

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1401 - 1410

Chapter 1401

"Who do you think you are?"

Gunther asked as he narrowed his eyes and looked at Zander.

"Because I'm Sean Lennon.

"Is that not enough?"

Sean slowly looked up at Gunther and asked in reply.

"Sean Lennon?"

"Sorry, I wouldn't have known you existed if you hadn't joined the auction."

Gunther lost his temper and responded with a sneer.

"Do you have a death wish?"

Zander was upset when he saw Gunther's attitude toward Sean.

"So what if I am?"

"Lennon Real Estate made a big deal about bringing down Billion Trees Real Estate.

"A few days have passed, but isn't the Billion Trees Real Estate building still standing tall?"

Gunther reached out the window to the Billion Trees Real Estate building across the street, where lights were all lit up.

The sky outside was getting darker, and the lights of the Billion Trees Real Estate building were all the more dazzling.

"You've made your threat.

"But I don't see you bringing down any companies either!"

"Why don't you introduce us, Mr. Lennon?"

Gunther withdrew their arms and folded them across his chest with some scorn on his face.

Everyone else smiled playfully too.

Lennon Real Estate made one threat after another, but Billion Trees Real Estate was still safe and sound.

The companies that partnered with Billion Trees Real Estate were also doing well.

They found it ridiculous, of course.

Bang!

Just then, the private room door was flung open.

Before anyone could react, two middle-aged men in suits walked in hurriedly.

"Mr. Clarke and Mr. Zimmer?"

"Why... Why are you here?"

Seeing the two middle-aged men, Gunther and the rest greeted each other.

However, they were puzzled.

Did they not say they were not coming?

It was obvious that they were rejecting Sean in a way.

However, why were they here now?

They were puzzled, but the two middle-aged men did not have time to answer their questions.

“Mr. Lennon! Mr. Lennon!”

The two men rushed forward to greet Sean.

They bowed slightly, and their tone was as respectful as a subordinate facing a superior.

The scene left the crowd dumbfounded.

After all, these two were the toughest earlier!

They rejected him when Sean asked them out, which was pretty tough.

However, they were now acting like subordinates in front of Sean. What was going on?

“Mr. Lennon, we were wrong. Please forgive us!”

“If this goes on, our company can’t carry on and will soon close down!”

When Sean was silent, they immediately bent over a little more.

There was anxiety and fear on their faces.

The crowd here understood immediately.

It turned out Sean had gone after the two companies!

Zander’s phone call earlier was not to scare them. They were actually going after them.

“Hoss!”

They all gasped to themselves.

Sean kept his word without hesitation!

“Did I hear someone just now say that Lennon Real Estate doesn’t have what it takes to bring down other companies?”

“Didn’t someone say that?”

Sean picked up his ears and looked up at Gunther and the rest.

Swoosh!

Gunther's face turned red instantly.

He had just said all Sean did was talk tough when he actually could not do anything.

However, as soon as he finished, two companies came apologizing because Sean had gone after them.

Gunther did not expect the blow to come so quickly.

More importantly, they could not imagine how fast Sean was.

It had been less than an hour since Zander called.

Within an hour, the pressured chairmen of the companies came to apologize to Sean.

What did that mean?

It meant Sean already had a plan before he invited them over.

It was as if a sharp sword was hanging over the crowd of nine's heads.

If they had come over obediently, the sword would not have fallen.

However, if they were disobedient, who could resist it when the sword fell?

*HSS"

The more they thought about it, the more horrified they were

If they had not shown up today, were they going to end up like them?

The more they thought about it, the scarier it got

"Mr. Lennon, be the bigger person.

The two company owners looked like pupils receiving a lecture in front of Sean.

However, they had no choice!

They would never have expected Sean to have the time to investigate them when he was dealing with Billion Trees Real Estate.

They would not know Sean had looked into them if it were not for what had happened today.

Only by knowing yourself and your enemy could you win countless battles.

Therefore, Sean grabbed them straight by the throat once he struck

They could only compromise.

It was indeed embarrassing to admit their mistakes and apologize.

However, they would lose their companies if they did not admit their mistakes. Their pride would not matter.

These old foxes could lose their pride but not everything they worked hard to achieve!

“I think I read a saying before.

“We’re all adults. If it’s wrong, it’s intentional.”

Sean picked up his wine glass and played with it.

As soon as he spoke, the two people's faces turned red.

They knew better than anyone if it was intentional.

However, they regretted it now!

Sean wanted to go after them, and Billion Trees Real Estate would not help them when they were busy enough with their affairs.

