

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1441 - 1450

Chapter 1441

"Is that good enough?"

The middle-aged man next to Johnson said with a frown.

However, the five men and women were still silent

"I'll add one more.

"I'll reduce taxes by half in the first two years."

Johnson was silent for a few seconds before offering again.

Several people widened their eyes again.

A 50% cut in tax was a good deal.

After all, these conglomerates pay hundreds of millions in taxes every year

A 50% cut meant 50 million dollars.

They could do a lot of things with 50 million dollars.

They were therefore excited.

"Give me some time, Mr Dane

"I'll go back and discuss it with the shareholders.

"I'll give you an answer right away"

A middle-aged man immediately got up and said to Johnson.

"Yes, we're going back to hold a meeting too!"

Others also rose to their feet.

Johnson's two offers were too tempting for them to refuse!

"You want me to waste my time waiting for your reply?"

"Besides, you can't guarantee 100% satisfaction after I've wasted my time waiting, right?"

Johnson asked slowly as he tapped on the table.

"Well.."

Hearing Johnson's words, the crowd froze and slowly sat down again.

They were carried away with excitement.

However, they forgot they were not talking business with their partners today.

Sitting across from them was Johnson, a powerful big shot scarier than Zane.

They were foolish to treat Johnson as a business partner

"I want an answer from you now

"Yes or no

"There's no point in talking about it if no

"If yes, all the conditions I just said will be fulfilled."

Johnson then took a sip from his coffee cup.

It was an ultimatum to the five middle-aged men and women.

He wanted them to give him a clear answer right now.

However, it was unrealistic to ask them to give an answer so soon for such an important matter.

After all, they were not alone. They were owners of big companies.

Any decision might affect the company's future development or even fate.

The fate of the company was linked to many people's fate.

How could they answer so quickly?

"I think you don't know what's good for yourself!"

The middle-aged man next to Johnson suddenly slammed on the table and rose.

All five men and women hung their heads low and remained silent, afraid to answer

"It's true that your company has grown because of your efforts.

"But will you deny that the higher-ups didn't give you any care and support?"

"The higher-ups took care of and supported you so that you could stand up as a representative in times of trouble.

"But now? Look at you. Can any of you take on big responsibilities?"

"Mr. Dane has made you such an offer, yet you can't take it.

"What's the matter? You take all the good stuff and stay away from the bad stuff?"

The middle-aged man was quite straightforward. Besides that, he had no mercy.

The crowd's faces were slightly red when he finished.

"Billion Trees Real Estate is too much for us to handle...."

"Even if we can take it, we can't handle it!"

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1442

Chapter 1442

One of the middle-aged men could not help but let out a long sigh.

They could only suffer in silence.

However, Johnson did not care about their difficulties.

All Johnson cared about was whether the answer was satisfactory to him and would give him an explanation to the public

"Why are you causing a scene if you can't do it?"

"Why are you causing trouble if you can't handle it?"

"Why are you rushing to go after Billion Trees Real Estate before me?"

"Now that we have this mess, what do you think we should do?"

Johnson's tone was cold.

If no one took over Billion Trees Real Estate, no one would take over the unfinished buildings and workers delayed wages.

They would have their hands full from the unit owners and workers causing trouble and complaining to the authorities.

Therefore, Johnson must resolve the matter as quickly as possible.

“Go on!

“Why ruin it when you can’t bear the consequences?”

Johnson looked at the crowd and spoke sternly.

This time, the five middle-aged men and women looked at each other before silently looking at Zane.

Because the collapse of Billion Trees Real Estate had nothing much to do with them.

On the other hand, Zane had something to do with it.

Johnson followed the crowd’s gaze and slowly looked at Zane

“Come on! Tell me what to do now.”

Johnson slammed on the table and yelled at Zane.

He was even harsher on Zane than he was on the five.

After all, Zane was his subordinate, and it was only natural that he scolded him.

“Calm down, Mr Dane.”

Zane rose slowly and began to speak.

“Calm down?”

“I’ll see if you can calm down when a bunch of migrant workers and unit owners are waiting at the entrance!

“Why cause trouble when you have no power to settle matters?”

Johnson got angrier as he spoke

“Mr. Dane, I can’t do that.

“But Lennon Real Estate can.”

Zane whispered back calmly.

“What the f*ck can he do?”

“Do you think I don’t know what Lennon Real Estate is capable of?”

Johnson’s face was full of disdain.

Could a new company like Lennon Real Estate solve problems that even these giant companies could not solve?

