Chapter 41

Noras POV

Wow, it's completely black in here, again, sigh. This is so da mn boring, I hate being stuck where I can't do anything.

You are not alone in here, you know

Hello Aurelie, I am so happy that you are here with me. This time I don't want to be alone, not anymore actually but how long do you think we will be here? I know that it is my body and mind but da mn this is boring.

Well since I wasn't your wolf from the beginning so I will need to see your memories, you know from when you were young until the day you died with my mother. Is that okay with you?

Oh right, of course but how do I show you? I don't remember much from my childhood, you know.

Well then let's go to your memory base then and we can watch together

Sure let's go there, it's just about two meters or like 100 miles, how can we walk inside my mind, ugh this is so confusing and what the hell is that buzzing sound?

"I guess it's someone from the outside that is talking to you?" Aurelie says and I wonder.

stop my ranting and start to listen much closer, ah it's Helios and.. Maria? What is she doing here?

"I think she wants to tell you something, a story?"

How can you hear so much, oh right wolf hearing.

Well if we truly merge with one another you will be able to hear just as much as I am

Oh right, I should know that. So my earliest memory would be around here.

*Nora's childhood

A blue and white striped ball comes into the eye line and rolls away while a small girl chases it.

"Nora, don't run you can trip" Nora's mother says

But the little Nora doesn't care about her mother's warnings so she continues to chase the ball, and when she finally catches up with it she stops in her tracks. A wolf is holding the ball in its mouth but Nora just squeals and runs up to it.

The wolf drops the ball just as Nora jumps on it and hugs the wolf with her tiny hands.

“Papa” Nora squeals.

“No Nora, don’t do that. That isn’t papa” Nora’s mother says and picks her up.

The wolf looks shocked at Nora as she clings and tries to get down to the wolf again, screaming “papa” over and over again.

“Nora, I am here” a man comes over to Nora and Nora stops at once.

“Papa?” Nora says

“Yes, sweetie.”

“Who?” Nora asks and points at the wolf.

“That’s your uncle, he looks like me doesn’t he”

Nora’s papa says proudly.

Nora tilts her head and smiles and says “papa two” and Nora’s father sighs along with her mother.

End of memory

Huh I don’t remember any uncle? Who is that?

I don’t know of the human but the wolf was definitely Aro

Do you know every wolf?

Yes

Oh da mn, it must be hard to remember everyone.

No they are my children anyway Aurelie answers and tilts her head.

Nora is five years old today and they have a minor celebration, her favorite breakfast and a gift. Riding her mother's wolf through the village to the kindergarten. That's all there was for that celebration. But little Nora was just as happy, she was riding on her mothers back on the way home from kindergarten as well. While the other kids walked home.

When she came home again to the pack house she was met by her father and the alpha of the pack.

"Happy birthday Nora " her dad said but Nora just looked down as not to anger the alpha and mumbled a thanks.

She climbed down from her mothers wolf and ran over to her dad to get a big hug, her mother shifted back and Nora noticed that her alpha looked at her mother while she was naked. But no one said anything.

And the memory faded away

end of memory

Hmm has alpha always looked at my mom that way?
With lust in his eyes?

You don't celebrate big, huh

No we don't, I remember now that Daniel, Ben and the other guys promised me a big birthday party next year but I guess I won't wake up in time to see that huh?

Don't worry, you will wake up in time to have a party and many parties there after

I hope so but hey haven't we missed some memories?

*Actually I have already watched a lot of your memories but these ones were locked by your unconsciousness *

Oh in that case we can check the next one right?

Next memory

This time Nora was 16 and at the ceremony where your wolf was supposed to come forward, Nora didn't and she was ashamed of herself. As she stood there alone in the middle of the pack house, ready to let her wolf forward and show her beautiful eyes but nothing happened.

Nora's parents called her a late bloomer and she rushed up to her room, devastated that she didn't hear from her wolf she cried herself to sleep. But she woke up at midnight with a sound in her mind.

Artemis had come forward in Nora's mind, she told Nora that she couldn't come forward because she was too weak. But Nora misunderstood Artemis and thought that she was too weak..

From that day on she began training and surpassed a lot of ranking wolves in the pack. When Nora turned 18, she was super excited to finally shift but Artemis couldn't do it because she was too weak, she needed more strength.

Nora lost all of her friends, all of them turned their backs on her and she stood alone. Alone she fought and alone she lived, you could call it barely living a life. She had Artemis in her mind and she pushed herself way too hard.

When Nora turned 19 and she was in a competition to raise her ranks, the pack was breached by rogues and Nora did what she was supposed to do, she fought them back.

Nora killed two of them in human form, think of that as a human against two strong werewolves in their wolf forms. A surprise that she was still alive but that would come to change quickly. The pack had a traitor among themselves and the traitor had a silver blade that he slashed Nora with.

Nora got into a coma from the poison of the silver. Around a week she was sleeping and the pack had just started to grieve when Nora woke up. Nora's alpha came by to see for himself, the miracle that was Nora when she woke up.

All he could say was:

"Why didn't you die?"

Chapter 42

Helios POV

I talked with my father about my theory about Artemis but I didn't mention the story that Maria told Nora and I. I think that is still a secret and something I am not supposed to tell anyone yet.

We were going to the library to check the old records of the first lycans that lived in the moon goddess' lands. But as we got closer to the door we heard noises, Ares is in there and another but I can't really hear who it is.

