

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 561-570

Chapter 561

"Yes, what's the matter?"

Old Madam Quinn frowned slightly. 'Isn't the Bennett family's bankruptcy Sean's doing?

'What does Wade have to do with it?'

"Do you know why the Bennett family was brought down overnight?"

The middle-aged man shook the file as he looked at the crowd and kept them in suspense.

"Uncle Sam said Sean did it, but I didn't think it was possible."

Simon frowned and spoke first.

Old Madam Quinn also nodded slightly. She had spent a long time figuring out how Sean could do it.

"It's not because of Sean but Mr. Wade Yancey."

The middle-aged man shook his head slightly and smiled.

"What do you mean?"

Old Madam Quinn froze slightly before asking quickly.

"It's confirmed that Mr. Wade had sat down to dinner with Jay, the heir of the Bennett family, the night before.

"But for some reason, someone smashed Mr. Yancey's head with a bottle.

"Later, that person was confirmed to be Jay Bennet.

"After Mr. Yancey went to the hospital, several senior executives of Reach For Will Group visited him and learned the details of the incident.

"Then Bennett Corporation was ruined and acquired by Reach For Will Group at a low price. just one day later."

The conference room was dead silent after the middle-aged man said this.

The Quinn family, including Old Madam Quinn, looked shocked.

It turned out the Bennett family's undoing was because of this incident!

It all made sense now.

Sean was incapable of it, and Reach For Will Group was vaguely involved in this matter, so Sean had nothing to do with it all the more.

Therefore, it had confused them earlier.

Now, the truth was out.

"So that's it..."

Willow's Uncle Sam nodded as he was suddenly enlightened.

Other members of the Quinn family had understood too.

"I told you! What can that loser Sean do?"

"I know, right? Even if he knew Mr. Larson of Larson Pharmaceuticals, there was no way he could bring down Bennett Corporation so quickly."

"We've thought highly of him. He's only a cripple, isn't he? What could he do?"

"I'll be his servant if he can do that." 1

The Quinn family spoke with disdain.

Old Madam Quinn's brow slowly relaxed as her eyes lightened up as well.

If Sean could bring down the Bennett family, she would have considered keeping Sean in the family.

However, it turned out Sean had nothing to do with the Bennett family's bankruptcy.

Thus, Old Madam Quinn would not have those considerations.

"Next up, as long as we're on Young Master Zimmer and Mr. Yancey's good side, the Quinn family will keep improving and have a bright future!"

Old Madam Quinn looked expectant while her heart was full of joy.

Knock knock!

Just then, there were two knocks at the door.

Speak of the devil.

Quill, dressed in a smart suit, stepped in with a smile.

Quill could not be happier today as his face was full of smiles.

The phone call from Wade was just what he wanted. It was just like getting a pillow when you were feeling drowsy.

Quill was so smug right now!

“Young Master Zimmer is here?”

“Young Master Zimmer, please sit down!”

“Oh, Young Master Zimmer, why did you come over when you can just call?”

The Quinn family rose to greet them, their faces glowing with enthusiasm while their tone was obsequious.

The fate of the Quinn family now hinged on Wade’s decision.

Quill and Wade were close, so the Quinn family thought highly of Quill.

Therefore, you could say the Quinn family’s enthusiasm for Quill was sincere.

“Please sit down, everybody. You don’t have to be so polite.”

Quill was smiling as he stepped forward, looking dashing.

The more Faye looked at Quill, the more jealous she felt.

‘How great would it be if Quill takes a fancy to me?’

The more she thought about it, the more she envied Willow.

“Old Madam.”

Quill stepped forward slowly and greeted Old Madam Quinn.

“Young Master Zimmer, have a seat!”

Old Madam Quinn smiled and nodded before motioning for Quill to sit down.

Quill immediately sat down next to Old Madam Quinn.

It was not until Quill sat down that Simon and others dared to follow suit.

“Whoa, Young Master Zimmer. Did you just buy this Rolex Green Submariner?”

“It looks really good.”

Simon said as he pointed to the Rolex Green Submariner on Quill’s wrist with admiration.

“Do you like it? Take it.”

Quill smiled faintly, took off his watch, and put it in front of Simon.

“Whoa!”

The Quinn family gasped in amazement.

Quill sure was generous!

Simon was so excited that he was incoherent, and he could not help comparing Sean to him.

