Chapter 921 - 930

Chapter 921

"Mr. Lennon, I get it now.

"Jen-Bond Holdings has a long-established foundation in Janestown.

"I can't interfere."

Jason nodded before replying helplessly.

"Yes."

Sean nodded gently before hanging up the phone slowly.

Jason could not interfere. Then Hayden and Damian could do nothing either.

The crisis overwhelmed Sean, and he had no idea where to start.

Sean stayed silent for a while. Then he picked up his phone and made several more calls.

At the same time.

Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel.

Jen-Bond Holdings' representative was staying here.

Jon set this up, of course.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

He knew Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel now belonged to Reach For Will Group.

He deliberately arranged Jen-Bond Holdings' representative to stay here as a warning to Reach For Will Group..

He wanted to warn them to stay out of things.

Otherwise, he would go after them too.

What he wanted to do most was to go after Sean first.

Reach For Will Group could wait.

After the meeting with Jen-Bond Holdings' representative, Jon emerged from the presidential suite.

The smile on his face was smug.

His next move against Sean was already in the works.

Once Jon carried out his plan, he would not only cause a greater crisis for Sean but also solve some of the problems that he was facing.

The more Jon thought about it, the better he felt.

At the same time, Jason called Jon's cell phone.

Jon took out his phone and glanced at it. He did not want to answer it at first.

After hesitating for a few seconds, he answered it.

"What is it?"

Jon answered the phone and went straight to the point.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

He had no fear or respect for Jason anymore.

His attitude was more like that of treating an enemy.

“You and Jen-Bond Holdings...”

Jason just got to the point when Jon interrupted him.

“What does my relationship with Jen-Bond Holdings have to do with you?”

Jon’s overbearing attitude made Jason frown and flabbergasted.

Jon no longer relied on Jason, so he would not be nice to him.

“Do you think I want to control you?”

“I asked Mr. Lennon to leave you alone.

“Now, you’re pulling this trick and say it’s none of my business?”

Jason gritted his teeth slightly, a hint of anger in his tone.

Sean had already told him not to ask Qui

However, Jason was still mad after thinking about it.

Sean would have killed Jon if Jason had not interceded for Jon.

Jon would never have been able to work with Jen-Bond Holdings in the first place.

To put it bluntly, Jason pretty much saved Jon and his family.

Now, the man he saved had embarrassed him. How could he face Sean?

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

Therefore, he could not leave the matter alone.

“Hmph!”

Jon knew Jason was right, so he snorted coldly instead of retorting.

“Take my advice...”

Jason was about to say something, but Jon interrupted imposingly.

“Sean sent you to convince me, didn’t he?”

“Haha. I haven’t done much, and he’s already scared?”

“Isn’t he arrogant?”

Jon sneered, his tone full of sarcasm.

Jason felt helpless when he heard Jon’s words.

‘Scared?’

Sean was a nine-star commander in the army.

Anyone would be scared, but not him.

He did not know the word “scared”.

There was no way he would ask him to advise Jon.

Jason only called because he was embarrassed to face Sean and wanted to save Jon for the last time.

“You have no idea who he is.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

"You don't know all your tricks are pointless in front of him.

"You're courting your own destruction; you know that?"

Jason let out a deep sigh. His tone was exasperated.

He was afraid to tell Jon Sean's real identity.

He just wanted Jon to mend his ways.

He still had a chance to make it right.

"Haha, tell me who he is..

"Jason, you're the one courting destruction!

"If you continue helping me now, I can bury the hatchet.

"But if you want to take Sean's side, don't blame me for being ruthless."

Jon's tone was equally threatening.

Jason kept telling him that Sean had a terrifying identity and a complicated background.

He had no idea about Sean's identity.

However, none of that mattered.

Jon had Jen-Bond Holdings helping him, so Sean was no big deal.

Sean knew some people in the government.

However, Sean's power was nothing compared to Jen-Bond Holdings' background.

Chapter 922

Jon was so confident that he did not take Jason seriously.

Jason was speechless after hearing Jon's words.

He finally figured out why Sean would not let him contact Jon.

Jon was beyond help.

He would not listen to reason at all.

"I don't want to waste time saying nonsense.

"I admit you interceded for me, but I didn't ask you to help me.

"By the way, bring Sean a message. He'll apologize if he's smart and return all of the Zimmer family's properties he had taken.

"If not, I'll ensure he can't stay in River City!"

Jon spoke with a sneer when Jason said nothing.

"Old Zimmer!

"Stop causing trouble, will you?"

Jason let out a growl before whispering.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

"It's none of your business whether I live or die.

"Watch how I'll get Sean to kneel in front of me. Hmph!

With that, Jon hung up.

To give Jen-Bond Holdings enough time to prepare, he had gone to apologize to Sean to pacify Sean first.

Quill knelt in front of Sean, but Sean even made Jon kneel to him.

Jon did not forget that.

