

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1411 - 1420

Chapter 1411

Everyone in the private room froze.

None of them expected Gunther to kneel before Sean.

After all, Gunther was known for his stubbornness.

If he panicked, he would lose his temper, even disregarding Jimmy.

How could someone like that kneel before Sean?

Forget about his character. Gunther was also a billionaire!

He had hundreds of millions of dollars, and a young man in his 20s like Sean overpowered him.

Was Gunther too weak, or was Sean too strong?

There was no doubt that no one would think Gunther was too weak

If Gunther was not weak, it meant Sean was too strong.

"Do you admit your mistake now?"

Sean held a glass of wine as he gently shook it.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Lennon. Forgive me for once"

Gunther nodded his head repeatedly, no longer as haughty as before.

“What did you do wrong?”

Sean indifferently asked again, taking a sip of wine.

“I shouldn’t have been disrespectful to you.

“Nor should I pretend to be someone I’m not. It’s my fault...”

“Please be the bigger person, Mr. Lennon!”

Gunther lowered his head again, very humble.

“Haha.”

However, Sean sneered at Gunther’s statement.

That sneer made Gunther’s back break out in a sweat

He could hear the indifference and meaningfulness in Sean’s laugh.

At the same time, he remembered something Sean had just said.

If he could find out the dirt on Billion Trees Real Estate, he could also find out what Gunther and the rest had done.

The sentence was a hint and a threat!

None of these company owners were innocent, especially those who started in the early years.

It was just that some crimes were serious, and some were not too serious.

In short, everyone present had some questionable dirt to one degree or another.

They thought they could cover it up and make it go away.

Sean had even brought down Jimmy. People like them were nothing to him.

“Mr. Lennon, we’re sorry too.

“We would love to work with Lennon Real Estate.

“We’ll be the first to disagree with anyone going against Lennon Real Estate from now on!”

The rest also expressed their opinions.

They did not kneel like Gunther, but they bowed heavily at Sean.

It would be unbelievable to others if they saw this.

In terms of age, these seven people were all over 40 years old-they could be Sean’s elders.

In terms of status, all seven of them were billionaires, regardless of their gender.

However, at their age and status, they bowed and kneeled at Sean, a young man in his twenties.

People found it hard to accept such a grand gesture.

Whether you accepted it or not, it was what it was.

They found it a little embarrassing.

However, the humiliation was nothing compared to the fate of their companies.

If Sean could do that to Billion Trees, he would be able to uproot Gunther and the rest too.

By then, they would all be bankrupt and might even end up on the streets with tens of millions of dollars in debt.

No one would hesitate to submit to Sean if they could avoid that outcome with some humiliation.

These billionaires were not fools. They knew what decisions to make and when.

Integrity, dignity, and face were nothing Cash was king in a society where money was the priority.

The seven people submitted.

With Billion Trees Real Estate shut down, their confidence collapsed instantly

In short, if Sean had what it took to bring down Jimmy, bringing them down was easier.

They could only submit to him if they did not want to be brought down.

The private room fell into silence again.

The seven were waiting for Sean's reaction.

Zander nearby was also overwhelmed.

Sean arrived in Joules Town in less than ten days

He had done countless shocking things in such a short period.

He even intimidated countless business big-shots and billionaires

Zander was genuinely impressed

Zander was involved in a lot of Sean's plans.

However, Zander did not even know what Sean was trying to do sometimes.

Zander did not understand Sean's ambition until all this came together today.

Billion Trees Real Estate thought Sean was fighting them because he had a grudge against them.

Sean was only using Billion Trees Real Estate as a stepping stone.

Taking over seven billion-dollar companies was probably Sean's goal.

No!

Maybe that was not Sean's ultimate goal either.

His goal was probably to take over Joules Town

The more Zander thought about it, the more emotional he was

Sean was still the same.

He was a little less aggressive than he was two or three years ago.

He no longer had the exalted status of a nine-star commander either

However, he was still farsighted. It was amazing.

"Go home."

Sean took a sip of wine and said indifferently.

"Huh?"

Everyone was stunned to hear that.

