Old Madam Quinn looked at Sean and said such nice words for no reason.

“What are you referring to?”

Sean poured himself a cup of tea and then took the initiative to ask.

“You’re doing good in every way.

‘Money, power, you’ve got some of both now.

“At least, it’s not like when you used to depend on Willow for everything.”

Old Madam Quinn’s tone was somewhat meaningful.

Fion and Kent also looked at Old Madam Quinn with some incomprehension.

In fact, in the past two years, Old Madam Quinn’s attitude towards Sean had never been as kind as it was today.

LL

However, they always felt that there was something else hidden under Old Madam Quinn’s kind attitude.

There must be a reason behind this. Old Madam Quinn definitely had something hidden in her words!

“Old Madam Quinn, I’m relatively a straightforward person.

“So, if you’ve something to say, just say it.”

Sean also frowned slightly. Then, he raised his brows and said to Old Madam Quinn.

When Old Madam Quinn heard those words, she was silent for a few seconds and then nodded lightly.

“Okay! Then I’ll say it straight.

“Before, you didn’t have the ability to take care of yourself and you probably wouldn’t be able to survive if you left the Quinn Residence.

“So, when Willow said she wanted to take care of you, I did not interfere too much even though I was dissatisfied with the situation.

“And now, you can take care of yourself and you have a lot of money in your hands. It’s not a problem for you to hire someone to take care of you.

“So, I think it’s time for you to leave Willow.”

After Old Madam Quinn said these words, Sean and the other two finally understood what she meant.

It turned out that she said all those nice words earlier just to drive Sean out of the Quinn Residence.

As for this matter, Fion was actually very supportive.

She had made a bet with Sean that if Sean could confess to Willow at the Riverleaf Lakeside

Hotel on the ninth.

From then on, she would no longer interfere with Sean and Willow's affairs.

At this time, it was Old Madam Quinn who wanted to drive Sean away. It had nothing to do with her.

"Mom, why did you say that?"

"Sean has lived in the Quinn family for two years and he is already considered a member of the Quinn family.

"Two years of hard times have passed and now it's starting to get better. Why do want to drive him away?"

Kent frowned and looked at Old Madam Quinn incomprehensibly.

you still

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 516

Chapter 516

"I do things for a reason.

"Sean can take care of himself now and he can survive without depending on the Quinns.

"Therefore, there is no need for him to stay with any member of the Quinn family any longer."

Old Madam Quinn hesitated for two seconds but still spoke those cruel words.

"But he saved your life!"

Kent stood up directly.

Kent, who had an upright personality, really could not accept Old Madam Quinn's decision.

Under the table, Fion kept stepping on Kent's feet.

However, Kent seemed to be unable to feel Fion stepping on his feet. He did not even look at her.

"I know.

"I'm also thankful that he saved my life.

"But, he still has to leave."

Old Madam Quinn waved her hand slightly and still did not change her mind.

"Sean, I beg you, please leave, okay?"

"As long as you leave, you can ask for anything you want and I'll try my best to satisfy you."

Without waiting for Kent to speak, Old Madam Quinn turned her head to look at Sean.

Sean frowned slightly. Old Madam Quinn's attitude made him think there might be some hidden meaning behind this matter.

“Old Madam Quinn, is there anything that happened to the Quinn family?”

“If you’ve any difficulties, you can tell me. For Willow’s sake, I will help.”

Sean looked at the Old Madam Quinn and asked as he squeezed his fingers.

However, Old Madam Quinn showed a bitter smile at the corner of her mouth upon hearing Sean’s words.

She really hoped that Sean could help.

However, this matter was about the Reach For Will Group!

It was true that Sean knew Homer Larson but Homer Larson had no power in the Reach For Will Group.

Moreover, Sean was a person with disabilities, so how could he help?

“If you really want to help the Quinn family, just leave the Quinn family.

“This will be the greatest help from you.”

Old Madam Quinn slowly raised her head and looked at Sean.

“Mom! What the h*ll happened?”

“Did someone threaten you? Was it Quill Zimmer?”

“What does the Zimmer family want? The Quinn family must not cower to them.”

Kent frowned and spoke to Old Madam Quinn.

“No, it’s not! Stop asking!”

Old Madam Quinn also had complicated feelings and felt uncomfortable about everything at this time.

