Chapter 305

“That’s right!” Eddy shielded Layla as he said, “Layla didn’t approve, but I was the one who persuaded her.”

Caroline looked at Eddy, the big fool Layla had deceived, and she couldn’t help but laugh.

“What are you laughing at?” Eddy became furious at her actions.

“I’m laughing at how gullible you are.”

“What did you say?” Eddy frowned in disgust.

“You’ve always been by Layla’s side. Haven’t you noticed that she’s pretending to be sick?”

When Layla heard her words, she wobbled on the spot. Soon, she quickly steadied herself with the table. She questioned, “Why are you slandering me, Caroline?”

Eddy also scolded. “Caroline, you’re getting more and more out of line!”

Caroline didn’t bother explaining to Eddy. She glanced at the door, waiting for Sean to arrive.

Seeing how silent Caroline was. Layla became more confident. With red eyes, she bit her lips and asked, “Caroline, anything you say casually can ruin my life. Shouldn’t you apologize to me?”

Eddy’s heart fell apart when he saw Layla’s tearful expression. He looked at Caroline and ordered. “Caroline, apologize to Layla right now.”

Caroline raised her head, looking down at him with a mocking gaze. Eddy was so furious at her behavior that he tried to push Caroline’s head down to make her apologize to Layla.

Seeing Eddy’s approaching hand, Caroline moved aside and said coldly. “Don’t you dare touch me.”

Her disgust for him was clearly written on her face.

Everyone was dumbfounded by the sight. They had always thought it was Eddy who disliked Caroline, but it seemed that it was the

At this moment. Sean walked in, holding a large stack of documents. He asked Caroline, "Am I late?"

"You're just on time."

Eddy was shocked to find out that Caroline knew Sean. He froze for a moment, then recovered his voice. "Dr. Yates, you—"

Sean said with a smile. "Time is limited, so I'll make this quick. These are confessions from three doctors and 12 nurses from Morrison Corp's private hospital along with Layla's forged medical records and checklists. I can say with absolute certainty that Layla's kidneys do not have any problems."

"I've also checked the medications she took in prison."

At the mention of this, Sean's lips curled up into a smile as he continued. "Ms. Layla probably didn't expect the prison to record the administration of drugs.

"According to the records, those medicines are just ordinary drugs that supplement your body's vitamins. They can't cure your illness, as you claimed." Sean threw all the evidence on the table with a bang.

Layla's face was as pale as a ghost. "No—no Dr. Yates, what are you talking about? I don't understand you at all"

"That doesn't matter as long as everyone else understands me." And with that, Sean's gaze fell on Eddy.

Eddy's face was ashen as he looked at Layla in disbelief. He felt as if the world was collapsing around him. "Layla..."

"Ed, listen to me. What he said is all lies. There's no way I would lie to you. Don't believe him, Ed..."

Eddy clenched his fists so hard that they were bleeding. He took out his phone and called his assistant. "Bring all the doctors in charge of Layla to Evans Group now!"

His assistant quickly brought the three doctors over. The three doctors had just escaped from the wolf's den. When they saw Sean, they all trembled.