What did Sean mean by that?

They waited for an answer from Sean, and all they got was to go home.

Was Sean going to give them a chance, or was he going to go after them?

"Mr. Lennon, we're really sorry

"Give us a chance. We'll never do it again!

"Besides that, I, Gunther Joller, am willing to be at Mr. Lennon's beck and call. I'll have no other intentions!"

Gunther quickly walked on his knees, closing some distance with Sean.

"We're willing to be at your beck and call too, Mr. Lennon. We'll have no other intentions!"

The six other middle-aged men and women also spoke.

"I'll think about it.

"I'll contact you later."

Sean was silent for two seconds before speaking again.

"Well

They were a little confused by Sean's answer

However, they dared not force Sean to answer!

Therefore, they could only nod in agreement

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1412

Chapter 1412

“Mr. Lennon, please consider us. We’ll leave you alone.

“Feel free to contact us if you need anything.”

Gunther and the rest got up slowly before leaving the private room.

“Commander, congratulations that your plan worked!”

Zander immediately walked over and locked the door before congratulating Sean.

Sean waved his hand slightly, his attitude nonchalant.

It was just an essential part of his plan.

Besides that, what Billion Trees Real Estate did was against reason and nature, so eradicating them was also what everyone wanted.

Zane was a big shot in Joules Town’s real estate industry.

Even he wanted to wipe out Billion Trees at any cost, so you could imagine how unlikable Jimmy was.

Therefore, Sean did not do much. Jimmy brought it onto himself.

Jimmy had planted countless bombs, but no one had dared to detonate them.

Sean had the nerve to detonate them without a second thought.

It would blow Jimmy and Billion Trees Real Estate to smithereens.

“Commander, I know Jimmy can’t beat you.

“But I didn’t expect you to do this...”

Zander said, pointing to Gunther and the rest’s seats earlier.

“Billion Trees will be brought down anyway.

“We need to maximize the benefits, of course.”

Sean smiled. He would not only break up Billion Trees but also bring more benefits to Lennon Real Estate with Billion Trees’ dissolution.

“Commander, you’re just as tactical as ever.

“But there’s one thing I don’t understand.

“If the Gunther has shown their submission, why don’t we strike while the iron is hot...”

Zander looked at Sean as he asked in confusion.

He was beginning to understand business.

The business world was like the battlefield. The two also had many things in common.

You needed to lay out plans for the battlefield and the business world.

The biggest difference was that the opponent on the battlefield was armed with swords and guns, while the weapon of the opponents in business was money and power.

Zander thought of the saying on the battlefield called following up a victory with hot pursuit.

1/3

It was also applicable to the business circle!

Gunther and the rest had already shown their surrender. Why did Sean not take advantage of the situation and strike while the iron was hot?

"You don't get it?"

Sean put down his wine glass and asked with a smile.

"I don't."

Zander touched his chin and nodded obediently.

"Wait a little longer, and you'll get it.

"Come on. Let's go home and rest.

"We're not needed for the rest of the show."

Sean chuckled, picked up his phone, and slowly got up.

"Yes!"

Zander quickly replied before following Sean.

When they got downstairs, Zander tried to pay the bill, but Sean stopped him.

Gunther and the rest would not be billionaires if they waited for Sean to settle the bill.

It was indeed the case.

Gunther and the rest almost got into a fight over the bill when they came downstairs earlier.

"Commander, it's our treat, but they're happy being the ones paying."

Zander got into the driver's seat. He felt good about taking advantage of them.

“Let’s head back to the office. We’ll stay there for two days.”

Sean laughed and shook his head before whispering.

“Yes!”

Zander replied before stepping on the gas.

Joules Town was a bustling city.

As an ancient capital, its economy had always been good.

Although it used to be destroyed by war, it still stood tall after years.

On the contrary, it developed better

Joules Town joined Dragon Kingdom’s list of famous cities that never sleep.

Although it was close to midnight, the city was still busy.

A lively atmosphere was set off by people. Therefore, many people in Joules Town were still awake.

What would no rest lead to?