Jon's hatred would only be vented when Sean kneeled in front of him.

Jon hung up on Jason.

The current chairman of Quinn Corporation and Willow's uncle, Samuel, called.

Jon sneered and picked up his phone.

As Jon had expected, Samuel flattered Jon with every word he spoke.

He was sucking up to him..

Jon knew what the Quinn family wanted..

Seeing Jon having the upper hand, they began taking his side again!

"Didn't you guys make up with Sean?",

Jon walked slowly into a room, his tone playful.

"Oh, Mr. Zimmer, we had no choice at the time.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

“Sean was so arrogant. We could only compromise temporarily to save ourselves.

“Sean is nothing compared to Jen Bond Holdings!”

Samuel chuckled, his tone obsequious.

“So is the Quinn family teaming up with the Zimmer family to go after Sean?”

Jon touched his chin and smiled wider.

“Of course, Sean is arrogant and ungrateful.

“The Quinn family took care of him for two years, and instead of being grateful, he tried to take my place.

“Tell me. How can I tolerate him?”

Samuel nodded and righteously criticized Sean.

“You just made up with Sean, and now you’re saying such a thing.

“I find it hard to believe!”

Jon took a sip of tea and deliberately mocked Samuel.

“Oh, Mr. Zimmer. These are nothing.

“How will we fear Sean as long as our families join hands?

“Old Madam has already said she won’t allow Sean and Willow to return to the Quinn family.

“When you see how the Quinn family treats Sean, you’ll know if we’re sincere.”

Samuel shook his head and explained to Jon.

He was thinking of using Sean to show their loyalty.

“Alright, I’ll see what you’re going to do.”

Jon sneered and slowly hung up.

Jon could see that the Quinn family was trying to be a fence-sitter.

With Jon’s current strength, he did not even need the Quinn family.

However, Jon would not refuse if the Quinn family could be used as a weapon to go after Sean.

2 p.m.

Jen-Bond Holdings had registered a branch in River City.

With the company as a base, they could do everything more conveniently and quickly.

Then Jen-Bond Holdings’ River City branch released an announcement.

They would be solely in charge of Zimmer Corporation (3)

They would assist the relevant authorities in the funding dispute caused by the land in the city center some time ago.

They would look into the 300 million dollars that disappeared.

With Jen-Bond Holdings as a guarantee, River City companies that had been affected were reassured.

Jen-Bond Holdings’ River City branch sent representatives to meet with the companies.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

Only they know what they discussed.

Jon brought the head of Jen-Bond Holdings' River City branch to meet River City government officials secretly.

The Janestown company involved both the business circle's economy and the government's.

All this added to the woes of the Lennon Group, whose plans were halted.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 923

Chapter 923

It was a string of bad luck.

Jen-Bond Holdings was indeed powerful.

Zander and Harry scratched their heads, unable to do anything.

They were good at fighting, but such things were hard for them.

Chloe had left Lennon Group and was nowhere to be found. They were at a loss for what to do.

Fortunately, Chloe made as many arrangements as possible and left some plans and layout of plans before she left.

It made Zander and the rest less flustered.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

However, it would not solve the problem.

Jen-Bond Holdings had just started. If this went on, it was not hard to imagine what they would face. "With Jen-Bond Holdings' background, it's possible to find out quickly where Zimmer Corporation's missing money went. 1

"If they find out..."

Zander became more worried as he thought about it.

Of course, Sean had the money transferred elsewhere.

Zander remembered Sean asking him if using illegal means in corporate warfare was inappropriate.

It was what Sean was talking about.

Sean never wanted to keep the money.

Sean wanted to wait until everything in River City was settled before taking out the money.

He would pay off his debt and return what the Zimmer family deserved to Jon.

The Zimmer family would be able to pay off all their debt and have enough money to last them the rest of their lives.

Sean only did it for Jason.

However, Sean did not expect Jon to be so stubborn and pull such a stunt.

What would happen once Jen-Bond Holdings found the whereabouts of those two batches of money?

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

Every company in River City would probably find out that Sean had set this whole thing up.

Sean had everyone under his grip.

These companies hated Sean.

When the time came, Sean could not make a name for himself in River City.

No one would support him if he wanted to do business.

“Brother Zander, I’ll kill Jon if we have no other choice.

“Then I will leave River City so you and the Commander won’t get involved.”

Harry looked up abruptly. Soldiers meant it when they said so.

‘No.

“Felix is different from Jon.

*Jon’s hanging out with Jen-Bond Holdings. They’re not going to sit idly by.”

Zander shook his head slightly. He had thought about it before, but it would not work.

“Then I’ll kill Jen-Bond Holdings’ people too.”

Harry curled his lip, looking fierce.

“You! You can’t hide your brutality even if you wore a suit.

“That’s not we do things.”

Zander was frustrated. He had been living in River City for a while and had gotten used to the rules of the outside world.

There was a difference between the outside world and the army.