No one wanted to be an ungrateful villain but Old Madam Quinn had to do this for the future of the Quinn family.

Regardless of whether Quill could give her a satisfactory answer, she had to take this chance.

“But...”

Kent was still unwilling to give up.

“I said, stop asking!”

Old Madam Quinn suddenly slammed her hand on the table as if she was on the brink of a mental breakdown and stood up instantly.

“Mom, I’m still going to say this even if you’re angry.”

“Sean and Willow are engaged.”

“This engagement was set up by Old Master Quinn.”

“Don’t you take Old Master Quinn’s words seriously?”

Kent gritted his teeth slightly. He was standing up to Old Madam Quinn for the first time in his life.

11

“It’s precisely because I value his words!

“That’s why Sean has to leave!”

Old Madam Quinn widened her eyes, looked at Kent, and shouted suddenly.

“What do you mean?”

Kent and Sean were both dazed.

“The Quinn family needs to establish a partnership with the Reach For Will Group.

“It is necessary to have Sean leave the Quinns.”

Old Madam Quinn was silent for a few seconds and slowly sank down in the chair soon after.

Upon hearing this, Sean, Kent, and Fion all frowned at the same time.

Kent wanted to say something but he did not know how to start.

“So, Sean, just treat it as a debt from me to you.

“You must leave the Quinns.

“You can hate me or blame me.

“But I’ve to do this for the future of the Quinn family.”

Old Madam Quinn gritted her teeth slightly and turned her head to look at Sean as she spoke. “Who told you that if you drive me away, the Quinn family will be able to establish any sort of partnership with the Reach For Will Group?”

Sean could not help but laugh in his heart.

Reach For Will Group was founded by him.

Now, who made this decision and spread this news?

“Don’t ask anymore.

“Just take it as if I asked you to leave.

“Anyway, you can live without the support from the Quinn family. There’s no need to stay here forever.”

Old Madam Quinn said as she waved her hand. She did not want to explain too much.

“I won’t leave.”

However, Sean slowly shook his head and rejected Old Madam Quinn.

“As I said, I don’t care for anyone here in the Quinn family, only for Willow.

“I won’t leave unless she says the words to make me leave.

“No one else can, not even you.’

Sean’s gaze was serious and his tone was even more serious.

“Willow won’t drive you away.

“But if you leave, Willow will have a better life.

“I promise you that I’ll put Willow in charge of the partnership with the Reach For Will Group.

“After you leave, Willow’s family can also enjoy the Quinn family’s dividends and all the benefits.”

Old Madam Quinn knew Sean’s feelings for Willow well, so she directly offered such a bargaining chip.

Upon hearing this, Fion was the first to get excited.

“Sean, if you really want Willow to have a good life, then quickly accept it.

“Otherwise, don’t blame me for being rude to you in the future!”

Fion patted the table and said to Sean.

“Even if I leave, the Reach For Will Group will never collaborate with the Quinn family.”

Sean shook his head slightly and there was a little helplessness in his tone.

“Why are you so sure?”

“Who do you think you are? Do you think you’re the chairman of the Reach For Will Group?” Fion snorted coldly. She was very disdainful of Sean’s words.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 517

Chapter 517

Sean frowned and glanced at Fion, he really wanted to tell her the truth.

Due to the sensitivity of Harry Clarke’s and Zander Young’s position, this matter could not be revealed yet.

Therefore, Sean could only hold back temporarily.

“Give me some time, I’ll give you an explanation on this matter.”

Sean did not say anything else after thinking about it for a while, he just looked at Old Madam Quinn and said in a sincere tone.

Old Madam Quinn looked at Sean for a few seconds and then nodded.

"I'll give you one day to deal with the things that should be dealt with.

"As for Willow, I believe you know what to say to her.

"You should leave early tomorrow morning."

Old Madam Quinn waved her hand and motioned for Sean to leave first.

"Okay."

Sean did not say much, he just turned the wheelchair and left Old Madam Quinn's house.

At this time, he was also full of doubts and full of anger.

The company he founded was now being used to threaten him.

This was simply a joke.

He wanted to ask Zander Young what was going on.

After Sean left, Old Madam Quinn looked at Fion and Kent again.

"Kent, I know you've some comments in your mind, but..."