“It’s not for you to judge what Lennon Real Estate is capable of.

“I, Sean Lennon, not only have the ability to cause trouble but also the ability to settle it.”

The door was suddenly pushed open, and a young man walked in.

“Who are you?”

Johnson immediately turned to Sean and asked.

“Sean Lennon, chairman of Lennon Real Estate.”

Sean slowly stepped forward with a contract in his hand.

“What are you doing here?”

Johnson glanced at Sean, his expression even more disdainful.

He did not invite Lennon Real Estate over because he did not take Lennon Real Estate seriously

Seeing Sean was so young, the disdain in his eyes was more obvious.

As the saying went, youngsters could not be trusted with important tasks.

What could Sean accomplish at such a young age?

Smack!

Sean smacked the file in his hand on the table.

“Have a look, Mr. Dane.”

Sean sat in the chair once he finished speaking.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1443

Chapter 1443

Johnson was upset that Sean showed up uninvited.

The five top big shots of Joules Town's real estate industry looked at Sean with complicated looks in their eyes.

They had no idea how they should treat Sean.

However, since they saw that Sean was not here for them, they chose to keep quiet.

"What is it?"

Johnson asked with a frown, looking at the tabletop.

"Just have a look.

"It should be able to please you."

Sean picked up a bottle of mineral water and unscrewed the cap.

Johnson thought Sean would treat him with respect and courtesy.

However, he did not expect Sean to have such an attitude.

He was not as humble as other company owners had been to Johnson.

It even gave Johnson the illusion that he was Sean's subordinate.

"Mr. Dane, you'd better have a look first."

Zane reached for the document before spreading it out and placing it in front of Johnson.

Johnson still looked unconcerned.

He did not think Sean could come up with anything that would please him.

However, Johnson's eyes widened slightly after reading the document.

Several of the business world's big shots in the room focused their eyes on Johnson's face.

They could see every trace of Johnson's facial expression.

They could tell that Johnson was shocked before being skeptical,

However, it was not a bad thing overall. What Sean came up with seemed to please Johnson!

With that in mind, several of the business circle's top big shots looked toward Sean.

Swoosh!

Johnson also put down his file and turned to look at Sean.

"How did you do it?"

Johnson asked a few seconds later.

"It's just a piece of cake."

Sean took a sip of water and spoke casually.

Johnson sized up Sean again.

He realized he had underestimated the young man.

When Johnson was still here, struggling with Billion Trees Real Estate... Sean smashed Johnson with the contract for all of Billion Trees Real Estate's shares.

Yes, the documents Sean brought were the proof of all the shares of Billion Trees Real Estate.

It meant Billion Trees Real Estate was now Sean's.

Johnson had made several offers to the five big shots in the business circle yet failed to get them to take over Billion Trees.

Sean worked quietly, solving Johnson's biggest headache.

There was no doubt that the answer satisfied Johnson.

"Was it a piece of cake?"

Johnson pondered for a few seconds before asking again.

"Yes, it was."

Sean nodded gently again.

Sean's answer gave Johnson mixed feelings.

He could not help looking at the five men and women again.

Johnson had given the five leading companies in the real estate industry a lot of support and special treatment.

However, the five companies he supported turned out to be failures.

Instead, the Lennon Real Estate he belittled solved his emergency.

How could Johnson not have other ideas?

Sean and Lennon Real Estate had changed Johnson's impression of them.

"I don't care how you talked it out with Jimmy.

“But taking over their assets alone isn’t enough. You have to clean up the debt disputes and problems they have.”

Johnson was silent for a few seconds before slowly sitting in his chair.

However, Sean was in no hurry to answer this time.

It was as if he was waiting for something.

“What do you mean?”

“Do you only want the assets and not the debts?”

“I’m telling you. It’s impossible.”

Johnson instantly frowned when Sean was silent.

Everyone wanted Billion Trees Real Estate’s assets?

The five big shots of the business circle in the room also wanted it.

However, they hesitated because Billion Trees Real Estate faced so many problems and debts.

If Sean simply wanted Billion Trees Real Estate’s assets, Johnson would never agree to it.

“Mr. Dane, the offer we just made...”

Zane coughed and reminded him quietly.

Johnson froze slightly before giving Zane a meaningful glance.

Johnson was no fool. How could he not see through Zane?

However, it did not bother him.

All he cared about was getting things fixed.

Besides, he could not go back on the offer he made.

“Sean Lennon, right?”

“I’ll tell you what I’ve offered them since you weren’t here earlier.