It made information travel faster.

Therefore, what happened to Billion Trees Real Estate was also quickly publicized.

Billion Trees Real Estate’s headquarters was shut down, and its subsidiaries and real estate branches were under investigation.

If the parent company was under investigation, what good could happen to the subsidiaries?

It was the final night for Billion Trees Real Estate.

It was also Jimmy's last day as a billionaire.

Because he was about to face huge fines, penalty fees from various companies, bank loans, and employee salaries...

There was no doubt that Jimmy would go from wealthy to penniless after tonight.

The company owners in Janestown's business circle, who wanted to sit back and watch the battle, were stunned to hear the news.

None of them thought that the final result would be the downfall of Billion Trees.

What the hell was Sean capable of?

Who was he to be able to blow Billion Trees Real Estate apart in just three or two days?

Sean paying a whopping five billion dollars for the land shocked countless people.

However, they were only shocked.

Because if you wanted to make your business big, money could not be the only thing you have.

You also needed connections and power.

Lennon Real Estate was a new company with no background in Joules Town.

Therefore, many people looked down on them.

Many people were disdainful when they heard Lennon Real Estate was going after Billion Trees Real Estate.

They thought Sean would lose and that it would only be Lennon Real Estate who would eventually lose or even be kicked out of Joules Town's business circle.

However, what lay in front of them slapped them in the face.

Lennon Real Estate was still standing tall.

Instead, the Billion Trees they had pinned their high hopes on had fallen apart overnight.

The result also caused dramatic changes in many people's thinking.

It was a sleepless night.

There was no telling what else Jimmy had up his sleeves.

After all, there was no way Billion Trees Real Estate had no emergency measures when it had been in Joules Town for more than a decade.

Therefore, some people thought Jimmy might have left something behind that he did not use.

Anyway, it depended on that night.

If Jimmy could survive this, Lennon Real Estate would be in danger.

If he failed, Lennon Real Estate would replace his company.

It would even get to the top of Joules Town's real estate industry by stepping on them.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1413

Chapter 1413

No one could predict the outcome.

However, the mindset of the big shots of Joules Town's business circle had changed.

They thought Sean was doomed.

However, Sean and Jimmy were now tied at 50-50.

Tonight was important.

They had to wait until tomorrow to get the results.

Therefore, those old foxes held back their opinions.

It was foolish to take sides at this time.

If they lost the best, it was over.

At the same time.

An upscale neighborhood in Joules Town.

Everyone residing in this neighborhood was rich or aristocratic.

Small townhouses were at the front, while detached villas were at the back.

You would have to be worth hundreds of millions of dollars to live here, even if it was only a small townhouse at the front.

The villa area at the back was all the more expensive. Many people might not afford it after struggling all their lives.

However, others could not afford it, but Jimmy had swindled a lot of money over the years. Therefore, he could afford one, of course.

A sports car lurched along and stopped in front of a villa.

Then a young girl slowly pushed the car door to get off.

The girl was in her twenties. She was beautiful, but her outfit was too revealing.

She wore a tiny camisole. Her navel and small waist were all exposed.

The girl was Jimmy's daughter, Jane.

She grew up with Willow and met Sean a few times.

Jane tipsily touched her forehead as she walked into the villa.

Her Bluetooth earphones were flickering. She seemed to be talking to someone on the phone.

"Demi, guess what?

"I ran into Willow's loser boyfriend the other day.

"I realize that birds of a feather really do flock together! Willow is so good at faking that she found a boyfriend who's even better at faking than her."

Jane put one hand on the wall as she shook her shoes off. Then she removed the black stockings on her legs before stumbling into the living room.

"He went to Joules Town?

"No wonder... I haven't seen him in a while."

Demi froze before nodding thoughtfully.

"Yeah. There's no room for him in River City, so he came to Joules Town."

Jane sat down on the couch and said with a sneer.

“Well...

“Never mind him. You’d better not get too involved with him.”

Demi was silent for a few seconds before giving a subtle warning.

“Tsk! Why would I get involved with him?”

