

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1121 - 1130

Chapter 1121

"Willow, what do you think?"

Sean slowly turned his head and gave Willow a look.

Willow froze momentarily and was about to agree automatically.

After all, they were at an advantage by getting compensation ten times the worth!

However, seeing the look in Sean's eyes, Willow thought he did not want her to say yes.

"Well..."

Willow pretended to hesitate for half a second.

"Is that all the store's damage?"

Sean paused and hinted gently.

"There's more than that."

Willow instantly recomposed herself and shook her head.

"We only calculated the loss of the store furnishing and products.

"But we can't ignore other losses.

"Let alone the customers Kyle had scared away today.

“Even the renovation period will affect our business. That’s a loss too.

“The number of products in our store are under strict quantity control with their respective brand, making the loss more difficult to measure.”

Not an idiot, Willow immediately came to herself and explained logically.

Sean was calm but smug.

Willow knew what was on his mind without speaking it out loud.

Jenson’s expression changed, and his forehead sweated when he heard this.

He comprehended what Willow meant when she said the compensation was too little!

However, Jenson could not find any fault with it. He could only grit his teeth and keep silent.

“Why... why didn’t they say anything beforehand?”

Kyle was furious.

It seemed to him that Sean was seizing the opportunity to blackmail Star Group.

Five million dollars was more than enough to compensate for the store and sales losses.

However, was it not ablatant attempt to rip Jenson off by mentioning other losses after he had agreed to pay five million dollars?

“Young Master Willer, you don’t know what Mr. Lennon is capable of...”

The other middle-aged men shook their heads and sighed.

They seemed to have foreseen Star Group's doom.

Jenson had been trying to keep a backup plan in River City.

1/3

After all, they were a powerful local corporation. Coupled with some of their previous connections, there was nothing wrong with self-defense.

At least they did not have to join Lennon Group and become a part of Lennon Group as other companies had done.

However, Jenson could never have imagined the chance of survival that he had done everything he could to give himself was crushed by his son.

Jenson could not even blame Sean.

He was avoiding Sean, and Sean had not even looked for him.

Now, they encountered each other. Jenson had to face Sean because Kyle made a mistake.

Therefore, he could only accept his downfall even if he knew Sean was extorting him.

"Mr. Lennon, I need to go back and have a meeting about this first."

Jenson wiped his forehead and looked at Sean as he spoke with respect.

"Sure, I'm in no hurry.

"But the five million dollars..."

Sean nodded gently and said calmly.

“Yes! Ill get finance to wire the money to Lennon Group as soon as I get back.”

Jenson dared not say otherwise and nodded rapidly.

“Okay.”

Sean nodded before turning around to head for the back.

How could Sean not know that Jenson was avoiding him?

He tried to avoid Sean, but Sean did not even want to have any contact with him.

“Mr. Lennon, we’ll be going now.”

Jenson bid goodbye again and hurried off with Kyle.

The surrounding onlookers scattered.

Soon, only Sean and the other 30 young men were at the store.

Jojo standing nearby, looked this way with mixed feelings.

Willow saw Jojo but quickly withdrew her gaze.

Willow was no longer the naive and cowardly person that she once was.

She would eventually choose to forgive no matter how much people harmed her.

However, now influenced by Sean, she would never do anything stupid like that again.

Some people did not deserve forgiveness at all.

It was just like Jojo’s actions.

“Willow...”

Seeing Willow ignoring her, Jojo walked over to Willow and called out.

“You can go home first if there’s nothing else.

2/3

“I have to tidy up the shop.”

Willow only turned around without giving Jojo a chance to speak.

Jojo clenched her hand slightly, bit her lip, and could only turn away.

She knew she would never be able to bully Willow like she had done before.

Not only Willow had someone protecting her, but she was also protected by a big shot.

She was not someone Jojo could mess with!

She did not want to accept it, but she had no choice.

“Mr. Lennon, we... we had no idea it was your property...”

The leader of the group of young men was still frightened.

Sean had settled things with Kyle. Was it their turn next?

Sean was about to speak when his phone in his pocket rang suddenly.

He picked it up to see it was Flint calling.

“Mr. Lennon, I... I...”

He answered, and Flint’s voice spoke, but he could not utter a complete sentence.

His subordinates had offended Sean twice.

Sean had told him he would break his leg if it happened again.

He had just got word that some of his lackeys offended Sean again.

Flint thought the sky was falling!

He would like to say he had nothing to do with these people, but River City was not that big, and he was the ruler of its underworld.

Anyone would find out he was involved by looking it up!

"It's alright. They ended up helping me instead this time."

