The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 726

Chapter 726

Quickly, the crowd pushed open the door and gasped when they saw the grand scene outside. They stood dumbfounded and speechless.

At the entrance of the Grand Ocean Hotel were imperial guards dressed in splendid uniforms, kneeling before the doors with an attitude of respect.

Behind them were countless soldiers densely packed like ants, extending as far as the eye could see without an end in sight.

There were likely no less than a hundred thousand of them, and all of them were formidable soldiers.

Slightly further away, numerous armored vehicles were neatly lined up in formation, ready to move at a moment's notice. Their mere presence emitted an overpowering sense of pressure.

Above in the sky, countless armed helicopters hovered in the air, forming the words, 'The Wolf King Returns'.

Such a display would not be excessive even upon the emperor's arrival.

Whoosh...

Boom...

Just as everyone was left speechless, two shrill whistles sounded from either side, leaving behind long trails of thick smoke as they met in the air.

The crowd was bewildered.

What they could do when faced with such technology was extremely limited, so they could only crane their necks and wait for the outcome. They forgot everything else and could not think about anything else.

Then, the dignitaries and spectators snapped back to their senses and began shouting, "The Wolf King returns, crowned with honor!"

Their roars resounded through the sky, becoming the sole dominator of the world at this moment.

Andrius stepped closer to the soldiers.

The Crestfalls did not notice it at first. It was only when he was about to reach the soldiers that they finally reacted.

"Andrius Moonshade, get back here!"

"Andrius, do you want to die?"

"Andrius, do you know what you're doing?"

"Andrius..."

All of them were shocked by his actions and screamed at him, wanting to stop him.

Harry and several other members rushed forward, trying to pull him back. They were all afraid. They were afraid that Andrius might provoke the soldiers and cause trouble for the Crestfalls!

Swish...

Whoosh...

Click...

Just as they were a few steps away from Andrius, the motionless soldiers finally moved.

The army simultaneously raised the guns in their hands and pointed the black barrels at the Crestfalls!

The Crestfalls were instantly terrified.

Several of the timider ones even had yellow liquid dripping down their legs, accompanied by a pungent smell. Frightened, they could not understand why the soldiers were aiming their guns at them.

“Guns should be pointed at the enemy, not at our own people. Stand down.”

A calm and unfettered voice resounded throughout the venue.

The Crestfalls followed the voice and were stunned. The person who had spoken was Andrius!

However, what happened next was even more shocking.

Click!

All the soldiers immediately lowered their guns and shouted in unison, “We shall obey the Wolf King’s orders!”

The Wolf King?

As soon as those words were spoken, everyone was speechless.

Andrius was the Wolf King?

Andrius Moonshade really was the Wolf King?

How could that be?

How could that even be allowed?

He was the infamous son-in-law of the Crestfalls, known for always blowing hot air. He was a laughingstock within th e Crestfalls. He was joked about as someone who always spouted nonsense and never achieved anything.

Not long ago, he had caused a scandal by allegedly raping the princess of Bardan.

However, the soldiers were calling him the Wolf King.

How... how could that be?

That news

was like a bolt from the blue, leaving the dignitaries in a daze. Their eyeballs almost fell out of their sockets in shock.

For a moment, everyone was frozen. They were all thinking that they must have misheard, or it was just a coincidence.

‘Andrius Moonshade... is the Wolf King? Is that true?’

That was the only thought remaining in Belarus’ mind, echoing and spinning endlessly.

At that moment, Luna also felt like she was struck by lightning. She had speculated about the Wolf King’s identity countless times, but she never once considered Andrius to be the Wolf King.

That was simply too shocking and absurd to her.

“No! That’s impossible!”
