

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1171 - 1180

Chapter 1171

"What?"

Jimmy frowned slightly.

"Mr. Lidell? You can't go in. Please make way. There are people behind you."

The young man repeated.

"Do you know what you're saying?"

Jimmy looked at the young man with impatience emerging slowly in his eyes.

However, the young man only laughed playfully and ignored Jimmy. Instead, he continued to check the other companies' invitations.

Jimmy's face reddened.

It was humiliating to watch other companies enter the venue successfully while he could only stand there with his crowd!

Jane also frowned with a growing sense of foreboding.

'Is everything Sean said true?

'Can he really decide whether my company can enter with one word?'

“What’s the meaning of this?”

“Why do you refuse to let us in after giving us an invitation?”

Jimmy asked the young man angrily.

“As the organizer, Reach For Will Group has the right to do that.

“We can decide who to let in with only one word, of course.”

To Jimmy’s surprise, the young man replied without hesitation. He admitted it straightforwardly.

He was clearly telling him there was nothing he could do, even if he picked on them.

“You! Are you playing me?”

Jimmy gritted his teeth slightly, growing angrier.

“Yes, we are.”

The young man admitted again with a sneer.

“You! Isn’t Reach For Will Group going too far by doing that?”

Jimmy’s face grew darker.

“Are you mad? Hold it in then.

“Guards, escort them out.”

The young man’s tone was merciless,

Seven or eight security guards stepped forward as soon as he spoke.

The security guards on site today were Flint's men.

These members of the underworld looked fierce and aggressive.

Jimmy dared not say anything more after seeing them.

"Dad, we..."

Blushing, Jane reached over and tugged at Jimmy's clothes.

No one knew how aggrieved Jimmy felt.

He had expected to attend Reach For Will Group's groundbreaking ceremony.

He could make many connections even if he did not get a piece of the action.

Now, they could not even get in.

It was obvious that Jane's friend deliberately got in their way.

Jane did not expect Sean to be that capable.

"Okay! Reach For Will Group, I'll keep this in mind!"

Jimmy gritted his teeth slightly and turned to leave.

He could not stand standing there any longer, being looked at like a monkey.

They did not expect to be turned away at the door when they had come over excitedly.

Even if upset, there was nothing they could do.

After all, it was Reach For Will Group's territory.

Reach For Will Group even ruled River City now.

Jimmy could not beat Reach For Will Group with what little power he had.

"Dad, can we stay out here?"

Jane whispered, seeing that the crowd outside was only ordinary people.

"Hmph! Only lowlifes will stay out there. I refuse to stay here."

Jimmy gritted his teeth and snorted coldly. He did not want to stoop to join the event by staying outside.

Therefore, he would rather not take part in it.

They got in the car and drove away.

Jane had no idea that having a meal with Willow yesterday would cost her company a spot to attend the ceremony.

Not long after Jane's family left, Old Madam Quinn and members of the Quinn family arrived.

Even though they did not get along with Sean, Quinn Corporation was now a part of Reach For Will Group.

Therefore, it was natural that they attended the groundbreaking ceremony held by the Reach For Will Group

More importantly, with so many important people here today, they would gain a lot of advantages by being here.

Having a local business in River City as well as being an established family, the Quinn family knew many people.

Many companies and other parties greeted Old Madam Quinn and the rest along the way.

Old Madam Quinn went to the entrance with a smile.

However, Old Madam Quinn and the rest were also stopped at the entrance.

“Old Madam Quinn, please show me your invitation card.”

A young man asked with a smile as he looked at Old Madam Quinn.

“Invitation card?”

Old Madam Quinn froze.

“Yes.

“Our record states that the Quinn family has received an invitation card. Please provide it.”

The young man nodded gently and explained to Old Madam Quinn.

“What invitation card? What record? We didn’t receive it.”

Simon frowned and said to the young man, dissatisfied.

Old Madam Quinn blushed slightly.

Simon did not know. How could she not know?

Sean did give her an invitation earlier.

However, she was so angry that she threw the invitation on the floor.

If they wanted to enter the venue, they had to provide an invitation. What should they do?

“The Quinn family did receive an invitation.”

The young man looked at the record again before speaking earnestly.

“When was it given? How did we not know?”

Samuel asked in dissatisfaction, also frowning.

“I know.”

Old Madam Quinn gritted her teeth slightly and could only admit it.

“Old Madam, you know about his?”

“Where’s the invitation? Where is it?”

Samuel and the rest immediately looked at Old Madam Quinn.

“I threw it away...”

Old Madam Quinn replied softly, blushing.

“You threw it away? Have... Have you lost your mind?”

“Why did you throw it away?”

“Yeah, Grandma. That’s the invitation to enter the venue. Don’t you want to enter it?”

“How could you do that? Aren’t you just looking for trouble?”