“I need someone to take over Billion Trees, but I’m talking about everything Billion Trees own, including their debt and all kinds of problems.

“And I wanna see that all these issues are properly resolved without causing too much chaos.

“If they can satisfy all these, I will support and give them as much special treatment as possible without violating my principles.

“Besides that, all your companies can enjoy a 50% tax reduction for the first two years after taking over Billion Trees.”

Johnson reiterated the two conditions to Sean without hesitation.

A real man would never go back on his word. Although these two conditions would cause the Joules Town government some losses, they were nothing if all the problems could be solved.

“You know what I mean.

“I’m just asking if you can handle it.”

Johnson kept silent and waited for Sean’s answer after he finished.

“Why not?”

“I’ll take it.”

Sean nodded without hesitation.

When Sean said yes so readily, Johnson’s eyes lit up with admiration.

Forget about the rest. He was pleased with Sean’s confidence.

However, Johnson was more aware that confidence alone was insufficient.

Ability mattered the most.

No matter how ambitious Sean was, everything would only be empty talk if he could not solve the problem.

“When will it be resolved?”

“I’ll give you three days. Can you solve it?”

Johnson looked at Sean and asked bluntly.

“Three days? One day is all I need.”

Sean looked at Johnson and said casually.

The Guardian’s Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1444

Chapter 1444

“You!”

Johnson instantly froze when he heard Sean's words.

He just found Sean too arrogant.

Sean was so conceited!

How could Billion Trees Real Estate's affairs be solved so easily?

If it were that easy, Jimmy would not be sitting in jail right now!

The five big shots of the business circle froze and were also disdainful.

Sean was too young and had no idea how serious Billion Trees Real Estate's matters were.

The more arrogant he was now, the more embarrassing he was later.

"Don't get ahead of yourself."

Johnson said indifferently after a few seconds of silence.

"It doesn't matter what I say.

"Just remember what you said, Mr. Dane."

Sean tapped on the desk, reminding Johnson.

"I, Johnson Dane, keep my word.

"If you deliver something that satisfies me, I will fulfill my conditions.

"I can also give you a three-month extension on the taxes Billion Trees Real Estate owes. Besides that, I won't charge you any overdue fines."

Johnson was an honest man. He added another condition for Sean.

"I look forward to working with you."

Sean stretched out his hand to Johnson.

The five men and women froze again when they saw this.

They could not believe how Sean had such confidence and courage at his age.

After a moment of hesitation, Johnson reached out and shook Sean's hand.

"I'll wait for you."

Johnson said and got up to leave.

Zane and the big shots of the business circle got up to see him off.

"Don't bother.

"You let me down."

Johnson pointed to the five and spoke in a disapproving tone.

With that said, Johnson turned around to leave.

The five big shots of the business circle could neither follow nor stay.

They were in an awkward situation for a moment.

However, a man and a woman eventually followed shamelessly.

Three others were left in the private room.

They were here because they wanted to be closer to Sean.

After all, the fact that Sean could break up Billion Trees Real Estate was enough to prove what Sean was capable of.

Sean now had Billion Trees Real Estate in his hands. Besides that, he had made friends with big shots like Zane and Johnson.

It was a prediction of how smooth Lennon Real Estate's future would be.

Therefore, they wanted to get closer to Sean.

However, Sean did not even have such intentions.

"I need to talk to Mr. Curley.

"Please return, everybody."

Sean looked at the trio and said indifferently.

"What?"

"Well..."

The trio instantly froze when they heard that.

How dare Sean ask them to leave?

After all, they were all billionaires!

They were treated as VIPs wherever they went.

However, Sean just waved them off.

It was ridiculous.

However, the look on Sean's face told them it was not a joke.

The three men glanced at each other and saw irritation in each other's eyes.

"Mr. Lennon, you haven't done what Mr. Dane asked you to do, yet you're already so cocky."

A middle-aged man looked at Sean and spoke with a frown.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1445

Chapter 1445

"What's the matter? Are you trying to lecture me?"

Sean shook his head slightly before locking eyes with the middle-aged man.

"Hmph! I admit that Lennon Real Estate's quite capable.

"But it's not as simple as you think, Mr. Lennon.

"Having friends opens doors while having fewer friends closes doors. You should know that, Mr. Lennon."

The middle-aged man was silent for two seconds, his tone also upset.

"Do you deserve to be my friend?"

Sean's answer was simple and unceremonious.

Zane was in between laughter and tears on the sidelines.

He realized Sean did not have the smooth sophistication that a businessman should have.