Why was there such a big difference between the people who liked Willow?

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 562

Chapter 562

“Simon, give it back to Young Master Zimmer.

“How could you take other people’s stuff?”

Old Madam Quinn frowned slightly as she chastised Simon.

Simon froze slightly before smiling lamely. He was slightly reluctant to give the watch back.

“It’s fine, Old Madam. These things are nothing.

“My relationship with the Quinn family can’t be measured by money.”

Quill said graciously as he waved with a big smile.

“Well...”

Old Madam Quinn froze as it would be inappropriate to say anything more.

If Quill could help the Quinn family and establish cooperation with Reach For Will Group, Old Madam Quinn would do whatever it took to get Quill and Willow together.

The Quinn family and the Zimmer family would all come together when that happened.

Therefore, it was not inappropriate for Quill to say that.

“Alright.”

Old Madam Quinn stopped insisting.

She still had the five-million dollars Quill gave her anyway.

A watch like this was nothing to her.

“Old Madam, I’m here today to talk to you about the matter we discussed last time.”

Quill said with a smile as she accepted a cup of tea from Faye.

“Did you find something?”

Old Madam Quinn asked as she sat up straight and looked expectant.

“Yes!

“Mr. Yancey told me that Reach For Will Group did have some issues with Sean.

“There’s a possibility that someone Sean knew had some conflict with Reach For Will Group, so Sean was also blamed.

“That’s why Reach For Will Group refused to work with the Quinn family.

“And the Zimmer family has always been friendly with the Quinn family, so they suffered too.”

Quill said solemnly as he took a sip of tea.

“Hmph! I told you, not only it is pointless for him to know those shady people, but it will also cause trouble to the Quinn family,”

“Yeah. The Quinn family doesn’t recognize him as one of us, but he lives with the Quinn family, and everyone else thinks he’s a member of the Quinn family.”

“Shame on him for getting the Quinn family involved in his mess!”

The Quinn family started discussing with indignation when they heard that.

“Oh!”

Old Madam Quinn also heaved a long sigh..

Sean did know some shady people.

The hundred or so men in black trench coats did look tough that night.

However, you could tell at a glance that they were people from the underworld.

What good could he do with such people?

It was not surprising that he had offended Reach For Will Group.

“But, I’ve done everything in my power and spent a lot of money and effort to take care of it, Old Madam Quinn.

“Just now, Mr. Yancey called to tell me that he has made a deal with Mr. Zachery of his company.

“Just kick Sean out of the Quinn family, and we’ll have a deal with Reach For Will Group.”

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 563

Chapter 563

Quill chuckled and spoke smugly.

“What?”

The crowd was excited when they heard that.

They had been so depressed earlier, and now they were so excited to hear the good news!

“Really? Did Mr. Yancey really say that? Would Reach For Will Group do it?”

Old Madam Quinn widened her eyes, finding it a little unrealistic.

“Old Madam, the Zimmer family has some power in River City.

“Therefore, Reach For Will Group won’t go too far.

“Most importantly, Quinn Corporation and Zimmer Corporation are established enterprises in River City, so we are capable.

“Reach For Will Group is only hostile to Sean and has nothing against the Quinn family.

“So the contract will immediately be on the table as soon as Sean leaves.”

Quill replied earnestly with a smile and a nod.

Hearing this, the crowd became even more excited.

They wished they could kick Sean out right now.

Quill looked at Old Madam Quinn and saw that she was still hesitating.

Therefore, he took out his cell phone and called Wade.

Wade repeated what he had said earlier in front of Old Madam Quinn.

He stated firmly that they could negotiate a contract immediately once Sean was kicked out of the Quinn family.

Old Madam Quinn was now convinced.

“We’re having a family meeting tonight!

“Sean has to go no matter what!

“Starting tomorrow, Sean has nothing to do with the Quinn family!”

Old Madam Quinn got up slowly as she spoke firmly.

Quill's heart was full of joy, his face full of smugness.

Reach For Will Group.

Sean took a contract and was about to leave after giving Harry some instructions.

The contract had been signed by Harry himself and stamped with Reach For Will Group's official seal.

As soon as the other party signed the contract, it would be effective immediately.

Sean was going to give Willow the contract as a gift. a

"Brother Sean, didn't you say before that you don't want Reach For Will Group to have anything to do with the Quinn family?"

Harry pondered about and asked in confusion.