Before Old Madam Quinn finished speaking, she was interrupted by Kent.

"Old Madam Quinn, my father told me when I was a child that being a man, integrity and dignity should be one's fundamental principles.

"When a person lives for a lifetime, he must protect the people around him well. When a drop of water is given to him, he must repay it with a spring. He must never forget his roots.

"I don't care about anything else, but I know he saved your life.

"If it wasn't for Sean, I might not be speaking to you now!"

Kent gritted his teeth slightly and was still trying to fight for Sean.

"What nonsense are you talking about?"

"Old Madam Quinn is blessed with a lot of luck. Even if Sean doesn't take action, she will be fine as well.

"Also, Old Madam Quinn did this for the Quinn family's good. Why can't you understand?"

Fion frowned at Kent and could not help but scold.

"Shut up!"

However, Kent, who seldom argued with Fion, yelled at Fion at this time.

This sudden shout made Fion tremble. Then, she glanced at Old Madam Quinn but did not dare to continue arguing.

"Old Madam Quinn, I know you're doing it for the good of the Quinn Corporation.

"But nothing can be accomplished without integrity. If we drive Sean away, then it is treachery.

"Even if the Quinn family can get some benefits temporarily, it will definitely not last for long."

Kent's eyes widened and his tone was sonorous and powerful.

"Even if it doesn't last long, it's better than declining it altogether!"

"Don't say anymore! Even if it's treachery, I'll admit to it!"

"Sean must leave the Quinn family! I've made up my mind and will never change it!"

"Fion, talk to Sean when you go back, persuade him to leave as soon as possible!"

Old Madam Quinn did not want to say a word more to Kent at all, so she left the room after saying these words.

"Okay, you're stubborn as a donkey.

"In today's society, everyone only cares about interests, but you're the only one who is stubborn."

Fion said exasperatedly as she looked at Kent and forcibly pulled Kent to leave.

After Sean left the Quinn family, he called Zander Young directly.

He originally wanted to go directly to the Reach For Will Group, but he thought about going to pick up Rachel Summers with Willow later.

Therefore, he just made a phone call.

"Brother Sean, is there anything I can do for you?"

Zander, who was on the other end of the phone, asked in a deep voice.

Sean rarely called him if there was nothing important.

"What have the Reach For Will Group done these two days?"

Sean sat in the car and asked with a frown.

"According to your instructions, everything is being secretly arranged.

"When it is completed, we can surround and suppress the industries of the Zimmer family and the Quinn family.

"There is no chance of either of them escaping, I guarantee it.

"In addition, we've also acquired the hotel."

Zander briefly talked about the situation.

"Has anyone in the Reach For Will Group been in contact with someone from the Quinn family?"

Sean nodded and asked another question soon after

"Uhm... I don't think so.

"Everyone knows that the Reach For Will Group is extremely disgusted with the Quinn family and the Zimmer family.

"There shouldn't be any employee who would do such a stupid thing."

Zander thought about it for a while and felt that this should be impossible.

"Brother Sean, why are you asking this suddenly?"

"Did something happen to you over there?"

After Zander reported the situation, he asked in a deep voice.

"Nothing.

"You ask Harry to investigate whether someone has been in contact with the Quinn family secretly.

"I'd like to see who dares to do this."

Sean's voice was chilling.

He was about to recover soon but someone gave him trouble at this juncture.

With Sean's character, he would never show any mercy to this mysterious party.

"Brother Sean, okay I understand. I'll figure it out and reply to you as soon as possible."

Zander nodded and hung up the phone afterward.

"Everything happened for a reason.

"There must be a traitor in the Reach For Will Group."

Sean put down his phone and thought about this in his heart.

At this moment, Willow called.

As soon as the call was answered, Willow's voice came from the other end of the phone.

"Sean, Rae's flight is about to arrive soon.

"Let's hurry over, come and pick me up."

"Alright."

Sean responded with a smile and asked Ziegler to drive to the Quinn Corporation's branch office.

River City International Airport.

It was crowded and very lively.

There were many people waiting in the pick-up hall.

Willow and Sean were also waiting here.

"I haven't seen her for years.

"I don't know if Rae has become more beautiful now."

Willow crossed her hands and twisted them. She was a little nervous.

"A person's appearance will change, but some feelings will not change.