Instead of losing his temper, Sean spoke calmly.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1122

Chapter 1122

"Huh?"

Flint froze instantly.

He had no idea what Sean was talking about.

Smashing his store was helping him?

Did Sean want to destroy the store anyway?

Flint did not understand but dared not ask Sean what he meant.

Sean did not give him much of an explanation.

“That’s all for now.

“I’ll contact you again if I need anything.”

Sean slowly hung up after he finished.

How could Flint understand his plans and ideas?

Flint breathed a sigh of relief and wiped the sweat from his brow, slightly relieved.

“Mr. Lennon, look...”

“We had no idea this is your store...”

The young men looked at Sean with fear.

Neither of them dared to move until Sean told them to go.

“Can you smash it all you want if it’s not mine?”

“Is the law nothing to you?”

Sean asked calmly, glancing at the leader.

The group of young men blushed instantly and were unable to utter a word when he said that.

“Flint wouldn’t even do such a thing.

“You’ve got a lot of nerve.”

Sean glanced at the crowd again, his tone icy.

He used to be a nine–star commander in the army, guarding world peace and keeping Dragon Kingdom safe.

Therefore, he had a strong dislike for such things.

“Mr. Lennon, we’ll never do it again. Never again...”

The men lowered their heads and repeatedly apologized again.

“Leave.”

Sean waved his hand and headed for the store.

Star Group would pay for the damages anyway.

Sean would not give these guys a hard time.

“Yes, yes...”

The men quickly turned and left in their cars as if given a pardon.

Their hearts were filled with joy.

“It’s a good thing I f*cking confessed in time.

“It’s a good thing we’re related to Boss Flint too.

“Or we’ll all be doomed today!”

Once everyone returned to their cars, they still could not help feeling a twinge of fear.

"I've f*cking told you so many times to ask who we're dealing with before we take action. Are you idiots?"

The more the leader thought, the angrier he became. He grabbed a young man by the collar and yelled.

"Boss, I asked!

"That fool Kyle said he was only a little punk who owned a small store...

"I didn't expect him to be Mr. Lennon..."

The young man felt wronged. If he knew it was Sean, he would never have accepted it, no matter how much Kyle paid him!

Shut up!

"Confirm their identity first before any job."

'We don't accept whacking anyone whose last name is Lennon.

"Money's a good thing, but you must be alive to spend it after earning it."

The leader wiped his forehead, still shaken.

"Yes, yes..."

The men nodded.

Ordinary people might not know how ruthless members of the underworld could be.

They knew perfectly well, of course.

Flint could kill anyone with only one word.

Sean was countless times tougher than Flint. He was not someone that they could not mess with.

Melody Cosmetics' flagship store.

The store manager, store assistants, and Willow were somewhat upset at seeing the mess.

After all, they had put a lot of effort into it.

However, the thought of receiving five million dollars in compensation eased the discomfort.

"What's the matter? We've got five million dollars for a store.

"Do

you not want such a good deal?"

Sean asked casually, glancing at the crowd.

"Haha..."

Willow and the rest could not help laughing when they heard Sean's words.

If they did the math, the total loss of the store would not be more than a million dollars.

Even if it cost more than one million dollars, Star Group were compensating them five million dollars.

They were making a net profit of four million dollars.

What business could make money this fast?

"Mr. Lennon, will they pay us?"

The store manager and Lisa were still a little worried.

“He wouldn’t dare run away.”

Sean’s voice was full of confidence.

Forget about elsewhere, but no one in River City dared owe Sean money.

Those who did probably had a death wish.

Willow and the rest were relieved to see Sean so confident. 2

After all, there was a great deal of security in having such a powerful boss.

Everyone knew how great it was to have the protection of a powerful person.

The store assistants tried to clean the store, but Sean stopped them.

“Leave the cleaning up and renovation to professionals.

“Jenson’s compensation includes your salary.

“So you’re on paid leave during this time.”

The shop assistants nodded in excitement after Sean finished speaking.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1123

Chapter 1123

It was everyone’s dream to get paid while staying home!

After giving the instructions, Sean left with Willow.

On the way back, Willow sat in the front passenger seat and peeked at Sean every now and then.

After one glance, she would hurriedly withdraw her eyes, snickering quietly.

“What are you laughing at?”

Sean glanced at Willow and thought Willow was not more adorable at the moment.

“I’m thinking... if all this is part of your plan?”

Willow could not help but feel like Sean had planned everything today.

However, she then realized Sean had no idea he would run into Kyle.

Sean shook his head slightly. He also found it funny when he thought of it.

He had no idea he was going to run into Kyle.