My father opens the door and we walk inside to see who it is but the shock are too strong as I see myself straddling Ares and kissing him. Ugh I need to wash my mouth after this. I see my doppelganger change into the missing piece of our bloody puzzle, Mia. She doesn't look like the perfect witch that she once was and she stinks like she has been bathing in a ditch somewhere. Ugh.

"I need your help" Mia whispers

"I will help you, to die" my father roars and slaps Mia away from Ares.

It went down so fast that I didn't have time to react to what was going on but my father had Mia around her throat against the wall and Ares tried to save her and I just stood by and watched.

"Ares, are you really choosing Mia's side once again, what about Nora, our mate?" I ask Ares and he twitches and glances at me over his shoulder.

"That's why we can't let father kill Mia, I choose Nora and it's Nora's choice about what Mia's punishment should be." Ares answers and I think I agree with that so I sigh and walk over there to help Ares.

“Dad, release her please” I said to him and he let her go in a second.

“You called me dad, you haven’t called me that for many, many years now” he says and I can see that he is on the verge of crying.

“I know but that was because of your lycan, he wouldn’t hear us if we called you dad when he was in charge.” I explain and dad nods his head in shame.

“Guards, take the witch down to the dungeons” dad says and I smile as the guards come into the library and take Mia away.

“So what were you doing in here except kissing Mia in my body.. ish..?” I asked my brother and he looked like he was going to throw up again. Well it looked funny when he actually threw up on Mia and she smelled even more but he doesn’t need to actually puke again, does he?

Dad pushes a garbage can forward and Ares takes it and .. he pukes again. Ugh.

“What are you two doing in here then?” Ares asks as he takes a few second break between throwing up.

“Research on Artemis’ powers” I shrug and look away from him.

“Cool let me know if you find anything, I need to take a shower in bleach and brush my teeth like a 100 times over” Ares says and takes his garbage can with him and walks out of the library.

Me and my dad stare after him until dad breaks out in a laughing fit and makes me stare at him before I shake my head and wander further into the library.

I search the shelves after the scrolls when I feel someone behind me and I turn around to find.. no one..

I don't get it, I could have sworn that I felt a presence but no one was there. Strange.

Ben, where are you and your father? I midlink Ben and ask because elder William can be really sneaky sometimes.

*Well I am in Nora's room but my dad has been in the library since early in the morning, why? Ben answers and sends me a mental image of Nora in her bed, still breathing.

Thanks, I am in the library and felt someone here but I can't see anyone I answer and show Ben where I am.

Oh my dad is playing a joke on you then, he is sitting in that scary room and researching about the first lycans Ben explains to me and I nod.

Oh that would explain things, if elder William is bored and wants to spook me or something, he has always been playful even when I was a kid.

Ben said he was with Nora right now, that is good, Nora's warriors that Ares' assigned to her are taking turns by being by her side. She is never alone, I made sure of that, the maids are checking in on her also. Anna tries hard to wake her up by coming into her room with different desserts.

One time I came in as she and Ben were drinking coffee and eating cookies, the entire room smelled of it. Anna smiled as I came in and poured me a mug with coffee too and we sat down to eat some cookies.

Anna told us about that day when she and Nora had been at that birthday party and how Nora's eyes had been lightened up by all the balloons and candles.

I smiled and then we began planning her birthday party, all the balloons, candles, cake, gifts and guests. We should invite her parents so they can see a real party.

I was so consumed by my thoughts that I didn't notice that my dad was beside me and looked through the shelves so when he touched me, I hit him so hard that he staggered a few steps. Da mn.

"Sorry dad, I didn't notice you" I say and try to go closer to him but he shakes his head at me and I stop.

"Da mn, you hit hard, Helios" dad says and I look down.

"He sure does" Elder Williams' voice comes out from behind me and I jump and turn around way too fast for me to hold my balance and I take a hold of one of the shelves.

Both dad and elder William seem amused by me as they laugh.

"Well instead of getting caught in a boring book we should go outside on this sunny day and train, what do you say, getting off this unspent energy as true lycans?" elder William says and cracks his back.

Chapter 43

Nora's POV

I watched my memories unfold with Aurelie and some I could laugh about but others I felt like I was on the verge of crying over and some I felt a strong longing for. Helios and Ares, my mates, I missed them so much.

I watch as Aurelie studies them and whines at them, they look alike, huh. Well, even if they do look alike there are some differences between them. Ares styles his hair in a way that says that he doesn't like a styled style. He looks like a bad boy with his hair and his clothes and his laid back personality. Helios looks more like the dream prince that exists in every fairytale, his aura, his style and well him as a person.

They are twins but they are so different from each other, that it feels impossible for them to actually be brothers but the bond between them is one of the strongest I have ever felt.

The memories Aurelie is seeing now is when I came to the lycan kingdom, when I healed Dave and the other one. Now when I think about it I have healed a lot of rogue lycans, will I still be able to do that when I have Aurelie by my side instead of Artemis.

I am sure that I will find my meaning in the world when I wake up again, but at that time I want to be in the arms of my mates, Helios and Ares.

*Nora, the memory of Maria telling you that story has come,

do you want to hear it?*

“I am coming”

Maria’s story

When the big time was due and the lycans walked the earth, they were alone and the powers of the witches ran through their veins. But the greatest and most powerful lycan of them all,

Artemis, didn’t want this feeble power.

She said it was cruel to nature to try and manipulate and bend nature to your own will. So instead with the natures help and the help from the moon goddess. They created the very first witch. Just an ordinary girl created from water and clay with the aura

from the forest herself.

And thus the first witch was known, Aurora, a name from the northern lights and the very same name that nature picked. Aurora was an extraordinary child but she was lonely, so lonely as the only witch in the world.