"Don't worry."

Sean smiled and comforted.

A loud jet engine roar passed over the heads of everyone, which attracted the attention of many people.

The flight that Rachel Summers was on finally arrived.

Chapter 518

Swoosh!

Willow immediately stood up.

She seemed to be very restless.

However, this also proved that the relationship between Willow and Rachel was indeed quite close.

In Sean's mind, Rachel's figure appeared again.

That girl had a strong personality. She did everything swiftly and decisively.

She would never play tricks or did anything crooked.

It was really easy for her to make friends.

“Sean, do you think I look good in this dress today?”

“I haven’t seen Rae for several years. I really miss her.

“She was the one who protected me when I was at school.”

Willow bit her lip and her heartbeat was speeding up.

In the school before, it was precisely because Rachel helped Willow from bullies, so Willow was not harassed by others over the years.

“Really?”

“Then I’ll really need to thank her when I see her.”

Sean smiled lightly, reached out, and patted Willow’s back.

A few minutes later, one passenger after another walked out of the security checkpoint.

Willow stood up and looked up towards the exit.

Even though they had not seen each other for several years, Willow was still very confident that she could recognize Rachel at a glance.

However, Willow still had not seen Rachel after a few minutes.

“Why hasn’t she come out yet?”

Willow looked down at the time on her watch again with a puzzled look.

Just as Sean was about to say something, a figure suddenly ran over.

“Oh, I’m exhausted, I almost missed it.

“Willow, has Rae arrived yet?”

Lexie hurried over and asked out of breath.

“Lexie, you’re here!

“Rae hasn’t come out yet. It’s this flight, right?”

Willow reconfirmed the flight information and looked at the passenger exit.

Lexie smiled and nodded to Sean afterward.

Sean looked at the passenger exit and suddenly said, “She may have already gone back.

“If she still hasn’t come out yet, just go to her house and wait.”

Upon hearing Sean’s words, Willow was stunned for a moment and could not help frowning soon after.

“Sean, what are you talking about?

“We’ve all told Rae that we’re going to pick her up here.”

Willow did not believe Sean’s words at all.

Lexie also shook her head slightly. She felt that Sean was talking nonsense.

Sean shook his head helplessly. Then, he touched the tip of his nose and did not say more.

He just suddenly thought of some things about the army, so he said this.

Since Willow and Lexie did not believe him then there was nothing he could do.

“Well, don’t disrupt me. I’m afraid Rae will leave right under our noses.”

Willow frowned and looked towards the exit again.

Another ten minutes passed.

A lot of people walked out of the exit, but they still did not see Rachel.

Until this time, there was no one coming out at the exit anymore and the staff was also preparing to close the exit.

Willow and the others still did not see Rachel.

“What exactly is going on?”

Willow and Lexie looked at each other and looked at Sean suspiciously soon after.

Could it be that what Sean said was true?

“Things in the army are more complicated.

“I think she should have been picked up by someone and brought to another exit.”

Upon seeing Willow looking at him, Sean immediately explained softly.

“Uhm... I’ll give Rae a call.”

Willow thought for a while and immediately took out her mobile phone to find Rachel's number and called.

However, the number she dialed was suspended from service and could not get through at all.

"It's impossible!

"We were talking on the phone yesterday, why is it out of service now?"

Willow was stunned for a moment and called several times in a row, but all of them did not connect.

"Willow, why don't we go to Rae's house and wait as Sean said?"

Lexie also glanced at Sean and suggested to Willow soon after.

"Oh, Lexie, do you really believe him?"

Willow looked at Lexie in surprise because she did not believe Sean's words at all.

"But now Rae still hasn't come out, right?"

"Why don't we go and have a look?"

Lexie shook her head helplessly. She always felt that Willow seemed to be expressing doubts about Sean on purpose.

Even Lexie felt that Willow seemed to be covering up something on purpose.

Lexie once had this kind of expression.

That was because she had a crush on a certain senior back then, so she deliberately feigned disinterest and even showed a little boredom.

In fact, she just wanted to hide the fact that she liked that person.

Upon seeing Willow's expression now, Lexie could not help but wonder if Willow really liked Sean now?

Buzz buzz!

Just when Willow was about to say something, the phone rang again.