"I'm willing to change my mind for her.

"Wade now knows I'm involved with Reach For Will Group anyway.

"Quill and the Quinn family will find out soon, so let them..

"This is a gesture of good faith from me to the Quinn family if they take the opportunity. "If possible, the Quinn family can take care of Reach For Will Group's pharmaceutical businesses in the future."

Sean thought for a moment before muttering.

"Okay! Got it, Brother Sean."

Harry nodded and said no more.

Sean headed home with Reach For Will Group's contract..

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 564

Chapter 564

Willow's home.

Sean was holding the contract as he wanted to give it to Willow when she got back from work. Reach For Will Group was involved with many things, so Sean would not announce it yet for

NOW.

However, he could get Reach For Will Group to give Willow some help.

He just had to make up some excuse.

Willow would not believe him even if he told her he was behind Reach For Will Group.

"I did it for Willow, even if not for the Quinn family."

Sean sighed and murmured to himself.

Reach For Will Group had emerged in River City.

They had issued many orders and contracts, and many companies had benefited.

Only Quinn Corporation and Zimmer Corporation were excluded.

Sean could sense Willow was distraught about it.

After all, she was a member of the Quinn family. With her kind personality, she always had the Quinn family's best interest at heart.

Willow was worried to see the Quinn family in crisis.

Sean thought Willow would be happy to see such a contract.

“Sean, what did you do today?”

Just then, Fion came back from outside and shouted into the house.

Bang!

Then the door was pushed open, and Fion’s head popped in.

“I don’t mean to be harsh, but what do you do all day besides lazing around?”

“As a man, you should either serve your country or take part and plan strategies in business.

“Sean, what could you do?”

Fion chastised with a frown before giving Sean a chance to speak.

“I have my things to do.”

Sean replied, his expression unchanged and his voice calm.

“Haha, how dare you talk back?”

“What do you have to do? What do you do all day but fool around?”

“Let me tell you something, Sean. Don’t be smug just because you have some money.

“How much longer can you waste with your compensation money? You live beyond your means. Any amount of money will run out someday.

“How are you gonna survive when you run out of money?”

Fion folded her arms in front of her, a sneer on her face.

Even though Sean showed that he was financially capable, Fion still preferred Quill.

Sean only had some compensation money, and any amount of money would run out someday. However, Quill had the entire Zimmer family of River City behind him.

As long as Zimmer Corporation was profitable, Quill had money to burn.

Sean could not compete with Quill for that.

“What does it matter if you have money or not?”

“Is it important?”

Sean eventually frowned when he heard this..

Fion was stunned to hear Sean say that before laughing out of anger.

“Money’s unimportant? How would you not need money in real life?”

“You need money to pay for essential items for daily living.

“Money’s unimportant? Young Master Zimmer’s rich and could take Willow traveling.

“Sean, you don’t have any money and could only take Willow to the supermarket to get discounted bread.

“That’s the difference between having money and not having money. How are you going to compare with Young Master Zimmer?”

“How are you going to give Willow happiness? Or do you think it’s happiness to have Willow suffer with you?”

Fion kept yelling at Sean as she thought she was right.

“Do you still think money’s unimportant?”

Fion asked again as she pointed at Sean.

“Willow told me that eating plain bread is the same as eating expensive and delicious food as long as you have love.”

Sean hung his head in silence for a few seconds before whispering.

He never attached great importance to money.

Money, which was more important than life to others, was merely a tool to Sean.

“Just say so if you have no money. The taste of plain bread and expensive and delicious food is bound to be different.

“And I want my daughter to never worry about money.”

Fion did not listen to Sean. His tone was full of sneer and disdain.

Sean could not help frowning, and there was a flicker of impatience in his eyes.

“Money is easily accessible to me if I want it.

“So the things you’re worried about aren’t going to happen. “And I’m won’t let Willow suffer with me.”

Sean raised his head slowly and looked earnestly at Fion.

“But I think Willow is suffering whenever she’s with you.

“If you have a background like Young Master Zimmer or the Zimmer family’s fortunes, I won’t say anything.”

Fion paused slightly and snorted coldly before saying, “It’s a pity you don’t!”

With that said, Fion turned to leave the room.

“Mr. Lennon, are you at home?”

Just then, a respectful voice came from outside.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 565

Chapter 565

“Who is it?”

Fion walked out with a frown.

