

An understated Dominance – Dahlia and Dustin Chapter 1094

An understated Dominance – Dahlia and Dustin Chapter 1094

Chapter 1094: The Arrival of the Miracle Doctor

In the afternoon, within a special ward at the Riverbend Medical Center in Millsburg, Caden Murray lay unconscious on the bed. His complexion was as pale as paper, his breath was weak, his heartbeat was slow, and his body felt ice-cold. At first glance, he looked like a corpse.

A group of experts and professors stood inside the ward, discussing the patient's condition in hushed voices and deliberating treatment plans. However, after much discussion, none of the experts had any solution to offer.

Lily, Shiela, Vivian, and Chase could only stand by, feeling helpless, unable to assist in any way.

“Dr. Jordan, how is my husband's condition? Can he be treated?” Unable to contain her anxiety any longer, Lily asked.

“Mr. Murray's condition is extremely unusual. We have searched through medical literature, but we couldn't find any corresponding symptoms. We are at a loss,” Dr. Jordan, the most senior among the experts, shook his head, expressing his regret.

With symptoms like these that stumped even the experts, they were at a loss on how to proceed.

“What? If you can't treat it, who can?” Lily started to panic.

She had previously contacted the Stoneray Valley, but the Dr Linden Watkins (Medicine King) was currently away and couldn't return immediately. The senior from Stoneray Valley who had been dispatched was also helpless.

“I suggest that we go to Stonia and seek help from experts there. It's a gathering place for elite physicians, and we might find someone capable,” Dr. Jordan suggested.

“With the current situation, we don’t even know if we have enough time for that,” Lily furrowed her brow.

“No need to go to such trouble. I’ve already brought in a miracle doctor,” Garrett Murray suddenly entered the room.

Behind him was a middle-aged man in a lab coat with a balding head. The man was accompanied by two assistants, each carrying a large medicine chest.

“Let me introduce you. This is Mr. Tanaka Ryoichi from the Kingdom of the Golden Phoenix. When Morgan was kicked by a horse and nearly lost her life, it was Dr Tanaka who saved her. His medical skills have reached an incredible level!” Garrett Murray spoke with great respect.

“Tanaka Ryoichi? Is he the renowned miracle doctor from the Kingdom of the Golden Phoenix?”

“That’s right! I studied in the Kingdom of the Golden Phoenix previously and had the privilege of meeting Dr Tanaka in person. He is indeed a legendary miracle doctor!”

“With Dr Tanaka’s help, it looks like Mr. Murray has a chance to recover today.”

...

The entire ward buzzed with excitement upon Dr Tanaka’s arrival. Many doctors and medical professionals looked at him with admiration, as if they were gazing upon an idol.

Although the Kingdom of the Golden Phoenix wasn’t particularly large, its advancements in medicine surpassed even those of the Dragonmarsh. Many doctors in the country had sought ways to study abroad in the Kingdom of the Golden Phoenix for the prestige it brought upon returning.

They would be considered top-tier experts immediately.

“A miracle doctor?” Lily’s face brightened when she saw Dr Tanaka. She eagerly said, “Dr Tanaka, please, you must save my husband. We are willing to pay any price!”

Dr Tanaka subtly shifted his gaze and then walked to the bed, carefully examining Mr. Murray's condition.

After a while, he calmly said, "The patient's condition is the result of a deviation in his cultivation, causing disturbances in his meridians and blood flow. For ordinary doctors, it would indeed be an incurable terminal illness. However, for me, it's a piece of cake."

Upon hearing these words, everyone in the room breathed a sigh of relief.

"Dr Tanaka, you truly deserve your reputation as a miracle doctor. You've diagnosed the condition at a glance. You're amazing!" Chase praised.

"Dr Tanaka, please begin treatment immediately," Lily urged, her hope rekindled.