Old Madam Quinn was suddenly the object of criticism.

Everyone in the Quinn family was complaining to Old Madam Quinn.

Jane’s incident was nothing. Few people in River City knew them, so it was not that humiliating.

However, the Quinn family was well known in River City.

It was humiliating to have so many people they knew looking at them as they got barred!

While the Quinn family was stuck in a sticky situation, a group of people suddenly emerged from behind.

The leader looked calm as he walked steadily.

He was followed by several middle-aged men, all of them River City’s big shots.

The young man was none other than Sean

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1172

Chapter 1172

"Mr. Lennon!"

"Is Mr. Lennon here?"

"Mr. Lennon looks even more handsome today!"

Numerous surrounding company owners came forward to greet Sean when they saw him.

They were friendly and polite.

Whether it is the owner of a company worth tens of millions of dollars or a multimillionaire, they would greet him warmly.

The crowd gathered around Sean like a myriad of stars surrounding the moon.

It was in sharp contrast with the Quinn family, who were barred at the gate.

"Sean! B*stard!"

Simon clenched his fists and swore under his breath.

Other members of the Quinn family were sullen and upset.

They suspected they were stopped because Sean had meddled in this.

“He’s just trying to humiliate us. That son of a b*tch!”

Faye gritted her teeth in anger, wanting to yell at Sean.

However, it was only an idea. None dared to do so.

They could call Sean names and humiliate him all they wanted a month ago.

They could also bully Willow all they wanted.

However, things were different now.

Life had its ups and downs.

Sean was now close with Reach For Will Group. The Quinn family was nobody.

It was like how so many company owners were all around Sean. They were like a myriad of stars surrounding the moon, making Sean seem like the central figure.

Everyone ignored the Quinn family.

It could only be said that Sean was now someone that the Quinn family had to look up to.

They dared not throw their weight around and did whatever they wanted in front of Sean like they used to.

Sean smiled and nodded in reply to everyone.

Willow, standing next to Sean, felt flattered.

She had never been treated that way by the Quinn family or anyone else in the past two years.

Simon and the rest conspired to boycott her and keep her out of Quinn Corporation's important business.

Willow seemed to have become an outcast in the Quinn family over time.

If even her own family treated her like that, what treatment would Willow get out there?

However, that was before.

Since Sean regained consciousness, all that had changed.

More people knew how powerful Sean was now.

As Sean's fiancée, Willow was known and respected by more people.

Being surrounded by dozens of bigwigs made Willow a little uncomfortable.

They would not have even glanced at Willow if it were in the past!

These people were polite and respectful as they nodded to her.

Willow tried to calm herself, grabbing Sean's arm and feeling indescribable happiness.

"Let's go in. The ceremony is about to begin."

Sean could tell Willow was uncomfortable and said with a wave of his hand.

“Okay! Mr. Lennon, please enter!”

“Mr. Lennon, please enter!”

The crowd immediately moved aside, making a path for Sean and Willow to go ahead.

Homer, Chadwick, and the rest were close behind.

Flint dared not get too close to Sean on such an occasion.

After all, Flint was from the criminal underworld. Being too close to Sean in public could reflect badly on Sean.

Therefore, he did not follow Sean today but commanded his men and took care of the ceremony.

The crowd lined up on either side, and the line was to the entrance.

The Quinn family could not squeeze in even if they wanted to talk to Sean in that situation.

Sean did not even notice them as they walked straight to the entrance.

Old Madam Quinn and the rest gritted their teeth as they looked at Sean with mixed feelings.

However, they pushed forward after a few seconds of hesitation.

The Quinn family was different from Jane’s Billion Trees Real Estate.

Jane's company was based in Joules Town, not River City.

Therefore, it could do well in its city without working with Reach For Will Group.

However, Quinn Corporation was River City's local company.

If they wanted to grow in River City, they had to face Reach For Will Group.

Therefore, they must attend the ceremony.

Besides that, they had to get into the venue.

Today's ceremony venue was different for a reason.

River City's business circle recognized your worth if you got inside.

If not, it meant they were at the bottom of the business circle. They were not even a third-rate family and were mere commoners.

To put it bluntly, they would be losers.

If the Quinn family could not get in, they would have a tough time in River City!

"Sean!"

Old Madam Quinn could not stand it any longer and called to Sean at the thought of this

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1173

Chapter 1173

Swoosh!

Sean and Willow slowly stopped.

Homer, Chadwick, and dozens of company owners also turned their heads in tandem with Sean's gaze.

The Quinn family was a little uncomfortable with so many eyes staring at them.

However, Old Madam Quinn still braced herself and stepped forward.

"Grandma."

Willow hesitated for half a second before calling.

"Yes."

Old Madam Quinn only replied indifferently as she acted superior.

"Why can't we go in?"