Willow looked at her phone and saw that it was the landline number belonging to River City.

"Hello, this is Willow Quinn."

Willow thought it was a client of her company and immediately picked it up.

However, before she could speak for a few seconds, Willow's eyes suddenly widened.
"Really? Are you home already?"

Chapter 519

"How could you make us wait here for so long?!"

"Okay, okay, we'll go there now."

Willow said a few words and quickly hung up the phone.

Then, she looked at Sean with complicated feelings.

"Willow, what's going on?"

Lexie stepped forward and asked Willow.

"Rae, she's already home..."

"And she asked us to go over now."

Willow was a little speechless but still said it truthfully.

"D*mn. So, what Sean said was true?"

Lexie was stunned when she heard the words and asked in surprise soon after.

"Maybe it's a coincidence. Let's hurry over there."

Willow waved her hand and urged Lexie.

"Okay!"

Lexie nodded and was ready to go with Willow.

Uhm, Sean, can you go and help us buy something?

"There is a special snack store in River City on Pebble Lane. Rae likes to eat the snacks there. Can you help us buy some?"

Willow took two steps, then stopped and spoke to Sean.

"Okay, I can ask Ziegler to buy it."

Sean nodded and agreed immediately.

"Oh, you go! I want you to go."

"I'll send you the address when you're done buying it."

Willow coughed lightly and said with a slightly nervous gaze.

“Well, okay then.”

Lexie glanced at Willow but still respected Willow’s suggestion.

Then, all of them parted.

Willow and Lexie took a taxi and rushed to Rachel’s house.

As for Sean, he asked Ziegler to take him to the store Willow had mentioned.

“Willow, why did you deliberately not bring him with us?”

“Are you afraid that Sean and Rachel will see each other? And trying to guard against your bestie?”

Lexie chuckled lightly and deliberately teased Willow.

“No, I’m not.”

Willow blushed slightly and quickly explained.

“Oh, don’t worry, with Rae’s character, she won’t like someone like Sean.

“Only you would be so silly.”

Lexie waved her hand, chuckled, and did not say more.

River City. In Rachel Summer’s house.

When Willow and Lexie arrived here, Rachel was already waiting eagerly at the door.

Rachel's age was close to Willow's.

At this time, she was dressed in black slim-fitting clothes, which made her look heroic and valiant.

She had neat short hair. Although her skin was not so fair, it was also clean and flawless.

Rachel's beauty was not inferior to Lexie's and was on par with Willow's.

"Rae!"

When Willow and Lexie got off the car, they saw Rachel waiting at the door at a glance.

"You guys are finally here!"

"Quick, come in!"

Upon seeing the two of them, Rachel could not hide the happiness deep in her eyes. She directly greeted the two of them into the house without saying a word. Three extremely beautiful girls held hands and talked to each other in the room. The three of them had always had the best relationship from their student days until now. After reminiscing about the old times, Willow looked at Rachel with some resentment.

"What's wrong with you?"

"We've all agreed to wait for you at the airport."

"In the end, you left the airport without saying a word."

"The number I called you is also a number that went out of service."

Willow frowned on purpose and blamed Rachel as she reached out and patted Rachel.

"Ahem, it's really my bad this time."

“Things in the Northwest are more complicated and the things I’m responsible for are quite secretive.

“So being able to come back from there is already extremely difficult.

“But before coming back, the phone number and other things used there must be decommissioned.

“Even after I get off the plane, there was someone there to escort me to my house to ensure my safety.

“It was also to avoid too much contact with other people on the road.”

Rachel shook her head slightly and explained softly to the two of them.

“Willow, don’t talk about me anymore.

“I was thinking about you on the way back.

“Your fiancé, you should break up with him now.

“I can’t do anything before because I wasn’t here. Now that I’m back, I’ll definitely check for you myself.”

Rachel waved her hand slightly and said with an extremely firm tone.

Willow and Lexie were also used to Rachel’s character.

When they were at school, Rachel also protected both of them like a man. “Ahem, Rae, in fact, we were originally going to pick you up with Sean.

“I deliberately asked him to buy some snacks for us just because I want to tell you in advance...

“Don’t say anything bad to him.”

Willow clenched her palm tightly and looked at Rachel very seriously.

“What do you mean?”

Rachel was stunned when she heard the words and frowned at Willow.