On the contrary, he was rigid and spoke without any mercy.

Sean w

was more of a gangster than a businessman.

However, Zane had to admit that he preferred Sean's straightforwardness to phony politeness.

"Fine! Let's see how Mr. Lennon's going to figure it out."

The three snorted coldly before turning away.

They tried to get closer to Sean, but it ended badly.

Sean and Zane were soon alone in the room.

"Well, I gotta say.

"They're wealthy billionaires.

"Are you sure you don't want to be friends with them?"

Zane asked curiously as he looked at Sean.

"Is that necessary?"

"It's only a waste of time."

Sean shook his head slightly and said with a smile.

"What do you mean?"

Zane paused slightly before asking again.

“Lennon Real Estate wants to get on top.

“But there’s only one top spot.”

Sean explained bluntly.

Zane thought about it for a second and figured it out instantly.

Lennon Real Estate wanted to be at the top of Joules Town’s business circle.

Just as Sean said, there was only one top spot, and everybody wanted it.

Lennon Real Estate had to step on many people to get up there.

How could anyone trampled by Lennon Real Estate ever be friends with Sean?

Therefore, Sean simply and rudely fell out with them.

“I understand what you mean.

“But as far as I know, you didn’t reject everyone with one go!

“Haven’t you signed contracts with several other companies?”

Zane pondered for two seconds before asking again.

“That’s different.

“People willing to work with you are not the same as people who want to steal from you.”

Sean whispered back, shaking his head slightly.

Zane’s eyes slowly widened when he heard that.

The more time he spent with Sean, the more he realized how capable Sean was.

Anything Sean said out of the blue might sound like nothing at first. However, you would realize it contained some truth once you thought it through.

The companies that Lennon Real Estate had signed contracts with were not as powerful as the five big shots, of course.

However, the smaller companies would not be too ambitious and only want to get a part out of the projects offered by Lennon Real Estate.

The big five had grown so big that they refused to be placed under others.

Given the chance, they would do anything to trample over Lennon Real Estate.

Therefore, Sean's metaphor was suitable.

The companies that Lennon Real Estate partnered up with were making money with Lennon Real Estate.

However, the big five would steal from Lennon Real Estate at any time!

"Mr. Lennon, you're right!"

Zane could not help exclaiming.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1446

Chapter 1446

"I'm flattered, Mr. Curley."

Sean said with a smile as he waved his hands slightly.

“No, not at all.

“Did you take Mr. Dane into account today?”

“You’ve got Billion Trees Real Estate’s shares, but you weren’t in a hurry to show up.
You

made Mr. Dane call a meeting.

“Then you showed up with your shares when Mr. Dane made an offer he’s happy with...”

Zane looked at Sean and spoke quickly.

“No, it was an accident.

Enter title...

“I didn’t plot against Mr. Dane.”

Sean smiled and replied while waving his hands.

However, despite Sean's retorts, Zane still found Sean's smile meaningful.

"No, you did."

Zane paused but remained firm in his speculation.

"Whatever you say, Mr. Curley."

Sean stopped replying and only nodded gently.

"You... You..."

Zane pointed at Sean, trying to say something but nothing came out.

Ever since he met Sean, he had noticed that Sean seemed to take control of everything.

Whatever happened was under Sean's control.

It did not seem to have anything to do with Sean at first glance.

However, all Sean had to do was show up and do something, and it would have brought him great benefits.

Sean had been the biggest beneficiary since the auction to today's meeting.

Zane glanced deeply at Sean, having mixed feelings.

He had heard someone say something about the world being like a chess game, and everyone was a chess piece.

Every step was within the chess player's prediction.

Zane did not believe such a person existed at the time.

After all, people were not gods. How could they predict the future?

However, he discovered that his previous ideas were wrong after meeting Sean.

Sean would not go so far as to use the world as a chess game.

However, Sean used Joules Town's business circle.

Even Zane was unknowingly used by Sean.

Zane knew that Johnson probably had not figured out yet that Sean had used him.

“I’d like to meet your parents, Mr. Lennon.

“What kind of parents can give birth to such a brilliant child...”

Zane could not help saying this as he looked at Sean.

“I have no parents.

“I grew up in an orphanage.”

Sean frowned slightly at the subject.

“Well... I’m so sorry...”

Zane froze and quickly apologized.

He was more shocked instead.

Most children without parental control would go astray.

Sean not only had such accomplishments, but he was also scheming and clever at such a young age.

Zane was amazed.

“It’s alright.