Old Madam Quinn looked at Sean in a deliberately confrontational tone.

After all, many people were present. She did not want to give in to Sean.

Knowing that Sean had much to do with the Quinn family, the others kept quiet.

"I gave you your invitation."

Sean looked at Old Madam Quinn and said indifferently.

"You!"

Old Madam Quinn was instantly rendered speechless.

Sean did give it to her, but her conversation with him did not go well. She threw the invitation aside in a fit of anger.

She did not take it!

If she had known this was going to happen, she would have taken the invitation with her.

They would not have been barred outside today.

“The invitation Reach For Will Group gave the Quinn family is now in your hands.”

Old Madam Quinn was silent for two seconds before saying again coldly.

“Yeah, Sean. What’s the meaning of this?”

“Reach For Will Group held today’s ceremony.

“Aren’t you afraid of Reach For Will Group finding out you feigning compliance and making this personal?”

Simon also stepped forward and pointed at Sean as he asked.

“Watch your attitude.

“How can you talk to Mr. Lennon like that?”

The two young men in charge of maintaining order instantly frowned and shoved Simon.

“You!”

Simon immediately lost his temper as he was thrown off balance.

However, he kept his mouth shut when he saw dozens of strong men in red armbands coming toward him.

These people working for Flint did not care who Simon was.

They would attack without hesitation as long as he offended Sean.

“Anyway, you’re just making it personal. You’re just humiliating the Quinn family on purpose.”

Simon gritted his teeth and said again.

“So what if I am?”

Sean did not bother to explain. He only admitted it.

“You!”

The Quinn family froze again.

They did not expect Sean to be so arrogant.

He was telling them so what if he was bullying them?

What could they do? They could do nothing but feel angry.

“Let them in.”

Sean said as he glanced at the two staff members at the door and turned to walk inside.

“Yes! Mr. Lennon.”

The two staff members immediately nodded in response.

The people behind Sean glanced at the Quinn family and followed Sean.

Soon, only the Quinn family was left standing there.

However, their faces were extremely red.

“F*ckf! It’s as if he’s taking pity on us!”

Simon yelled, speaking everyone’s mind.

Sean gave them a chance to enter the venue as if he were doing charity.

They tried to be tough by rejecting it, but today’s ceremony was too important.

Therefore, they could only accept it even if it were charity.

However, they had mixed feelings.

Back then, they bossed Sean around and humiliated him however they wanted.

Whenever the Quinn family hosted a dinner party, it was up to them to decide whether to let Sean attend

1. it.

Back then, if they invited Sean for a free meal, they acted like it was charity.

The situation was reversed today.

Sean had become the one giving them the scraps.

The Quinn family was on the receiving end of charity.

“Everyone, we’re about to stop letting people in. Are you going in?”

23

The two staff asked as they looked at the Quinn family.

“Let’s go in.”

Old Madam Quinn waved her hands and said with a ghastly expression.

“Hmph! I’ll see how long Reach For Will Group will use him.

“Reach For Will Group has now taken over River City’s business circle and has acquired the land.

“That loser Sean is now useless and will soon be kicked aside!”

Simon muttered something that had gotten the Quinn family’s immediate approval.

They always thought that Reach For Will Group had only entrusted Sean with important tasks because they thought Sean could be useful to them. 1

However, Reach For Will Group had gained momentum. It not only controlled River City’s business circle but was also now close to the River City government..

It had even taken over the major project downtown, which could be said to be a giant leap forward.

Sean would be no longer useful, of course.

Trusted aides would be eliminated when they had outlived their usefulness. It would not be long before Sean was kicked out of Reach For Will Group.

It made the Quinn family feel better as they thought of it.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1174

Chapter 1174

There were many people in the venue.

Of course, it was nothing compared to the huge crowd outside.

However, all the people inside were big shots in River City!

Everyone was either an important government official or a big tycoon in River City.

All in all, more than 90% of River City's elites were there.

It included government officials, wealthy tycoons, and various affluent families in River City.

The ceremony venue was quite simplistic.

It was only an open square with a huge stage at the front.

A long horizontal red banner was also hoisted above the stage.

These members of high society were used to upscale places. The banquets they attended were also at fancy places.

They had hardly been to such an open-air place.

However, no one was upset. Instead, they felt a surge of pride to be there.

The specifications of the venue were not important. What mattered was who was hosting the ceremony.

It was like how ministers would feel honored even if the king invited them to a banquet at a junkyard.

They now recognized Reach For Will Group as the ruler of River City's business circle.

Therefore, no one was dissatisfied.

Round stools that cost at most dozens of dollars each were placed in rows were the base of an exchange summit.

The big shots in expensive suits and luxury watches sat on their stools and talked. It looked like they were enjoying themselves.

The Quinn family also found a place to sit.

At least they did not have to stand like the regular people outside.