When facing the enemy in the army, whoever was the strongest was the boss.

It was common for someone to die.

However, whoever with money and status was the boss out here.

However, Jen-Bond Holdings seemed to have far more money and power than Sean for now. 1

“But what are we to do?”

“The Commander didn’t give any orders, so are we going to watch Jon and do nothing?”

Harry clenched his teeth slightly and clapped his palms in irritation.

“Let’s do whatever the Commander says. I’m sure he has a solution.”

Zander was silent for a few seconds before shaking his head.

They knew nothing about business.

Now that Chloe had left, they could only see whether Sean could handle Jen-Bond Holdings’ tricks.

At this time.

Golden Villa Garden’s twin villa.

Sean looked at his laptop in front of him, lost in thought.

He had expected Jen-Bond Holdings to do that.

After all, the disappearance of Zimmer Corporation's money was no small deal.

Jen-Bond Holdings was smart, so they could figure out that Sean had done it.

Therefore, they must be collecting evidence right now.

"They could have collected evidence secretly but leaked the information on purpose just to make me nervous."

Sean looked at the laptop with a sneer on his lips.

Jen-Bond Holdings' actions made Zander and Harry nervous.

However, it put Sean at ease.

Jen-Bond Holdings must have deliberately made Sean nervous to throw him off his feet.

Normally, Sean would now try to deal with the two batches of money again.

However, as soon as Sean did something, they would be able to follow the lead and find real evidence.

However, Sean did not move.

Sean wanted to see if they could figure it out.

"It's a pity I didn't realize you did it for me."

Sean looked at a document on the screen and sighed.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 924

Chapter 924

He always knew Chloe had helped him a lot.

However, it was only now that he realized that Chloe had handled the details he overlooked in places he could not see.

You could say Chloe deserved a lot of credit for Sean's plan going well.

If it were not for Chloe, Sean would not have gotten to where he was today.

While Sean was deep in thought, the director of River City CIA-Damian personally called.

Damian never found out Sean's identity.

All he knew was that even River City's garrison sergeant major-Jason was respectful to Sean.

Therefore, he would stay with Sean until the situation was clear.

What Jason said was what Sean had expected.

Jon brought the head of Jen-Bond Holdings' River City branch to visit many of River City's government officials.

They were paving the way for Jen-Bond Holdings' future development in River City.

It was also a way to build connections and curb Sean's influence.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

"Mr. Lennon, most of us refused the things they gifted us.

"I wonder if you have any instructions?"

Damian asked cautiously into his phone.

After all, they were on their side once they took something from Jen-Bond Holdings.

As the director of the CIA, Damian did not take any sides, so others dared not act recklessly.

"Why didn't you take it?"

"Remember to take it next time."

Sean smiled, a hint of amusement in his voice.

"Mr. Lennon, I'm a little confused about what you mean...."

"We government officials can't accept things randomly. If found out, we'll lose our jobs."

Damian coughed softly and explained in a mutter.

Sean shook his head slightly. You could be aware of many things, but it was unnecessary to explain much.

"Do what I say, and you won't be affected."

Sean pondered for two seconds before telling Damian his plans.

"Mr. Lennon, what are you going to do?"

Damian's eyes widened when he heard Sean's plan.

"I'll fight Jen-Bond Holdings and keep you out of it, okay?"

Sean asked Damian with a laugh.

"Well... Okay, okay, when do you want it?"

L

Damian thought about it for a second and agreed.

If Sean was going against Jen-Bond Holdings, there was bound to be a winner in the end.

They would suffer if they randomly picked a side and picked the wrong one.

If they followed Sean's plan, they would not be affected no matter who won the corporate war.

"Do it first, and I'll tell you when I want it."

Sean said and slowly hung up.

Facing the aggressive Jen-Bond Holdings, Sean finally began to fight back.

However, this step would not take effect immediately.

Sean was keeping it as his ace. He would use it to destroy Jen-Bond Holdings when the time was right!

6 p.m.

Willow came to Sean's room.

"Sean, does Jen-Bond Holdings have anything to do with you? Will it affect you?"

Willow asked, frowning slightly as she reached Sean.

Sean had told her that he was responsible for what happened to Zimmer Corporation.

Did Jon and Jen-Bond Holdings do all that to go after Sean?

“Of course, not.

“It has nothing to do with me. Don’t worry.”

Sean laughed and did not tell Willow much.

Willow glanced at Sean and did not ask any more questions.

“Sean, Grandma said today’s a holiday and has organized a family dinner. Let’s go together.

“They’re going to discuss our return to the Quinn family,”

Willow squeezed Sean’s shoulders, sounding a little happy.

After all, she was a descendant of the Quinn family.

Willow was nice. She would like to get along with the Quinn family if she had a choice.

She was delighted to have the opportunity now.

“Really?”

Sean frowned slightly at that.