Therefore, the only thing they could do was go to Sean, plead for mercy, and apologize.

"Mr. Lennon, we're wrong. We know we're wrong.

"Please give us another chance!"

The two men faced Sean and apologized.

"It's good that you recognize your mistakes."

Sean rotated his wine glass slowly and smiled.

“Thank you, Mr. Lennon! Thank you, Mr. Lennon!”

국내

As if they were granted amnesty, they quickly got up and nodded.

They even felt relieved

“Why are you thanking me?”

“It’s good that you recognize your mistakes.

“But I didn’t say I forgave you.”

The private room instantly fell silent as soon as Sean spoke.

He was smiling, but the smile made them shudder.

What did the saying “Punish someone as a warning to others” meant?

The scene in front of them showed it vividly.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1402

Chapter 1402

"Mr. Lennon, well..."

The two middle-aged men were instantly dumbstruck.

Sean had just said it was good that they recognized their mistake, yet he did not forgive them.

What did that mean?

"Mr. Lennon, we don't know what you mean.

"Please give us some hints..."

One of the middle-aged men whispered.

"Leave.

"I invited Mr. Joller and the rest to dinner today.

"I don't want to be disturbed by outsiders."

Sean waved his hand, uninterested in continuing the conversation.

Sean invited them to dinner, but they did not show up, which was not a big deal.

However, the point was that it meant differently at this point.

If you did not come, it meant you did not take Sean seriously.

Sean happened to use the two as a warning to others.

The two of them happened to have themselves to blame for the trouble.

“Mr. Lennon, we’re sorry.”

“Please give us a chance. We won’t do it again!”

*The two middle-aged men gritted their teeth and bowed again.

The two of them did not take Sean seriously.

Besides that, they thought Sean would lose in the battle with Billion Trees Real Estate.

It was because they were all close to Jimmy and knew about Jimmy’s certain background.

After all, the government big shot Henry Zackman was close to Jimmy!

It was said that Jimmy once helped Henry’s sick mother by getting a famous doctor to treat her.

The doctor did not cure her, but it did solidify his relationship with Henry.

Not many billionaires in Joules Town’s business circle could visit Henry in his home.

It was hard enough to see Henry, let alone visit the Zackman family’s house, but Jimmy did.

Therefore, they thought Sean would lose if he went against Jimmy.

Jimmy had Henry behind him. It did not matter how wealthy Sean was.

However, the two of them now felt what Sean was capable of.

He put their companies in grave danger in less than half an hour.

The two of them were now convinced.

143

However, it was too late for them to surrender to him.

How could he intimidate Gunther and the rest if Sean did not destroy the two of them?

"I asked you to get out. Did you not hear me?"

Zander said to both men, frowning slightly.

However, the two middle-aged men still waited for Sean's answer.

"What a waste of time."

Zander stepped forward and dragged the two out.

"Mr. Lennon, we can work together. Mr. Lennon!"

"We'll do whatever you want us to do."

"Don't destroy us!"

The two middle-aged men struggled while still pleading with Sean.

However, Sean only enjoyed his wine without even looking at them.

"Sean, don't go too far!"

"I'm telling you, Billion Trees Real Estate isn't as simple as you think."

"Mr. Lidell has Mr. Zackman behind him. You will be in deep trouble if you touch them!"

The two middle-aged men were also furious. They started making threats since begging for mercy did not work.

“Sure, I’ll wait for that to happen.”

Sean smiled indifferently before responding calmly.

His calm attitude made everyone more unsure.

Bang!

Zander pushed the two out before slamming the door shut.

The private room instantly fell silent.

“Everybody, dig in.”

Sean took his cutleries and gestured to the crowd.

Although Sean was calm, he seemed smug to everyone.

Seriously? How could he not be smug?

Gunther had just said Sean did not have what it took to take down other companies.

Within a minute of saying that, these two powerful companies came apologizing and begging Sean for mercy.

Who was to say now that Sean did not have what it took to bring down other companies?

He could take down Gunther and the rest's company just as easily as those two companies.

"Mr. Lennon, is this a threat?"

Gunther was silent for a moment. Then he asked with a somewhat pale face.

"What do you think?"

Sean indifferently asked Gunther in reply without looking at him.

"You!"

Gunther froze before gritting his teeth again.

Sean's attitude upset him to the core.

"Don't worry. This is just a starter.

"There's more to come."

Sean gently put down his cutlery, the corners of his lips meaningful.