“Didn’t you tell me you didn’t want to be with him?”

“And because of him, you’ve suffered a lot in the past two years.” Rachel always felt that something was wrong with Willow now.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 520

Chapter 520

“I, I don’t know either...”

“But now, I don’t want him to leave the Quinns.”

“I feel that it’s good to have him by my side.”

“So, I want to tell you in advance that I hope you won’t say anything bad to him.”

Willow hesitated for a while but still raised her head and looked at Rachel.

“You! You’re just too kind.”

“I’ll definitely talk to him. I’ll take care of your affairs, including Lexie’s affairs.”

"When we were at school, I was the one who protected both of you and now I'll still continue to protect both of you.

"So, let him come to see me."

Rachel waved her hand, shook her short hair, and said incomparably domineering.

She looked more like a man at this moment.

"No! If you say so, then I can't let him come over."

Willow sat up straight and looked at Rachel seriously.

"Willow, you won't really like this person, will you?"

"He's a veg, a cripple, how can you like him?"

"Are you really going to marry such a person and spend the rest of your life with him? I absolutely disagree!"

Rachel frowned, with a strong tone in her voice.

"1

.. Anyway, I don't want him to leave now. I haven't made up my mind yet.

"So, let's talk about this later."

Willow was silent for a few seconds. Then, she shook her head and said to Rachel.

Both Rachel and Lexie saw the surprise in each other's eyes when they looked at each other.

They felt that Willow might really have special feelings for Sean now.

Rachel paused. Then, she looked at Willow and said,

“Okay, I promise you, I won’t drive him away.

“But, I still want to see him no matter what.”

Since Rachel said so, Willow could not refuse any more, so she nodded lightly.

“Okay, I’ll share Sean our location.”

Willow immediately took out her mobile phone and was about to send Sean the address.

“Wait a minute? Who?”

Rachel was stunned when she heard the words and frowned at Willow.

“Sean Lennon, my fiancé. What’s wrong?”

Willow asked casually while sending the address.

In the past two years, Willow had rarely spoken to Rachel and had never mentioned Sean’s name in front of Rachel.

Rachel was even less interested in knowing Willow’s fiancé’s name.

Therefore, today was the first time Rachel heard Willow’s fiancé’s name.

“Sean Lennon...”

Rachel whispered for a moment in her heart and frowned slightly again.

She always felt that this name seemed a little familiar. Where had she heard it before?

Rachel always paid more attention to people surnamed Lennon.

It was because Commander Lennon, who was majestic and powerful back then, was also surnamed Lennon.

Therefore, everyone in the army surely heard his name before and no one would dare to call him by his first name.

Even behind his back, no one had the guts to do so.

When everyone mentioned him, no matter in front or behind, they called him 'Commander Lennon' with respect.

The most important thing was that a big shot in the army like Sean would have the higher management definitely keeping their identity secret.

Otherwise, enemies were likely to find their family members to threaten them.

Therefore, even people like Rachel, who was in charge of intelligence work, did not know the full name of Commander Lennon.

"Rae, don't you know Sean?"

"By the way, Sean was also in the army before.

"He also told me that maybe you two know each other."

After Willow sent the address, she looked at Rachel with a smile.

"He was also in the army?"

"I

Upon hearing this, Rachel was slightly taken aback but shook her head afterward and said, don't know any people named Sean Lennon and I've never heard of such a person."

Willow was not surprised, nodded, and said nothing more.

Rachel pondered for a few seconds and said softly, "I didn't expect that he was actually in the army."

"Actually, if it were someone else, I would definitely not object to anything.

"Because most of the people who have been trained in the army have good character and are very responsible.

"But it's about you, Willow, I still don't suggest you stay with him.

"As for you and Lexie, I'll only consider it from your point of view, so please allow my selfishness.

"And I don't think the Quinn family will let you marry a person with disabilities."

Rachel's remarks were considered as a comprehensive analysis of Willow's situation. Lexie also nodded in agreement.

"Stop talking about this, I don't want to talk about this right now."

Willow pursed her lips and shook her head.

"No, Willow, you can't escape.

"You used to like to escape and now you're still the same.

"Problems are not for escaping, but to be solved!"

Rachel looked at Willow exasperatedly. She could not wait to finally help Willow