The thought made them feel much better.

Samuel thought he would use the summit to get to know some big shots.

However, he soon found that very few people wanted to talk to him.

Even some people who used to be close to the Quinn family only greeted them politely without intending to talk much with them.

Samuel kept getting brushed off, so he could only walk back in disappointment.

“Old Madam, I want to kill Sean!”

Samuel gritted his teeth and said in hatred.

“What’s the matter?”

Old Madam Quinn glanced at Samuel and asked.

“That b*stard!

“He’s just throwing his weight around. He’s only picking on us because Reach

For Will Group values him.

“I tried talking to those company owners, but they gave me the cold shoulder.

Sean must have set this up!"

Samuel clenched his fist and slapped it hard on his knee. The more he thought about it, the angrier he became.

"What do you want to do then?"

Old Madam Quinn pondered for two seconds before asking again.

She had no idea what to do and did not want to say anything now that things had reached this point.

"I'm meeting the chairman behind Reach For Will Group after this summit!

"Then I'll do whatever it takes to kill Sean!"

Samuel clenched his teeth as malice glimmered in his eyes.

"I agree!"

Simon raised his hand and agreed without hesitation.

They had lost their minds.

A cripple who had been at their mercy not only turned his fate around but also trampled over them.

They could not accept that.

Therefore, they would fight Sean to the end, no matter what.

“Our shares are down to 20% now. How are we going to fight them?”

Old Madam Quinn said with a sigh as she shook her head.

“I’ll contact some of the Old Master’s former comrades.”

Samuel jerked up his head and said as he looked at Old Madam Quinn.

Old Master Levi Quinn held a high position in the army and had considerable influence.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1175

Chapter 1175

Even his former subordinates were big shots, not to mention his peers.

As long as these big shots struck, even Reach For Will Group dared not act rashly, let alone Sean.

Old Madam Quinn hesitated for a moment before finally nodding.

Old Master Levi Quinn had sternly told them not to use his connections to gain profit for the Quinn family.

However, she could not watch the Quinn family fall apart in her hands.

Therefore, she would not stand in Samuel’s way if he wanted to do that.

“Sean! Wait and see!”

Simon slowly turned his head to glare at Sean and Willow in the front row.

Sean would have no problem as long as their plan succeeded.

9 a.m.

The groundbreaking ceremony for the land downtown had officially begun.

The hosts a man and woman, were dressed to the nines as they slowly took the stage with microphones in hand.

“Ooh! Isn’t that superstar Amy Youngston?”

“And that man is also a famous actor!”

The appearance of the man and woman instantly attracted a lot of attention.

After all, these two stars were popular.

The fact that Reach For Will Group could hire them also proved how strong they were.

“Distinguished guests, ladies, and gentlemen.

“Welcome to the groundbreaking ceremony for the land downtown and River City’s business circle exchange summit!”

The greeting was received with the audience’s thunderous applause.

The liveliness of the opening needed no words to describe it.

Then people came on stage and made speeches.

The top three developers in River City and big names in the government made an appearance.

As director of the CIA, Damian took the stage and delivered an impassioned speech.

The downtown land was River City's biggest project in the last 20 years.

This project also involved River City's economic development.

"I believe Reach For Will Group will turn downtown into the most prosperous commercial area in River City with the River City government's supervision and River City companies' support.

"Just wait and see!"

When Damian finished, the crowd applauded.

After each representative took the stage, Harry, head of Reach For Will Group, slowly went up too.

"Firstly, thank you for being here on time for this groundbreaking ceremony organized by our Reach For Will Group."

Harry made some polite remarks for the opening after taking the stage.

"Many of you must be curious about the chairman behind Reach For Will Group.”

Harry said suddenly as he changed the topic.

Swoosh!

There was a sudden silence.

Curious!

They were curious, of course!

Reach For Will Group was wealthy, influential, and well-connected.

It must be an extraordinary person to create a company like this!

Harry had been in charge of everything at Reach For Will Group, and no one had ever seen the man behind Reach For Will Group.

“Mr. Clarke, is the chairman here today?”

Star Group’s Jenson could not help but stand up and ask.

“That’s right!

“The mysterious president of the Reach For Will Group is here today!”

Harry held the microphone with one hand and pointed at the audience with the other.

Swoosh!

All eyes followed Harry’s finger.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1176

Chapter 1176

Old Madam Quinn and the rest also looked where he was pointing.

"Haha, I told you!

"The chairman of Reach For Will Group is someone else.

"It's ridiculous that Sean said he's the chairman!

"I'd like to see how Sean can continue to pretend when the chairman is really here!"

Simon sneered, his face full of disdain.

"I'll take the opportunity to talk to the chairman of Reach For Will Group about

Sean

impersonating him."

Samuel was even smug. It did not take him a lot of effort to find the chairman!