The crowd froze again at this.

Taking down two corporations in half an hour was just a starter?

What would the finale be?

Was Sean going to take down all seven of their companies?

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1403

Chapter 1403

“Let me ask you again.

“How are you going to choose?”

Sean asked, tapping on the table and looking at the crowd.

The crowd looked at each other and saw the hesitation in each other’s eyes.

They did not hesitate to reject Sean when he first asked such a thing.

However, none of them dared be the first to say no.

Even Gunther fell silent.

“Will we be brought down if we don’t choose Lennon Real Estate?”

Gunther was the first to speak after a moment’s silence.

“What do you think?”

Sean asked again in reply with an amused expression.

“That’s right!

“Either you submit yourselves or get brought down.

“In a word, those who follow us will prosper, and those who oppose us will perish!”

Without waiting for Gunther to speak, Sean added bluntly.

Hearing Sean’s arrogant speech, everyone was shocked..

If Sean had been subtle earlier, he now made no secret of his ambition!

He told everyone that they either leave Billion Trees and cooperate with Lennon Real Estate or have Lennon Real Estate bring them down.

They had no other choice.

Some people were shocked, some were scared, and some were angry.

After all, they were businessmen worth hundreds of millions of dollars. They were billionaires regular people admired the most!

However, Sean threatened them once they disagreed with him. What did he take them for?

Did he think they had never been threatened before?

“Seven of us together wouldn’t necessarily be a match for Lennon Real Estate.

“Where did you get the confidence to say that?”

Gunther gritted his teeth slightly and said to Sean with a cold snort.

“Do you mean you want to go against Lennon Real Estate?”

Sean indifferently asked Gunther, unfazed.

“You might not be able to get much of an advantage if we fight.”

Gunther paused for a second before saying coldly.

“Is that what you mean?”

Sean slowly turned to look at the others again.

Gunther sneered. He believed others would feel the same way.

However, everyone else lowered their heads when Sean asked them.

Every time Sean looked at someone, that person lowered their head and said nothing.

It was the opposite of what Gunther imagined.

“Speak up...”

Gunther instantly panicked when he saw that something was wrong.

He thought he would get a lot of support as soon as he spoke up.

However, no one else spoke, and he was all alone. Would he not have made himself a target?

As the saying went, “The target would always be the one to be hit.” There was no way he alone could defeat Lennon Real Estate!

However, the crowd said nothing after Gunther urged them.

It made Gunther even more uncertain.

“We’ve been working together for years. You know how I am.

“You’d rather believe him than me?”

Gunther asked, gritting his teeth slightly and looking at the crowd.

As soon as he spoke, the crowd changed their mind subtly.

After all, what Gunther said was true.

Their companies had been working together for a long time and were very close to each other.

At least they had a certain understanding of each other's strengths and capabilities.

What about Sean?

They had only met Sean for the second time today.

They did not know anything about Sean's history or background.

Therefore, they trusted Gunther more by contrast.

"Mr. Joller, what are you saying?"

"We've worked with you for years, Mr. Joller. We believe you, of course."

"Yes, yes, yes! Let's continue working together!"

Everyone expressed their attitude instantly.

A man and a woman even sat down next to Gunther.

Their attitudes were also self-evident

"There is no need to put on a show in front of me.

"I only want one word from you. I'm up for it anytime if you want to go against me.

"If you want a fight, we can fight right now."

Sean bent his fingers and tapped on the table, looking calmly at the crowd.

That sentence made everyone shut up and fall silent again.

Sean was ready for war. What about them?

Everyone but Gunther and the man and the woman hesitated again.

After a long silence, they slowly lowered his head.

They had to admit that they had a hard time feeling confident when facing Sean.

Even if they knew nothing about Sean's past, they did not expect Sean to afford five billion dollars.

These billionaires were well-known in Joules Town.

Sean spent five billion dollars as casually as spending fifty dollars.

How was that comparable? How were they going to fight Sean?

Therefore, the four people wisely chose to lower their heads and gave in.

Only Gunther and the two stood their ground.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1404

Chapter 1404

Anyway, the three of their companies joining forces could not be much worse.

They did not believe Sean could bring down their three companies and Billion Trees Real Estate.

"I see you've made your choice."

Sean glanced at the group of seven and nodded gently.

All seven had expressed their attitudes.

Except for Gunther and the two, everyone else was on Sean's side.

"Sean, don't get ahead of yourself.

"Our three companies have the closest relationship with Billion Trees Real Estate.

