

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 911 - 920

Chapter 911

However, Felix had no time to think. He only wanted to start the car and get out of here.

He knew that Sean was no longer the cripple he could humiliate randomly.

Sean now had connections, power, and money.

Sean had even taken down River City's affluent family-the Zimmer family.

Felix could not afford to offend him.

"Mom and Dad, someone's trying to kill me. Hurry home!"

"Brother, Brother, someone's trying to kill me!"

Felix made several quick phone calls as he closed the car door.

Vroom!

The car started, and Felix spun the steering wheel to leave.

Just then, he suddenly heard the roar of a car engine.

Before he could lower the car window and listen, he saw a car coming round the corner.

The glaring high beams shone straight into the car, causing Felix to shut his eyes.

Vroom vroom vroom!

The white light ahead prevented Felix from seeing anything.

All he could hear were engine roars.

Felix struggled to open his eyes and saw that he was already surrounded by countless cars with high beams flashing.

70 to 80 cars blocked the entrance to Felix's house and his car.

Thud! Thud!

The car doors opened, and fierce-looking burly men in black stepped out.

50, 100, 200, 300 men!

At least 300 burly men in black blocked the roads nearby.

Other residents heard the noise below and poked their heads out to check.

"Get your head back inside!"

A burly man shouted, pointing to a house to his left.

Swoosh!

All the nosy neighbors hurriedly withdrew their heads.

Some took out their phones to report to the police.

Felix rolled up the window and sat on his seat with a pale face.

Sean's car was right in front of Felix's.

Zander got out of the car and pulled the door open for Sean.

Thud!

Felix's heart beat faster as he saw Sean getting out of the car.

"Get out of the car."

Sean slowly walked up to Felix's car.

However, Felix hid in the car and refused to get out as if he did not hear him.

"On the count of three."

Zander stepped forward and spoke indifferently to the car window.

"One, three!

With that, Zander flexed his right elbow and slammed it into the car window.

Bang!

Shatter!

Zander smashed the car window.

Most of the broken glass got onto Felix.

"Bro, Bro, I'll get out. I'll get out..."

Seeing Zander was about to grab him, Felix opened the car door and stumbled out with his head low.

When he saw the countless burly men in black standing around him, he turned even paler as he was scared to look up.

“What are you afraid of?”

Sean asked indifferently, looking at Felix..

Felix lowered his head and said nothing.

“I want to talk to you about something.”

Sean said and sauntered toward Felix’s house.

Zander grabbed Felix around the neck and kept up with Sean.

Felix was a grown man but looked as thin as a chicken in front of the burly Zander.

Several servants in the house were confused to see the unfamiliar Sean barge in.

Thump!

Before they could even ask, Zander threw Felix to the ground.

“It’s none of your business.

“Leave or hide somewhere, I don’t care.”

Zander said indifferently after glancing at their uniforms.

The servants dared not hesitate. They hurriedly hid in a room, not daring to breathe.

Sean sat on the couch, and his eyes narrowed slightly as if he were resting.

"I'll give you ten minutes.

"Call someone or pull some strings."

t

Sean slowly turned to look at Felix.

Felix gritted her teeth slightly before standing up to make eye contact with Sean.

"What's the meaning of this?

"What have I done to you to bring people to my

Felix looked at Sean with grievance in his eyes.

However, Sean had no intention of explaining.

house?"

Why waste time talking to Felix about something he already knew?

Felix looked at Sean and yelled through clenched teeth

"Speak! Why are you doing this to me?

"I used to bully you, but haven't you gotten your revenge at Reach For Will Group?

"And haven't you beat me up at Supreme Business Club?

"What more do you want?"

Sean looked at his watch and said indifferently.

"You've got eight minutes."

"What do you want?"

Felix was flustered, but he managed to play it cool.

Zander looked at Felix and spoke indifferently.

"I beat you up so that you can fight back.

"Go ahead, pull every dirty trick you've got.

"I won't say that Mr. Lennon did not allow you to fight back."

"You!

"Try and touch me!

Felix snorted coldly, a chill gradually appearing in his eyes.

He figured that Sean had already found out about everything.

In that case, there was no need for him to hide anything.

“Come on. Touch me if you dare!”

Felix pointed to his own nose, a sneer on his face.

Slap!

Zander slapped Felix as soon as Felix finished speaking.

The slap put Felix in a daze, and blood gushed out of his nose.

“So what if I touch you?”

Zander asked indifferently as he withdrew his palm.

“Haha.

Felix wiped his nosebleed as the sneer in his eyes intensified.

“Slap me once, and she’ll get ten!”

“Go on if you dare!”

Felix stopped hiding and admitted his guilt.

He had Candy anyway and wanted to see if Sean had the nerve to lay a hand on him.

“You have five more minutes.”

Sean glanced at his watch again.