He had wondered how he would meet the mysterious chairman of Reach For Will Group.

He did not expect them to be here today.

“Grandma, why do I feel like Mr. Clarke is pointing to Sean’s location?”

Faye frowned and said suddenly.

“What?”

Samuel and the rest froze and looked carefully.

Sure enough, Harry on stage was pointing in the direction of Sean and Willow’s seats.

Others noticed it too and were dumbfounded for a moment.

“No... No way...”

Jenson rubbed his eyes and scanned Sean’s surroundings.

He knew everyone sitting next to Sean. There was no way that they were the chairman of Reach For Will Group!

Everyone held their breath and was silent.

Everyone wanted to know who created a large corporation like Reach For Will Group.

“Sean, why is... why is Mr. Clarke pointing at us?”

Willow stammered as she had not realized it.

Sean smiled and said nothing. He thought Willow was adorable right now.

Therefore, he was in no hurry to stand up. He wanted to see how long it would take Willow to react.

Therefore, Sean turned to glance at Zander.

With everyone watching, a man slowly got up.

The man was big and bulky, with a look of fortitude on his face that made him look intimidating.

“What? It’s him?”

The Quinn family was instantly dumbfounded to see the man’s face.

It was Zander!

Although they were not familiar with Zander, they knew he was Sean’s man.

Was Zander the chairman behind Reach For Will Group?

“Ooh, is he the chairman?”

For a moment, everyone was shocked.

Especially Homer and the rest. They knew Zander was only Sean’s bodyguard.

If he was the chairman of Reach For Will Group, then who was Sean?

“Wow! Is he the chairman of Reach For Will Group? How handsome!”

“Ooh! He’s quite young. I wonder if he has a girlfriend.”

Many people who did not know the truth looked at Zander with bright eyes.

However, Zander had no intention to go on stage.

Zander slowly turned to face Sean and bowed a full 90 degrees.

“Mr. Lennon, please go on stage and give a speech.”

Zander’s bow made everyone freeze again.

‘Is the chairman of Reach For Will Group not Zander?’

‘Is... Is it Mr. Lennon?’

‘Which Mr. Lennon?’

Everyone was confused for a moment.

Willow finally came to herself this time.

With her beautiful eyes wide open, she slowly turned her head to look at Sean beside her.

‘Mr. Lennon!’

‘Isn’t that Sean?’

‘And Zander is bowing at Sean!’

This time, Sean finally got up slowly and appeared in everyone’s sight.

“Gosh! Oh my god...”

Willow put her hand to her mouth and sat in the chair, dumbfounded.

Sean was standing and she was sitting, so she had to look up at him.

Looking at Sean's defined profile, Willow suddenly realized that she had never seen through the man.

She thought she knew everything about Sean and that she even knew the moles she had. However, Willow knew she was awfully wrong after seeing the scene before her.

She knew too little about Sean's world!

"Grandma, it's really Sean!"

Faye also put her hand to her mouth, looking shocked.

The Quinn family was also fully in disbelief.

Sean never lied to them.

He really was the chairman behind Reach For Will Group!

"F*ck! It really is Mr. Lennon!"

"No wonder Mr. Lennon is so domineering!"

"Star Group would have joined if we had known!"

Jenson and the rest slapped their thighs as they realized it.

Homer had some speculation earlier, but it still came as a shock when seeing it in person.

“Wait here for me.

“I’ll send for you in a moment.”

Sean looked at Willow and whispered before stepping toward the stage.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1177

Chapter 1177

Hundreds of eyes in the venue and thousands of eyes outside focused on Sean alone.

The ordinary people outside acted normally, but many people in the venue looked at Sean with mixed emotions.

After all, they all knew about Sean’s past.

The Quinn family was doing well until they suddenly had a future son-in-law.

He was also engaged to the most beautiful woman in River City, Willow Quinn.

Anyone knew Sean was disabled, a vegetable, and useless.

Willow took in the loser and cared for him for two years.

The Quinn family also became something many people talked about because of Sean. They thought he humiliated the Quinn family.

However, who would have thought that the loser in their eyes could one day become someone that everyone looked up to?

Today's groundbreaking ceremony brought together people from all walks of life in River City, including big names in the government.

These big names were also centered on Reach For Will Group.

It was no exaggeration to say Reach For Will Group had the highest status in the ceremony.

The chairman of Reach For Will Group was also important.

People used to ignore Sean. He was trampled over deliberately like the sand on the ground.

He had everyone's attention and was someone everyone had to look up to.

Willow looked shocked and had a complicated look in her eyes.

Jenson, Homer, and the rest were equally stunned.

The Quinn family and the rest could not accept the reality.

"Whew! Whew!"

"It's fake. It must be fake."

Simon clenched his fists and spoke through gritted teeth.

“He dares not behave rashly in front of so many people on such an occasion...”