"If you touch us, Billion Trees Real Estate will never stand idly by. Unless you want to kill yourself!"

Gunther snorted coldly, his voice threatening.

"Billion Trees Real Estate?"

"They're on their own. Do you think Jimmy will save you?"

There was a hint of disdain on the corner of Sean's lips.

"Hahaha!

"What a joke!"

Gunther froze before bursting into laughter.

The man and the woman next to him also smiled disdainfully.

It was because Sean's statement was ridiculous.

Although they believed Sean had the power to bring down all three companies.

They would never believe that Sean could bring down Billion Trees Real Estate.

Billion Trees Real Estate was worth billions of dollars.

It had been in Joules Town for nearly 20 years and was well-connected.

Jimmy was also very close to Henry, a big shot in the government.

They could not imagine what Sean had to offer to fight Billion Trees Real Estate.

“Why do you think Mr. Lennon invited you to dinner here?”

Zander glanced at the group and said.

“Tell us why.”

Gunther asked Zander with disdain.

“Because the show is about to begin.”

Zander shook his head slightly and looked out of the window.

The Billion Trees Real Estate building opposite was visible through this wide floor-to-ceiling window.

The crowd followed Zander’s gaze and were puzzled.

‘What show?’

‘Is there going to be some great change in Billion Trees Real Estate tonight?’

“That’s enough. Stop playing tricks!”

“And I’m not afraid to tell you, Mr. Zackman in the government is a good friend of Mr. Lidell. They’re very close.

“Billion Trees Real Estate can’t get this far without Mr. Zackman’s help.

“How dare you go after Mr. Zackman’s people? How many lives do you have to die?”

Gunther snorted coldly and asked as he looked at Sean.

The two people next to him also nodded.

Sean was rich, but this society was not just about money.

Power always came first.

Unless Sean could find someone more powerful than Henry to help him.

Otherwise, there was nothing Sean could do about Jimmy as long as Henry was willing to protect Jimmy.

“It doesn’t matter how daring I am.

“The important thing is that if I want to destroy Billion Trees, Billion Trees will be destroyed.”

Sean picked up his wine glass. His gaze was playful.

“Hahaha! I’d like to see what you’re gonna show me today.

“Don’t end up being a clown yourself instead. That’s just backfiring on...”

Gunther laughed again and was about to speak.

However, he suddenly swallowed the rest of his speech before he could finish.

It was because out of the corner of his eye, he suddenly saw several cars in front of the Billion Trees Real Estate building.

It was not unusual for cars to show up.

However, the cars had police lights on, and they were flashing red and blue.

Something was wrong!

Seeing Gunther's reaction, the crowd turned their heads to look out the window.

It was already nighttime.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1405

Chapter 1405

It was as though the business district was brightly lit like daylight.

However, the blinding police lights were eye-catching.

Swoosh!

Gunther got up and went to the window to watch.

There were about eight cars-all of which had stopped in front of the Billion Trees Real Estate building's entrance.

Besides that, the eight cars belonged to three divisions of the government.

These three divisions were responsible for overseeing the business circle.

Industry and commerce, tax administration, market supervision and management...
Gunther and the rest were nervous when they saw these government staff.

It was because no one could start a company without some dirt and illegal practices.

In short, no one could get that rich without taking some crooked ways.

They were safe when they did not check, but they would find something if they checked them.

Today, these three divisions came to Billion Trees Real Estate at the same time, and why?

“Look, the show is about to begin.”

Sean took a sip of his wine and said indifferently.

Swoosh!

The five men and two women turned their heads to look at Sean.

Was this what Sean wanted to show them?

“Well...”

Many people’s hearts raced at this time.

Was Sean capable of doing that?

Could he even handle Henry?

No one was sure, but they were in no rush to speak.

They were not going to say anything until they were clear about what was going on.

The doors of the eight cars opened, and one uniformed staff after another stepped out.

Besides that, their goal was clear as they headed straight for the Billion Trees Real Estate building.

The few security guards at the entrance did not even have the guts to stop them.

Meanwhile, Jimmy was still talking to his assistant in his office.

Normally, he would be out drinking and socializing.

However, Billion Trees Real Estate had been greatly affected by Sean's continuous efforts in the past two days.

Therefore Jimmy had to settle things in the company.

"How are things?"

Jimmy asked as he looked at his assistant, cigar in hand.

"Mr. Lidell, it's all done.

"Lennon Real Estate is doomed this time."

The assistant grinned, his face smug.

"Haha! Not bad!"