The door opened, and Shane and Jay were standing outside with a cautious look.

“Who are you looking for?”

Fion paused before asking with a frown.

”

“Ah, you must... you must be Mr. Lennon’s mother-in-law.

“I’m Shane Bennet from the Bennett family of River City, and I’m here to see Mr. Sean Lennon.

Shane said as he smiled obsequiously at Fion.

Fion froze again. She had heard of the Bennett family of River City before.

"You have a lot of nerve.

"How dare you come here?"

Sean's face was cold as he propelled his wheelchair out slowly.

"Mr. Lennon!"

The moment Shane and his son saw Sean, they tensed up.

Then Shane opened up the two locked briefcases and held them in front of them.

"Mr. Lennon, this is a small gift. Please accept it..."

Shane and Jay nodded respectfully to Sean, each holding a locked briefcase.

The briefcases were full of green banknotes, neatly placed.

Wads of ten thousand dollars were neatly laid out.

There was at least one million dollars cash in these two briefcases.

Fion's eyes were wide open. Such a large amount of cash could make a huge visual impact at any time.

What confused Fion was why the Bennett family of River City sent Sean so much money?

She said Sean did not have any money earlier.

However, Sean had said money was easily accessible to him if he wanted.

Now, it looked like Sean was right.

Once Sean nodded, the one million dollars cash would belong to the Quinn family!

Fion immediately turned to look at Sean, wanting to say yes for him.

“Take the money back.

“And leave River City.”

However, Sean frowned slightly, not even giving the one million dollars cash so much as a glance.

It was as if the one million dollars cash were nothing to him.

“Mr. Lennon, we’re sorry. We’re truly sorry.

“We’re willing to sell the company at a low price, but River City is where we’ve lived for generations. We don’t want to leave...”

Shane clenched his teeth slightly as he nodded. All he had left was to get down on his knees at

Sean.

Fion was dumbstruck.

She spent her days playing poker and had no idea what was going on in River City.

Therefore, she had no idea that the Bennett family was targeted and had declared bankruptcy.

However, judging by the situation before her, why did it feel like the fate of the Bennett family was in Sean’s hands?

Fion frowned slightly as she looked at Sean again.

Sean looked calm, giving the impression that he was in charge.

Fion fell silent again.

She had said that a man should either be on the battlefields or take part in business.

Now, it seemed that Sean had not just sat around doing nothing.

How else would the Bennett family, who was relatively famous in River City, treat Sean like this?

“Please spare us, Mr. Lennon. We don’t want to leave here.”

Jay pleaded to Sean.

“Isn’t it a little late to say that?”

“I’ll give you one night. The Bennett family must get the f*ck out of River City.

“If you’re still here tomorrow... I’ll talk to you again.”

Sean said and turned his wheelchair away to go back to his room.

“Mr. Lennon, spare us!

“Please spare the Bennett family!”

Jay was shocked as he immediately went forward and yelled at Sean.

Sean paused slowly with a sneer in his eyes.

“Unfortunately, I, Sean Lennon, am not someone who would spare others.” With that said, Sean’s figure slowly disappeared in front of the group. Shane and Jay were ghastly pale as they slumped on the floor, grief-stricken. Sean had spoken to such a point that they dared not waste any more time.

Shane shook his head slightly before closing the briefcases to leave with Jay.

The Bennett family could not stay in River City any longer.

“Oh, the money...”

Fion stared at the briefcases and cried out somewhat hesitantly.

Shane’s eyes glazed over and were hopeful again.

Sean did not want to spare them, but they could have a breakthrough through Sean’s family!

“Fion, you can have the money. Buy whatever you like.”

Shane handed the briefcases to Fion without a word.

Fion beamed and held out her hands.

“F*ck off.”

Just then, a shout came from a room.

Swoosh!

Shane stiffened and turned away with the briefcases without stopping.

Fion’s hand froze in midair as the one million dollars she was about to get got away.

Imagine the rage she felt!

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 566

Chapter 566

Bang!

Fion kicked the door open and pointed at Sean while yelling at him.

“Have you lost your mind?”

“How could you turn away free money? I guess you haven’t recovered from your stupid disease!”

The more Fion thought about it, the angrier she was. It was one million dollars!

She could play poker with it for a lifetime and would probably have more than she could spend.

“The Bennett family had picked on Willow and me. It’s only natural that I return the favor.