Aurora made a pact with a lycan and created children with the blood of the lycan but only a few of them made it and the ones that did, met a terrible fate.

You see, the children weren't really alive, they just existed without a purpose without feelings. No remorse, no knowing of right or wrong, they simply existed but they weren't peaceful nor were they disasters.

They destroyed everything they could lay a hand on. With the cruelty of a wild beast and the powers from a witch, they nearly destroyed everything in the world. Artemis became furious and killed everyone that was created by Aurora but Artemis could see that she was lonely and she did something that she shouldn't have.

She gave Aurora her newborn son but she kept her daughter. Artemis' son wasn't a lycan, he was human and Artemis asked nature to let him have a piece of nature herself.

Nature

granted Artemis' request and gave him a piece of nature herself.

Artemis' daughter was a werewolf, half lycan and half human, thus a werewolf. But of course humans didn't exist at that time or did they?

The land where Artemis and her clan lived was a beautiful land but everything was so predictable that Aurora fled this land with her boy. It took a really long time before she found peace in a foreign land.

She built a home there for her and the boy and they were happy, until that day came. The boy found a human girl and fell in love with her and had children. But Aurora was sad, she was alone once again but this time she had learned what emotions were.

Happiness, sorrow, anger and it was anger she felt more of and she made the mistake of killing the girl that her boy had fallen in love with. Now he stood alone with three children and the sorrow made him devastated and in pure agony he screamed and the rain fell.

It rained for several months and years and so the great seal came to be. The water drowned everything, even Aurora and the boy himself. The children were saved by nature as were her children as well.

The forest promised to always be there for Artemis if she granted a wish to never harm a witch ever again. The promise was made by Gaia, herself, the goddess of earth.

Even if Aurora's children were ruthless they were still her children and when Artemis killed them the forest stepped away from her but when Aurora took an innocent life, the forest awakened by the boy's grief.

The forest went to protect Artemis' daughter and succeeded and by that they offered their protection in exchange of hers. Artemis gave the promise to protect the next coming witches. if the forest upheld their promise to protect her and her daughter, no matter what form they will be in.

End of Maria's story*

Huh? So in a way I was related to the witch that created the curse. And Artemis had to give up her son, Aurelie's brother. I wonder how she is feeling about this whole thing?

I knew about my brother, he was a kind soul but in the end emotions killed him and I was so angry by that but mother made me realize that without emotions we are just pretty dolls and that life is not worth living*

Artemis is right, to live a long life without emotions must be boring and nothing will surprise you. An emotionless doll living without feeling joy, it seems worthless.

Chapter 44

Ares POV

I took a very long shower, and brushed my teeth three times before I could walk out and put on some clothes. Thereafter I walked downstairs and into Nora's room, as I opened the door I saw something I shouldn't have seen.

So I closed the door fast and went out.

"Why are you blushing?" Andrei asked as he and Gray came walking.

"No reason" I say and stop

"Did the little prince grow up and found some hair in some place?" Gray tries to tease but I punch him instead.

"No, Anna changed clothes on Nora and I saw some of her skin and well, hmm" I try to explain but instead I remember what I saw and I blush even harder.

"Oh, I thought, you already.. I mean, are you a virgin?" Andrei asks and I stare at him

"Of course not, I have had partners but I saw a scar and another thing" I say and stare down at the ground.

"Oh right the scar, she told Ben it happened in a rogue attack and someone slashed her back with a silver knife" Gray told me and I just stared at him.

“Who?” I ask and I can feel my anger arise.

“Well, she didn’t tell us,” Andrei answers.

I growl low but when I was about to say something, Tristan came and patted me on my shoulder.

“Come on, we should go watch your brother and your father fight one another” He says and I look at him in surprise and so does

Andrei and Gray:

We four went towards the training grounds and just as Tristan had said, my brother and my father were having a fight. It looked fun and my lycan was itching for a fight as well.

Helios had the upper hand but he shouldn’t underestimate father, he is older and has more experience than what Helios has. But Helios is younger and is faster than father. Oh, father grabbed Helios ear and threw him over his shoulder, da mn that is gonna hurt later on.

It feels more like father is trying to make up for the lost years when his lycan was in control. I wonder what will happen with all the lost rogues now when Nora is in a coma. Well, we will see what happens when she wakes up.

I almost jump out of my skin when Anna touches me and I turn to face her.

“I am sorry, my prince. I have finished with Nora now so you can go to her but I will warn you that Daniel is already there” Anna explains.

I nod my head but turn my attention back to the fight when an idea hits me and I smile.

*Father, sorry to disturb you in the middle of your fight but I have an idea. My warriors are bored and I am bored so how about a challenging tournament?”

Challenging tournament? My father answers confused

Yes, we can challenge anyone we want and they can't back out of the challenge, they must fight

*Good idea. When will we start? my father asks.

How about when you and Helios are finished? I say

No, how about tomorrow, in the meantime we can arrange the arena and put up the names of the challenges? father suggests and I agree

*That will be good but right now I shall go to Nora and challenge... I begin to say

You can't challenge Nora father say and I sigh

I know that already but I can challenge Daniel, he is sitting with Nora right now

*Good then you and Daniel will be the first ones to..
No wait the doctor said you shouldn't move that much and less fight* Father tries to protest but I just wave at him and turn around and walk away.

But I must stop and turn to watch as the crowd made a noise and now Helios is holding our father down in the dirt, getting the upper hand again and this time it looks like Helios will win. But of course, father shifts into his light brown lycan and I know it won't be long until Helios is defeated and I run into the castle.