“Isn’t he just a loser? He even talked about bringing down my dad’s company. How arrogant?”

“What’s so proud of stealing a piece of land from us?”

‘TI

my dad wants it, the land will still be ours, and he will also be kicked out of Joules Town.” Jane sounded proud when she said this.

It was as if her father, Jimmy, was the head of Joules Town. Everything he said went.

“Jane, let me tell you something.

“Your father’s company is powerful, but I suggest you leave him alone...”

Demi was silent for a few seconds before saying with a sigh.

She despised Willow and Sean even more than Jane did.

However, Sean convinced her after everything that happened.

Sean was wealthy.

Sean was powerful.

Sean knew many big shots in the entire River City, from top to bottom and including the government and the underworld.

He was not someone Demi could mess with!

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1414

Chapter 1414

Therefore, she was scared to slander Sean and Willow now.

"Demi, have you lost your mind?"

"That's not what you said before!"

"Didn't you tell me Willow has a cripple fiancé?"

"What's the matter? Does Sean have some scary background?"

Jane frowned slightly at Demi's words.

Demi told her that Willow had a cripple fiancé.

Although Sean recovered later, he still had no background or family.

It was why she was contemptuous when she saw Willow and Sean.

"Anyway... He's not as simple as we think

"I didn't know earlier..."

Demi was silent for a few seconds before whispering in reply.

“What’s not simple?”

“I’ve heard that River City has a Reach For Will Group, which is pretty tough.

“And Sean seems to have sold out the Quinn family in exchange for a job with the Reach For Will Group?”

Jane curled her lip, her face still disdainful.

Jane had finished speaking for a long time, but Demi still said nothing.

“Hello? Demi, why aren’t you talking?”

Jane asked, frowning slightly and pressing the Bluetooth earphone.

“He isn’t Reach For Will Group’s employee...”

Demi’s voice rang again.

“He’s not? So he has nothing to do with Reach For Will Group?”

“Hahaha! I knew it. Reach For Will Group’s probably just using him.

“They’ll probably get rid of him when they’re done!”

Jane froze slightly before bursting into laughter.

When she hated a person, all she wanted to hear was bad news about them.

Therefore, Jane came up with her ideas.

“No...”

"He's not an employee of Reach For Will Group. He's the owner!

"The entire Reach For Will Group and River City's Lennon Group belong to him.

"He's the mysterious chairman of Reach For Will Group!"

Demi took a deep breath before blurting out.

"The chairman of Reach For Will Group... Demi, are you kidding me?"

Jane suddenly sat up on the couch after muttering.

She instantly sobered up from her tipsy state.

"It's true..."

"Don't you ever wonder about Reach For Will Group's name?"

"The Will is derived from Willow's name!"

Demi slowly shook her head. She did not want to tell Jane this, but she could not hold back. Hsst"

Jane instantly gasped when she heard this.

The gravity of the matter finally dawned on her.

Sean was the Chairman of Reach For Will Group!

No wonder he could easily spend five billion dollars to steal that land from Billion Trees Real Estate.

"Gosh... Gosh..."

Jane sat down slowly on the couch with wide eyes.

If Sean were just an ordinary person and said he wanted to break up a corporation, he would be many people's laughing stock.

However, when Sean's identity changed and became a secret chairman of a conglomerate...

Would anyone question him when he said he was bringing down a company?

"It's over! It's over..."

Jane's eyes widened as her face went ghastly pale.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1415

Chapter 1415

Jane's head buzzed.

However, Demi did not understand what Jane meant.

"Jane, what do you mean?"

Demi asked in confusion after a pause.

"Is he really the chairman of Reach For Will Group?"

"No wonder he's so tough. No wonder he can spend five billion dollars without hesitation. No wonder... "He's so tough. Billion Trees..."

Jane was now fully sober, and her heart rate increased.

"Five billion dollars? What the hell are you talking about?"

The more Demi listened, the more confused she became.

Jane was not in the mood to explain anything to Demi.

“Let’s talk later.”

Jane hung up. She quickly called Jimmy after freezing for a few seconds.

Jane did not take Sean seriously at first.