However, Sean confirmed Kyle’s identity after learning his name.

Therefore, Sean did plan what happened afterward.

“Is it true? I’m curious...”

“It’s like you can predict the future.”

Willow asked after turning to look at Sean.

“Ahem, not really.

“I didn’t expect to run into Jenson’s son.

“But I did plan the rest.”

Sean told Willow truthfully as he drove.

“Did you really plan it all?”

Willow was even more surprised when she got Sean’s confirmation.

“Sort of.”

Sean pondered for two seconds and nodded gently.

“So you hit and provoked Kyle on purpose?”

“Did you let him call the men over on purpose too?”

“Is it only to meet Jenson and negotiate with him?”

Willow’s eyes widened as she asked a series of questions.

“Yes, that’s right.”

Sean nodded gently and admitted it.

“Hsss!”

Willow could not help gasping.

She found it hard to believe how thoughtful Sean was.

He was also so sharp-witted.

Sean fooled Kyle, and Kyle did not even realize it.

“I want to see what’s inside your head. How can you be so clever...”

Willow was impressed by Sean's intelligence.

"That's not necessary.

"It's all filled with you."

Sean smiled and answered casually.

However, it made Willow blush slightly. She was touched and happy.

"Your goal is to meet Jenson.

"What... What if Kyle didn't call his dad?"

Willow thought about it for a second and asked again.

"I have a million ways to get him to get Jenson.

"So he would call him."

Sean smiled confidently as he always was.

"But I don't think you met Jenson only to get five million dollars in compensation..."

Willow nodded before speaking again.

"Of course not."

Sean nodded, agreeing with Willow.

Lennon Group now controlled more than half of the companies in River City's business circle.

Some small companies did slip through the cracks. Sean just did not intend to take them.

However, another force concerned Sean.

They were a group of people led by Star Group's Jenson. 1

Jenson's Star Group was consistently in the top five in River City's business circle.

They were not only wealthy but also had extensive connections. Even many of their properties were linked to the government.

Jenson and nearly five of the top ten companies in River City's business circle had recently joined forces.

They were also involved in Jon's fundraising.

However, that disaster did not impact them much as they were financially strong.

Besides, Sean had already returned the money to them.

Even if Sean held off for a while longer, the companies would still be able to survive.

After all, any company that made it into the top ten was not weak.

The five companies had gotten tight lately and did not approach Lennon Group for any cooperation.

Sean knew what they were up to.

They would rather be the head of a dog than the tail of a lion. They refused to work for Sean.

With everything Sean had now, he did not have to pay much attention to them.

However, he could not let others trample over him casually.

The combined power of Star Group and the other companies was quite considerable.

They were no match for Sean but still posed a potential problem.

If anything changed, they were unpredictable variables, and it was unsure whether they were friends or foes.

Therefore, Sean wondered what to do with Star Group and other companies.

He just could not figure out the right way.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1124

Chapter 1124

After all, Star Group and the other companies were not small.

They were big corporations that were well known throughout River City, and they had deep ties to various departments of the government.

Just a few months ago, Star Group's Jenson personally donated 30 vehicles to the government.

Therefore, it would be impossible to attack them directly.

Sean did not expect Jenson to come to him when he had no idea what to do.

Sean would be a fool if he did not take this chance.

Jenson had two options.

One, join Lennon Group like all the other companies and work for Sean.

Two, Sean would use his connections to sue Kyle for multiple offenses.

It was up to Jenson to decide what to do.

Sean also gave Willow a general overview of his plan.

Willow was dumbfounded.

To think that Sean was so delirious that he could not utter a complete sentence while in his wheelchair.

Who would have thought that Sean would have such a brilliant mind and IQ?

Willow was humbled.

Star Group's chairman office.

Slap!

Slap!

Slap!

There was a constant sound of slapping in the office.

Jenson grabbed Kyle by the collar with one hand and slapped Kyle with the other.

Jenson had been sullen and silent all the way back.

After returning to the company, he could no longer suppress his anger and slapped Kyle a dozen times.

The already bruised-faced Kyle had blood gushing from his nose as his face swelled more.

Several middle-aged men stood in the office without saying a word.

They were shareholders of Star Group and senior executives of the company.

They owned Star Group too.

Instead of stopping Jenson from slapping Kyle, they thought he did not hit him hard enough.

Because that useless Kyle brought doom upon Star Group!

“You worthless piece of sh*t!

1/2

“Why are you quiet?

“Did I spoil you until you don’t even think with your head before doing something?”

Jenson slapped Kyle again, hitting him straight into the wall.

Kyle felt aggrieved.