I run to Nora's room in a way to escape my father before he realizes that I am already a step before him. I open the door

and see Daniel sitting beside Nora, reading a book out loud to her.

"Hey Daniel, I challenge you" I say and take the other chair on the opposite side of him.

"Nope, your father already talked to me about the challenges. and I say no" Daniel says without looking up.

"Yeah perhaps but one of the rules is that you can't turn the challenge down so that means you must show up for it" I say triumphant and that made Daniel look up at me

I really don't like him at all, it's like he can see right through me without doing so much. He just looks at one and pierces one's soul or in this case one's lycan.

"Fine I accept the challenge, it will be good when I kick your a*s anyway" Daniel says and smiles.

He is so creepy when he smiles like that, ugh.

"Good, can you leave now? I want to be alone with my mate right now" I say and Daniel sighs but gets up and walks out, taking the book with him.

I wonder what kind of book it was.

"Hey, Nora, you know I was in here earlier but Anna was changing your clothes and I think she was washing you also. but that just sounded creepy when I said it out loud just now, sorry.

Helios and father were fighting and I suggested a challenge tournament of sorts. Everyone can challenge anyone and they can't say no. And even though the doctor said that I should

I rest I challenged Daniel and so we will be the first ones to go out and fight tomorrow. It will be so much fun.

My lycan is restless and so am I. I miss you so much but you will cheer me on right? Of course you will, perhaps I will challenge Helios as well but I probably shouldn't do that as you will be sad so I should skip that. I love you, Nora” I kiss her on the forehead when the door opens and Helios walks inside and stops beside me and says. “I challenge you” and I smile.

Chapter 45

Helios POV

finally got dad out on the training grounds, preparing myself for a fight.

Daniel, can you sit with Nora for awhile, I and dad will fight with each other and so I can't sit beside her I mindlink Daniel and I feel that he became happy by my suggestion.

Always, I will let you know if something happens, but da mn, it would have been fun to see you guys fight one another Daniel answers with a laugh.

I guess it would be fun to watch as I and dad fight each other, it doesn't happen so much and since dad's lycan took control it was more that I and Ares getting beatings everyday. But now I can fight back, finally and I have waited for our dad to come back, I have missed him so much. We used to be best friends after all. Sure a lot has happened with mom and uncle Dave but it's over now and Nora has the power to heal the sick rogue lycans so soon perhaps everyone will be healed and we can have a normal life again. I hope so anyway.

If Nora can keep on healing the rogue lycans of course but if she truly breaks the curse perhaps the wholesome magic will heal all of them and everything will be alright.

I took a punch from my dad because I just stood there with my head in the clouds and dad woke me up with that punch. I got up and took a swing at him as well but he dodged it and instead he broke my nose on his knee. Da mn. I should stop thinking about things that probably won't happen in a while but at the same time I can't help it as I am one of the prince's of this kingdom and it's my duty to protect all the ones that live in my kingdom.

III

Dad grabbed me by my ear and threw me over his shoulder so I landed on my back and the air got expelled from my lungs.

Da mn, that hurt, to think that an old man like dad still have some energy left to throw me over his own shoulder.

But now his movements are sluggish like he can't concentrate full out and I look around trying to find the source of distraction.

And I found him, Ares is probably mindlinking dad, and I don't know what I should do. If I continue to fight and win then it isn't because I was stronger but it was because Ares was a distracting father but I can't just stand around like this either.

So after debating in my mind I kicked my dad on the backside of his knees so he fell down on them and he glanced back at me. I felt scared for some reason and I did have a good reason to feel scared. He swept my feet from me and I knocked my head in the ground but I got up in time to stop his roundhouse kick just in time but he twirled around with me still holding his leg so in a way he threw me again into the ground.

We handed out blows for each other until I grabbed his hand and threw him over my back so he landed on his stomach and I sat down on him quickly and held his arms behind his back. I won... that was a worthless thought and emotion right now as my dad shifted.

His light brown lycan was no longer under me as he stood up and I let him go and rolled on the ground trying to find my balance to get up.

I got my balance back and rose up and started my shift but dad fought ugly as he grabbed my tail and lifted me up into the air and spun me around before kicking me up and when I landed my dad sat his ugly but down on my back. "I give up" I say and pat the ground three times in frustration

"So what do you think now about this old man that should go and retire?" dad asks and I stare at the ground for a few seconds, sh it.

"Oh so you heard me then?" I say

"Yep, you said out loud again while you probably just thought it for yourself" dad sigh and I huff

"I am sorry, I shouldn't have underestimated you, I am sorry but what wanted Ares' so bad that it made you distracted?" I ask of him, my curiosity was too much

"Oh Ares' suggested a challenge tournament that works like this. One challenges another and the one has to accept the challenge and the one that wins can either challenge someone else or be challenged. But of course you can also challenge those that have lost as well to make it fair.” dad explains “That sounds good and fun actually, when do we start?” I ask him

“Well you guys can make and take on challenges today but the fighting starts tomorrow.”

“Good, dad, what about everyone write down their names on a piece of paper and put it in a hat and we can just draw a paper and the names on it will go first tomorrow?” I explain and my dad nods his head.

“That sounds fair, so me and Tristan will work with the plan and arrange the arena and you and your brother can go around and spread the word okay” My dad says and I nod and run off, I am going to challenge Ares first.

I meet with Andrei and Gray first and I explain the challenge tournament and they are just as excited as I am and I told them to spread the word around. Then I used our twin bond to locate Ares and I will find him in Nora’s room. I walk over there and open the door to find Ares sitting beside Nora and I feel a small flare of jealousy.