“What would it mean if I took their money?”

Sean frowned as he spoke, and Fion was speechless.

“Money might be useful.

“But free money is never truly free.”

Sean added again when he saw that Fion was silent.

“But... but we’re talking about one million dollars! One million dollars!”

Fion clenched her teeth slightly, still extremely reluctant.

“One million dollars is only enough to buy Willow’s diamond ring.”

Sean shook his head slightly, his eyes full of indifference.

“What?”

Fion froze instantly.

‘The diamond ring Sean gave Willow is worth one million dollars?’

“Hsss!”

Fion immediately gasped.

When she thought about Willow wearing one million dollars to work all day, she felt a pain in her heart.

Fion was about to say something when the cell phone in her pocket rang.

Fion frowned and picked up the phone.

“Old Madam? Okay... Okay, I got it.”

Fion answered the phone and replied politely into her cell phone.

“Sean, Old Madam said she’s calling a family meeting and asked you to join us.”

Fion put the phone down and looked at Sean hesitantly.

She knew that nothing good happened whenever the Quinn family had a family meeting.

They would either pick on Fion’s family or Sean alone.

“I’m not going.

“I’ll wait for Willow to come back. I have something to tell her.”

Sean just shook his head and refused to go without even thinking about it.

“Old Madam informed me herself.

“No one in the Quinn family dares to defy her.”

Fion scowls slightly, her voice disapproving.

“In the Quinn family, I only care what Willow says.”

Sean remained unfazed as he immediately responded pointedly.

“Fine! Fine!

“I don’t want to waste my time talking to you.”

Fion snorted and turned to leave.

Sean stayed at home, waiting for Willow.

Sean also reviewed Reach For Will Group’s contract.

Each contract clause was listed and was very beneficial to the Quinn family.

However, there was one clause highlighted in bold that stood out.

During Reach For Will Group and Quinn Corporation’s cooperation, Willow must be the representative in charge of the negotiation.

Willow must be the one to make all the decisions.

Otherwise, Reach For Will Group could unconditionally cancel the cooperation as the Quinn family was considered to have breached their contract.

It had the stamp of Reach For Will Group's official seal and the signature of the corporate representative Harry.

As soon as Willow signed at the Party B signature line, the contract would take effect.

"Willow will love this gift."

Sean put the contract away with some anticipation.

However, after half an hour of waiting, Willow called and asked Sean to go to Old Madam Quinn's residence.

The Quinn family called a family meeting, so Willow was heading there.

However, Sean did not expect the meeting to be so urgent that Willow would go to Old Madam Quinn's place right after work.

However, since Willow was going, Sean did not hesitate. He immediately picked up the contract and asked Ziegler to drive him there.

At this moment.

Old Madam Quinn's residence.

Members of the Quinn family had gathered together.

Immediate and extended family members of the Quinn family came to discuss this.

Old Madam Quinn wanted to put pressure on Willow in this way.

She now understood whether they could kick Sean out of the Quinn family depended on Willow.

"Grandma, I called Sean. He's coming.

"Do we have anything important to talk about today?"

Willow put away her phone as she asked in confusion.

The Quinn family normally held family meetings without Sean!

Why did Old Madam Quinn ask Sean to come over today?

“Willow, I’m just gonna be honest with you.

“Sean has to go.”

Old Madam Quinn paused slightly before getting straight to the point.

“Go? Go where?”

Willow was stunned for a moment.

“Leave the Quinn family, of course.

“The Quinn family has had him for two years. He should have left a long time ago.”

Simon snorted coldly before continuing the conversation.

Willow finally understood when she heard this.

Everyone had gathered here to kick Sean out of the Quinn family!

“I disagree!”

Willow pulled out her phone, wanting to call Sean.

Since that was what the Quinn family was up to, Willow would not want Sean to be humiliated.

“Willow, I’ll disown you if you make this call.

“From now on, you’re no longer a member of the Quinn family.”

Old Madam Quinn’s face was dark with unmistakable determination in her eyes.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 567

Chapter 567

“Grandma, you...”

Willow’s eyes widened, not expecting Old Madam Quinn to say something so ruthless.

“Ask him to come. I have something to tell him.”

Old Madam Quinn frowned and said indifferently.

Willow clenched her phone as she gritted her teeth, but she never made the call.

“Willow, I’m begging you.

“Why don’t you just ask Sean to leave the Quinn family?”