Therefore, no matter what Sean said, she only thought he was bragging.

However, she now knew what kind of person Sean was.

She had to quickly tell Jimmy not to belittle Sean.

“Hello, the number you dialed is unavailable. Please try again later.”

Jane called but got a prompt tone that the number was unavailable.

Jane felt even more uncertain when she heard the prompt tone.

She tried calling again, but it was still off.

Jane bit her lip, her heart beating faster and faster.

She also had a bad feeling.

Jane fumbled through her phone’s contact list.

After finding the number of Jimmy’s assistant, she quickly dialed it.

This time she got through.

“Hello, Ms. Lidell.”

The assistant's voice came over the line.

"Where's my dad? Where's my dad? Why didn't he answer the phone?"

Jane's tone was quite urgent.

"Mr. Lidell..."

The assistant was silent.

"Forget it. You don't have to hide it from me. I know what he's doing at this hour.

"Tell him to stop going against Sean Lennon."

Jane snorted coldly. Based on her experience, Jimmy must be out drinking, surrounded by beautiful women.

"Ms. Lidell, well..."

The assistant froze and hesitated.

"Didn't you hear me?"

"I want you to tell my dad now!"

"Sean isn't as simple as we think. We better not go against him."

Jane said again, frowning.

"It's too late..."

The assistant sighed before shaking his head and saying.

“Late? Too late for what?”

Jane was confused.

“Billion Trees has been struck hard.

“I think Sean was behind it.”

The assistant was silent for two seconds before speaking truthfully.

“Wait a minute...

“What did you say?”

“You say our company has been struck?”

Jane was silent for nearly ten seconds before asking with a frown.

“Our headquarters and branches are all shut down.

“Our staff has been laid off, and our projects have been ordered to stop...”

The assistant tried to concisely tell Jane about Billion Trees Real Estate’s current situation.

Jane might not be able to understand if it was too complicated.

“Hsss...”

Jane’s eyes widened as she listened to the assistant.

Her heart already beating fast seemed to almost jump out of her throat,

“Gosh... Gosh...”

Jane's head buzzed.

When Demi told her that Sean was the chairman of Reach For Will Group, it dawned on Jane.

She did not have to be a fool to figure out that with what Sean was capable of, handling Billion Trees Real Estate should not be a problem.

However, she did not expect Sean to move so fast.

Besides that, he pulled a killer move as soon as he struck.

Why would they even shut down their headquarters if it was a small problem?

"Ms. Lidell, I've worked for Mr. Lidell for three years.

"For the sake of these three years, let me give you a word of advice.

"You and Madam should pack up and leave Joules Town.

"You can't stay in Joules Town any longer."

The assistant hung up as soon as he finished.

The assistant had worked for Jimmy for three years, regardless of Jimmy's character.

Therefore, he advised her out of kindness.

"Why?"

"There's no way I'm leaving!"

"Billion Trees has been in operation for so many years. It has experienced many things."

Jane gritted her teeth, still unconvinced.

"It's different this time, Miss.

"There's no point in talking much. You'd better leave now.

"Once Mr. Lidell's case is confirmed, your bank cards will be frozen.

"Even your houses will be sold to settle the debt.

"Billion Trees Real Estate is finished this time!"

The assistant hung up the phone without hesitation after he finished.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1416

Chapter 1416

Jane was dumbfounded as she listened to the busy signal on her phone.

Thud!

Just then, the door was opened from the outside.

A middle-aged woman stepped in.

She was Jane's mother and Jimmy's wife, Queenie Luther.

Although she was over 40, she had maintained herself well. Her skin was also tender and smooth.

She looked like a woman in her 30s.

She was dressed in jewels and designer clothes.

“Mom, what are you doing?”

Jane immediately got up and asked Queenie.

“Hurry and pack up. We gotta go.”

Queenie said to Jane as she walked toward the bedroom.

Jane felt another thump in her heart when she heard Queenie’s words.

She could choose not to believe what the assistant said.

However, Queenie was her own mother. Would Queenie trick her?

“What happened, Mom?”