Jenson had spoiled Kyle all along.

He had only one son and would give him the world. Jenson would also take care of any trouble Kyle got into.

However, Kyle had no idea Jenson would hit him for Sean.

“I’m telling you. I can fix some things for you.

“But how can I f*cking solve the others?”

The more Jenson thought about it, the angrier he got and slapped Kyle twice.

He deliberately slapped Kyle in front of several shareholders.

He could imagine how furious the shareholders were.

They thought they could stand up to Sean as an equal in River City's business circle. They would not offend Lennon Group and would not be at their mercy.

With several large corporations joining forces, Lennon Group and Reach For Will Group could not pick on them without reason anyway.

Now, Kyle destroyed the peaceful situation.

Star Group provoked Lennon Group first, so Sean would not let them off easily.

"Sean's looking for an opportunity, and you f*cking gave him what he wanted!

"Are you an idiot? How could I have raised an idiot like you?"

Jenson pointed at Kyle. The aggrievance of having humbled himself in front of Sean earlier was unleashed.

"It's just Sean. I don't know what you're afraid of!"

Kyle gnashed his teeth and spat out a mouthful of blood, still in denial.

He was even considering hiring another group of people to go after Sean.

"What we're afraid of?"

"Do you know the Zimmer family? The Zimmer family has been brought down!

"Do you know who brought them down? It was him!"

Jenson pointed to Kyle as he brought it up.

“What?”

Kyle instantly froze at this.

He knew the Zimmer family of River City.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1125

Chapter 1125

It was said they were backed by a big shot in the River City army and had a pretty strong background.

Many people in River City were also willing to give face to Jon.

Who knew Sean had brought down the Zimmer family?

“How? How did he bring them down?”

Kyle's eyes widened, finding it a little unrealistic.

“How did he bring them down?”

“Weren't you on good terms with Quill? But you'll never see him again.”

Jenson went to the desk and sat down, looking at Kyle and saying indifferently.

“What do you mean?”

Kyle was dumbfounded for a moment.

“He’s dead!

“Not only is he dead, but also Jon!

“Guess who did it.

“Do you want our family to end up like the Zimmer family?

“Do you want us both to die?”

Jenson suddenly slammed the table and yelled at Kyle.

Swoosh!

Kyle’s face went ghastly pale.

He knew Jenson would never joke with him about such a thing.

In other words, Sean had brought down the Zimmer family.

Besides that, Jon and Quill were both killed.

There was no doubt that Sean was behind that.

However, Sean got away with it, which was the scariest part.

“Hsss!

Kyle finally learned how terrifying Sean was.

Because of how wealthy and well-connected Sean was, he would have no limits.

Sean not only had money and connections but also killed someone and got away with it.

How terrifying could he be?

Kyle took a deep breath, shocked.

"I... I'm sorry..."

Kyle lowered his head slightly, his voice trembling.

Jenson sighed. "What good is apologizing now?"

1/2

They knew Sean was trying to extort money from them through this incident.

However, they could only accept it.

After all, they were in the wrong.

"Call Mr. Langston and the others.

"Let's have a meeting."

Jenson looked up at a shareholder and said in a whisper.

He had no choice but to confront the current situation.

Golden Villa Garden.

Sean saw some cars parked out front as soon as he drove over.

They blocked the entrance.

"Who's here?"

Sean raised his eyebrows slightly.

Golden Villa Garden's twin villa had two owners, Willow and Leah.

It was no exaggeration to say that they owned the villa garden.

There were no other residents but them.

Therefore, Sean was somewhat surprised to see someone here.

His first thought was—'Did Jenson come here to apologize?'

However, on second thought, Jenson was too smart to do something so abrupt.

Soon Sean's car arrived.

Two security guards recognized Sean's car and greeted him respectfully.

"What's going on?"

Sean asked, looking ahead with a slight frown.

"Mr. Lennon, they said they're members of the Quinn family and are here for you.

"You gave orders before, so I didn't let them in.

"But they wouldn't leave."

A security guard said politely.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1126

Chapter 1126

Sean looked ahead again after hearing that.

Members of the Quinn family at the front had noticed Sean's car and were heading for it.

Instead of rushing out of the car, Sean turned to look at Willow.

Willow also turned around to meet Sean's eyes.

She quickly understood what Sean meant.

A few seconds later, Willow looked at Sean and spoke earnestly.

"Sean, it's up to you.

"You don't have to worry about what I think."

She knew that sometimes Sean considered her feelings when making decisions, especially when dealing with the Quinn family.

After all. Willow was a member of the Quinn family.

Therefore, Sean struggled with whether to destroy the Quinn family or not.