Jimmy took a drag on his cigar, feeling happy.

Starting tomorrow, all of his plans would be in motion.

He was confident that Lennon Real Estate would be evicted from Joules Town with Sean within three days.

"How dare you fight me, punk?"

“I’ll make sure you admit your defeat this time!”

There was something cruel in Jimmy’s eyes.

The assistant nodded gently before glancing at the female secretary nearby and hurriedly turned around to say goodbye.

Usually, the female secretary would have a lot of work to do when Jimmy was in a good or bad mood.

Sure enough, Jimmy motioned at the secretary as soon as the assistant left.

The secretary was pretty and had a good figure.

She was dressed in a small black dress with a pair of Balenciaga black stockings. Any normal man would be tempted at the sight of her.

“Come here!”

Jimmy grabbed the female secretary and pulled her into his arms.

The strong smell of perfume intensified Jimmy’s ideas.

The female secretary moaned and pretended to be shy.

Thump!

Just then, the door was forced open.

Then the assistant, who had just gone out, ran inside in a panic.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1406

Chapter 1406

“What the f*ck are you doing?”

Jimmy was furious as he was interrupted.

“Mr. Lidell, downstairs... downstairs...”

The assistant was so nervous that he stuttered.

“Get the f*ck out of here!

“Nothing will be as important right now! F*ck off!”

Jimmy shouted exasperatedly, pointing to the door.

There was the call of nature, but Jimmy’s urgent issue could not wait.

How could Jimmy not be furious that his assistant stopped him when he was about to have his way?

“But, Mr. Lidell, it’s...”

The assistant stood still, trying to speak.

However, Jimmy interrupted him again as soon as he spoke.

“I told you to get the f*ck out of here!

“Didn’t you f*cking hear me?”

Jimmy shouted as he slammed his hand on the table and pointed at his assistant.

He was so furious that the veins in his neck bulged.

“Fine! I’ll leave.”

The assistant’s face darkened before he turned and walked out.

Jimmy would not let him talk, so he did what he wanted.

Anyway, the worst thing that would happen was him losing a job, but Jimmy would lose a lot of things.

“That b*stard!

“Did I hire all those executives for nothing? Do I have to do everything myself?”

Jimmy was still a little mad after his assistant left.

“Oh, calm down, dear.

“Don’t let little things interfere with our business.”

The female secretary slowly walked forward and put her hand on Jimmy’s chest to comfort him.

Jimmy enjoyed it as he looked happy.

Jimmy smiled obscenely as he held the woman into his arms again.

He hugged the woman with a tiny waist, long legs, and a good figure.

No man could help it.

There was some disgust in the woman’s eyes, as well as some pride.

After all, she felt a sense of accomplishment to have a businessman worth billions of dollars worship at her feet.

'Sure enough, men are all the same.

'The so-called rich only have more money than the average person.

'They were also humans.'

The woman thought proudly.

Jimmy's mind was full of indescribable things.

He had no idea that Billion Trees Real Estate was in dire straits while he was enjoying himself.

The Billion Trees Real Estate building was stormed thoroughly.

They started from the ground floor, checking every executive office and every part of the company.

Especially the company's finance department. They arrested staff and seized evidence.

A young man in charge of finance was caught before he could destroy any evidence against the company.

His phone was confiscated while he was handcuffed.

There was no way they could contact the outside world.

The number of people arrested from the ground floor was also increasing.

At first, some people wanted to resist and even shouted at the staff.

However, they chickened out when the evidence was presented to them.

After all, they knew what Billion Trees Real Estate had done.

They had nothing to be afraid of because Jimmy usually had their backs.

However, they had predicted what would happen to them as solid evidence was presented one by one.

In a word, you had nothing to be guilty of if you did nothing wrong.

Jimmy had done many immoral things while accumulating his wealth with Billion Trees Real Estate. They knew that clearly.

Therefore, the crowd gave up fighting and was taken away.

When the staff arrived outside Jimmy's office, they had already arrested nearly 20 of the company's senior executives.

"This is Mr. Lidell's office."

The vice president of Billion Trees Real Estate pointed to Jimmy's office while hanging his head low.

Several workers glanced at each other and pushed the door open.

Armed with solid evidence, they were here to arrest Jimmy.

They were not only here to ask Jimmy about some things, so they were not going to be so tactful.

The door opened, and what was going on inside was suddenly revealed.

"My eyes!"

Several female staff immediately turned around and walked out.

"F*ck off!"

Jimmy shouted behind him without turning his head around.