“I challenge you” I say and I see Ares smile

Chapter 46

Nora's POV

I can hear everyone that has come to sit beside me, Helios, Ares, Ben, Linus and all the others as well. I remember that the king and Dave were in my room and the king's lycan tried to connect with Artemis but he couldn't find her but instead he found me.

"Hey, how are you doing?" I ask him and he seems surprised.

Where is your lycan, Artemis? he asks and I feel sad at once.

"She is gone" I say and he whines

I need to go but I wanted to tell you that everyone is waiting for you to wake up, little one he says and I nod as he disappears.

Why didn't you tell him about me? Aurelie asks

"Because I didn't want to spoil the surprise and if I had told him about you and then I didn't wake up..."

I explain

Aurelie hums before she wanders off and into my memories to take another look and try to understand me. She told me that she thinks that I am ridiculous because I doubted myself the entire time.

She thinks of me as a beautiful, strong and independent woman and I still try to think of myself like that.

"Nora, please, wake up.."

I hear Anna's voice and I try to listen to what she is saying.

"I miss you, I think of you as my friend, You showed me that I can be strong and that I am beautiful no matter what. I want you to wake up, I want to show you our beautiful world to you. I want you to taste the pastries I make, I want you to be by my side when I give birth to my first child.

Oh and that will happen in less than a year by the way, you are going to be an aunt because I think of you as my sister. Please, Nora, wake up, I love you" Anna says and I can hear the sadness in her voice.

Urgh I want to wake up now. I try so hard to make my body move but it feels so heavy and I can't understand the surprise. in Anna's voice as she gasps.

Then a few minutes later there are so many people inside the room that I have a hard time hearing what they are saying. Anna, the doctor, Helios, Ares and the king along with Dave and Tristan.

"I was only sitting in the chair and talking to her and then she moved her hand" Anna says and I blink. Did I move my hand? Damn, I'm good.

“Well I have told you that so many times now*
Aurelie comes over to me and I nod in surprise.

“I guess she moved her hand to let you know that she is listening” Maria’s voice comes floating through the air.

“Maria, what are you doing here?” Dave asks.

“I heard Nora’s voice and I thought she was awake but she isn’

t by your reactions I take it.” Maria explain

T

“No but she squeezed Anna’s hand, ” Helios said and I smiled upon hearing my mate’s voice.

“Oh but I could have sworn I heard Nora, will you let me try something on her? It’s a harmless, tiny, spell”

Maria asks and I nod

my head but I don’t think they can see it unfortunately.

“Do it” The king says even though both Helios and Ares

protest.

I feel Maria touch my hand and hear her chanting, I listen to it without understanding what it means.

“Hello Nora, I can see you now” Maria says and she sounds so near that I turn around and see her aura in my mind.

“Hello Maria, can you hear me?” I ask and hope that she truly does.

“Yes, Nora, I can hear you. May I ask where your lycan is?”

Maria asks and I look back at Aurelie.

“Artemis has gone to the moon goddess’ lands and I have a new partner but please don’t tell them that I don’t want to give them false hope” I say and I can feel that Maria understands “Yes, I promise.” But to the importance now, when will you wake up, do you think?” Maria asks but I just tilt my head as I have no answers.

I feel Maria withdraw from my mind and I can hear them on the outside now, more clearly than before.

“I spoke to Nora’s mind just now and Artemis has left her but I have stabilized the link so you should be able to speak to her but if it doesn’t work.. anyway she will hear us on the outside much better now, so I will answer your question. Yes, Nora, can hear everything you say to her and she appreciate that you talk to her” Maria explain

The room went quiet for a while before everyone left and I am alone again, sigh.

“Nora?” Helios’ voice drifts into my ears and I jump with joy.

“Maria told us that you can hear us talking to you when you are asleep so I just wanted to tell you that I miss you. Well everyone here misses you, and everyone here wants you to come back. I love you.

Anyhow I wanted to update you on what is going on here, what you are missing so you can keep up. I fought with my dad, like a duel of sorts and Ares’ who is bored came up with this challenge tournament thing. I think you would have loved to be a part of it.

You can challenge anyone you like and they can’t turn your challenge down, it’s fun actually and I have challenged Ares first. It’s not because of you or a petty thing like brother fights, I just want to see how strong I have become. I would have loved to have you there, watching us or even challenging you to a turn in the arena.

I also got challenged by Ben and Linus, I think Linus wants to climb in ranks so he has challenged Andrei and Ares’ as well.

I love you, Nora. Please wake up soon”

Chapter 47

Ares POV

Maria did a minor spell to steady the connection between Nora and the surroundings, so now Nora can hear us more clearly when we talk to her and of course, Helios took the first turn and I waited out here patiently.

When Helios finally comes out I can see that he has been crying. But I pretend to not see it and Helios pats my shoulder and I hug him. When he releases me, he gives me a smile and a nod and I go into Nora.

I see her laying on the bed and I sit down on the bed next to her, I take her cold hand in mine and kiss it softly while not trying to cry.

“Hey, princess, I know that you can hear me and I will probably sound like a broken record but I need to tell you that I love you and I miss you so much. I bet Helios told you about the thing I created for fun, a challenge tournament and to think that Helios was the first one to challenge me.

He probably wants to see if he has become stronger than me but I doubt it, you see it's really rare for a lycan to have twins.

Often the stronger twin will absorb the weaker one before birth but as you saw in the memories, the witch caused my mother to go into an early labor and both of us were still alive. But nothing to discuss. I am the stronger twin and as such I had tried to absorb Helios in the womb but I didn't succeed. So Helios who was the weaker one has always been behind me in physical trials but he totally out ran me in academics. and politics so in a way we weigh each other up. Night and day, so to speak.