He was a man of his word.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

He said he would give Felix time, so he kept his word.

“Sean, it seems you’ve known everything.

“Then let me tell you. F*ck off if you want the little girl to be safe.

“Maybe I’ll send her back to you someday when I’m in a good mood.”

Felix sneered and sat down opposite Sean. He also lit himself a cigarette.

Sean waited in silence without even glancing at Felix.

Zander saw Felix’s room door ajar and stepped inside to check. He wanted to see who else was in Felix’s house.

“Time’s up.

“I gave you a chance, yet you didn’t cherish it.”

Sean slowly looked up to Felix.

Felix was calm. He even picked up a fruit and ate it.

“What can you do to me?

“Do you want the little girl to die?”

Felix laughed, his face scornful.

“It’s up to you whether I break her leg or arm.”

Sean asked indifferently as he remained unfazed.

"It doesn't matter to me. I know you outnumber me, but so what?"

"Break one leg of mine, and I'll break both of the little girl's legs! Try me if you don't believe me!"

Felix sneered and put his right leg on the coffee table.

Just then, Zander went to Sean's side, swiping through the photos he had just taken on his phone.

They were some chat logs.

Felix was talking to someone about making an unspeakable video with Candy.

Zander found it.

Now, Sean saw it.

Zander knew that Felix's life was in jeopardy today.

"I thought you were only bad.

"I didn't know you were such a beast."

Sean rose slowly and strode over to Felix.

today. holly

"Well? Which one of my legs do you want to break?"

Felix patted his right knee with disdain.

"I've changed my mind."

Sean said as he approached Felix.

“What’s the matter? Are you scared? Don’t be a chicken!

“Didn’t you say you want to break my legs? Why did you change your mind?”

Felix paused slightly before becoming more disdainful.

“It’s because I want to kill you.”

Felix’s expression instantly changed as soon as Sean finished speaking.

Sean had already gone up and put his foot down.

He aimed it at Felix’s right leg.

His right leg had been resting on the coffee table and hanging in mid-air.

What would happen when Sean put his foot down?

Bang!

Crack!

There was a sound of bone breaking, and Felix’s right leg was snapped upward by Sean’s foot.

Felix looked at his deformed right leg and the pain did not set in yet.

“Ah!

“Ah, my leg F*ck you. Ah!”

It took a few seconds for Felix's pain nerves to kick in, followed by an eruption of shrill shrieks.

Felix was in so much pain that his face distorted. His body even fell off the couch and rolled on the floor.

What kind of pain was it to have the knee broken?

Words could not describe it.

Felix was considered strong not to pass out from the pain.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 913

Chapter 913

Swoosh!

The Guardian Sword shimmered and swung down with anger.

"Wait! Wait!"

Just then, an urgent shout came from outside.

With the sword in hand, Sean paused for a moment. The blade was halted in midair.

"Mr. Lennon, they said they're Felix's parents."

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

The men in black watching in the yard reported to Sean.

Seeing Sean nod, they let the middle-aged couple in.

Felix's father, dressed in a suit, looked like a successful man.

The woman next to him wore heavy makeup. She looked like a woman in her 30s at first glance.

She was in pretty good shape but did not educate her child well.

"Felix? Felix, oh my god!"

Felix's mother screamed when she saw Felix's miserable state.

Felix's father shuddered at the sight and held on to the door frame to keep himself from falling to the ground.

"Do you not care about the law? Huh?"

"This is my son. My son!"

"Kill me if you want!"

Felix's mother wailed on the ground, holding Felix in her arms.

She looked pitiful.

Sean paused, his heart filled with compassion.

His sword had killed many people.

However, it was the first time Sean had seen a mother protecting her child.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

He hesitated for a moment.

“Sir, have we offended you?”

Felix’s father also looked at Sean as he asked through clenched teeth.

“It’s the father’s fault for not teaching his child well.

“Don’t you know what your son has done?”

Zander snorted coldly and asked as he looked at Felix’s father.

“No matter what he has done, we can talk it out.

“Why do you have to do this?”

Felix’s father tried to keep his tone calm.

He had the aura of a successful person, of course.

However, how could he hold up against a tough guy like Zander?

“Some things are negotiable.

“But how could you negotiate some other things?

“Why don’t you ask your son what he has done?”

Zander’s eyes were cold. He had stopped by Felix’s room and found out what he had done.

“No matter what he has done, he doesn’t deserve to die...”

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

Felix's father insisted through gritted teeth.

"You're wrong.

"He deserves death!

"Not only did he piss off Mr. Lennon, but he has ruined many women in their prime.

"He's as cruel as a beast. Doesn't he deserve to die?"

Zander shouted, glaring at Felix's father.

Not knowing what Zander had seen, Sean stayed silent for now.

"Hmph! Do you mean the girls?"

"I've compensated everyone with money.