He thought his assistant was disturbing him again.

However, instead of hearing his assistant reply, he heard several clicks of the camera shutter.

Click! Click!

With the camera's built-in flash, Jimmy sobered up instantly.

Swoosh!

Jimmy stopped and turned his head around sharply.

He only saw five to six uniformed staff looking over from the door.

Swoosh!

Jimmy paled instantly as his head buzzed.

"Ah!"

The female secretary screamed before hurriedly pushing Jimmy away and hiding under the desk.

However, the body cameras that the staff wore recorded the scene.

There were some things that many people did, but it was all right as long as they did not get caught.

However, once you were exposed, everyone would see the ugly truth.

No law could constrain Jimmy from doing such a thing with his secretary.

However, as the boss of such a big company, it was natural that it would have a great impact on the company if he did something morally damaging.

“Mr. Lidell, you’re having fun.”

A staff said casually.

Jimmy’s expression looked a little ghastly, but he took his time to fix his clothes.

It was embarrassing to have someone walk in on something like this, but it was not illegal, so he was not too nervous.

“What are you doing here?”

After Jimmy fixed his clothes, he picked up another cigar and lit it.

It was as if what just happened was nothing.

“With approval from the higher-ups, you’re under arrest to assist us in an investigation.

“This is the arrest warrant.”

The staff slowly pulled out an arrest warrant and held it up to him.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1407

Chapter 1407

“What?”

Jimmy’s hand shuddered as he turned his head around in disbelief.

However, he soon calmed down.

“Are you kidding?”

“What are you arresting me for?”

Jimmy asked, frowning slightly and taking a drag on his cigar.

“Mr. Lidell, we have enough evidence since we came.

“So let’s not waste each other’s time. What do you think?”

The staff was polite.

However, Jimmy snorted coldly, his face full of disdain.

“Evidence? What evidence?”

“What did I do to get arrested when I’m only running my company well?”

Jimmy leaned against his desk, confident.

If Billion Trees Real Estate was so easy to deal with, would Jimmy have the fortune he had now?

“Just the taxes alone. Billion Trees Real Estate has evaded 20 million dollars over the year.

“Did you know that, Mr. Lidell?”

The staff in charge of tax administration said as they held a document.

Jimmy's heart sank when he heard this.

He was in charge of it himself. How could he not know?

They had found him. It seemed they had found their bills.

There was no point in Jimmy arguing anymore.

"I admit there were tax problems because there was something wrong with the bills.

"I accept my punishment even though it was a careless mistake.

"I'll make up for all the missed taxes and overdue fines."

Jimmy waved his hand, his tone indifferent.

"It seems you haven't realized how serious this is."

A middle-aged man shook his head slightly, finding Jimmy ridiculous.

"How serious?"

"How serious is it? It's just 20 million dollars in missed taxes? Can you arrest me just because of that?"

Jimmy sneered. He knew Sean hired these people, so he was rude.

"According to Article 201 of Dragon Kingdom's criminal law, those who evade huge amounts of tax will be sentenced to fixed-term imprisonment of three to seven years and fined.

“Mr. Lidell, it’s time to learn the law.”

The middle-aged man smiled indifferently before waving at the people behind him.

Swoosh!

Two staff stepped forward, handcuffs still in hand.

“What are you doing?”

“What do you want?”

“I’m willing to pay back the taxes and overdue fines.

“The most you can do is give me an administrative punishment. You can’t raise it to criminal responsibility!”

Jimmy finally panicked after seeing this.

“Cooperate. Don’t make things hard for yourself.”

The middle-aged man frowned slightly and said to Jimmy.

“I’m already cooperating. You’re the one making a fuss.

“There’s something wrong with the company’s taxes. I will ask the company’s legal department to contact you.

“You have no power to arrest me.”

Jimmy said with a cold snort, pushing one of the staff away.

A trace of impatience finally appeared in the middle-aged man’s eyes.

“Do I have to explain what you’ve done, Jimmy Lidell?”

“Colluding with underworld members, causing trouble, expropriating land for development and violent transformation.”

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1408

Chapter 1408

“The compensation you offered isn’t enough. You promised to deliver fully-furnished units only to deliver roughcast units. If the unit owners complained, you beat them up until they were hospitalized.

“Isn’t this what Billion Trees did?”

“Do I have to tell you everything one by one?”

The middle-aged man picked up a pile of papers and slammed them in Jimmy’s face.

This pile of papers was all about Billion Trees Real Estate.

There were even clear photos.

It was all evidence!