Willow realized that too.

"I don't want to be a burden and a hindrance to your plans.

"I will be upset if that's the case."

When Willow spoke earnestly again when Sean was silent.

"Aren't you afraid I'll screw things up?"

Sean asked with a sigh after seeing Willow's trusting eyes.

"I'm not afraid.

"I believe that all you do is for us to be together.

"So I support all your decisions!"

Willow shook her head before speaking earnestly.

Sean felt his heart melting after hearing Willow's words.

Anyone would be touched to have their woman standing firmly on their side no matter what happened, right?

"Yes, I'll handle it well."

Sean reached out and touched Willow's hand before looking ahead.

"Willow, I called you. Why didn't you answer?"

Fion asked Willow with a frown as she walked over.

Behind Fion, Old Madam Quinn, Simon, and the rest were also there.

"I was busy."

Willow only answered casually.

Willow was a little resentful.

1/3

They knew Sean was trying to extort money from them through this incident.

However, they could only accept it.

After all, they were in the wrong.

“Call Mr. Langston and the others.

“Let’s have a meeting.”

Jenson looked up at a shareholder and said in a whisper.

He had no choice but to confront the current situation.

Golden Villa Garden.

Sean saw some cars parked out front as soon as he drove over.

They blocked the entrance.

“Who’s here?”

Sean raised his eyebrows slightly.

Golden Villa Garden’s twin villa had two owners, Willow and Leah.

It was no exaggeration to say that they owned the villa garden.

There were no other residents but them.

Therefore, Sean was somewhat surprised to see someone here.

His first thought was—Did Jenson come here to apologize?”

However, on second thought, Jenson was too smart to do something so abrupt.

Soon Sean’s car arrived.

Two security guards recognized Sean's car and greeted him respectfully.

"What's going on?"

Sean asked, looking ahead with a slight frown.

"Mr. Lennon, they said they're members of the Quinn family and are here for you.

"You gave orders before, so I didn't let them in.

"But they wouldn't leave."

A security guard said politely.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1127

Chapter 1127

Living room.

Sean sat on the biggest sofa.

Members of the Quinn family said nothing about this.

There was a time when Sean was respectful to them, especially Old Madam Quinn.

Even when taking a seat, he would let Old Madam Quinn sit down first.

However, they had forfeited that treatment away themselves, and Sean would not indulge them.

“Sean, at least show some respect to Old Madam.”

Fion, who thought she was Sean’s mother-in-law, lectured Sean. 1

“Do something that makes me respect you then.”

Sean retorted with a smile.

Everyone blushed at that.

Having made a fool of herself, Fion sat aside.

Willow poured tea for everyone and sat next to Sean.

“Sean, I told you.

“The Quinn family is well known in River City.

“Our marriage of our family members is no trifling matter.

“So we need to talk about you and Willow.”

Old Madam Quinn picked up her coffee cup and took a sip before gently putting it down.

1

She still sounded condescending up to this point.

Sean only nodded.

Willow made her point by sitting next to Sean without saying a word.

“I can tell that you and Willow like each other.

“So I don’t want to stop you anymore.

“But we must have a formal ceremony.”

Willow’s heartbeat raced after Old Madam Quinn finished.

She was even willing to give up the Quinn family for Sean.

However, she was still a descendant of the Quinn family. Their blood ran in her.

She would be even happier if she got Old Madam Quinn’s blessing.

“Of course

“I will give Willow a big wedding and let her marry me properly.”

Sean looked at Old Madam Quinn, sounding serious.

He would do it whether the Quinn family asked him to, and he should.

“Okay, it’s settled then.

“After you and Willow become a family, you’ll be part of the Quinn family.”

Old Madam Quinn nodded and smiled.

Fion, Simon, and the rest also smiled as if congratulating them.

Willow held Sean’s hand tightly, unable to hide her joy.

The whole living room was harmonious.

They looked like a happy family.

However, Sean was the only one not smiling.

He did not think the Quinn family would be so devoted and supportive of Willow.

Therefore, they must have up to something else.

It was just like what Sean expected.

After Old Madam Quinn finished, she pondered for a moment before looking back at Sean.

“Sean, I hear Reach For Will Group holds you in high regard.

“The Lennon Group you own is on a roll too.

“How about cooperating with the Quinn family? Wouldn't it be a win-win situation?”

Smiling, Old Madam Quinn finally addressed what she wanted to talk about today.

The others nodded too.

In their minds, the Quinn family's development was the top priority.

Willow's marriage was only an excuse.

Sean glanced at the Quinn family.

I've informed Samuel that Reach For Will Group belongs to me.