"We settled it privately. Otherwise, the girls would have reported it to the police. What does any of this have to do with you?"

Felix's mother glared at Sean. The look in her eyes looked like she wanted to eat up Sean alive.

Judging from Felix's mother's attitude, Zander finally understood why Felix would do such savage things.

Manners maketh man.

"Mr. Lennon, he has dozens of videos on his computer.

"It's about him drugging young girls and then abusing them cruelly. He even took videos of them.

"He was going to do the same to Candy."

Zander told Sean without holding anything back.

Sean slowly widened his eyes. He had experienced many things, but Felix's actions had upended his understanding of human nature.

How could such a beast exist?

"That's right. I... I was going to do that.

"I filmed them to threaten them, so they dared not report it to the police, of course.

"Sean, let me go if you're smart. Otherwise, I'll make that little girl Candy suffer ten times worse than them!

Felix was almost passing out with pain. His eyes were bloodshot as he looked at Sean ferociously.

"I don't care who you are. The law will punish him if he breaks the law.

"You have no right to do that.

"I give you three minutes to leave my house. Otherwise, I won't let you go!"

Felix's father pointed at Sean, his tone threatening.

"Listen well too.

"The law can't control him, then I will!

"The law can't kill him, then I will!

"I, Sean Lennon, am the law!"

Sean grabbed his sword and swung it.

Since he was so stubborn, there was no need to talk much.

"Don't you dare!"

Felix's father gritted his teeth as he went up.

"Wait and see if Mr. Lennon will do it!"

Zander stepped forward and stopped Felix's father.

Swoosh!

The sword glimmered.

The sharp Guardian Sword slashed him mercilessly.

It cut into Felix's neck while Felix's mother looked on helplessly.

Splash!

The blade went in, and blood gushed.

Chapter 914

Chapter

The sword should have chopped Felix's head off.

However, Sean did not do so. He simply severed Felix's carotid artery, leaving him to bleed to death.

Sean slowly withdrew the sword. It was clean, with not a trace of blood on it.

After two years, the sword that had accompanied Sean for years saw blood again.

Sean could even feel the excitement from the blade.

It was born for blood.

Felix's life would not be the last it would claim.

There were many people it needed to kill.

Felix did not even struggle. He fell flat to the ground, his eyes wide open.

Warm blood flowed and splattered onto Felix's mother's face.

"Ah!"

Felix's mother let out a howl before bursting into tears.

"You killed my son. You killed my son!"

"You murderer! Ah!"

Felix's mother looked distraught and in pain.

"I killed nothing but a brute.

"You might be in pain, but the parents of his victims suffered more than you."

Sean finished and slowly turned to leave.

Every injustice had its perpetrator.

Felix's parents were wrong but did not deserve to die.

Sean was not going to vent his fury on them.

"You have two days to get out of River City."

Sean's tone was icy as he spoke when passing by Felix's father.

"I'm not leaving.

"You will die. You will surely die!

"I know who you are and how powerful you are in River City.

"But I will kill you! I will kill you!"

Felix's father had lost his composure, his eyes were menacing.

"Who do you want to ask for help?"

Sean slowly stopped when he heard this.

"River City can't do anything to you, so I'll report it to Souz River.

"You can't get away with this!"

Felix's father had a look of madness in his eyes,

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

“Okay”

Unexpectedly, Sean nodded gently, turned around, and dropped the Guardian Sword in his hand.

Clang!

The sharp sword stabbed into the fine sandalwood coffee table.

The sharp sword tip dug straight into the table more than ten centimeters.

Then it stood firmly on the coffee table.

The sword seemed to have pierced Felix’s parents’ hearts.

“No one can stop me from killing the people I want to kill.

“Get away? I am Sean Lennon, and I live in Golden Villa Garden’s twin villa.

“Come find me if you dare.”

Sean walked out the door after he finished speaking.

Zander and the rest followed him, of course.

The crowd left as quickly as they came.

The long motorcade roared away again.

“That f*cker! Fuck!”

Felix’s mother wailed as she held her son’s body.

Felix's father also sighed and sat on the ground.

The loss of a child during middle age was a tragedy.

However, as Felix's parents, how could they not know what he had done?

"Why are you crying?"

"I told you not to spoil him.

"I can take care of the ordinary girls for him, but sooner or later, he'll get into trouble that I can't solve.

"Do you believe it now?"

Felix's father growled, his eyes wide.

"What's the use of saying these now? What's the use?"

"What about your connections? Where are your connections? I want revenge for Felix. I want revenge for him!"

Felix's mother cried as she called the hospital.

She knew Felix was beyond rescue but wanted to try.

Felix's lifeless body was soon taken away.

The hospital did not want to take Felix, but Felix's mother's insistence forced them to carry him to the ambulance.

Felix's father stayed home, waiting for the person he should wait for.

Half an hour later, two official state cars arrived at Felix's house.