When Jimmy saw this, his cigar fell to the ground with a splat.

There was instantly a hole in the expensive cashmere carpet, and the pungent smell of burning followed.

Jimmy’s heart beat faster.

He knew he was late.

The real estate industry was chaotic in the early years.

There were contractors stealing money and running away. The workers could not even get their hard-earned money when they had worked for a year.

Developers were jerry-rigging, creating poor-quality buildings, and selling them at high prices.

In short, real estate development was a mess in the early years.

The industry had also spawned millionaires and billionaires.

Jimmy had been in the business for a long time, so he had done many bad things as he made a name for himself in it.

It was only during these years when all the laws and regulations were introduced that Jimmy became more obedient.

However, he had done a lot of infuriating things before.

Jimmy thought it had been so long ago that it had been forgotten.

However, those things were brought to the surface again.

Many people wanted to erase those "dirt" after becoming famous and successful.

However, never do it in the first place if you did not want anybody to know.

Nothing could run from the law, and Jimmy was probably doomed today.

"Are you going to continue arguing?"

"Two years ago, you seized land by force. You forcibly bulldozed a house, killing a family of three. Can you still deny it?"

The more the middle-aged man said, the angrier he became.

"It was an accident, and I paid them compensation..."

Jimmy quickly looked up to explain.

"You can explain these things to the public when you go to court.

"I'm not interested in wasting my time with you. Handcuff him and take him away!"

The middle-aged man waved his hand as two workers stepped forward and snapped the handcuffs on Jimmy.

Click!

A crisp locking sound was heard, and the cold handcuffs closed around Jimmy's wrists.

Jimmy's heart sank at that moment.

He also knew what he had done in the past would be revealed once he was taken away.

He was probably doomed this time!

"Let go of me! I want to make a phone call!

"I want to make a phone call! It's my right!"

Jimmy pushed the two staff away again. Then he grabbed his phone from the desk with both hands.

There was no doubt that he wanted to call Henry.

He was handcuffed, but that did not stop him from dialing.

However, the middle-aged man looked playful as he picked up the arrest warrant again.

As soon as the middle-aged man spoke, Jimmy paused and quickly looked at the signature.

Henry’s name was there.

It meant Henry knew about Jimmy’s arrest.

Besides that, Henry’s signature was not the only one on it. There were also the signatures of two big shots.

The three were going to uproot the black sheep called Billion Trees Real Estate!

Jimmy was now in complete panic.

Chapter 1409

Although he and Henry were on good terms, they were only friends.

Jimmy had helped Old Madam Zackman find a traditional doctor, which relieved many of Old Madam Zackman's symptoms.

Henry remembered his kindness, so he was nice to Jimmy.

However, Henry never accepted anything from Jimmy.

Besides that, while helping Jimmy, he only told him about some business opportunities in advance rather than covering for him.

Therefore, there was nothing Jimmy could do if Henry would not help Jimmy.

"I want to make a phone call. I want to make a phone call!"

Jimmy's palms were shaking uncontrollably.

"Hello, I'm Jimmy Lidell!"

As soon as the call came through, Jimmy exposed his identity.

"I'm sorry. Give me a chance. I won't do it again. I'm willing to work with Lennon Real Estate!"

Jimmy apologized and begged for mercy before the other party could speak.

Yes. He called Sean.

However, Sean sneered.

"Isn't it a little late to realize your mistake?"

Sean's tone was calm as he replied indifferently.

"I'm sorry! I won't do it again. I'm sorry."

“Spare me!”

Jimmy gritted his teeth and apologized again.

“You don’t have to apologize to me.

“You owe an apology to those you injured and killed.”

Sean finished speaking and hung up.

Jimmy put down his phone in a daze.

What did Sean do?

Sean did not collude with anyone.

He just went out of his way to collect evidence of Billion Trees Real Estate’s crimes and handed it over to the relevant government division.

If Jimmy had not done these things, his company would not have been punished.

However, Sean had found out all the things he had done before.

Jimmy had no way to escape

‘Come on

The middle-aged man waved his hand and turned around to go downstairs with Jimmy and the rest.

At the same time.

Milan Hotel’s private room opposite the Billion Trees Real Estate building.

Sean slowly put down his phone and picked up his cutlery again.

Gunther and the rest look at Sean with complicated looks on their faces.

“Why do you think these people are there?”

“They’re not there to talk business with Jimmy, are they?”

Sean sat still and asked indifferently.

“You! You!”