But anyway I will fight with Helios and then against Gray, and then I will challenge uncle Dave. I would have loved to be able to challenge you too and by the way I will challenge Daniel as well. I have never liked him very much, he has this look in his eyes, like he can see right through one. He is scary sometimes.

I don't know what to say to you, princess, all I want is for you to wake up and then I want to hold you in my arms so hard that you can never leave me again. I love you so, so much and I promise that I will never betray you ever again. I love you, Nora." I say and then I kiss her softly on her lips before walking out and in the hallway I meet uncle Dave that was waiting for me.

“I just wanted to sit with Nora for a while” uncle Dave says and I nod and walk toward the dungeons.

Helios and our father are together with Mia’s mother and grandmother, Maria, waiting for me to arrive.

Father unlocks. the door down to the dungeons and we step in and down the steps until we come to the guards down there.

I let them know that we are there to see Mia and they nod and one of them follows us with the keys.

We walked past a bunch of rogue lycans and some intruders that tried to harm our people.

All the way to the last cell, where Mia is sitting in the coldest cell and the only cell that blocks magic.

Mia looked even worse than before, as she sat on the floor and her once blonde hair is almost black with dirt and she still smells of puke, I look away from her as I try not to throw up again from the smell alone.

“Oh pitiful child” Maria says and Mia looks up at us.

“Grandmother, please, help me out of here” Mia pleads.

“That is not for me to decide, child” Maria answers and looks. at the king.

“No, that is my decision and right now it pleases me to know that you are down here, in this cell” father says and I want to sigh because I really want to put her in a shower.

“Dad, let her shower off that stench, before it kills everyone down here” Helios says and I look at him.

Helios, why are you calling father for dad? Have you become crazy these days? I mindlink my brother.

You are the crazy one these days and you know it. I call him dad because our dad is back, his lycan has withdrawn and he is happy that I call him dad and so should you do

Helios answer and I feel conflicted.

The last time I called him dad, I was chained to a wall and I got 10 lashings for it. His lycan was furious and told me to show respect in front of others, I should have called him sir or father.

I shiver by the memory of what happened and miss when father actually allows Mia out of the cell to take a shower and get her something to eat.

“Why can’t we get her a maid’s room and enchant it with anti- magic?” I suggest and all of them are staring at me.

“We already-agreed on that, Ares. What would you think if you didn’t pay attention to what we said?” father asked and I looked down to the floor when I couldn’t say anything to explain why I hadn’t heard what they discussed. “Whatever I just want...” Mia started but Maria said a word and put her hand over Mia’s mouth and when she took it away. Well it looked like something out of a horror movie, it looked like new skin had grown over Mia’s mouth. Effectively making her mouth go away, no matter what she tried to make sounds nothing came out. What a nightmare. I could see how she was starting to panic but I turned around, refusing to see how she was tortured. “Well let’s get you settled in now then” Helios said and grabbed her by her arm and dragged her upstairs.

Chapter 48

Helios POV

Maria came along to Mia's new room, a room on the other side of the castle, as far away from Nora as possible. They put up a barrier around the room, hindering Mia from going outside or doing any magic at all.

I stretch my arms up in the air, ignoring Mia's constant banging on the door, she is a stubborn one. I don't see what Ares' was so attracted to, sure she can be pretty if she ever shuts her mouth but other than that I don't get it.

I walk away and try to find Ben and Tristan instead. I want to challenge Tristan, even if he doesn't like to fight, he is rather good at it. Sure his mom and my mom were best friends as they were sisters, adoptive sisters. And so he learned everything about clothes and stuff.

When Tristan was a child, he looked like a girl and so they spoiled him rotten by dressing him up in dresses and stuff, embarrassing. So Ares took the time and trained hard instead since he has a natural talent for that while I ran after dad. I learned everything about politics and the boring stuff that Ares calls it.

But I was weak as a child and I didn't have any other choice. than to follow my dad. I know now why mom and dad were strange toward each other but I didn't know then.

I was a fast learner so I got my lessons earlier than Ares did, history, geographic, politics and other subjects like economics and stuff so I could follow my dad to other kingdoms and be a part of the discussions there.

I never told Nora this but I have been in both blaze and knight kingdom and I have learned different things in the other kingdoms.

I learned how to defend myself and anticipate the other opponents' movements in the knight kingdom.

The blaze kingdom's people never lied and they could always tell when someone else lied. I tried to learn from them but it was hard to understand them.

Fred, a lycan from the Blaze kingdom said that he could see a person's aura and when its aura changed its color to black, that person lied. I tried so hard to see one's aura but it was hard. I traveled to the other kingdoms as well and learned a few tricks here and there.

And now I can use those tricks to pass my time once again. until Nora wakes up. I do hope we will find anything that will help her wake up faster. I have a feeling there is a war coming up and I don't want her to get hurt. After all, we aren't the only kingdom that has been cursed.

The other kingdoms have also heard of Nora's existence and soon they will come for her, as the last female lycan and the one that can break the curse. They won't care that she has a matebond to me and Ares. And that is precisely why it is so important that she is never left alone.

I find both Ben and Tristan in my room. Nora described my room as ridiculously large and she hasn't seen all of it yet. My room has four other rooms that are joined to my bedroom. And right now Ben and Tristan are in my so-called office but I like to call it my study instead.