Knowing the Quinn family, would they want Willow and Sean to return to the Quinn family now that Joh was gaining an advantage and was going to fight Sean?

Would they want Willow and Sean to return to the Quinn family together?

Sean thought it was a little unrealistic.

Even though Old Madam Quinn was sincere that day, a leopard never changed its spots.

Sean did not believe that Samuel and Simon would change their attitude.

“Sean, I know you don’t like them, so just do me a favor!

“You know my dad has been a little unhappy living here.

“He would be happy if we can make up with the Quinn family.”

Seeing Sean hesitate, Willow quickly shook Sean’s shoulder and spoke coquettishly.

“Why don’t I stay out of this?”

Sean thought for a moment and shook his head after all.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 925

Chapter 925

He had a lot going on at the moment.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

Jen-Bond Holdings had their eyes on them. He had no time to sit down with the Quinn family for dinner.

They were a group of people at odds with each other, so Sean was not interested.

“Grandma said you must attend.

“I heard Grandma’s going to talk about our wedding...”

The more Willow spoke, the softer her voice was until it was muffled.

Sean finally understood why Willow was so happy.

Getting your family’s approval and blessing for your choice of partner was something to be happy about.

“In that case, I’ll go with you.”

Sean smiled and agreed.

He had been with Willow for over two years.

Besides, Willow’s reputation had been greatly affected when she took care of Sean.

The outside world said a lot of things.

Sean was going to clear Willow’s name, of course.

A wedding was naturally essential.

Otherwise, it would not be fair for Willow to follow him around without a title.

8 p.m.

Sean, Willow, Kent, and Fion got in a car and drove to the address Old Lady Quinn gave them.

Leah and Candy did not tag along.

Sean did not suggest Leah follow either.

After all, Leah's situation was a little different than Willow's.

Candy and Leah did not need to return to the Quinn family.

The party of four soon arrived at the hotel where Old Madam Quinn had booked a private room.

Sean could tell Kent was happy.

He was honest and placed great importance on filial piety.

In his opinion, Willow cutting ties with the Quinn family was unfilial.

However, he endured it for his daughter.

He had been suffering all along.

Of course, he was genuinely happy to make up with the Quinn family.

Fion also held her head high. She had never been so confident when facing members of the Quinn family.

Old Madam Quinn and the rest had asked them to return to the Quinn family this time.

Fion was not the one insisting on going back.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

There were four of them. Except for Sean, the other three were all dressed up.

They looked like they were going to some fancy cocktail party.

“Hello, Sir, do you have a reservation?”

The usher at the entrance came up and asked with a smile.

Willow gave the private room number, and two waiters immediately led them to the place Old Madam Quinn booked.

Old Madam Quinn and the rest were already in the private room.

Samuel, Simon, and Faye were there with her.

Seeing Sean and the rest come in, everyone smiled and beckoned them to sit down.

For some reason, Sean thought there was something wrong with their smiles.

It looked deliberate.

“Come. Kent, sit here. Fion, sit here.

“Willow and Faye can sit next to each other. We haven’t gathered in a long time.”

The eldest son of the Quinn family, Samuel, got up to arrange the seats.

At first, Willow had a smile on her face, but it soon faded.

It was because there were no more chairs in the private room after Samuel arranged their seats.

However, Sean was still standing at the side without a place to sit.

What was the meaning of only reserving three seats when four people were invited?

Willow was kind, but that did not mean she was an idiot.

“Grandma, Uncle Sam, what’s the meaning of this?”

Instead of sitting down, Willow frowned and looked at Old Madam Quinn and Samuel.

“Huh? Are there not enough seats?”

“My memory’s terrible. I forgot.

“After all, this is the Quinn family’s family dinner. I thought it would only be the three of you.”

Samuel smacked his forehead as if he had just realized it, but he did not ask the staff for an extra chair.

Sean stood aside and quietly watched the expressions on the Quinn family’s faces.

He sneered to himself.

He knew that the Quinn family would become a fence-sitter and choose the Zimmer family’s side again at such a critical moment!

The Quinn family must have been in touch with Jon by now.

“Grandma, if we’re not welcome, we’ll leave.”

Willow immediately grabbed Sean’s arm. Her tone was firm and not joking.

“Watch your tone.

"Your uncle did slip up. Just ask the waiter to bring in another chair."

Madam Quinn waved her hand and quickly asked the waitress to bring another chair.

Willow said nothing else and pulled Sean to sit down.

Sean wanted to leave, but he hesitated for two seconds and stayed.

He also wanted to see what the Quinn family was up to.

It was unclear whether this family banquet was an engagement dinner or a dinner with treachery. 2

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 926

Chapter 926

Everyone took their seats.

Samuel also beckoned the waiter to serve the food.

The atmosphere in the private room was lively.

At least everyone seemed to be smiling and in a good mood.

Fion and Kent were also chatting with Samuel and the rest in a relaxed manner.

In conclusion, everything seemed harmonious like a family dinner should be.