“How dare you go after Billion Trees? Aren’t you afraid of Mr. Zackman going after you?”

Gunther had mixed feelings.

“Mr. Zackman is a good government official.

“I’m removing Joules Town’s black sheep. Mr. Zackman will want to thank me.”

Sean smiled faintly and replied casually.

Gunther and the rest looked at each other.

However, they remain unconvinced that Billion Trees Real Estate would collapse so easily.

As the saying went, a lean camel was still bigger than a horse.

Billion Trees Real Estate was worth billions of dollars. How could it be brought down so easily?

Jimmy could not have been taken down so easily, could he?

Gunther and the rest had the same idea in mind.

However, it was not long before they changed their minds.

By this time, many people had gathered at the Billion Trees Real Estate building.

As a famous “star enterprise” in Joules Town’s business circle, Billion Trees Real Estate attracted a lot of attention.

Having so many government vehicles here naturally attracted the attention of many busybodies.

There were hundreds of onlookers.

It was not long before the government staff came out with Jimmy and the rest.

Jimmy was handcuffed along with nearly 20 of the company’s senior executives. They lowered their heads in silence.

*Hess!”

Gunther and the rest gasped at the sight of it.

Jimmy was not only arrested, but he was also handcuffed.

What did that mean?

Chapter 1410

It meant they had found sufficient evidence of crime against Billion Trees Real Estate!

Gunther and the rest went a little pale at that moment.

“Oh? Isn’t that the owner of Billion Trees Real Estate?”

"It's him. Didn't he hold a press conference yesterday and the day before yesterday?"

"Yes, he also said he'll solve the problem with the unfinished buildings. How did he end up being arrested?"

"D*mn it! Good job! My uncle bought their property, and their property management division beat him up and put him in the hospital."

Countless people around discussed.

Besides that, many people even applauded.

Billion Trees Real Estate had done so many things against reason and nature.

However, they had a lot of money and connections, so they suppressed it in the end.

At best, they paid money to settle things.

Many people were scared of Billion Trees Real Estate's power and could only swallow their anger and say nothing

The sight of the villain being handcuffed elated many.

"Good! Good job!"

"We'll see how Billion Trees Real Estate continue bullying others!"

"Karma will eventually hit you. I can't believe this happened to Billion Trees too."

Applause broke out all around.

The staff arresting Jimmy held their heads high, proud.

After all, the defeat of a villain was something to be proud of and celebrated.

After everyone got into the cars, the Billion Trees Real Estate building, which had been brightly lit, suddenly turned off all its lights and plunged into darkness.

Smack!

Thud!

Once the staff cleared out, police tape from different divisions were also pasted on the company

entrance.

It was an indefinite closure order.

As the lights went out, it also symbolized the end of the Billion Trees Real Estate's era.

The car started, and Jimmy and the rest were taken straight away.

A building without lights fell into silence.

Gunther and the rest were silent as they witnessed everything.

They had already figured out what would happen to Jimmy and Billion Trees Real Estate.

Some things were fine if the government did not look into them.

However, it would be a big deal if they did!

As Jimmy's loyal partners, they had heard about Billion Trees Real Estate.

Billion Trees Real Estate not only had issues involving money but also had all sorts of law violations. Any case could cripple Jimmy for years.

Jimmy was ruined.

Billion Trees Real Estate was also ruined.

What would happen to Billion Trees Real Estate that they relied upon?

The crowd slowly turned to look at Sean.

The four people who chose to be on Sean's side felt better.

However, Gunther and the other two panicked!

"Mr. Lennon, you're tough.

"We enjoyed this show

"But none of this has anything to do with us."

Gunther gritted his teeth slightly, deciding to strike first.

"Karma will eventually hit you.

"Would god have mercy?"

Sean picked up a glass of red wine, looked at it, and said indifferently.

Hearing Sean's meaningful words, Gunther and the rest felt even more unsure.

"Mr. Lennon, we gotta go if there's nothing else.

"We'll get together again sometime."

Gunther was silent for a moment before leaving the land of trouble.

However, Sean was holding a glass of wine and looking at Gunther's back playfully.

"I can find the shitty things Billion Trees Real Estate did ten years ago.

"I can find yours too."

Sean gently shook his wine glass. What he said made everyone feel like falling into an ice cave

Swoosh!

Gunther stood still for a few seconds before turning around and walking toward Sean.

Thump!

The next second, Gunther faced Sean and got down on his knees.

"Mr. Lennon, I'm sorry. Give me a chance!"

Gunther was no longer haughty like earlier.