“I was lucky enough to be adopted at a young age and educated in the army.”

Sean could not resist saying more.

“Mr. Lennon, you must have also made great achievements in the army.

“But why...”

Zane was awestruck again.

However, he was also more confused.

With Sean’s talents, he would be going places in any industry.

He was in his prime when he was supposed to have a lot of potential.

Why would you be a regular businessman?

“It’s a long story.

“I’m just trying to grow Lennon Real Estate.”

Sean was silent for two seconds before waving his hand slightly and saying.

“I see.”

Zane did not ask any more questions but nodded gently.

“I’m going home if it’s alright.”

Sean got up slowly, ready to bid goodbye to Zane.

“What do you want to do about Billion Trees Real Estate?”

“Mr. Dane’s side won’t spare you if you don’t settle it.”

Zane quickly got up and asked Sean.

He wanted Sean to flourish.

Therefore, he was very concerned about Sean.

“That’s easy.

“Just be my wingman.”

Sean replied with a smile.

“Easy?”

Zane was speechless.

What five big shots of the business circle dared not take on was easy for Sean?

“I know what you’re thinking.

“But do you ever wonder why those people can’t settle it?”

Sean paused before asking meaningfully.

“Because they have no money?”

Zane paused for two seconds before asking doubtfully.

“That’s right.

“There’s nothing that money can’t fix.

“If you can’t fix it, it’s because there isn’t enough money.

“And I have enough money.”

Sean replied half-jokingly before walking away with a smile.

Zane’s mouth moved as he watched Sean leave. Then he scratched the back of his head and sat down again.

“It’s not because they have no money when compared to you.

“Most importantly, they don’t have your wit...”

Zane took a sip of coffee and sighed.

No one else would have done what Sean did even if they had enough money.

It was the end of the meeting about the future of Joules Town’s business circle.

Sean’s appearance was unexpected to no one but Zane.

They did not expect Sean to quietly acquire Billion Trees Real Estate’s shares.

Johnson was supposed to talk to Jimmy after finding a company to take over.

However, Sean solved everything so quickly.

Johnson and the big shots of the business circle also knew taking over Billion Trees Real Estate was not the end.

He could take over, but it was no big deal.

He was only truly capable if he had it firmly in his hands.

Therefore, Johnson and others were waiting for the outcome.

There was no doubt that Lennon Real Estate would hit it off like a fish in water and double its wealth if Sean could solve Billion Trees Real Estate's problem this time.

With Johnson's condition, they were in for success.

However, the mess would put Sean in deep trouble if he could not settle it.

Even Lennon Real Estate would be implicated and affected.

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1447

Chapter 1447

Therefore, Johnson and the rest waited.

They wanted to see if Sean had any good ideas about how to solve these problems.

Johnson's attitude aside, the big shots of the business circle alone did not believe in

Sean.

Even they felt helpless when they had been in Joules Town for years.

Sean was so young. Where did he get the confidence to fix this?

Therefore, many people were waiting to see Lennon Real Estate make a fool of itself.

Even the top companies were ready to acquire Lennon Real Estate.

Enter title...

Because Lennon Real Estate would be affected if Sean failed. It would also be settled the same way as Billion Trees Real Estate.

These giant companies would be ready to take over, of course.

At the same time.

Joules Town Collins Residence.

“Ridiculous. How ridiculous!

“I told you he can’t go any further.”

Old Master Collins shook his head after hearing Hubert’s report.

“What do you mean, Old Master?”

Hubert was confused.

He was only filling William in on what happened today.

However, he did not express any opinion or comment.

“Billion Trees Real Estate might look valuable.

“It’s actually a hot mess.

“Sean isn’t bold to take over it; he’s stupid.”

William took a sip of coffee with a flicker of disdain.

He was shocked when Sean brought down Billion Trees Real Estate.

However, William was left speechless when Sean made the next bad move.

“I don’t know about that...”

Hubert paused and whispered.

“Why not? Are you questioning my judgment?”

“I don’t know much about the outside world, even though I’ve been staying home all the time.

“But I’m more experienced. Can I not see what’s good and bad?”

William was immediately upset at Hubert’s question.

“Old Master, that’s not what I meant...”

Knowing William’s temper, Hubert quickly tried to explain.

“What do you mean then?”

“Let me ask you, are those top companies fools?”

William asked Hubert with a cold snort.

“Of course, they’re not.”

Hubert quickly shook his head. What fools could grow a company into a billion-dollar company?

You could call them lucky for making several million dollars.