However, Sean smiled in amusement when he saw this.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

'The Quinn family did get in touch with Jon!'

Sean picked up a cup of tea and thought to himself.

The Quinn family's attitude was unusual.

The Quinn family had gone to Golden Villa Garden last time.

They were shocked to see Jon and his son kneel to Sean and quickly admitted their fault.

They treated Sean with caution and fear.

However, their attitude had now changed again.

They even intentionally or unintentionally ignored Sean.

It was not difficult to figure out that they must have reached some level of cooperation.

Sean sat quietly, waiting to see what the Quinn family had in store for him.

"Grandma, you said... me and Sean's..."

Willow blushed as she reminded Old Madam Quinn in a whisper.

Willow had said Sean might not have the time when Old Madam Quinn invited their family over.

However, Old Madam Quinn insisted Sean come.

She was going to talk to members of the Quinn family about Willow and Sean.

Willow took that as Old Madam Quinn wanting to talk to them about her marriage to Sean.

Willow brought it up when Old Madam Quinn did not mention it.

“You and Sean?”

“Oh, yes. I do have something to talk about you two.”

Old Lady Quinn nodded as if she had just realized it.

Willow blushed more and looked down shyly, expectant.

Fion and Kent were also smiling.

At this point, the couple was no longer opposed to Sean and Willow being together.

It would be wonderful if Old Madam Quinn could ask Sean to tie the knot.

“I’ve been thinking a lot about you two.

“I don’t you’re right for each other after all 1

Old Madam Quinn said slowly as Willow looked in anticipation.

Members of the Quinn family immediately sneered in amusement as they already knew that.

“What?”

Willow froze instantly, and Fion and Kent’s expressions changed slightly.

Things seemed a little different from what they thought!

Only Sean remained calm and did not show any surprise.

“Grandma, what does that mean?”

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

Willow asked, frowning after coming to herself.

She had a feeling that she had been played.

“Let’s leave it aside first.

“Sean, I heard you started a company too?”

Old Madam Quinn took a helping of food and asked as she looked up at Sean.

“Yes.”

Sean nodded.

“Hey, Sean, what’s with that attitude?”

“Grandma asked you a question, and you have to stand up to answer. Don’t you know the rules?”

Simon immediately put down his chopsticks and scowled at Sean.

Sean said nothing but gave Simon a meaningful glance.

The glance made Simon move his mouth, but he dared not speak again.

“Is the company doing okay?”

“I heard some time ago that even the Zimmer family was no match for you.

“Did Mr. Jon Zimmer apologize to you because he was desperate?”

Old Madam Quinn looked at Sean and asked again.

Everyone glanced at Sean when they heard this.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

It was no secret.

After all, Old Madam Quinn and the rest were there when Jon and Quill went down on their knees to apologize to Sean.

“That’s right.”

Sean nodded again.

“I’ve always wondered how you’re going to fight the Zimmer family.

“The Zimmer family has a scary background and is said to have deep ties with the River City army.

“Besides, the Zimmer family’s wealthy and well-connected in River City.

“How are you going to beat them?”

Old Madam Quinn picked up the cup and took a sip. Her attitude was as if she was interrogating Sean.

Everyone looked at Sean again.

Everyone was curious about it.

Even Willow was confused.

She knew Sean had been in the army and had a high rank.

However, now that Sean had retired for two years, he was only a regular person.

How on earth did he bring down the Zimmer family?

“What’s the matter? Can’t you explain?”

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette

Old Madam Quinn frowned slightly when Sean said nothing

Chapter 927

Chapter 927

"It's complicated.

"I can't tell for now."

Sean shot a look at Old Madam Quinn and answered in a whisper.

"Haha, what are you hiding? What's there to hide?"

Faye sneered and took a sip of her wine.

The mouth stained with wine became even more twisted.

"Are we having dinner or not?"

Sean gradually lost his patience and slowly looked at the crowd.

"These are two different matters.

"Sean, since you're embarrassed to say it, I'll do it for you."

Samuel loosened his collar and sat up slowly, his voice serious.

"Grandma, Uncle Sam, what do you mean?"

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

“What are you trying to say?”

Willow frowned, her voice a little displeased.

“Willow, let Uncle Sam finish.”

Old Madam Quinn interrupted Willow with a slight wave of her hand.

“It’s fine. Let him talk.”

Willow wanted to say something, but Sean stopped her

“Uncle Sam, don’t mind him. Go on.”

Simon immediately looked at Samuel and urged.

Judging from the members of the Quinn family’s behavior, they knew what Samuel would say!

They must have talked before Sean and the others got here.

“Sean, someone must have helped you if you grew so fast.

“How else are you going to go against Zimmer Corporation with no money, talent, or background?”

Samuel asked Sean, looking proud.

Sean did not answer. Samuel was right.

He would not have made it this far on his own.