“What’s going on with Dad?”

Jane gritted her teeth and shouted, looking at Queenie.

“I can’t explain now.

“But I suppose our house will be forcibly taken away tomorrow morning if they confirm it tonight.

“So let’s get out of here.”

Queenie said, shaking her bag.

She had just withdrawn a lot of cash for their getaway,

Otherwise, there was nothing they could do if their bank cards were frozen.

"No! I'm not leaving!

"Why should we leave when we haven't broken any laws?

"Wouldn't we be running away to escape punishment when we haven't committed any crime?"

Jane bit her lip and shouted.

"What do you know?

"Leave when I tell you to!

"Do you know how serious the trouble your father is in this time?"

Queenie got mad and yelled at Jane as she pointed at her.

"And then what? Are you gonna take the money and run, leaving Dad here?

"When we made money, we spent it together. Now that something happens, you're going to escape?"

Jane sneered. Her speech made Queenie blush slightly.

"I just don't want you to have your whole life ruined.

"Then tell me what we're going to do here if we don't leave? What can we do?

"Or do you have any good ideas on how to fix this?"

Queenie was silent for a moment before slumping down on the couch and asking with a frown.

"I have an idea. Don't worry about it."

Jane snorted coldly before heading outside.

“What are you going to do?”

“I’ve asked around. Lennon Real Estate did this.

“They’re determined to go after us. It doesn’t matter who you find.”

Queenie shouted after her.

“Then I’ll go find Sean. I’ll see what he’s up to!”

Jane gritted her teeth and slammed the door backhanded.

There was no way she, Jane Lidell, would give up such a comfortable life, leave Joules Town, and go somewhere else, miserable and homeless.

Therefore, she must solve the problem in her own way.

Jane had no idea how she was going to do that yet.

However, she would do whatever it took.

After all, their family would be penniless and run up a large debt if Billion Trees went bankrupt.

At the same time.

The government office holding Jimmy.

Jimmy and the senior executives were pretty tight-lipped at first.

No matter what they asked, they said they knew nothing. They closed their eyes and pretended to sleep if they pursued further.

However, they underestimated the government staff's abilities.

How could they solve major cases if they could not even get them to talk?

It did not take long for the company's top management to expose Billion Trees Real Estate's wrongdoing.

Once one person spoke up, others stopped insisting. Then their mouths were pried open.

The staff in charge of the case were dumbfounded as they dug deeper.

They already had enough evidence to charge Billion Trees Real Estate.

However, they did not realize there were so many things they did not know. Billion Trees Real Estate's top management was clear about them.

They found out everything today.

The more they knew, the more they thought Billion Trees Real Estate should be shut down.

What they have done was cruel!

Billion Trees Real Estate was the worst virus.

"Speak up.

"Your employees have confessed."

One of the staff asked as they entered the room and addressed Jimmy.

"I have nothing to say."

Jimmy narrowed his eyes slightly but insisted on keeping quiet.

He might appear to be calm, but he was actually troubled.

Because he had thought of every solution and big shots he knew. However, none of them helped.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1417

Chapter 1417

Henry had teamed up with two other big shots to target a company.

There was no way anyone could withstand that.

Even listed companies had no chance of survival!

Therefore, Jimmy resigned to his fate.

He did not even know why he was delaying.

Perhaps he was unwilling to be defeated by Sean in this way!

"It doesn't matter much whether you talk.

"The evidence we have now is enough to sentence you for more than 15 years.

"Look at what's on the wall. We'll be lenient to those who confessed and harsh to those who resisted.

"Perhaps you'll get a chance of a lighter sentence if you confess."

A middle-aged man said to Jimmy as he pointed to the wall.

Jimmy slowly looked up at the words on the wall.

He never thought this would happen to him.

To think that at this time yesterday, he was still out there with a pretty girl on each arm. He even had the pretty girls feed him fruits.

However, he was now behind bars, and what awaited him was an indefinite sentence.

The more Jimmy thought about it, the worse he felt.

Having been safe and sound all these years, he never expected himself to get into trouble after meeting Sean.