Old Madam Quinn said earnestly as she looked at Willow.

“Why?”

Willow turned to Old Madam Quinn and asked.

“Because only when he leaves the Quinn family can the Quinn family stop declining.

“As soon as he leaves the Quinn family, Reach For Will Group will give the Quinn family a cooperation contract.”

Old Madam Quinn stopped keeping things from Willow and told her everything.

“Says who?”

Willow asked again, grinding her teeth slightly.

“Young Master Zimmer.

“Young Master Zimmer is personally close to a senior executive of Reach For Will Group.

“Mr. Yancey has stated that he will sign a contract with us as soon as Sean leaves the Quinn family!”

Old Madam Quinn sat up straight and said earnestly.

“Quill conspired this!

“Quill wanted to get rid of Sean. It has nothing to do with Reach For Will Group!

“It’s all his ploy!”

Willow immediately looked up at the Quinn family angrily.

“I don’t care if this is Reach For Will Group’s decision or a ploy by Young Master Zimmer.

“All I know is that Quin Corporation will have a deal with Reach For Will Group as soon as Sean leaves the Quinn family.

“I just need the result. I don’t want to know the process or the real reason.”

Old Madam Quinn looked at Willow, her tone as determined as ever.

Willow finally shook her head in frustration.

The Quinn family was hell-bent on getting attached to Reach For Will Group at the expense of

Sean.

"How can you be sure that Mr. Yancey has the right to sign a deal with Quinn Corporation?"

"What if Quill tricked you?"

Willow was desperate, but she still wanted to fight for Sean.

"You needn't worry about that.

"I've looked into Mr. Yancey. He's indeed a senior executive of Reach For Will Group.

"Besides, he happens to be in charge of Reach For Will Group's pharmaceutical department, which matches Quinn Corporation's business.

"Most importantly, he's highly regarded in Reach For Will Group. The company has done many things for him."

Old Madam Quinn paused for two seconds before looking up and asking, "I'm sure you already know that the Bennett family has declared bankruptcy."

Willow nodded at that. She was in charge of one of Quinn Corporation's branches, so she knew about these things.

"Do you know why the Bennett family went bankrupt and was acquired by Reach For Will Group?"

Old Madam Quinn looked at Willow and asked in a mutter.

"Well..."

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 568

Chapter 568

When she first heard about it, the first person she thought of was Sean.

It was because Sean had bad blood with Jay.

Besides, when Jay offended Sean for the first time, Willow witnessed him apologizing to Sean afterward.

Therefore, when she learned that the Bennett family had gone bankrupt, the first thing she thought was that Sean had done it, so she immediately hurried home to inquire about it.

However, she later thought it was a little unrealistic.

It would be easy for Sean to take advantage of his relationship with Larson Pharmaceuticals to attack Bennett Corporation and make them lose some money.

However, there was no way Larson Pharmaceuticals could bring down an established company like Bennett Corporation so quickly.

It had to be a large conglomerate with deep backgrounds.

Willow thought it over. Bennett Corporation was acquired by Reach For Will Group at a low price, so she concluded that Reach For Will Group had done this.

However, Willow had no idea how Sean was related to Reach For Will Group.

Therefore, Willow thought Sean had nothing to do with it.

"Grandma, do you know about it?"

Willow asked after pondering for a moment.

"Of course, I know.

"It's because the heir of the Bennett family Jay has offended someone he shouldn't.

"That's what brought the Bennett family to its demise."

Old Madam Quinn nodded gently and said as she looked at Willow.

"Jay? Offended someone he shouldn't..."

At that moment, Willow thought of Sean for some reason.

"And the person he shouldn't offend is Mr. Yancey."

Old Madam Quinn's statement made Willow frown.

Jay not only offended Sean but also Mr. Yancey?

Willow did not realize that Mr. Yancey was Wade.

"Yess! Jay offended Mr. Yancey. He caused Mr. Yancey to be hospitalized.

"The management of Reach For Will Group flew into a rage and brought down the Bennett family to avenge Mr. Yancey.

"If Reach For Will Group doesn't care enough about Mr. Yancey, why would they do that?"

Willow was even speechless when Old Madam Quinn said that.

The fact that Reach For Will Group would do such a thing for a person spoke volumes about Mr. Yancey's status in Reach For Will Group!

"Are you sure?"

Willow asked in a mutter after a few seconds of silence.