Even when Sean was in the Northwest Army, he rose to such a distinguished position because he had countless brothers helping him.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

Samuel gave Sean a meaningful sneer when he saw that he was silent.

“You have a close relationship with Reach For Will Group!”

Sean frowned slightly when Samuel said this.

Did the Quinn family find out that Reach For Will Group was founded by Sean?

“You did all that because Reach For Will Group helped you.

“The people you know and the money you can afford are all given by Reach For Will Group.

“I wondered how you can come up with so much money. It turns out it’s because you have Reach For Will Group behind you!”

Samuel sneered as he had a penetrating intelligence in his eyes.

Other members of the Quinn family also sneered.

Sean used Reach For Will Group to show off in front of members of the Quinn family.

He did not think he would get caught one day, did he?

“Uncle Sam, even if Sean got here with Reach For Will Group’s help, he still has connections with Reach For Will Group.”

Willow looked at Samuel and defended Sean again.

“What a joke! He’s capable? What is he capable of?

“The day the Quinn family recruited a son-in-law, why did he give out so much money and then take it away?

"I'd like to ask if he give you or Fion the money he took away?"

Samuel instantly asked as he turned to look at Willow.

Fion frowned slightly.

She was trying to keep the money for Willow.

However, Willow refused no matter what, so Fion could only give up.

Willow did not say what happened to the money either.

"If I'm right, Sean took the money again, didn't he?"

"It was his dowry, but he took it back. What a joke."

Samuel laughed, his mouth full of disdain.

"Sean gave it to me, so it's mine now."

Willow gritted her teeth as she said with a frown.

"Really? Why don't you take it out and show us?"

Samuel immediately asked, unfazed.

Willow was speechless.

"Willow, I don't know how to criticize you anymore.

"Don't you know what's up after he pranked you?"

"We're family. What does he have to do with you?"

"You don't even know who he is. He doesn't even know if he has parents or where he's from, yet you gave up your whole family for him?"

"Including the money. It's your dowry, but he took it back. Why?"

"Because it wasn't his money in the first place. Reach For Will Group let him use it temporarily!"

The more Samuel spoke, the more he sneered as though he had seen it all.

"Taking other people's money and showing off in front of the Quinn Family.

"How dare you, Sean!"

Simon smacked the table and said with a sneer.

"Money is just a string of numbers.

"I can put 50 million dollars in front of you any time."

Sean leaned back slowly in his chair with calm eyes.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 928

Chapter 928

He was unfazed about the Quinn family's aggressiveness.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette
Chapter

He treated it as if watching a joke.

“Haha, let Reach For Will Group lend you money and put it in front of us so you can show off.”

Simon quickly took over the conversation, his eyes full of scorn.

Samuel shook his head too.

Sean shook his head slightly too.

It was indeed pointless.

He did not have to prove anything to the Quinn family.

With that in mind, Sean put down his teacup and prepared to leave.

“Even if everything you say is true, at least Reach For Will Group is willing to lend Sean 50 million dollars.

“At least he’s capable of that!”

Willow had wanted Sean to get recognition from the Quinn family.

Therefore, she always went out of her way to speak up for Sean.

Watching Willow work so hard, Sean felt bad and could only sit down again.

Willow had worked so hard to prove to the Quinn family that she had a good eye and was not wrong about Sean.

How embarrassed and upset would she be if Sean walked away?

Sean had always gone with the flow, but he could not ignore Willow's feelings.

Therefore, Sean chose to stay after a few seconds of hesitation.

"Willow, how long are you going to let him lie to you?"

"Capable? Think of it. Sean had no identity, no background, and no money.

"Why should Reach For Will Group help him? Who is he to talk to Reach For Will Group?"

Samuel said, and the crowd nodded.

Fion and Kent also looked at Sean.

No wonder Sean developed so fast and had everything going his way during this time.

It turned out that all this was due to Reach For Will Group.

Then why did a huge corporation like Reach For Will Group insist on helping Sean?

Willow could not argue this time.

She did know that Sean had been a high-ranking soldier.

However, that was in the past. Sean was only an ordinary person now.

Then, what did Reach For Will Group value about him and help him?

"Let me tell you!"

"Sean provided information about the Quinn family's company to Reach For Will Group.

“He also secretly told Reach For Will Group many of our partners’ information.

“It’s why we were vulnerable when Reach For Will Group went after us some time ago.

“Sean sold out the Quinn family to get help from Reach For Will Group!”

Samuel banged on the table and yelled as he pointed at Sean.

The others also looked at Sean coldly with Samuel.

It was as if it had been confirmed.

“What?”

Willow did not react for a second.

She would not believe Sean would do that.

“Uncle Sam, that’s nonsense!

“Sean has just recovered, and he has never had any contact with any of Quinn Corporation’s companies.”

Willow immediately stood up and said firmly.

“How do you know he just recovered?

“What if he recovered long ago but is only pretending to be a veg?