He would leave Sean alone if he got to choose again.

However, it was no use crying over spilled milk.

"I'll think about it."

Jimmy withdrew his gaze and said darkly.

"Okay.

'It's 11.52 p.m.

"I'll give you an hour to think about it. I'll come back at 1 a.m.

"You can call me whenever after you've thought it through."

The middle-aged man was in no hurry. He looked at the time, turned around, and walked out.

Time ticked by.

It was a sleepless night for many people in Joules Town.

Although Sean had fulfilled all his plans, he was not sleepy.

Whether Lennon Real Estate could make it mattered.

1/2

He was not using Lennon Real Estate to make money.

It was just that Lennon Real Estate's size dictated the rest of his plans.

Therefore, he dared not relax tonight.

The lights in the office were bright.

Sean and Zander were each looking at a file.

The Lennon Real Estate building was brightly lit.

Many employees were busy working.

Sean was not 100% confident about what he was doing to bring down Billion Trees Real Estate. Therefore, something else must be done.

He wanted to kill off Billion Trees Real Estate and Jimmy, leaving them with no chance to make a comeback.

"Commander, how did you come up with the idea of thoroughly investigating the dirt on Billion Trees Real Estate?"

"I hadn't even thought of that."

Zander put down the file, feeling overwhelmed.

It was because Sean's approach to Billion Trees Real Estate was straightforward, capturing the most critical part.

In any other way, it would never have been possible to shut down Billion Trees Real Estate so quickly- even with Henry's help.

Sean had Jeffrey look into everything Jimmy had done against reason and nature some time ago.

It had no use at the time.

However, it became useful when Sean got to know Zane and some government officials like Henry. "Jimmy brought it upon himself."

Sean shook his head slightly, his eyes cold.

When he first arrived at Joules Town, he visited Patrick's family.

Sean was upset with the way the developers handled things.

Dragon Kingdom was peaceful, yet there were still people who dared to commit crimes and forcibly demolish houses in such a way.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1418

Chapter 1418

It was enough to show how arrogant the boss of the developer company was.

If they could do it during the crackdown, were they not worse when the real estate industry was chaotic?

Therefore, Sean thought of asking Jeffrey to look into Billion Trees Real Estate.

After all, it was what Jimmy did that caught Sean's attention.

Otherwise, Sean would not have thought of starting with it so quickly.

"Yes, he's looking for trouble.

"He sealed his fate when he offended you."

Zander quickly nodded.

"We only need to wait for Billion Trees' collapse.

"And the rest of our plan will be in full swing."

Sean closed the file and said as he checked the time.

Zane had made a deal with Sean.

If Sean could bring down Billion Trees Real Estate and replace it, Zane would agree to Sean's request and support Lennon Real Estate.

With Zane's help, Lennon Real Estate would have a hard time laying low.

Lennon Real Estate would take over as head of Joules Town's real estate industry.

Bringing down Billion Trees Real Estate was thus utmost critical.

"Yes, Commander. You should rest.

"I'll take care of things here and make sure nothing goes wrong."

Zander nodded gently before assuring Sean.

“Sure!”

Sean nodded and prepared to rest.

The office had its own lounge.

Knock knock!

Just then, there was a knock on the office door.

“Come in.”

Zander looked up and shouted.

Thud!

The door opened, and an employee walked in.

“Mr. Lennon, Mr. Young, there’s someone downstairs who wants to see Mr. Lennon.

“She said her name is Jane Lidell.”

The employee reported to Seari and Zander after coming in.

“Jane?”

Zander froze. ‘Isn’t this Jimmy’s daughter?’

‘What’s the matter? What is she doing coming over in the middle of the night?’

‘Could she have come to question him after finding out what had happened to Billion Trees Real Estate?’

“Commander?”

Zander turned his head and asked for Sean's opinion.

"If an opportunity to swallow Billion Trees Real Estate is presented to us, what do you think we should do?"

Sean asked, looking at Zander with a smile.

"We'll take it, of course!"

Zander froze before quickly speaking his mind.

Billion Trees Real Estate had a lot of dirt.

