

When His Eyes Opened novel by Simple Silence

Chapter 2550

□ □ □

“Thank you.” Eric said, “There will be a dinner later, if you don’t mind, you can go and eat.”

Avery glanced at Layla.

Layla turned and left without saying a word.

Avery and Elliot immediately followed.

“What’s going on?” Ben murmured, “Eric, did you have a problem with Layla?”

Eric said with an apologetic expression, “Sorry.”

“She was fine when she came, and she also knew you.

It was a farewell concert, and suddenly turned against you because you found a girlfriend?” Ben was so smart that he guessed the reason right away.

“Mr. Schaffer, I don’t want to make her angry, but I can’t help it.” Eric said helplessly.

“I understand! Go celebrate!” Ben left the backstage immediately after clarifying the problem.

After returning home, Layla locked herself in the room.

Elliot looked at the table full of dishes and had no appetite: “Avery, what did my daughter call you to the room last time, what did she say? Are you two hiding something from me? Eric looking for a girlfriend, but my daughter looks broken in love, what is she doing?”

Avery felt that Eric had settled his relationship now, and even if Layla was sad, she would never be obsessed with Eric in the future.

“My daughter has always liked Eric, so don’t ask questions knowingly.” Avery was afraid that Elliot would get angry, so she immediately took the responsibility, “It’s all our fault, we can’t blame our daughter.”

Elliot’s face was covered with frost. He put down his chopsticks and completely lost his appetite.

“When Layla needed our company and care the most when she was a child, the two of us were always arguing, or we were busy with our own affairs and didn’t have much time to spend with the children. You knew it yourself. You helped us take care of Layla before Eric. Take it for a week, or take it for a winter and summer vacation.”

Elliot: “That’s because you don’t give me the child. If you give the child to me to raise, I will never let Eric take care of the child. I will hire the most professional nanny.”

Avery: “What’s the point of saying this now? Layla already had her own consciousness at that time, and it wasn’t a question of whether I should give her to you.”

The two broke out in the most severe quarrel in the past ten years.

“Layla came back to me later, so I didn’t let her date Eric. At that time, my daughter didn’t cry and insisted on staying with Eric.”

Elliot insisted on his own opinion.

Avery: “Even if you’re right, it’s already like this.

Elliot, don’t blame your daughter.”

“She’s sad enough now, what should I blame her for?”

Elliot was heartbroken, “Didn’t Layla be fine before?

Why suddenly...”

“The two of them met last time. After my daughter met him, she found that she still likes him. She said that she likes a man who is more mature. Like Eric, he is handsome, has a good figure and is attractive...”

“But he’s already forty!” Elliot took a deep breath, picked up his water glass, and drank, “Avery, you won’t support her, will you?”

“It doesn’t matter whether I support her or not. Eric has already made his choice. He rejected Layla.” Avery now only worries about how to comfort her daughter so that she can come out sooner.

“This dmn batard! It’s a pity that he quit the circle, otherwise I would have banned him! He actually made my daughter sad!” Elliot clenched his fists and gritted his teeth.

Avery felt that Elliot was somewhat unreasonable.

“Elliot, Eric may not dislike Layla. But Eric refused so simply, have you ever thought it was because of us?”

Avery said, “Do you want Eric to agree to Layla’s confession?”

“Of course not! If he dares to do this, I will never spare him!” After a pause, he recalled, “What did you say?”

Layla confessed to

Eric?!”

□ □ □