“You wouldn’t shy away from such a veg when talking about the company, would you?”

When Samuel spoke, the crowd nodded and agreed.

It was the only explanation that made sense.

Otherwise, Reach For Will Group had no reason to help a nobody like Sean.

“Willow, stop fooling yourself.

“Reach For Will Group helped Sean and gave him everything he has.

“Sean betrayed the Quinn family to get it.

“It’s the truth, and you gotta accept it no matter what!”

Samuel spoke righteously and declared to the crowd.

“That’s right! Sean is only Reach For Will Group’s tool.

“The house you live in and the car you bought are from Reach For Will Group.

“Sean betrayed the Quinn family for all this. In other words, everything you own belongs to the Quinn family!”

Simon took the conversation with a sneer.

People began to target Sean.

Now that the whole thing was almost settled, everyone thought Sean was an ingrate.

Even Old Madam Quinn thought so.

Kent and Willow wanted to defend Sean.

However, they had nothing to say when facing the crowd.

“No, it’s not like that...”

Willow had no evidence to prove Sean's innocence, but she still refused to accept it.

"And where did he get all his money?"

"How did he know all those big shots?"

"Don't tell me he earned it in the army. I don't believe being a soldier for a few years can make him rich enough to afford a villa and fancy cars!"

"If so, why work? Why don't we all join the army?"

Samuel asked again, pointing at Sean.

"The others can't, but he can because he's..."

Willow gritted her teeth, about to blurt out secrets.

However, Sean made Willow sit down.

The Quinn family had been talking with Jon.

If Jon ever had an idea who Sean really was, he would have someone look into it.

Then he would soon find out all about Sean in no time.

After all, Jon now had a Janestown holding company behind him, and it was not hard to get access to the big guns.

Then Sean's whereabouts would be exposed soon.

He could not handle a Janestown holding company right now. He could not handle it if Blaze's men came over.

"Sean, is there anything you want to say?"

"You'd better come up with an explanation we can believe.

"You don't have to make up nonsense that will embarrass yourself."

Samuel leaned forward slightly with his hands on the table as his eyes filled with condescension.

Clap!

Clap!

Sean gently clapped twice.

He looked relaxed, without any tension or panic members of the Quinn family imagined.

He had the same calm demeanor.

Samuel and others were stunned before sneering afterward.

They all thought Sean was trying to play it cool.

"Is this family dinner only a criticism meeting targeted at me?"

“Thank you for putting on a good show.”

Sean slowly lowered his palm as he smiled mockingly.

“What do you mean?”

Samuel asked coldly as he folded his arms in front of him.

“I admit that Reach For Will Group helped me.

“But I disagree when you say I betrayed the Quinn family in exchange for help from Reach For Will Group.”

Sean said as he picked up the teapot and poured himself a cup of tea.

His nonchalance made many people frown slightly.

“Tell me why Reach For Will Group should help a nobody like you.”

Samuel asked Sean as he pointed his chin at him.

“That’s simple.

“Reach For Will Group is mine.”

Sean picked up the tea cup and then raised it to his mouth after he finished speaking.

As soon as he said that, the private room went silent instantly.

Everyone including Old Madam Quinn froze and sat up straight.

“What did you say?”

Chapter

Samuel asked with a frown as if he had not heard him.

“Reach For Will Group helped me because it’s mine

“Why is Harry only the general manager when he’s Reach For Will Group’s representative?

“It’s because I’m the chairman behind Reach For Will Group.”

Sean slowly put down his teacup, glancing across everyone’s faces.

“Are you satisfied with this explanation?”

No one spoke.

Everyone widened their eyes and looked at each other.

Even Willow never knew Reach For Will Group belonged to Sean.

Reach For Will Group was a giant holding at least billions of dollars!

At least since the establishment of Reach For Will Group in River City, it had overbearingly swept River City’s business circle and firmly seated itself as a giant.

Jen-Bond Holdings had now opened a branch in River City.

However, even if Jen-Bond Holdings developed in River City, they would have a hard time suppressing Reach For Will Group.

At the end of the day, it might become a two-horse race.

However, Sean said he founded such a powerful conglomerate and is the man behind Reach For Will Group.

Was that a joke?

“No way! What are you bragging about? Even TV wouldn’t resort to such a plot.”

Simon was the first to retort, his voice full of disdain.

“I don’t even believe a word you say.”

Faye also answered, not believing Sean’s statement either.

“Sean, you gotta take responsibility for your words!”

Old Madam Quinn looked at Sean with disbelief in her eyes.

“Sean, do you think bragging isn’t illegal?”

“Reach For Will Group shouldn’t have helped you for no reason.

“And now you’re saying you founded Reach For Will Group?”

“Tell me, what did you use to create Reach For Will Group?”

“Do you have any money? Who do you know? Even if you know Homer and Hayden, can they help you. create Reach For Will Group?”

“What a joke!”