However, they had perfected many of the processes over the years.

At least they were more familiar with Joules Town's real estate processes than a new company like

Lennon Real Estate.

If they take over Billion Trees, Lennon Real Estate would be like a fish in water. It would also be more firmly established in Joules Town's business circle.

"Yes! I think so too.

"Let her come upstairs."

Sean nodded gently before saying to the employee.

"Yes!"

The employee replied and turned around to leave the office.

Jane soon came in alone.

Chapter 1419

Sean was shocked

He thought Jane would bring a group of people to Lennon Real Estate to make a scene.

After all, Jane was an heiress.

With a billionaire father, Jane was so privileged that there were many things she did not have to do herself.

She never left the house without at least two professional bodyguards.

Unexpectedly, she came over alone today.

Jane was still wearing those revealing clothes.

Her face was a little red from drinking too much wine.

She was already pretty, but the way she looked was arousing.

Jane came in and saw Sean sitting behind his desk.

"What do you want?"

Zander asked, looking at Jane and frowning.

"Who do you think you are?"

"I'm looking for your boss. You have no right to talk."

Jane snorted, a proud look on her face.

It was as if she was an elegant white swan.

After all, having been an heiress for so many years, her pride was nurtured over the years.

Jane was indeed pretty and rich.

"Watch your attitude.

"Don't think I'll indulge you just because you're a woman."

Zander looked at Jane and frowned harder.

To a man like Zander, who only cared about the army, a woman was nothing to him, no matter how beautiful she was.

"Know your place too.

"You'll always be a slave."

Jane smugly raised her head with disdain in her eyes.

Jane's attitude made Zander laugh out of anger.

He had no idea where Jane got her confidence.

The whole time, Sean sat quietly, drinking his coffee.

It was as if he did not even take Jane seriously.

“Sean, is this how your company treats guests?”

Jane was even more upset when Sean ignored her.

“A guest? Who do you think you are?”

Sean finally said something, and it made Jane infuriated.

“I don’t know how someone with no manners like you managed to create such a big company.”

Jane pointed to Sean’s office and said with a sneer.

“My manners depend on who I’m facing.

“Different people get different treatment.”

Zander picked up the conversation before replying with a sneer.

“I’ll tell you one more time.

“You’d better keep your mouth shut when I talk to you.

“What does it have to do with you?”

Jane frowned and looked at Zander with disdain.

“Tell me. What is it?”

Sean asked indifferently, leaning back in his chair.

“Send him out. I want to talk to you alone.”

Jane pointed to Zander, curled her lip, and said.

Zander frowned slightly as soon as Jane said this.

However, on second thought, Jane was only a woman—there was no way she could hurt Sean.

Besides that, they would have found out immediately if Jane brought anything she should not have when she came.

Sean pondered for two seconds before giving Zander a look.

“Yes.”

Zander replied and turned around to leave the office. Besides that, he closed the door behind him.

“Go ahead.”

Sean asked indifferently, pouring himself a cup of coffee.

Instead of speaking, Jane walked to the door and pressed the lock button.

Sean frowned slightly at the sight.

If Jane were a man, Sean would have been nervous.

He was sharing a room with an enemy, who locked the door behind her. It was self-evident that she wanted revenge.

However, Sean could easily subdue a woman like Jane with a single finger.

Therefore, Sean was not nervous when Jane locked the door.

“Sean, how are you doing with Willow?”

After locking the door behind her, Jane turned around and walked back to the desk.

Sean frowned slightly at Jane's question.

He thought Jane had approached him about Billion Trees Real Estate.

Why did she bring up Willow?

"What does it have to do with you?"

Sean asked indifferently, looking at Jane.

Jane was now like a different person.

She was not upset with Sean's attitude.

Instead, she walked around the desk to Sean's side.

Sean glanced at Jane. He could not tell what Jane was up to.

"It has to do with me, of course. I'm Willow's best friend.

"Her business is my business, of course!"

Jane spoke a little coquettishly.

It confused Sean even more.

Jane then reached out her two small hands and gently massaged Sean's shoulders.