These two cars were not very luxurious, but their number plates were unusual.

Any knowledgeable person would be able to recognize at a glance that only provincial-level government officials could use the number.

Felix's parents were no ordinary people either to have such connections.

Felix's father greeted a middle-aged man into the house.

They were followed by five or six staff in special uniforms.

"Sir, his name is Sean Lennon, and he's very powerful in River City.

"He's not only related to the underworld but also River City's government.

"It is said that he even has connections in the CIA.

"He has no respect for the law and kills people at will. You must get justice for the Xavian family."

Felix's father complained to the middle-aged man.

"Damian's got some balls!"

The middle-aged man frowned slightly. Looking at the mess in the house, he frowned deeper.

Felix's father clenched his teeth, wishing he could cut Sean to pieces to vent his hatred.

"Let's go get him first before solving the case."

The middle-aged man looked around and was ready to catch Sean.

Just then, he glanced around and saw the Guardian Sword on the coffee table.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 915

Chapter 915

The sword was standing rigidly from the coffee table just like the sword in the stone.

"What is this?"

The middle-aged man asked Felix's father, frowning slightly.

"By the way, this is the murder weapon Sean used, Sir. His fingerprints must be on it!"

Felix's father came to himself and rushed forward to pull the sword out.

However, the sword remained motionless even though he pulled until he clenched his teeth.

"Wait!"

The middle-aged man scowled as he went forward to reach for it, but he soon stopped slowly.

Then the middle-aged man suddenly froze as if he had recalled something.

"Well..."

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

The middle-aged man walked around the coffee table as he examined the sword carefully.

The more he looked, the wider his eyes were, and the more shocked he was.

The middle-aged man took a deep breath and asked in a shaky voice.

“Did... Did... Did he kill Felix with this sword?”

“Yes!”

Felix’s father nodded immediately.

“What did you say his name is?”

The middle-aged man asked again after being stunned for half a second.

“He’s... called Sean Lennon. He also gave us his address, not afraid of you going after him.

“He’s so arrogant!”

Felix’s father once again spoke without thinking.

“Of... Of course, he’s not afraid...”

However, the middle-aged man only muttered without showing any sign of outrage.

“Sir, what... what do you mean?”

Felix’s father looked startled.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

“The Guardian Sword kills only those who deserve it...”

“This is... a guillotine that can behead the prime minister!”

“You strike without worrying about the consequences. Your son deserves his death!”

The middle-aged man sighed. He knew Felix deserved to die without even asking!

“What?”

Felix’s father paused suddenly before feeling his head spin.

Who had the Xavian family provoked?

“What else did he say?”

The middle-aged man asked again after being silent for a few seconds.

“He told us... told us to get out of River City...”

Battered out of his senses, Felix’s father muttered back.

“What are you waiting for?”

“Do you want to die?”

The middle-aged man shook his head, and Felix’s father was stunned when he said that.

‘Even a big shot from Souz River can’t do anything to Sean?’

‘Who the hell is he?’

‘Did he leave the sword here on purpose?’

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

The middle-aged man could not explain much and dared not do so.

He only had someone remove the coffee table and leave.

“Sir, you...”

Felix’s father was confused.

“I do not dare to touch the sword.

“So I’m sending it over with the table.”

The middle-aged man said and left the yard.

Felix’s father froze and sank to the floor.

He finally understood now. Felix had gotten away with ruining so many young girls.

However, they were bound to run into trouble one day.

He had now hit a dead end!

At the same time.

Jon and his son were also waiting for news.

After Quill answered the phone, Jon keenly noticed that Quill’s expression had changed.

Swoosh!

Quill’s eyes widened as his hands drooped. His eyes were full of shock.

“How are things?”

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

Jon asked with a frown when Quill was silent.

“Felix’s dead!”

Quill took a deep breath before slowly uttering two words.

“What...”

“Dead? Dead just like that?”

Jon jumped to his feet with a jolt.

“Yes, he’s dead...”

Quill lit a cigarette slowly and took two long drags.

They thought Sean would go over and maybe beat Felix to teach him a lesson.

He would give Felix serious injuries at best.

However, did Sean really kill Felix for a little girl like Candy?

“Is the information accurate?”

Jon asked with a frown as he lit a cigarette too.

“Yes, Felix’s body was already cold when he got to the hospital...”

Quill nodded as he continued to smoke heavily.

“Is he really that cruel?”

Jon sat down slowly, muttering to himself.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

He now believed Sean had killed Charles, the leader of River City underworld.

“Dad, are... are we going to continue going against him?”

“He has more power in River City than we do!”

Quill was finally afraid.

He did not want to end up like Felix.

“Hmph! There’s no turning back.

“Now that it is done, we must have a winner.

“I’ll handle it. What are you afraid of?”

When Jon heard Quill say this, his expression changed as a cruel look appeared in his eyes.