“Any employee of Reach For Will Group knows about this.”

Old Madam Quinn nodded. She was not joking.

Willow gave in when she heard that.

She deeply understood that the Quinn family would never give up cooperation with Reach For Will Group for Sean.

Not even if Willow threatened to kill herself.

Therefore, it was useless to say anything more.

“Oh, what a pity. Sean doesn’t have what it takes to take on the Bennett family.

“Otherwise, we wouldn’t have kicked him out!”

Faye curled her lips, mocking Willow.

“Who says he can’t?”

Just then, there was a cold shout outside the door.

Willow frowned slightly.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 569

Chapter 569

Everyone froze at that.

Then they looked in the direction of the voice.

It was Fion.

They did not expect Fion to say something so emphatic.

Fion seemed ghastly pale.

She had been listening for some time outside the door.

The Quinn family talked about getting rid of Sean, and she had no comments about that.

However, Faye and the rest mentioned Willow.

Fion disliked it.

After all, she was Willow's mother.

There was no way she was happy to see these people treat her daughter like that.

Most importantly, she had just witnessed Shane Bennett begging Sean.

Hotheaded, she stepped in and started yelling at Faye.

"Oh, why are you so angry, Aunt Fion?"

"We meant Sean, not you.

"What's the matter? Do you think of Sean as your family now, Aunt Fion?"

Faye's face was playful, while her tone was disdainful.

Old Madam Quinn also frowned as she looked at Fion. Fion seemed a little different than usual today.

There was a time when Fion wanted to kick Sean out more than Old Madam Quinn did!

Why did she seem to be playing devil's advocate today?

"I don't want to tell you that much.

"About what you said earlier, where Sean is incapable of bringing down the Bennett family.

"Did you know that Shane Bennett, the chairman of Bennett Corporation, went to our house just before I came here?"

Fion said with a sneer as she folded her arms in front of her.

She did not get the one million dollars, but it had almost happened.

There was nothing to hide about that.

"What was Mr. Bennett doing at your house?"

Old Madam Quinn frowned slightly as she asked Fion.

"Shane took his son and one million dollars in cash to apologize to Sean.

“He wanted Sean to spare the Bennett family.”

Fion said as she looked at members of the Quinn family.

Everyone froze as soon as they heard that.

Everyone, including Willow, was dumbstruck.

It was unrealistic.

However, they also knew that no matter how competitive Fion was, she would never lie about such a thing.

If she were lying, she would be caught right away.

Therefore, it must be true.

However, it was unrealistic as well!

Shane went to Sean with one million dollars in cash to apologize and beg for mercy.

‘Does Sean have something to do with the Bennett family’s downfall?’

The more they thought about it, the more unbelievable it seemed.

They were already convinced that the Bennett family’s downfall was the work of Reach For Will Group.

However, they could not link Sean to Reach For Will Group, so this must have nothing to do with Sean.

It was all their speculation, but they thought it was the truth.

However, Shane Bennett, the chairman of Bennett Corporation had gone to apologize to Sean.

Should he have not gone to Reach For Will Group to apologize to Mr. Yancey of Reach For Will Group?

“Well...”

Old Madam Quinn frowned with shock in her eyes.

Willow's eyes widened as her heart beat faster.

Sean had taken on the Bennett family the last.

Jay apologizing to Sean might not be a big deal.

However, even Jay's father Shane went to apologize to Sean this time.

How could this be false?

Shane was not stupid enough to apologize to the wrong person, was he?

The more Willow thought about it, the more frightened she became.

Then she thought about the conversation she had with Sean this afternoon, and she was even more confused.

“Fion, are you telling the truth?”

Old Madam Quinn asked Fion as she fidgeted a little.

“Old Madam, I dare not joke about such a thing.

"I witnessed the whole process.

"Shane took one million dollars in cash to apologize to Sean."

Fion turned to look at Old Madam Quinn and spoke earnestly.

Old Madam Quinn turned silent when she heard this.

The rest of the Quinn family also looked at each other speechlessly.

Could they have misunderstood?

Was Sean really capable of that?

"And what did Sean say?"

Old Madam Quinn frowned and pondered slightly before looking up and asking.

"Sean didn't take the money."

Fion paused for a moment but spoke honestly.

"What?"

The Quinn family froze again.

Sean rejected one million dollars cash?

Was he a fool?