'Samuel must have told members of the Quinn family about this.

'But Old Madam Quinn said Reach For Will Group held me in high regard.

'It belongs to me. So why did she say that?’

Sean was unsure if Old Madam Quinn was testing him or if she was up to something else.

However, he did not want to explain too much.

"I said this before.

"We can cooperate but on two conditions.

"You should know them by now, Old Madam."

Sean picked up his coffee cup and took a sip.

Old Madam Quinn, Simon, and the rest frowned slightly.

They knew Sean's two conditions, of course.

The first condition was submitting 80% shares of Quinn Corporation to him.

The second was to have the Quinn family members solemnly apologize to Willow for the unfair treatment

2/3

Willow had received in the past two years.

However, how could the Quinn family accept these two conditions?

Apologizing to Willow was acceptable, but the first condition took over 80% of Quinn Corporation.

They refused that.

Old Madam Quinn started by talking about Willow and Sean's marriage to lighten the mood.

However, Sean still brought up those two conditions, so was what they did before just a waste of effort?

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1128

Chapter 1128

"Sean, you know there's no way I'll agree to those two conditions."

Old Madam Quinn said, looking at Sean with a slight frown.

"Forget about cooperation if you won't accept them."

Sean did not give in, leaving no room for negotiation.

Willow, who was beside him, hesitated.

She had never expected anything from the Quinn family.

She was uninterested in becoming the head of the Quinn family either.

All she wanted was the Quinn family's blessing and Old Madam Quinn's approval of her relationship with Sean.

Old Madam Quinn and the rest had expressed their support of her relationship with Sean.

Willow was satisfied that she did not want to ask for anything else.

However, she glanced at Sean and eventually chose to believe him without saying anything more.

"Sean, we'll be a family if you and Willow get married.

“Quinn Corporation is yours, so why take it so seriously?”

Old Madam Quinn said as she frowned even more.

“I always keep my word.

“80% of the shares, nothing less.”

Sean slowly looked up at Old Madam Quinn.

“You!”

Old Madam Quinn gritted her teeth slightly.

Simon and the rest were upset.

“Sean, that’s enough.

“Grandma is already talking to you so nicely. Are you still not satisfied?”

Simon looked at Sean and said with a frown.

“Attitude?”

“What attitude? The attitude that she approves of my and Willow’s relationship?”

“Is all that stuff you mentioned earlier just a warm-up for what was to come?”

“To put it bluntly, you only think of Willow as a pawn you can use.

“I’m not the one you see. It’s Lennon Group. You won’t hesitate to sacrifice Willow if someone else is in my position.

“I’m happy you’d sell Willow for the Quinn family’s future.”

Sean looked at Simon with a sneer.

He did not like speaking in this tone of voice, but he could not help being annoyed by how unreasonable

the Quinn family was.

He could not be too rude or lay a hand on the Quinn family due to Willow, so he could only shatter their delusions with words.

They tried to use Willow as a bargaining chip to negotiate with Sean.

However, they forgot that Willow was Sean's woman.

He would not allow anyone to use his woman as a bargaining chip.

"Sean, don't say that.

"You shouldn't go after the Quinn family's fortune if you and Willow love each other."

Old Madam Quinn narrowed her eyes slightly, her tone was somewhat stern.

"It's because I love her that I want more for her.

"Should I expect you to be merciful and give her anything?"

Old Madam Quinn and the rest blushed as soon as Sean spoke.

This time, Fion also came to herself and nodded silently.

The Quinn family members knew how they treated Willow's family over the years.

There was no way Willow would be allowed a piece of the Quinn family's fortune.

Sean tried his best to negotiate this deal for Willow because he knew how members of the Quinn family.

were.

He did not care about the Quinn family's fortune.

"Sean, I was right about you.

"You're after the Quinn family's fortune. It's why you're stuck with the Quinn family, isn't it?

"You finally revealed your true ambition!"

Unable to hold it in any longer, Simon shouted at Sean.

"I'll transfer the 80% shares to Willow.

"I won't do anything with it. And I don't care about it.

"To tell you the truth, you've gone through a lot of trouble for the Quinn family's fortune. But it's nothing to me."

Sean looked at Simon as he spoke disdainfully.

"Hahaha! That cracks me up. Will you stop boasting?

"What do you have? How dare you say such a thing?"

Simon asked, pointing his hand at Sean despite Old Madam Quinn's objections.

"I own Lennon Group and Reach For Will Group.

"I control more than 80% of the companies in River City's business circle, and I'm the most powerful person in River City!"

Sean slowly reached out his hand and pointed to the floor as he spoke.