He was scared, but there was no way he would give up going against Sean.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 916

Chapter 916

A rich heir like Quill was all about enjoyment.

He had no idea how Zimmer Corporation got to where it was today.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

However, Jon knew all too well how hard it was to build it.

He would never give up without even putting up a fight.

“But Dad, we... we...”

Quill was terrified of Sean’s merciless tactics.

If the Zimmer family was in power, Quill was good at throwing his weight around.

However, Sean possessed the advantage over him, and he was afraid to go against him.

“What are you afraid of? I told you I have plans.

“Our men will be here tomorrow.

“If you’re scared, leave River City first.”

Jon frowned slightly. He was exasperated at Quill’s loser behavior.

“Our men will here tomorrow?”

Quill perked up at that.

“Yes, Sean will die this time.

“I will destroy Reach For Will Group too.”

Jon nodded gently, his eyes beaming with confidence.

“Okay! Okay!”

Quill rubbed his hands together, looking eager.

At the same time.

The middle-aged man from the Souz River had personally sent the Guardian Sword back to Golden Villa Garden.

Zander received him.

Sean did not even show his face.

However, the middle-aged man had no complaints and immediately left with his men.

He kept his mouth shut about Felix's murder.

It was because of his low rank.

Even his immediate superior could not interfere with such a big shot, let alone someone like him.

Therefore, the middle-aged man had made a wise decision.

The night passed quickly.

Two major incidents happened in River City overnight.

First, River City's Lennon Group had emerged and was talking to companies needing working capital.

It went well because Homer and the rest introduced them.

Chloe had led their representatives to sign contracts with nearly ten companies.

Sean set the terms, of course.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

He wanted 60% of the shares and absolute control.

Many companies focused on it.

Many were hesitant to accept Lennon Group's deal.

Then news of the Xavian family's incident slowly spread.

The Xavian family was not much of an affluent family in River City.

However, they were still members of River City's high society.

The Xavian family's assets were also complex, involving many industries.

The Xavian family was brought down overnight.

Felix's father, the chairman of Xavian Corporation, spent the night gathering what money he could and fled River City with what was left of his family.

Besides that, he left his assistant in River City to sell the Xavian family's various non-liquid assets as soon as possible.

Many people were shocked to hear the news.

What happened to the Xavian family?

No one heard anything about Xavian Corporation facing a crisis!

Even if they hit a rough patch, Jon and other companies without working capital were still holding on. Why did the Xavian family run away?

Some people with keen insights immediately sensed more of the story.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

Some people began to inquire about the investigation.

They quickly learned that the heir of the Xavian family, Felix, had been found dead in his home last night.

The statement came from the Xavian family's servant, which was highly credible.

However, no one could find anything more.

Those servants said nothing more of it.

Only a handful of people in River City knew what happened.

However, those who had no idea what was going on concluded.

The Xavian family must have offended a terrifying big shot.

Otherwise, instead of seeking revenge for Felix's murder, why would his father sell his assets and run away?

River City was already suffering troubled times.

The Xavian family's incident even added to many people's uneasiness.

There was also speculation that Lennon Group's acquisition of companies could be linked to the Xavian family's incident.

"Did the Xavian family reject Lennon Group's investment and was thus brought down?"

Soon after someone said that, a storm blew up and spread through River City.

Those who were hesitant quickly contacted Lennon Group.

Money was important.

However, money was nothing compared to life.

Lennon Group even left 40% of shares to them.

Even if they did not get any shares, they dared not risk their lives and fight Lennon Group!

As a result, the Lennon Group's investment plan went well.

Companies that were not conned from Jon's fundraising were also interested.

That included Larson Pharmaceuticals.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 917

Chapter 917

"Tell me the truth. Does Mr. Lennon have something to do with what happened to the Xavian family?"

Old Master Larson looked at Homer, his tone was solemn.

"I'm not sure.

"But as far as I know, Felix sent someone to kidnap Mr. Lennon's niece yesterday.

"So..."

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

Homer shook his head slightly before responding.

Old Master Larson sighed gently at this.

It went without saying.

Felix laid a hand on Sean's girl and then died miserably in his home.

Everyone knew that Sean was behind it.

Instead of taking revenge, the Xavian family sold their assets and fled River City.

It showed that Sean was not an ordinary person.

"Let's work with Lennon Group too."

Old Master Larson was silent for a few seconds before saying his decision.

"Old Master, what... what did you say?"

"Are you asking us to work with Lennon Group on the shares alteration too?"

"Do you want Larson Pharmaceuticals to give 60% of our shares to Lennon Group?"

Homer's eyes widened with shock.

"Not to Lennon Group but Mr. Lennon."

Old Master Larson sat slowly and muttered.

"No matter who we give it to, we're giving it away!"

"It's... it's 60%!"