Old Madam Quinn shook her head slightly and retorted Simon.

However, the others were silent as soon as he said that.

Even if Sean had the balls, he would never pretend to be the chairman of Reach

For Will Group on such an occasion.

Therefore, they did not have to believe Sean when he spoke to them privately.

However, they had no choice but believe it.

Of course, they could choose to not accept it.

However, it did not matter whether they accepted it.

Because everyone in River City knew who the chairman of Reach For Will Group was from now on.

It was Sean!

Therefore, it did not matter whether the Quinn family accepted it.

Sean stepped onto the stage with everyone watching.

“Mr. Lennon.”

Harry greeted respectfully and handed over the microphone with both hands.

Sean looked around the room with a microphone in hand.

The deep eyes glanced across everyone's face.

With so many people, no one but Willow dared to look him in the eye.

However, everyone looked down everywhere Sean looked.

They were submissive.

He was the chairman of Reach For Will Group!

He was worth tens of billions of dollars and had powerful connections and backgrounds.

No one dared to make a fool of themselves in front of such a terrifying existence.

Old Madam Quinn and the rest had also accepted their fate and dared not behave rashly.

They would not care if Sean was only a Reach For Will Group senior executive.

However, they surrendered after learning that the entire Reach For Will Group belonged to Sean.

Only Willow kept her eyes on Sean.

She knew that the man everyone was watching was hers!

No matter how high Sean's status or how rich he was, he was still the same

Sean who loved Willow deeply.

Clap! Clap! Clap!

Someone finally came to themselves and started clapping!

Then the audience began giving thunderous applause.

The Quinn family and the rest held out their hands and clapped along.

Swoosh!

Sean held the microphone with one hand and made a quiet-down gesture with the other.

The place was silent as if the mute button had been pressed.

“Thank you all for joining us for this groundbreaking ceremony.

“Thank you for supporting and cooperating with Reach For Will Group.

“Thanks to all of you, Reach For Will Group got to where it is today.”

The crowd clapped again when Sean said this.

Someone even heard the meaning behind Sean’s speech!

After all, many companies had fallen out with Reach For Will Group and defected to Jen-Bond Holdings.

Therefore, what Sean said seemed to be hinting at something else.

“Reach For Will Group will do a perfect job on downtown land and give it to River City.”

Sean extended one arm and pointed to the vast land behind him. His voice was sonorous and fi

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1178

Chapter 1178

A round of applause broke out again.

Sean said nothing more.

After he had said what he had to say, he handed the microphone back to Harry.

The two hosts hurriedly got on stage and continued hosting the ceremony.

"Next, we have our ribbon-cutting ceremony.

"Please welcome Director Wool on stage for the ribbon cutting."

The hostess shouted to the audience with a smile.

Damian immediately got up and got on the stage with a big smile.

After all, not everyone had this treatment.

"Please welcome Larson Pharmaceuticals' Mr. Larson on stage for the ribbon cutting."

Homer could not believe his ears for a moment.

He had no idea that he would have a part in an important event like the ribbon-cutting.

After coming to his senses, Homer got up and headed for the stage.

After all, it was an honor to do such a thing!

Not everyone would be invited.

“Please welcome Mr. Luke on stage for the ribbon-cutting.”

“Please welcome Summers Corporation’s Mr. Summers on stage for the ribbon-cutting...”

“Please welcome Star Group’s President Willer on stage for the ribbon-cutting...”

Then the host and hostess worked with each other and read several names.

The company owners whose names were read looked smug as their sense of superiority was maximized.

Everyone except Jenson was close with Sean from the very beginning.

Sean had once said he would have them by his side when he reached the top of River City.

Back then, Homer and the rest thought Sean was only giving them empty promises.

However, what Sean said came true today.

Sean made room for them at the highly anticipated ribbon-cutting ceremony.

They were moved by the honor.

Willow sat in her seat, excited as she looked at the lively scene on stage.

Many big names were on stage, but Sean stood in the middle as if all the others were his lackeys.

“Is this your surprise for me?”

“I love it.”

Willow clenched her palms and smiled genuinely.

The rest watched enviously as Homer and the rest got on stage.

It was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to show yourself and cut ribbons with a bunch of bigwigs!

Many craned their necks, waiting for the hosts to read their names.

However, they were fantasizing after all.

No one else was invited after they finished reading the list.

That included the Quinn family.

If they were on good terms with Sean, there would surely be a place for the Quinn family on stage.

However, Sean did not even mention them.

“How dare he treats us this way!

“How ungrateful!”

The more Samuel thought about it, the more upset he became.

“After all, we’ve cared for him for two years.”

Simon’s father grumbled indignantly.

“Willow’s the one who took care of him.”

Old Madam Quinn shook her head slightly and corrected them.

They could not refute her.