However, they must be fore-sighted and intelligent to make a billion dollars!

“Yes, they’re not fools. Would they say no if it’s good?”

“But these smart people dare not take on Billion Trees Real Estate’s mess.

“Sean took it. Who gave him the courage to take it on?”

“In terms of seniority, the top companies were well-established in Joules Town.

“In terms of connections, these companies have been in Joules Town for decades. You can say they know people in the government and the underworld.

“What does Sean have that can match them?”

William slammed his hands on the desk and began to reason with Hubert.

“But Mr. Lennon has plenty of money...

“He paid five billion dollars for the land a while ago.”

Hubert said after hesitating for two seconds.

He did not have to go against William.

It was because Hubert had always thought Sean was not as bad as William said he was.

“What a joke! Money matters, of course.

“But being wealthy alone isn’t enough if you want a foothold in this society.

“Do you think money can solve everything?”

William curled his lips slightly. He had also retired from the army.

Therefore, he had always weighed things from a soldier’s point of view.

Because he thought Sean would think in the same way, having been a soldier.

However, you could only say William did not know Sean well.

He had no idea who Sean was.

“I won’t dispute what you say, Old Master.

“But let’s not deny that having enough money can solve many problems.

“Moreover, money is the biggest problem Billion Trees Real Estate faces, isn’t it?

“As long as Mr. Lennon can afford it, he can make it.”

Hubert tried to speak calmly to Old Master Collins.

He did not want to irritate William by being tough.

“Even if you’re right, I don’t believe Sean can come up with the kind of money to save

Billion Trees Real Estate after spending five billion dollars.

“Do you think he’s a money-printing machine with endless money?”

“I’m telling you. Even if Colin left him all his assets, he wouldn’t have that much either.”

Old Master Collins sounded affirmative.

“What if he can, Old Master?”

“If he can come up with the money to settle this...”

“Does that mean he’s foresighted?”

Hubert looked at William earnestly.

This time, William frowned slowly and did not answer immediately.

He thought it over in his mind.

After a moment, William shook his head again.

“Have you ever heard the saying, ‘Use the best resources in the most important areas’?”

“Money is only a tool.

“Many people have the tool, but the key is whether they can use it right.

"I don't believe he can do it.

"So even if he can come up with the money, there's no way he can solve Billion Trees' problem so soon."

William shook his head slowly, still firm with his ideas.

If Billion Trees Real Estate's problem were so easy to solve, Jimmy would not be arrested right now.

Hubert glanced at Old Master Collins before nodding gently and saying no more.

It was too early to say anything.

There was no telling whether Sean could turn the tide and solve Billion Trees Real Estate's problem and make Lennon Real Estate more powerful.

"If he can do it, I, William Collins, will invite him to dinner myself."

William snorted coldly and turned away

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1448

Chapter 1448

The tycoons in Joules Town's business circle were frantic.

Nor have the lives of many ordinary people in Joules Town been calm for two days.

The collapse of Billion Trees Real Estate was final.

Besides that, word of its end had already got out.

Billion Trees Real Estate had been in Joules Town for years.

They had dozens of properties.

Most of them had been completed, but there were still three buildings in construction.

Two of the buildings were half a year behind the completion date stated on the contracts.

Enter title...

In short, Billion Trees Real Estate was closely related to many people.

It was a big company with hundreds and even thousands of employees.

There was also the issue of workers' wages and late delivery to unit owners.

Apart from issues like taxes and those related to the government aside, these issues alone were enough to have one's hands full.

However, the unit owners got more nervous when the news about Billion Trees Real Estate's shareholder change and its chairman's arrest broke.

They had already delayed the units' delivery for half a year. Now that Billion Trees Real Estate's chairman was arrested, the construction of the buildings would be further delayed!

Therefore, many people gathered at the Billion Trees Real Estate building.

However, there were still seal tapes around Billion Trees Real Estate's headquarters.

Even if they were here, there was nothing they could do.

However, these people were here to make an impact.

Only with greater influence could their problems be taken seriously.

Therefore, more and more unit owners, migrant workers, and some Billion Trees Real Estate employees had gathered here.

They got together and said all kinds of things. The impact was bound to take up a lot of public resources.

Johnson was the first to lose his composure. He called Sean immediately.

"Didn't you say you could fix it?"

"Is this how you fix it? How far have you gotten?"

Johnson sounded a little edgy.

"I said one day. Tomorrow. What's your hurry?"

Sean was calm. His tone was also unhurried.

It was as if he already had a solution to the problem.