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

“Old Master, we can’t do that. Those companies don’t have enough money to operate.

“But Larson Pharmaceuticals is not in any financial crisis!”

Homer felt agony at the thought of losing out 60% of the shares.

It was more than agony. It was killing him!

“Have you forgotten everything I told you?”

Old Master Larson slapped the table and looked at Homer with a frown.

“What is it?”

Homer was stunned for a moment.

“We’ll do whatever it takes to hold on to Mr. Lennon.

“It’s difficult to predict the future of River City’s business circle.

“But nothing will go wrong if we stick with Mr. Lennon.”

Old Master Larson picked up the teacup, his tone affirmative.

“But Old Master, it’s 60%. 60%!”

Homer held out his thumb and little finger and shook them.

“B*stard!

“We might look like we’re losing out, but will Mr. Lennon let us lose?”

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

“We’ve known Mr. Lennon for a long time. Don’t you know him?”

Old Master Larson said, and Homer immediately fell silent.

Sean had never been the type to promise anything randomly.

He was a man of his word.

Homer was impressed with what he had done.

Take Zimmer Corporation’s financing, for example. If it had not been for Sean, Larson Pharmaceuticals would probably be facing a capital chain rupture right now.

“Have you figured it out?”

Old Master Larson immediately asked when Homer was silent.

“Yes...”

Homer nodded quietly.

“Why don’t you get on with it?”

Old Master Larson put down his teacup and urged.

“Old Master, I still don’t think it’s necessary.

“Larson Pharmaceuticals is not short of money, to be honest.

“We’ll have endless money even if we don’t grow.”

Homer’s heart still had a last flicker of hesitation.

"Money? Money can't make the Larson family prosper forever.

"But the Larson family can at least prosper for another 100 years if we follow the right person..

"Didn't Zimmer Corporation have money? Look what happened to them."

Old Master Larson's words woke Homer up.

"Old Master, I see. I'm on it."

Homer slowly got up and left the room.

Lennon Group's investment plan went well.

Homer also contacted Sean, wanting to talk about it.

Sean would not refuse, of course. Lennon Group would be even stronger with Larson Pharmaceuticals.

Therefore, Sean immediately came to the company to explain the matter to Chloe.

Chloe had just gotten back from Willow's cosmetics company.

Candy was a little shaken up after yesterday's events.

Therefore, Willow and Leah did not go to the company today. Instead, they took Candy out to play.

Chloe took care of the cosmetics company.

Sean walked into the company and reached Chloe's office.

He reached out and knocked on the door, but there was no answer.

Seeing the door ajar, Sean hesitated before pushing the door open.

Sean thought Chloe was not around, but he found her sitting behind her desk when he pushed the door open.

Chloe had a sweet appearance. The formal suit made her slightly mature.

Chloe had exceptional looks.

However, Chloe looked distressed.

She was frowning slightly.

She did not even notice when Sean came in.

Knock knock!

Sean walked up to the desk and tapped on it.

"Huh?"

"Ah, Mr. Lennon."

Chloe came to herself and quickly got up, looking embarrassed.

"What happened? Did something happen?"

Sean glanced at Chloe and muttered.

"It's fine. It's fine, Mr. Lennon..."

Chloe quickly waved her hand and explained.

"Okay, talk to Larson Pharmaceuticals.

"They want to work with us."

Sean said to Chloe without asking any more questions.

However, Chloe, who had always been obedient and clever, did not answer but fell silent this time.

"What's the matter?"

Sean noticed Chloe behaving strangely today.

"Mr. Lennon, I want to bid you... goodbye..."

Chloe was silent for a moment, but she gathered her courage and looked up at Sean.

"Goodbye?"

Sean was slightly confused.

“Something... Something happened at home, so I have to go back...”

“I’m reluctant to leave, but I have no choice.”

Chloe sighed and lowered her head again.

“Lennon Group needs you.

“I need you too.”

Sean frowned slightly. He did not want Chloe to go.

Lennon Group’s development had reached a critical moment, and his right-hand man
Chloe must not be absent.

“I... have to go.”

Chloe sighed again before biting her red lip and saying.

Sean looked at Chloe for a few seconds before nodding gently.

“When will you be back?”

Sean paused for two seconds before asking quietly.

“Maybe I’m not coming back...”

Chloe lowered her head a little more as she spoke in a whisper.

“Find Zander and ask him to give you a million dollars.

“Consider it your remuneration.”

Sean said nothing more. Chloe had made up her mind, so he would not force her.

“I don’t want the money.

“Thank you for all this time.

“If you ever need my help, call me.”

Chloe said, and the cell phone on the desk rang.

“Oh...”

Chloe let out a sigh before picking up the phone to leave.

Sean frowned again. He realized that he had never seen through Chloe.

“Can’t you stay?”

“I can help you if you have a problem.”

Sean said again.

“Lennon Group will be in trouble if I don’t leave...”

