Chapter 953

"Okay, I'll ask now." Kate immediately responded.

After getting her reply, Andrius hung up the phone and left the Royal Gardens. Luna caught up with him and asked, "Hubby, what are you planning to do?"

"I'll wait for the Medicine Sect Master to get back to me about Halle's condition and then decide, Andrius replied.

"Where are you going now?" Luna's large and beautiful eyes gazed intently at Andrius, his image clearly reflected in his pupils.

"I'm going to Artemis Clinic to have Dr. Artemis find some medicinal herbs for me."

"Medicinal herbs?" Luna's eyes instantly lit up, and she said proudly, "The Crestfalls are the top family in the East River State now. Just tell me what medicinal herbs you need. There's no need to trouble outsiders."

She still wanted to help Andrius and use this kind of method to rebuild their relationship.

Andrius said faintly, "I'll pass."

Upon hearing his refusal, Luna could not hold back anymore and voiced her grievances, interrupting him, "Andrius, can you not act like this?"

"I know that my behavior and my family's actions in the past have left you disappointed, but I don't want you to view everything related to the Crestfalls with prejudice because of these reasons.

"Putting aside how they treated you in the past, the Crestfall family has become exceptional now. In the whole of Sumeria, and even the East River State, the Crestfall family would undoubtedly be the first choice if you want to buy medicinal herbs.

"Furthermore..." Luna's voice choked up a little. "The Crestfalls used to be your family, and Grandpa is still always talking about you. Are you really going to..."

Luna trailed off.

Her words made Andrius fall into thought.

He sighed and said, "Very well. I'll have to trouble you then."

"It's no trouble at all!" Luna's eyes regained their luster, and she asked, "What kind of medicinal herbs do you need? I'll ask them to prepare it right away."

Andrius said, "The medicinal herbs I need are quite different from the ones commonly available. I need all the medicinal herbs that are matured and potent.

Andrius then listed out some examples. Those were all herbs that he had seen in Old Hagstorm's garden before

Luna could not help but be stunned.

Each one of the herbs Andrius mentioned would make people go crazy if they appeared in auctions. They could be said to be priceless.

However, Andrius listed so many of them....

Luna subconsciously said, "These herbs will cost a lot of money."

Money...

Andrius glanced at Luna.

Luna realized her slipup and quickly explained, "Don't misunderstand, Andrius. I was just making a note to myself. It was not because of the amount of money needed

Andrius said calmly, "Each of these medicinal herbs is indeed a priceless treasure. They're rare and seldom seen, so it's reasonable for them to be expensive. You can contact Celestial Enterprise for the procurement expenses. I'll give her a heads-up"

Luna smiled wryly and was just about to refuse.

However, Andrius words stopped her "Given New Moon Corporation's current scale, you have to manage the whole situation. I can't just take items for free, right?"

"Okay..." Luna reluctantly agreed.

Then, Andrius instructed Luna about Halle's condition and left the Royal Gardens.

Once he left, he immediately called Sonia.

"I need a large amount of money. Prepare it right away."

Sonia quickly said, "Mr. Moonshade, if it's within fifty billion, I can have it sent over right now. If it's over fifty billion, it might take me two days to prepare."

Andrius nodded. "Okay, make the preparations."