Johnson was briefly silent on the phone.

"Sean, let me tell you something honestly.

"If you can't do it, don't pretend you can. Don't waste each other's time.

"It's not good for you or Joules Town if this continues."

Johnson's tone was persuasive after being silent for a moment.

He still thought Sean was too young and took things too simply.

Therefore, it was unrealistic for him to expect Sean to solve these things.

Johnson did not even know why he said yes to Sean.

Now that he thought about it, he regretted it.

"I can fix it."

Sean frowned slightly and replied indifferently, not wanting to explain anything to Johnson.

"How are you going to fix it? I'd like to hear about it."

Johnson immediately asked Sean.

"I have my ways, of course.

"Just watch."

Sean said and hung up.

Johnson on the other end of the line was mad.

Even Zane was afraid to hang up on Johnson.

Sean had no manners.

However, Sean did not have time to worry about what Johnson was thinking.

He was busy fixing tables and chairs for the orphanage children.

Zander stood aside and looked at Sean with the hammer with mixed feelings.

Sean once served as a nine-star commander, and his hands were to fight enemies with the Guardian Sword.

Sean held the hammer like a carpenter, banging against the tables and chairs.

There were even two little children nearby, handing him nails.

Looking at Sean's seriousness, Zander was in between laughter and tears.

He wanted Sean to take a break, and Sean refused straight out.

"Brother, have a drink."

Caitlyn brought Sean a cup of coffee and said with a smile.

Seeing that Sean's hands were busy, she held the coffee cup to Sean's mouth.

Then she took out a tissue and wiped Sean's forehead.

Her attentiveness made them look like a loving couple.

"Commander, why are you not worried at all?"

Zander stepped forward and asked with a whisper when Caitlyn was gone.

"What's the hurry?"

"A watched pot never boils."

Sean sternly hammered the nail in front of him without looking back.

“But...”

Zander scratched his head, still unsure.

“Look, even if I panic, I still need to hammer the nail in one by one.”

Sean whispered back after finishing hammering a nail.

“Well... Yes...”

Zander was silent for two seconds before nodding gently.

As a soldier, Zander had a lot of patience.

Without patience on the battlefield, it was easy to lose the initiative and have the enemy lead you by the nose.

However, the patience level also depended on the time, occasion, and situation.

Sometimes, the timing on the battlefield could change instantly.

Once you missed it, it would be hard to get another chance like that.

Although the business world was said to be like a war zone, it was still essentially different.

If the immediate problem was not solved in time, it would only intensify.

Sometimes, a small problem could grow into a big problem.

Therefore, Zander was eager.

“How’s Jeffrey?”

Sean asked as he put away his hammer and sat up straight.

“Everything you asked has been taken care of.”

Zander quickly lowered his head and reported.

“Good.

“Now, do one more thing.”

Sean shook his wrist and told Zander what to do next.

“What?”

Zander’s eyes slowly widened again.

However, he was shocked at the intensity of Sean’s plan.

He was greatly confused.

He even thought Sean’s move was a little crazy.

However, he double-checked and made sure Sean was not joking.

He was going to do it.

The Novel will be updated daily. Come back and continue reading tomorrow, everyone!

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette

Chapter 1449

Chapter 1449

"Commander, I'm gonna do it then."

Zander checked one last time before he left.

"Go ahead.

"It will all be over tomorrow.

"It's time to start construction in Campbell District too.

Sean nodded slightly before waving his hand and saying.

"Yes!"

Zander paused for two seconds before nodding in acknowledgment and turning away.

The night passed quietly.

The entire Joules Town was buzzing that night.

The big shots in the business circle had back-to-back meetings.

The meetings naturally revolved around Lennon Real Estate and Billion Trees Real Estate.

Whether multimillionaires or billionaires, they all had one thing in common.

They did not think Sean and Lennon Real Estate could succeed.

They felt that Sean would eventually ruin Billion Trees Real Estate.

Therefore, many people were waiting for Sean to shoot himself in the foot, and they could then sit back and reap the benefits.

Besides them, many of the ordinary people involved with Billion Trees Real Estate were also busy.

The migrant workers and Billion Trees Real Estate's employees wanted their salaries.

The owners also wanted to protect their legal rights.

In short, it was quite a busy night.

Everyone was talking about Billion Trees Real Estate and Lennon Real Estate.

9 a.m.

The Billion Trees Real Estate building.

Quite a few people gathered here again.

After all, Billion Trees Real Estate's problem had not been solved. Besides that, they had not received a satisfactory answer until now.