With that said, Chloe picked up her phone and walked out the door.

Sean looked at Chloe’s back as his mouth opened, but he said nothing more.

Chloe walked to the door before running back suddenly and putting her arms around Sean.

"I like your attitude."

Chloe muttered in Sean's ear before leaving the office without looking back.

Sean was confused. He never knew Chloe had feelings for him.

After a few seconds of hesitation, Sean slowly walked to the French window.

Two black Maybachs were waiting below the building.

The license plates were not from River City but Joules Town, a nearby city.

The numbers on them were far from ordinary.

Soon, Chloe walked out of the building.

The Maybach at the back immediately opened its doors, and a driver wearing white gloves stepped out and ushered Chloe into the car.

Without any hesitation, he started the car and left.

Sean watched the two cars drive away and nodded thoughtfully.

"There is something very special about the girl."

Sean muttered to himself. No wonder Chloe did not seem to care about money.

Would she care for Sean's one million dollars if her family could afford Maybachs?

Not only did Sean see how unusual the license plate was, but he also sensed a temperament only soldiers had in the driver.

Chloe was not only wealthy, but she also had an unusual background.

Sean pondered for a moment, curious as he prepared to call Zander over to look into Chloe.

Zander then came over.

“Commander, something happened.”

Sean frowned at what Zander said as soon as he walked in the door.

Sean sat in a chair and muttered.

“What happened?”

“The Zimmer family is still making trouble.”

Zander’s second remark made Sean’s brow furrow even more.

What would Jon have the nerve to do now?

“Jen-bond Holdings is Janestown’s top three companies.

“They are involved in countless industries and rank among the top ten in Dragon Kingdom when it comes to market value.

“They’ve come to River City.”

Sean was surprised to hear Zander say this.

“What giant company would come to a small place like River City to develop their business?”

Sean asked softly, looking at Zander.

“Jon probably pulled the strings.

“It turns out they’ve been in touch all along.

“Didn’t you say River City will become the largest economic hub of Souz River in the future?

“I think that’s what Jen-Bond Holdings is up to.”

Zander shook his head slightly as he told him what he found.

“What’s going on?”

Sean nodded, still looking calm.

“I don’t know yet.

“But Jon has met with them and has temporarily checked into Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel.”

Zander spoke quickly and finished briefing Sean.

“Interesting.

“Old institutions die hard.

“The Zimmer family wants to be ruined completely.”

Sean rose slowly, a chill appeared in his eyes.

Sean was going to let Jon go for Jason’s sake.

However, it now seemed they did not appreciate their last chance.

“Commander, I’ve had people look Jen-Bond Holdings up. It’s stronger than I thought.

“They’re probably as wealthy as we are, and they have a lot of connections too.

“Even their employees are full of talent.

“We might not be able to beat them.”

Zander’s eyes were full of worry.

Reach For Will Group and Lennon Group were both relatively new.

Sean’s wealth and foresight had enabled them to grow so quickly.

However, Jen-Bond Holdings had been around for 60 years.

Zander had no idea how to fight them.

Sean pondered for a moment before giving his instructions.

“Speed up investing in those companies.”

It was the most critical step.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

Once completed, Sean would own 60% of nearly 100 companies simultaneously.

It was no exaggeration to say that it meant that he would own 100 companies at the same time.

River City had many companies.

Once Sean took control of these companies, he would control two-thirds of River City's business circle.

He would have control over the economic lifeline of River City.

When that happened, Sean would control every business in River City.

If Sean did not allow it, there was nothing any of those businesses could do about it.

Therefore, what they needed to do most was to speed up completing their plans.

"Yes"

Zander nodded before turning around to walk out of the office.

At the same time.

News of Jen-Bond Holdings' move into River City spread fast.

It took less than two hours for it to go viral.

Jen-bond Holdings' River City representative even accepted interviews.

Everything they said declared Jen-bond Holdings' intention to make a name in River City.

River City's business circle was shaken up again all of a sudden.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

Jen-bond Holdings was a behemoth that everyone in the business circle knew about.

Their strength, money, and background did not need much explanation.

Without a strong background, you could not make it big in Janestown.

Many have wondered what Jen-Bond Holdings was up to.

Others wondered why they would come to River City.

The wealthy Reach For Will Group was founded earlier, and now the well-connected Jen-Bond Holdings came.

What was it about River City that made them come over?

It was indeed a good thing for River City.

If Jen-Bond Holdings developed here, it could solve most of River City's employment issues.

Moreover, it would also boost River City's GDP.

Therefore, many of River City's elite welcomed Jen-Bond Holdings' River City representative.

Undoubtedly, they would have a green light to start a company and be heavily supported.

After witnessing Jen-Bond Holdings' influence, Sean finally got slightly anxious.

Therefore, he urged Zander to speed up the investment plans.