Because Sean had never taken anything from the Quinn family when he was there for two years.

Willow paid for everything, including medical examinations and medication.

Therefore, Sean never owed them anything.

If anything, he only owed Willow.

“He didn’t even ask Willow to go on stage!

“Anyway, he’s just an ingrate.”

Faye snorted coldly and said as she glanced at Willow in the distance.

It was a point Old Madam Quinn could not argue with.

"We have someone very important to invite to the stage before the ribbon-cutting ceremony begins."

Just then, the hostess said with a smile as she held the microphone.

Everyone was shocked to hear this.

Who could be more important than Sean to go on stage?

"They say behind every successful man is a successful woman.

"And that's true.

"Reach For Will Group also owes its establishment and growth to such a woman.

"Let's give a round of applause and welcome Mr. Lennon's fiancée, Ms. Quinn, on stage!"

The crowd froze after the hostess said that. Then they cooperated by clapping their hands. "Huh?"

Willow froze for a second before rising slowly with a slight blush.

Faye just said Willow did not deserve to be on stage.

Faye's face was red, and she could not speak.

Willow only felt a buzz in her head.

She could not believe Sean would tell the entire River City that she was his fiancée.

“Come.”

Sean stood on stage, clapping and giving Willow a look of encouragement.

Clap! Clap!

Both the crowd and big shots like Damian were smiling and clapping.

Encouraged by Sean, Willow slowly walked forward.

“She has taken care of Mr. Lennon for two years.

“When Mr. Lennon was ill, she never gave up on him and took care of him.

“She worked hard and never complained. She took care of him every day for two years.

“She’s loyal and has devoted her entire youth without complaint or regret.

“She has bet her happiness on Mr. Lennon.

“Fortunately, Mr. Lennon didn’t let his woman down.”

The hostess’ emotional remarks made many people’s eyes redden.

Sean and Willow understood what it had been like these last two years.

Therefore, Willow was also moved as she had tears in her eyes.

“Mr. Lennon said Reach For Will Group is named after Ms. Quinn.

“Reach For Will. Reach for Willow!

“Let’s once again congratulate Mr. Lennon and Ms. Quinn on their love!”

With a microphone in one hand, the hostess took the lead by clapping her hands.

The audience burst into thunderous applause again.

This time, it was louder than any of the previous ones.

Willow was already under the stage, and Sean stepped forward to help Willow.

Some people were envious, jealous, and touched, and some gave their blessing from the bottom of their hearts.

Willow only felt like she was in a dream. She even felt like she was walking on clouds

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1179

Chapter 1179

Willow still felt like she was dreaming until she was on stage.

The audience continued clapping their hands.

All eyes were on the two of them.

It was supposed to be a groundbreaking ceremony, but it felt like Sean and Willow's wedding instead.

"Do you like this gift?"

Sean asked with a chuckle as he looked at Willow.

Willow wanted to answer but did not know how.

She had mixed feelings.

Everyone else saw Sean's success today, but only Willow thought about how hard Sean worked to get here.

What did it take to go from a vegetable everyone laughed at to a billionaire everyone admired?

Willow was not sure, but she did know it must have been hard.

Sean did all this just to give River City to Willow.

He did it to tell her she did not lose her bet.

The more Willow thought about it, the more touched she felt. Her nose could not help feeling red.

"Don't cry. I've got you."

Not caring about everyone's gaze, Sean only hugged Willow into his arms.

One side of Willow's face pressed against Sean's chest. She felt his strong heartbeat and reached out to hug Sean's waist without reservation.

Clap! Clap!

The applause grew louder.

“F*ck, I’m so envious!”

“What a match. They’re perfect for each other.”

“Willow’s the most beautiful girl in River City, and only Mr. Lennon deserves her.”

Everyone discussed.

Whether an heiress or an ordinary person, the ladies were envious.

Demi’s former classmates and friends were amongst the crowd outside.

They knew they could not behave however they wanted in front of Willow again after seeing that.

They did not even have the right to share a meal with Willow.

“Instead of making promises, I’d rather act on them.

“Ms. Quinn persevered for two years to get Mr. Lennon’s love.

“With this gift, Mr. Lennon proves that Ms. Quinn’s efforts aren’t in vain.”

Willow’s eyes could not help reddening at the hostess’s words.

She had mixed feelings as she thought of her bitter past and compared it with everyone’s attention.

“Let’s proceed with the ceremony first.

“We’ll talk when we get home.”

Sean patted Willow on the back and whispered.

“Yes, yes. Okay!”

Willow nodded and wiped her eyes before smiling.

The groundbreaking ceremony went on.

Sean and Willow stood in the middle of the line.

Harry, Zander, Homer, Chadwick, Jenson, and the rest were standing on both sides.

The long red ribbon was gently held by Harry and the rest.