The room is filled with various books and a large table where I study or talk with my friends and right now both my betas are here. Well Tristan is more a personal assistant to Ares but his responsibilities are equal to a beta, but he refuses the title.

"Too much work comes along with it" Tristan always says.

I shake my head as I enter the room but leave the door open as I can sense that Ares aren't that far behind me and just as I take a seat my brother shows up in the door.

“Close the door and take a seat, I have something to tell you guys” I say and Ares’ nods and closes the door.

“What is the matter, Helios?” Ben asks concerned.

“I t’ s important but first. I challenge you to a fight, Tristan” I say and turn to look at Tristan.

“Damn, I wanted to challenge Ben as well,” Ares laughs.

Both Ben and Tristan laughs and accepts the challenges.

“So what do you want to talk about?” Ares asks.

“Dad doesn’t know about this just yet but there is a war coming.” I begin to say but Ares cuts in with a laugh

“There has always been a war coming our way, brother” he says and begins to get up from his chair

“This time I am sure, I have been tipped off, they are coming next month. They are coming for Nora.” I say and Ares sits. down again and stares at me.

“How do they know about Nora?” Tristan asks.

“Either it’s a witch or we have a traitor among us” Ben says.

“Yes, I thought so at first but then I remembered, one of the rogue lycans that kidnapped Nora into the forest. He was from another kingdom and we sent him back a couple of weeks ago.” I say and sigh

“Then he told them and now everyone knows about her and they would want her for their own.” Tristan says.

“No, She is ours, they can’t have her” Ares stands up so fast that the chair falls to the floor with a bang. Ben claps his hands and I smile at Ares.

“What?” Ares asked confused

“You said that she is ours not yours” I say with a wide smile.

“Yeah, I had a dream about Artemis. She explained to me that the entire time I thought that Nora was mine and mine alone, Artemis was hurt. I needed to get it through my thick skull that Nora isn’t just mine or your brother. She was sent to us for all lycans sake.” Ares explains

I stared at him. Of course, she is the loophole of the curse, she was meant for all of us. So why in the world does she have a matebond to me and Ares?

Chapter 49

Unknown POV

Well, this is a disaster, the loophole is in a coma and probably without her lycan and then she can't break the curse and my master can never break free. Idiots. And why did the moon goddess stir in one's life? Why did she have to give the loophole to two mates?

If the girl didn't have a mate or only one, the curse would have been broken and everything would have been perfect. My master would have come back with full power and nothing or no one could have stopped him this time.

I wonder what the two prince's will say when they discover that their mate is my master's incarnated wife? Oh they will be in for a big surprise, this time around. Soon my lovely princess, soon you will wake up and my master will come for you...

Uncle Dave's POV

Haha this was a splendid idea from Ares, a challenge tournament. There are so many challenges, even I have got a few and my brother is doing his best as well. Almost everyone wants to challenge the king.

Ares' army is here and all of them have been challenged. The younger ones that want to be selected into Ares' private army, the top warriors, are challenging them in a way to become stronger and earn some credit.

Helios gave the idea to write down everyone's names on paper and then just draw a pair of names instead of giving a specific order. I think it was a childish idea but everyone else liked it so I just rolled my eyes at them. But it seems to work.

I watch as my brother and my nephews collect everyone's names and put them inside a bag to just pick one random. While I go and fetch my computer instead and sits down at the same table, I grab the bag and start to read the names.

Then I put the names inside the computer and I open a random name generator and put in every challenge and then I show the boys the screen.

"Wow!" That is such a good idea, uncle" Ares' say and looks like a kid on his birthday.

Oh right, their birthday is coming up soon as well.

"So the preparations are in place then. Now we will have to decide which one of us is staying beside Nora's side" I say and look at them and I can see in their eyes that they have in a moment forgotten their mate.

"What about, Daniel?" My brother say and I shake my head

“Daniel is in for four different challenges” I say “Oh, then ..” Helios begin to say when someone hums.

“I will stay by Nora’s side between the times when Daniel is fighting” Anna says and smiles as she comes inside with a tray.

“Me and Daniel already talked about this anyway” Anna says and puts the tray down.

Sandwiches and coffee. Damn, this woman is good.

“Good, thank you miss Anna” I say and she nods and blush a little.

She is cu te bu t she lost her mate in an awful way, it turned out that she was a chosen mate to a lycan that found his mate a few years ago. He was gay or bi and Anna didn’t want to stand in their way so my brother gave her protection if she could work as a maid here for him and she accepted.

She is a fine woman and even in the state my lycan was in, I felt attracted to her. She is beautiful and I notice that everyone is staring at me except Anna.

Yo u were speaking in the mindlink, brother my older br other tells me and I growl.

Dammit, when am I going to re-learn how to close the damn link?

The boys snickered while Anna looked confused at me and I smiled awkwardly.

“Thank you Anna, you can go now” Helios said and she smiled and nodded and took a last glance at me before going out.

“So oo A na..” Ares said and winked at me and I growled before slamming my laptop shut and went out.

Stupid snotty brats, I miss my wife but she and Anna are completely different, Anna is a ray of sunshine, always smiling and helping everyone out. My mate smiled only at me, she was shy and really afraid of strangers.

I walk around the corner and bump into elder William and his son Ben, along with Anna. I hid around the corner and listened as they talked but then I realized I was being stupid, hiding like a school boy.

I took a deep breath and walked out of my hiding place just to see elder William slap Anna on the butt and I lost control. My rage went out blind just as Anna turned around with a crying face and I took a few steps and punched elder William.

Ben's reaction was a bit slow as he turned around, and just stared at the scene but then he sighed and approached me slowly and I glanced at him as he took my laptop slowly and nodded at me.