"Shane told Sean to spare the Bennett family.

"Sean said... He said... he's not someone who would

The Quinn family froze again when Fion said this.

spare others.”

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 570

Chapter 570

Willow could not help bursting into laughter.

The story indeed fit Sean’s personality.

“It doesn’t matter if he would spare others. Did he really reject one million dollars cash?

“Is your family so rich? Or was he only keeping up appearances?”

Willow’s Uncle Sam said as his eyes widened.

Members of the Quinn family nodded before looking at Fion.

Everyone knew Willow’s family was the worst off among them.

They still lived in the same old house.

One million dollars was enough for them to buy a big house. 1

However, Sean rejected it. Was he not a fool?

“Sean said it’s only one million dollars, and it’s just the price of the diamond ring on Willow’s hand.”

Fion paused before looking at Willow with a complicated look.

“What?”

Members of the Quinn family widened their eyes before turning to look at Willow.

To be more precise, they looked at Willow’s hand.

Willow immediately blushed and felt uneasy.

However, Willow could not help looking at the diamond ring on her finger when she heard Fion say that.

It was shimmering and dazzling.

However, Willow felt like she was dreaming when they said it was worth one million dollars.

Sean told her it was only worth tens of thousands of dollars!

What happened? How did the diamond ring become one that was worth one million dollars?

She would not wear it if she knew it was so expensive.

“Aunt Fion, you’re blowing your own trumpet here. It’s not like we’ve never bought luxury goods.

“This thing is worth a million dollars?”

“Are you dreaming?”

Faye glanced at Willow’s palm with jealousy in her eyes and disdain in her voice.

“Yeah.

“How dare you believe whatever Sean has the guts to say, Aunt Fion?”

Simon joined in, his face scornful.

“Wait a minute. Let me see.”

Just then, a middle-aged man, a branch member of the Quinn family, stepped forward and examined Willow’s hand.

Others knew that the middle-aged man was in the jewelry business, but it was not a big business.

However, he certainly knew jewelry better than them.

“Hsss!

“The prized jewel in Mr. Jennings’ store—the romantic supreme series True Love ring!”

The middle-aged man’s statement stunned everyone.

Many of the Quinn family knew that Sean had given Willow a diamond ring on the ninth.

However, no one paid attention to how much it was worth.

Members of the Quinn family now thought that the diamond ring might be something special after hearing the middle-aged man say so.

“Brother Samson, is the Mr. Jennings you speak of the biggest jeweler in River City?”

Simon’s father asked with a frown.

“Of course!

“There’s only one such diamond ring in River City.

“I tried many times to get Mr. Jennings to transfer it to me, but he refused!”

The middle-aged man rubbed his hands together, wishing to take the diamond ring off Willow's hand and have a good look.

Willow coughed a little and withdrew her hand a little uneasily.

Aside from the fact that the ring was worth a fortune, even if it was anything else, it was a gift.

from Sean.

She would not just hand it to anyone.

"Uncle Samson, is this diamond really one million dollars?"

Faye was upset as she asked with a frown.

"One million dollars? No..."

The middle-aged man paused slightly before shaking his head.

"Haha!

Faye immediately burst into laughter while the others gave a slight smile.

Aha! One million dollars for a diamond ring?

Even if it cost one million dollars, Sean might be reluctant to pay that price.

"Aunt Fion, it seems that Sean has tricked you."

Simon chuckled and said to Fion.

Fion blushed and started to scold Sean in her head.

Sean must have put her under a spell for her to believe that the diamond ring was worth one million dollars.

“As far as I know, the price of the concentric diamond ring isn’t one million dollars.

“But 999,900 dollars, meaning together forever.”

Everyone fell into dead silence as soon as the middle-aged man said that.

The smiles on Faye and Simon’s faces instantly froze.

999,900 dollars?

That was one hundred dollars short of a million!

It was not wrong to call it a million-dollar diamond ring!

Faye and Simon blushed and kept their mouths shut.

Members of the Quinn family looked intently at Willow. They felt a thrill at the thought that they could buy a house with that diamond ring.

They wanted to take it from Willow.

“Oh! Sean lied to me.

“It’s one hundred dollars short of one million dollars!

“I’ll teach him a lesson for cheating me when I get home.”

Fion deliberately showed an angry look as she said to Faye with a smile.

Faye turned red, snorted coldly, and turned her head away.