He spoke so firmly that no one could refute him.

Old Madam Quinn froze, and Simon was momentarily speechless.

They had only heard Samuel saying that Reach For Will Group might be Sean's.

However, there was a difference between hearing Samuel and Sean saying it.

Willow was all the more shocked.

It was not until today that she heard Sean say for the first time that Reach For Will Group was his.

'Does that mean Sean was not working for Reach For Will Group?

'All he has done was to advance his career!'

However, Willow could not figure out how Sean managed to create a large corporation like Reach For Will Group.

He had no money or background. All he had was a wonky box, a shirt, and a sword.

The only bank card he had was also useless.

Willow remembered that these were all Sean had when he was sent to the Quinn family.

How did he create a top company like Reach For Will Group?

The more Willow thought about it, the more unbelievable it sounded. 5

“Sean, you have to stop pretending.

“Uncle Sam said you met him at Reach For Will Group before.

“But do you expect us to believe it? What proof do you have that Reach For Will Group is yours?”

Simon said with a cold snort after a pause.

“Can’t the name Reach For Will Group prove it?

“Why is it called Reach For Will? Not Reach For Wind or Reach For Sun.”

Sean leaned back slowly on the couch with amusement in his eyes.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1129

Chapter 1129

The Quinn family fell silent when he said that.

They could not stop thinking about what Sean had just said.

‘Reach For Will Group!

Why is it Reach For Will and not Reach For Wind or Reach For Sun?

‘The key is the word “Will”!

‘As for “Will” ...

With this in mind, the Quinn family slowly turned to look at Willow.

'Does the word 'Will' in the name Reach For Will Group have something to do with Willow's name?

If Sean founded Reach For Will Group, the meaning of the name Reach For Will Group was obvious!

The Quinn family grew more confused at the thought of it.

Willow was the one more confused.

She had not taken it in at all yet.

Willow felt uncomfortable having the Quinn family focus on her.

"Do you get it now?"

Sean asked indifferently, leaning back on the couch.

"Is... Is this a joke..."

Simon clenched his teeth, still unable to accept it.

He could not figure out why Sean kept it a secret if Sean was that capable.

Knowing that members of the Quinn family looked down on him, he could have revealed his true colors. sooner, and everything would be all right.

Moreover, you would need at least billions of dollars to create a large corporation like Reach For Will Group.

Could Sean afford a few billion dollars?

"A joke?"

"Who are you to have me joke with you?"

Sean glanced at Simon and replied bluntly.

"You!"

Simon was furious, but Old Madam Quinn stopped him, so he maintained his temper.

"Sean, I..."

Just as Old Madam Quinn was about to say something, Sean pulled out his phone that was ringing.

"Let me answer this."

Sean said and tapped on the answer button.

Old Madam Quinn and the rest could only shut up for a while.

1/3

"What is it?"

Sean asked into his phone. It was Jason calling.

"Mr. Lennon, do you have any direct relationship with Reach For Will Group?"

Jason made Sean a little confused as soon as he spoke.

Reach For Will Group belonged to him.

Jason should also be clear about this.

"What do you mean?"

Sean asked into his phone with a slight frown.

“What I mean is who’s the legal representative of Reach For Will Group? Does the list of shareholders and the likes include your name?”

Jason sounded a little panicked.

“No.”

Sean shook his head gently.

He did not serve as head of Reach For Will Group in order to cover up his identity.

Harry was Reach For Will Group’s current legal representative.

“That’s good! Remove all your traces in Reach For Will Group as soon as possible.

“Also, make sure to dissociate yourself from Reach For Will Group for now.

“Don’t tell anyone that Reach For Will Group belongs to you.

When Jason said that, Sean’s eyes narrowed slightly. He had noticed the seriousness of the situation.

“Have they found me?”

Sean glanced at the Quinn family and asked casually.

“They’ve tracked down Zander and Harry.

“And they’ve noticed Reach For Will Group.”

Sean instantly understood after Jason said this.

Blaze must have sensed that something was amiss with Zander and Harry.

Therefore, he suspected Sean.

Now, he had tracked down Reach For Will Group.

Besides that, they knew Reach For Will Group was Harry's company.

Next, they would soon pick up Sean's trail!

Sean frowned slightly. He could put the plan of his return on the agenda after settling his last issue with Star Group. 1

However, Blaze gave him trouble again at such a critical moment.

Blaze had keen senses!

When Zander and Harry returned, they deliberately moved from place to place and covered their tracks to avoid being tracked down by Blaze.

However, he caught on anyway.

"Mr. Lennon, I just wanted to let you know.