I released the laptop and I saw him take it and guide Anna away from there while leaving me and elder William alone in the corridor.

"What in the moon goddess name are you doing Dave?" elder William asked

"I am taking revenge on what you did on Anna!" I growl out and show him exactly how angry I am.

"Oh come on Dave, Anna isn't marked so anyone can be with her. And I know that she has been cold and lonely for a while now.." elder William started to say but I didn't let him finish as I took a hold of his neck and pushed him into the wall in pure rage.

I felt my lycan wake up and felt his rage as well. We built our rage up together as we punched and punched again so William was all bloody. I didn't want to stop and neither did my lycan want to stop but we did as someone hugged me from behind.

Chapter 50

Dave POV

I am so da mn ashamed of myself, I let my anger take control of myself once again and I hurt my good friend and I also hurt. the first woman, after my two mates, that I really cared for.

As I held elder William, a man I can call a good friend, by his neck against the wall, Anna came and hugged me from behind. But neither me or my lycan truly registered that it was her so to push her away in my anger I semi shifted and my lycan's claws came out.

I slashed them down on Anna's face without thinking and I remember her shocked face before she realized what I did and she screamed and fainted from the shock. I stared at my hands before I caught her from hitting the stone floor.

Her blood poured from the wounds in her face and I did the only thing I could think of. I shifted into my lycan and started to lick her face, forcing her wounds to close. This is a method between mates to close each other's wounds and it wouldn't work between none mates if there isn't a strong emotional bond between them. Like parent and child.

But for some reason the wounds started to close, slowly, really slowly but they closed and I could hear Anna's shallow breathing.

Ben came down to me in a really slow motion and I looked up at him before nodding for him to take her away from me.

He took her in his arms and ran towards the doctor's office while I sat still on the floor, whining while looking at all the blood on my paws and onto the floor. I heard them coming towards me but I couldn't move, I didn't even move as elder William coughed and patted me on the shoulder.

I heard my brother asking if I was okay but my mind didn't react, I just stared down. I remember my brother and some of the warriors coming and they tried to move me but I just wanted to be alone and the next thing I knew was the darkness.

Helios POV

Well da mn, this was unexpected. My uncle is in love with Anna and I know Anna is attracted to him as well but they don't know how to go about it. So I mindlinked Ben and told him what happened and we thought of a plan and hoped to get my uncle to make a move but instead..

It went the wrong direction, Ben's father, elder William, thought it would be fun if he said some things to Anna and then slapped her on the butt when he knew that my uncle was watching but as I tried to stop elder William, I was too late.

In a way to save Anna, my uncle turned into his rage and his lycan helped him and turned into an inferno of pure rage. If Anna would have been my uncle's mate then I would have understood it but she isn't and still he let his lycan take control of his rage.

Strange.

Ben took Anna away from there but as he was putting her into safety, she managed to talk him into releasing her. That she could help uncle snap out of it, she wanted to help him.

Ben. couldn't argue against her and in a desperate attempt she got away and

Ben came after her but met us on the way and tried to explain the situation.

Then Anna surprised uncle as she hugged him from behind but in his pure rage he couldn't tell it was her and he slashed her face with his claws. I learned from Ben that uncle Dave shifted into his lycan and slowly closed the wound by licking them.

Remarkable.

Ben took Anna and ran to the doctor while dad ordered for me and Ares to stay behind and call upon the warriors to come and help him. Uncle Dave was speechless but tried to attack dad and the guards when they tried to make him go out.

Me and Ares ran down just in time to see dad with a broken nose and Andrei knocking uncle Dave out cold. Ares ran down to dad but I was left standing on the stair while staring at the blood that was smeared onto the floor.

It was a lot, and I felt nauseous by the look of it. It's not the first time I have seen blood, da mn, I have spilled blood before. But this? This is different, as I look down in the blood, I can feel it calling out for me. So in a trance I moved closer to it and finally when I was standing beside it, I just looked down at it.

I could have stood there forever if I wanted to but my brother pulled me away from it and yelled at me but I couldn't clearly hear what he was saying, it was like a fog over my mind. Mia. Then there was darkness.

Ares POV

Darkness seems to be the keyword for today, I want darkness too, why can't I have it. I noticed that Helios was staring at the blood from Anna and no matter what I said he didn't seem to hear me.

So I walked over to him and grabbed him. I shook him quite hard but he didn't react like he was not in control. A puppet. Mia?

Then Helios fainted, da mmit.

I hugged him and then I looked over towards father, he had fixed his nose by this time and he came over and lifted up Helios and looked confused at the blood, Helios and then me. "Mia?" he asked me and I growled, nodded and walked in the direction of her room.

I heard her banging on the door but that wasn't what surprised me, it was Anna. She was standing outside of Mia's room but as I tried to talk to hear it was the same as with Helios. She couldn't hear me but she stood there, still as a shadow so I did the first thing I could think of.

Maria? Excuse me if I disturb you but do you know what is happening right now? I mindlink Maria and even though she is a witch she can hear me.

“Hmm is my granddaughter causing trouble?” Maria answered, she sounded tired.

*I am not sure. One of the maids here got hurt and then both my uncle and my brother got in some sort of trance state and now the maid, Anna, is standing outside Mia’s room. And by the looks of it she is the same as Helios and uncle, unresponsive’ I say it quickly.

Puppeteer. Ares, don’t touch this Anna person and get away from there right now. I and the coven is coming

I nodded and was about to leave when I felt something hard hitting my head and finally the darkness came my way.