There was a red ribbon flower in the middle of the ribbon. It was right between Sean and Willow.

Zander waited silently with a velvet tray.

There was something very specific about the ribbon-cutting.

The cut red ribbon ball had to fall firmly into the tray and not land on the ground.

“Come. Please get ready.”

Jenson and the rest pulled the red ribbon tight as the host spoke.

It was easier to cut that way.

“Mr. Lennon and Ms. Quinn, please pick up the scissors representing good luck.

“Get prepared to cut the ribbon.”

The hostess came forward with a smile and instructed two long-legged beautiful women in gowns to the tray containing scissors.

Sean and Willow cut the ribbon with ease.

The red ribbon flower fell steadily into the tray.

“Let’s wish Reach For Will Group a successful start and good luck!”

The host said, and there was another round of applause.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Party cannons rang around them.

Colorful pieces of paper were scattered in the air.

“Let’s wish Reach For Will Group good luck with its downtown project!”

Zander announced into the microphone as he stepped forward.

Clap! Clap! Clap!

There was a round of applause, and the place was lively.

Sean put down the scissors and covered Willow’s ear with his hands.

“Huh?”

Willow turned her head in confusion, wondering what Sean was up to.

Boom!

Just then, there was suddenly a deafening explosion in the distance.

It was as if a big bomb had gone off.

The deafening noise numbed many people's ears.

Willow would have also been shocked if Sean had not covered her ears in time

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1180

Chapter 1180

Then they saw the collapse of a building nearly twenty stories high in the distance.

Like a landslide, the building tens of meters high collapsed to pieces.

Boom!

Millions of bricks, with bits of cement, smashed to the ground as the toppling building collapsed.

Bang!

A mushroom cloud made of smoke and dust rose instantly.

The building collapsed, and the shock waves that hit the ground spread in all directions.

Everyone felt pins and needles under their feet like an earthquake had happened.

They heard a ringing in their ears as smoke and dust rose everywhere.

It was the first demolition of an old building downtown.

It represented the official groundbreaking of the land development project.

It symbolized the end of the humiliation Sean had endured for the past two years.

From then on, he was no longer the crippled vegetable anyone could humiliate.

He would be on top of River City's social hierarchy.

Both the powerful and wealthy could only look up to him.

The Quinn family had mixed feelings.

They were supposed to be up there enjoying all the attention.

However, they ruined their chances.

"I've been looking for someone to help Quinn Corporation grow.

"But I didn't realize this guy has been with us all along.

"I'm blind after all."

Old Madam Quinn let out a long sigh and slowly turned to leave.

The rest of the Quinn family remained silent.

They could hardly muster the will to resist Sean, who was so powerful now.

The most regretful member of the Quinn family was Willow's mother, Fion.

She could have had a million chances to bond with Sean.

Sean even accepted them for Willow.

However, Old Madam Quinn persuaded Fion to side with Quill again.

Quill was long dead, but Sean had already reached the top, enjoying everyone's admiration.

Even the Zimmer family at their peak could not have reached Sean's current position!

Fion was filled with regret

However, she brought it onto herself, so she had to live with it.

Everyone in River City remembered Reach For Will Group and the name Sean

Lennon from the groundbreaking ceremony.

They also remembered the deep bond between Sean and Willow.

Of course, some were happy with Sean's rise, while some were upset.

As chairman of Lennon Group, Sean had negotiated deals with companies.

Some were reluctant, and some even thought the Lennon Group was too small a company to be taken seriously.

It was not until today that they realized Sean's true identity.

However, it was probably too late to regret it.

Sean no longer needed their cooperation.

With people like Jenson and Homer on his side, he did not have to waste his time with small companies.

After the groundbreaking ceremony, Jenson and the rest agreed to have dinner together. Sean did not join them but returned home with Willow.

When she had gotten home and sat on the couch, Willow still felt like she had been dreaming.

It was unbelievable!

Sean had suddenly become the chairman of Reach For Will Group.

Reach For Will Group belonged to Sean.

Sean also gave Reach For Will Group to Willow as a gift.

It was something Willow dared not dream of.

Given Sean's current power and status, who else in the River City would look down on them?

“What’s the matter? Don’t you believe me?”

Sean asked with a smile as he sat next to Willow.

“I believe you...”

“But... but how on earth did you do it?”

Willow nodded before asking.

“It’s just River City.

“Even Souz River is nothing to me.”

Sean said to Willow arrogantly.

“You! You’re bluff...”

Willow was about to call Sean out but hesitated.

Because she realized Sean had never bluffed to her.

Little by little, everything Sean said came true.

“Is there anything else you want to do?”

Sean asked all of a sudden.

Willow felt helpless to ask that at such a time.

However, she was already used to Sean being unromantic.

“Are you leaving?”

Willow asked as she turned slowly and stared at Sean.