Therefore, they would still do it even if it was pointless for them.

Besides that, more and more people gathered here as time went on.

Besides people involved with Billion Trees Real Estate, there were also nosy onlookers.

Soon the vacant lot in front of the Billion Trees Real Estate building was full of people.

The open parking lot was crowded with people. It was lively.

On the left were migrant workers and company employees asking for their wages, and on the right were unit owners who had their unit delivery delayed.

Behind them were all onlookers and reporters.

There were thousands of people, even excluding those who were onlooking.

It was a bustling scene as people were pulling banners and shouting slogans.

“Old Macdonald, you’re here too?”

“Didn’t you say you can’t come here to defend your rights?”

Suddenly, a middle-aged man looked at another unit owner and asked.

*Someone called us yesterday and told us to sort it out.

“I don’t know what’s going on.”

The unit owner called Old Macdonald explained, shaking his head.

“Yeah, yeah. We came over because we got a call too.”

Several migrant workers nearby also nodded.

Then many people said they came over after being informed by Billion Trees Real Estate.

Many people were now confused.

What was Billion Trees Real Estate planning?

Many developers were afraid of unit owners getting together and rioting.

Some even tried to prevent the unit owners from gathering before they delivered the units.

They were afraid of unit owners getting together and rioting.

However, Billion Trees Real Estate took the initiative to gather them together.

Besides that, it gathered all the unit owners and migrant workers.

What was it up to?

Had Billion Trees Real Estate gone mad? Or something was going on?

No one could figure it out.

Milan Hotel-opposite the Billion Trees Real Estate building.

Sean stood at the French window, looking down at the crowd below.

"I think everyone's here."

The Guardian's Sword By Talking Cigarette Chapter 1450

Chapter 1450

Sean asked softly, his hands behind his back.

"Pretty much."

Zander glanced at the papers in his hand and nodded.

However, Zander was still unsure.

When Sean told him to gather everyone, he thought Sean's plan was crazy.

With so many people gathered together, even a small thing could blow up into something big

After all, people liked to follow the crowd and have a herd mentality.

If one caused a scene, the others would follow.

Sean gathered everyone over. Was he not afraid of things getting out of hand?

“Commander, I don’t think this crowd is going to be easy!”

Zander reminded quietly after checking the time.

“It’s not going to be easy?”

“Wouldn’t it be better to have everyone here and solve all the problems at once?”

Sean smiled and shook his head before turning around slowly to go downstairs.

“They say money can’t solve all problems.

“Then I’ll show them today whether money can solve problems.”

Sean’s voice rang in Zander’s ears.

However, Zander had no idea what Sean was going to do today.

The Billion Trees Real Estate building.

“Billion Trees Real Estate, pay back our hard-earned money!”

“Billion Trees Real Estate, give us the units we saved all our life to buy!”

Countless people shouted slogans.

Just then, a group of middle-aged men and women in suits stepped up to the top of the steps.

Some sharp-eyed people found that these people were senior executives of Billion Trees Real Estate.

Besides that, the executives surrounded a man in his twenties in simple casual clothes.

The crowd piped down when they saw this.

A microphone was soon set up at the top of the steps.

Two nearby Bluetooth speakers had also connected successfully.

Sean stepped up to the microphone with all eyes on him.

'I'll introduce myself.

"I'm Sean Lennon, the new chairman of Billion Trees Real Estate

"To put it simply, Billion Trees Real Estate belongs to me now."

Sean held the microphone with one hand and looked at the crowd.

Everyone froze when hearing that. However, they began shouting abuse after being stunned for less than two seconds.

"Could such a young man be a chairman?"

"Sure enough, Billion Trees Real Estate is preparing to run away, so they sent a young man to be the scapegoat!"

"Give back our hard-earned money! Give us our units!"

The crowd roared again.

They did not think a young man like Sean could help them solve any problems.

Sean said nothing and listened quietly.

He did not speak again until the crowd stopped shouting.

“You’re here to solve problems and defend your legal rights.

“But I wanna tell you that you can’t get your wages or units via shouting.

“What do you think?”

Sean whispered to the crowd.

The crowd frowned at this.

They did not come here today for voice training. They came here to settle things.

“Cut the crap.”

“We don’t care whose Billion Trees Real Estate belongs to.”

“All we care about is whether the wages can be paid and the units delivered!”

One started making a scene, and the crowd followed

Many people were watching what was going on here.

Some were waiting to see Sean make a joke of himself.

Others wanted to see how Sean would settle this.