"Everything's fine as long as you know what to do. I'll report to you as soon as I know anything."

Jason hurriedly finished speaking and hung up.

Sean put down his phone, irritated.

He only had one chance to fight Blaze, so Sean wanted to be 100% prepared.

However, Blaze did not want to give Sean enough time to prepare!

After all, Blaze knew how terrifying Sean could be in his prime.

Once Sean was fully prepared, Blaze would have a hard time.

“Sean, what’s wrong?”

Willow nearby asked quickly when she saw that something was wrong with Sean.

“It’s alright. Let’s continue.”

Sean shook his head slightly and put the phone away.

The situation was tense.

However, things needed to be done.

He had to settle the issue with the Quinn family all the more.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1130

Chapter 1130

Sean was planning on leaving River City soon.

Therefore, he wanted to secure as many things as possible for Willow before leaving.

People like Flint and Homer would help her when he was not around, and Willow would not have many issues.

However, she was still a member of the Quinn family. She had to do whatever they said.

The only thing Sean could do was to give Willow absolute authority in the Quinn family.

It was the only way Sean could leave without worry.

Therefore, the 80% shares were indispensable.

“Those are the two conditions.

“What do you say?”

Sean asked indifferently, looking at Old Madam Quinn.

“80% is too much.”

Old Madam Quinn slowly shook her head again.

Sean frowned slightly. He did not have much time to waste with members of the Quinn family.

Therefore, Sean chose to compromise after much deliberation.

“60% like the others then.

“That’s the best I can do.”

Sean looked at Old Madam Quinn and gave in..

Old Madam Quinn was so pleased that she was about to say yes.

However, Sean’s compromise seemed to show weakness to Simon and the rest.

Sean must have compromised because he was afraid that he would get nothing in the end.

How else would people like to push their luck?

Sean's compromise made Simon smugger.

"Hmph! Sean, I'm telling you. Forget about 60%.

"Why should Willow get 60% alone when the Quinn family has so many members?

*30% is the most we can offer. Nothing more."

Simon snorted coldly and cut off half of Sean's 60% offer.

Old Madam Quinn nodded again.

"Are you that shameless?"

Sean frowned as a chill flickered in his eyes.

"60% is the chance I give you today.

"I hope you'll cherish it.

"It'll be at least 80% after today."

Sean looked at the Quinn family and said slowly.

Old Madam Quinn thought about it and decided to accept it.

However, Simon, Faye, and the rest refused.

It was all the Quinn family had. What else would they have after giving Willow 60% of their shares?

With so many people sharing the remaining 40%, would they not only get crumbs?

"Sean, don't be so unreasonable either.

"I made it clear that 30% is the most the Quinn family can offer!

"You take and reject like a spoilt brat. Do you think the Quinn family can't survive without you?"

Simon was firm.

"The door's over there. Get out."

Sean pointed straight to the door without any more nonsense.

Speaking was pointless when both parties disagreed.

Sean was not in the mood to talk with Simon.

"You!"

Simon slammed the table and pointed to Sean.

"Sean, do you think that highly of yourself?"

"Don't think I don't know that Reach For Will Group's Mr. Clarke is just playing along and putting on a show with you to get Quinn Corporation.

"The name Reach For Will Group is just a coincidence.

"Will you admit with your conscience that Reach For Will Group is yours?"

Simon pointed at Sean, his tone arrogant.

Sean frowned slightly.

The phone call from Jason kept him at bay now

The Quinn family was descended from a famous general, so they were considered to have ties to the army.

If Blaze were to investigate, he would be led to the Quinn family.

It would also be bad if members of the Quinn family knew that Sean was the chairman behind Reach For Will Group.

Sean was silent for a few seconds but did not admit it again.

“Haha, are you scared to admit it now?”

Seeing Sean’s silence, Simon got more confident.

The Quinn family and Old Madam Quinn looked doubtful too.

Sean had spoken so matter-of-factly that they could not help but believe him.

However, Sean’s attitude now made it seem like Simon was right.

“You’re penniless. How can you build a multi-billion dollar company?”

“We don’t believe you. If you’re that capable, get Reach For Will Group’s Mr. Harry Clarke to hold a press conference and announce that you’re the chairman of Reach For Will Group.”

Simon chuckled and said again.

Sean remained silent.

The look in the Quinn family’s eyes changed again.

It seemed Sean was only pretending when he spoke so arrogantly!

He was not the chairman of the Reach For Will Group.

He only tried to bluff the Quinn family so he could easily take 80% of their shares.

The more they thought about it, the angrier the Quinn family became as they thought Sean had almost fooled them.