Samuel made no secret of his disdain for Sean.

Sean’s words did not have any credibility.

The Quinn family knew what happened two years ago when Sean was sent to the Quinn family.

He was alone in a wheelchair with a shoddy box and a sword.

Inside the box were a change of clothes and a few trinkets.

There was a bank card.

However, they could not use it when they took it to the bank.

You could say that the most valuable thing Sean owned was probably his sword, which could be sold to a scrap collector for a couple of dollars.

How was he able to create Reach For Will Group with these?

Even Willow could not believe Sean was that capable.

After all, the giant Reach For Will Group was terrifying!

“Are you done?”

Sean asked, slowly looking up at the crowd.

“Why can’t you just come clean? So what?”

Faye curled his lip and sneered again.

“I’m done speaking. I’ll have Harry talk to you.”

Sean shook his head slightly, pulled out his phone, and found Harry’s number.

Chapter 930

Sean did not have to prove anything to the Quinn family.

It was not in his character to explain anything to others.

However, he had no choice but to change his principles again and again for Willow's sake.

"Sean..."

Willow reached up and pulled Sean's sleeve.

She knew Sean owned Lennon Group, but a corporate like Reach For Will Group was no joke.

She was afraid Sean was going to humiliate himself!

"Hahaha, Sean, go on. Go on pretending!"

"I'll see how long you can go on pretending!"

Simon came to himself and immediately hit the table with his glass and said with a sneer.

"You'll find out when he arrives."

Sean frowned slightly as he looked at Simon.

"When he arrives? Who? Mr. Clarke of Reach For Will Group?"

"Did you get Mr. Clarke to come and put on a show with you?"

Faye took over the topic, disdain in her tone.

“Hahaha! You’re right.

“I can play along with you too. I can tell people you’re the head of the Quinn family.

“Would it be true then?”

Simon and the crowd roared with laughter.

Sean grew increasingly impatient when he heard that.

As Simon and the others said, it seemed pointless even if Sean did call Harry over.

Even if Harry came and called Sean “Chairman” in front of everyone, they would probably think Harry was acting with Sean.

With that in mind, Sean was in between laughter and tears.

He even felt like he was wasting his time.

He was casting pearls before swine.

How could the Quinn family believe Sean’s explanation when everyone already decided he’s a liar?

Besides, Jon was back in the game after getting on Jen-Bond Holdings’ good side.

The Quinn family would believe Jon.

“Well, I don’t need to prove it to you.

“You don’t deserve an explanation either.”

Sean got up slowly, a sneer appearing on his face.

All the patience in his heart had been worn out.

“Sean, watch your tongue. Uncle Sam is your elder!”

One of the Quinn family’s third-generation descendants pointed to Sean and yelled.

“I’m not targeting him alone.

“None of you deserves me proving anything.”

Everyone got mad as soon as Sean spoke.

However, there was nothing they could do about Sean.

“Gosh. Who’s being so disrespectful to Old Madam Quinn?”

Just then, a sarcastic voice came suddenly.

The private room door opened, and Jon stepped in with Quill. The father and son were followed by four bodyguards in black.

The four burly men in black were large and expressionless.

Judging by the way they walked, they should be ex-soldiers.

After Jon got in touch with Jen-Bond Holdings, even the security guards behind them improved. “Old Madam Quinn, I was having dinner here with Jen-Bond Holdings’ River City representative.

“I heard the Quinn family is having dinner here, so I stopped by.”

Jon walked in and nodded to Madam Quinn without even glancing at Sean.

“Okay! Mr. Zimmer, please have a seat.”

Chapter

Old Madam Quinn smiled and greeted.

Sean saw all this, and it made him laugh.

It was obvious that the Quinn family and Jon had teamed up to make Sean look bad in today's so-called family dinner.

They even looked so serious right now.

"Oh, I was wondering who's so arrogant. It turns out it's Sean!"

Jon slowly turned his head and showed a look of surprise on his face when he saw Sean.

"He's really everywhere."

Quill folded his arms in front of him with a disdainful look.

Judging from the way they looked, they had forgotten when they got on their knees to apologize to Sean.

Willow was not a fool. She gradually realized what was happening when she saw this.

Old Madam Quinn and Jon had teamed up to put on a show!

Saying she was going to talk about Sean and Willow's engagement was just a deliberate attempt to get Sean here and humiliate him.

Sean only looked calmly at Jon and his son.

He wondered if the Quinn family were to ones to contact Jon at first.

Now, he was pretty sure.

Sean was no stranger to the Quinn family's fence-sitting behavior.

If it was what the Quinn family wanted, they could have it their way.

Accepting the Quinn family's apology was the last chance Sean gave them.

There would never be another opportunity like this.

"The Quinn family has no principles and no scruples. They don't deserve to be an affluent family or the family of a famous general.

"They keep switching sides, which opens my eyes."

Sean adjusted his clothes. He had no interest in staying here.