However, Jen-Bond Holdings representative was on River City's news again in the afternoon.

Jen-bond Holdings would be working closely with Zimmer Corporation.

The funds Zimmer Corporation recently raised were related to Jen-Bond Holdings.

Next, they would balance the books according to the financing.

They could discuss with Jen-Bond Holdings about getting their money back or continuing to invest.

When the news was released, it abruptly halted Sean's investments.

A start-up like Lennon Group had less authority than a giant like Jen-Bond Holdings.

With Jen-Bond Holdings backing Zimmer Corporation, they had nothing to worry about.

Therefore, several companies that Zander was about to sign deals with quit and left without hesitation.

Even companies they already had stakes in contacted Zander to see if they could back out.

Jon caught Sean right in the neck.

Zander and Harry were flustered.

Chloe was already gone, and there was nothing they could do.

The plan that had been going so well finally hit its biggest crisis.

"Commander, what to do now?"

Zander looked at Sean and asked through clenched teeth.

“I’ll take it from here.”

Sean gently tapped on the table as he spoke casually.

Chapter 920

Zander and Harry were relieved to hear that.

However, they were only slightly relieved.

Reach For Will Group had a strong foundation, backed by strong financial resources and background.

At least they were unrivaled in River City.

However, Jen-Bond Holdings was aggressively picking apart Sean’s plans.

In the presence of companies such as Jen-Bond Holdings, which had been around for decades, Reach For Will Group and Lennon Group were like toddlers learning to walk.

They were no match for them.

Sean had a unique identity.

However, Zander dared not tell the world who Sean was.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

Otherwise, Blaze would have Sean killed long before Jen-Bond Holdings could even make a move.

Therefore, they could only use their backgrounds and connections within a small circle.

Currently, Jen-Bond Holdings' influence was beyond Sean's reach.

Sean was too young to counter business-savvy people and had not learned much about it.

His foresight was more suited to the battlefield in the Northwest.

Although business was like a war zone, what worked in war might not be applicable in the business world.

Therefore, Zander and Harry did not know what to do.

"Commander, what are we going to do next?"

"Do you have anything you want me and Harry to do?"

Zander was silent for a moment before asking quietly.

"Your job is to keep an eye on Jon and Jen-Bond Holdings.

"I'll take care of everything else."

Sean waved his hand gently and walked slowly to the French window.

Zander and Harry both nodded in response.

Sean stood in front of the floor-to-ceiling window with his back to the two. Watching the traffic below, a subtle confusion appeared in his eyes.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

He was rarely in such a confused mood.

He had taken control of everything that had happened since he woke up.

All his plans went according to his expectations.

However, Jen-Bond Holdings stepped in and gave Sean a wake-up call.

He thought taking over River City would be easy.

When he was in the Northwest Army, he led his men in raids that no one could stop. Therefore, he had never taken River City seriously.

IN

However, Jen-Bond Holdings's appearance made Sean understand a reality.

River City was not the Northwest Army.

The world was different from the battlefield after all.

He could wield the Guardian Sword and kill all his opponents on the battlefield.

It did not matter if they were getting an eye for an eye.

However, the rules on the battlefield were different from the world.

If he sent someone to kill Jen-Bond Holdings, no one could protect Sean.

There was a saying, "When in Rome, do as the Romans do." Sean was now in the outside world, so he must follow the world's rules.

"That old fox Jon has taught me a lesson."

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Sean pushed open the French window in front of him and let the breeze hit his face.

Just then, the phone in his pocket rang, and Sean picked it up.

“Hello, Mr. Lennon...”

The line got through, and Jason’s voice spoke, sounding embarrassed.

“It’s me.”

Sean nodded gently, not surprised that Jason had called.

“Mr. Lennon, I didn’t think it would turn out like this...”

Jason was embarrassed.

Sean had done Jason a favor by not killing Jon and his son..

However, he did not expect them to cause so much trouble afterward.

Jon was unrepentant, and he even got involved with Jen-Bond Holdings.

Sean’s plans were forced to be put on hold.

It was all Jon’s plan.

It was all because Jason had begged Sean to spare them.

Instead, they started giving him future trouble.

Now, Jon was throwing his weight around again to counterattack Sean.

“It’s fine. I didn’t expect it either.”

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

Sean did not complain because it was pointless.

Since Jason begged Sean to spare Jon, he must have told Jon what he needed to say.

However, it was hard to fathom a person's mind. It was not up to Jason to decide what Jon had in mind.

Even if Jason knew, he would not have been able to stop it.

"Mr. Lennon, I'll go talk to Jon again."

Jason was silent for two seconds before saying quietly.

'No.

"It's his choice and decision, not yours.

"But don't interfere in what I do next.

"It's none of your business what happens to them."

Sean's tone was calm, but Jason sensed a serious threat.

It seemed Jon had crossed the line with Sean!
