Chapter 207

Liana was baffled by Sophia's slap.

"I warned you not to drag Betty into any plan of yours, or I won't help you out!"

"Aunt Sophia, I was wrong! It was a careless mistake! I will not do it again." Despite the boiling hatred in her, Liana had to beg for forgiveness repeatedly.

Sophia looked at the lowly woman with disdain. She wouldn't have helped a stubborn and manipulative woman like Liana to marry Jasper if only there were a better candidate from the Kirkman Family.

Still, she refused to give up on Liana after many years of grooming her niece. Disgusted by the night's events, she felt like she had swallowed a fly. Still, she had to endure the setback.

"Alice White is the daughter of the distinguished Taylor family. You cannot lay a finger on her.

Winston Taylor is known for doting on his children. Your top priority is to win Jasper's heart and marry him according to the plan!" Sophia looked terrifying with her taut lips and the bright red lipstick.

"But he makes it clear that he's breaking up with me! Just like what Javier said, no one can change Jasper's mind!" Liana started sobbing at the thought of her crushed dreams.

"He hasn't broken up with you yet!" With a conniving look, Sophia grabbed Liana's shoulders. "Lia, do not reach out to Jasper these few days. It's best if you could stay at home and meet no one. You must pretend that you are in shock!"

"W-Will that work?" Liana was doubtful..

"You need to sacrifice to get what you want. Lia, you'll have to suffer a bit for what's coming next, but listen to me—you'll only win his heart when you remind him of his fondest memory of you!"

Jasper spent the night smoking in his study. His deep eyes and grim face were shrouded in the smoke.

He lost sleep when he thought of Alyssa's reminder to meet at the city hall at 9:00 am

On the other hand, Sean and Winston ushered Alyssa back to her villa in Solana City after visiting Jonah in the hospital. She had an appointment at the city hall the next morning, so she convinced After removing her makeup, applying skincare, and enjoying supper, she drifted to sleep with an eye mask on.

Alyssa was bone tired after all the events that had happened on Newton's birthday. She woke up at 8:00 am, leaving no time for her morning rowing session.

"Oh, my goodness! Why didn't you wake me up earlier? I might have slept past the alarm. You could at least help me out here!" She frowned while putting on her tassel earrings as she made her way down the stairs.

Sean rushed to Alyssa in his apron and gaped at her radiant bare face. He'd never tire of her look, even though he met her on a daily basis.

"I didn't wake you up because I wanted you to rest more after what happened last night."

"That won't work! I'm getting a divorce today!" She pouted. "I'm very particular with being on time.

If I show up late, that arrogant twat might think I'm dragging my feet because I couldn't bring myself to leave him!"

"The day has finally arrived. Congratulations," Sean chirped with genuine excitement.

"Right? See, I even put on a colorful dress. Don't I look festive?" She twirled in delight to show off her dress. At first, Sean thought she'd be upset on the big day, but he seemed to have worried for nothing.

"Ms. Alyssa, have some breakfast before we leave."

"We don't have time! Pack it for me. I'll eat in the car."

To make the trip a comfortable one, Sean chose to drive a Rolls-Royce instead of a luxury sportscar.

Alyssa held a sandwich in her mouth in the backseat as she typed furiously away on her laptop, busy at work.

"Our team has been proactively reaching out to Ada Kingsley over the last few days, but she's being difficult. She does not entertain the staff from KS Group at all!" Sean complained while driving "Our team has only gotten in touch twice with Ada's agent. We haven't met her in person until now!"
