

Super Rich Dad Chapter 399-400

Chapter 399 Could it be true?

While thinking, Chu Zhengting dialed Chu Yuan's phone number.

At that moment, Chu Yuan was still sitting in the private room of the Kunlun Hotel, talking and laughing with the middle-aged man.

In Chu Yuan's opinion, he had almost won today.

On Jiang Hao's side, although You Yun had not listened to himself and threw him out, in the end he had left, and even if Jiang Hao had left, it was only after he had been ridiculed by everyone present that he had finally left.

This alone had almost cancelled out the imbalance in Chu Yuan's heart earlier.

As for the disobedient security guard, although You Yun knew that there was nothing wrong with this guy and that he was all for his own good, in the end You Yun still chose to fire the security guard.

For no other reason, You Yun just didn't want to provoke the bombshell that was Chu Yuan any more.

If he really provoked Chu Yuan because of a security guard, and then affected his other business dealings, it would really be more than worth the loss.

You Yun also knew very well that even if he did not fire the security guard, even with Chu Yuan's character, he would not let the security guard go. He would not let that security guard go, and he would only end up worse off in the future.

And You Yun fired him and gave him a large sum of money by the way, on the one hand, he did not want to treat him badly, and on the other hand, he was also protecting that security guard, so that he would not let Chu Yuan settle the score afterwards again.

'Young Master Chu, now that I have fired the man, you should be satisfied.' You Yun asked with a lost look on his face.

Chu Yuan skimmed his lips and smiled, 'Satisfied? No, I am not satisfied, what does it matter to me if you fire an employee? Mr. You, I still say the same thing, behave yourself, don't even think about the south of the city project!'

Chu Yuan continued, 'You think I'll change my mind if you fire a stinking security guard? You're too naive. Oh, didn't that kid just say he could help you, so you can go to him, Mr. You? Haha, that's a powerful man.'

After Chu Yuan finished sarcastically slinging at You Yun, he looked sideways at the middle-aged man beside him and laughed, 'Haha, actually I shouldn't have let that dog leave so easily, didn't he say he could kick our Chu family out of the city south project? Haha, I really should have left him behind, let's see what other tricks yah end up doing!'

The middle-aged man, with a smile on his face, agreed: 'That kind of person is purely a retard, so why should Mr. Chu be so insensitive to him?'

The middle-aged man's words had not even smoothed out when he heard Chu Yuan's mobile phone ringing loudly, he hurriedly withdrew his words and meekly shut his mouth, not daring to disturb Chu Yuan to answer the phone.

Chu Yuan had been flattered by the middle-aged man, and was at his most triumphant moment when he was suddenly interrupted, so he could not help but be a little upset.

However, when he lowered his head and looked at the phone, his face suddenly became a little more serious and he muttered, 'The old man? Why does he have time to call me? Heh, it's really rare!'

You know, usually this old man, as if he was about to forget that he had a son, almost a few months would not call him.

And Chu Yuan was also a bit annoyed with his father's nagging, so it was only when he usually bumped into him when he went back to the office to collect money and really couldn't leave that he would simply talk to him.

Usually, if he saw his father, he would almost always walk around.

That's why Chu Yuan felt a little surprised when his father suddenly called today.

But he didn't think too much about it, he just thought that maybe his father had something to ask him, or maybe there was some project he couldn't go to and asked him to go instead.

So Chu Yuan didn't hesitate too much before he picked up the phone.

'Hello, Dad, why, remember you have a son?' Chu Yuan said with a slightly sarcastic smile.

Usually he spoke to his own father in this tone, I didn't think anything of it.

But he didn't expect that today would be an exception.

Because as soon as he finished speaking, he received a head-bashing scolding from Chu Zhengting.

'How can I think of you, and you have the nerve to ask me yourself? Do you know how much of a mess you've made?' Chu Zhengting roared over the phone, 'You beast, you've screwed me over!'

When he was scolded like that, Chu Yuan was stunned, thinking that his father had gone mad. Besides, being scolded for no reason, he was not happy in his heart, so he directly retorted back.

'What are you talking about? You haven't taken your medication, have you? How did I pit you to death? Are you out of your mind? Without me, you could have made a fortune during this period of time? I'm telling you Chu Zhengting, I've been talking to my Uncle Howe about the Jiangnan Business School project for the past few days, and he's finally about to relent as I've been softening him up, humph, how dare you talk to me like that without thanking me? I think you just don't know what's good or bad!'

Chu Yuan spoke to his father with no regard for manners, and was even a bit smug as he continued, 'Humph, if you were the only one counting on you, what's the point of talking about the Jiangnan Business School project? This south of the city project, you will just have a mouthful of soup for the time being!'

In Chu Yuan's view, the reason why his family was able to take advantage of the project in the south of the city was all because of himself.

This south of the city project, without his own involvement in it, the Chu family can progress so smoothly?

In his opinion, the entire Chu family should thank themselves for being able to enter the south of the city project.

But what Chu Yuan didn't expect was that after waiting for half a day, he still couldn't wait for his father's thanks, instead, he got another scolding and a stone-cold news.

'You bullsh*t, without you, is my company still unable to do business? Don't you fucking pretend with me here, I'm your old man, I still don't know you?' Chu Zhengting said loudly, 'What do you think, how dare you think that my Chu family got into the south of the city project because of you, and you are still complacent, you are complacent, don't you know, because of you, now our Chu family, has been kicked out of the south of the city project!'

When he heard Chu Zhengting's words, Chu Yuan was stunned for a moment, then he actually laughed and said with contempt, 'Old Chu, your joke is simply too low, next time you want to pick a fight with me, please find a better reason, okay? Why don't you just say that our company has gone bankrupt? That's ridiculous!'

'Oh right!' Chu Yuan then laughed and continued, 'Did you know that I had an idiot here just now? Oh, what a coincidence, do you know what that idiot said? He said he could kick our family out of the South of the City project, and then you called, huh?'

'What did you say?'

Hearing these words from Chu Yuan, Chu Zhengting's eyes instantly widened, simply in some disbelief.

'In that case, it was really this kid who did it?' Chu Zhengting's face was filled with an incomparably frightened expression.

He seemed to sense an odour of danger.

'What did you say? Say it again!' Chu Zhengting questioned Chu Yuan with a stern face.

Chu Yuan laughed coldly as if he did not think so, 'Are you sick? Well, since you want to hear it, then I'll say it again. That idiot said that he wanted to kick the Chu family out of the south of the city project.'

Now that he heard Chu Yuan's very exact answer, Chu Zhengting simply had the heart to cry.

It was a waste of time that he had just pleaded for this son of a bitch in the phone call Liu Guohao had made to him, and he didn't even believe that Chu Yuan had done this.

But now it seems that it must be him, there is no escape.

And the ‘idiot’ Chu Yuan mentioned just now should probably be the investor of the south of the city project.

‘This little son of a bitch has cursed the most undeserving person and offended the most despicable person,’ Chu Zhengting murmured to himself with despair in his eyes.

At this moment, he felt as if his mind had gone blank, as if he had short-circuited, and his whole body was shaking with anger.

Although he had known that his son was domineering in the past, he had never imagined that one day his son, who was indisputable, would cause such a great disaster.

You, a small contractor, had scolded the biggest boss of the project, and it seemed that it was already merciful for him to let you live.

And what made Chu Zhengting feel most furious to the extreme was that the matter had already reached the point of no return, and Chu Yuan still didn’t know it, and still looked as if he was complacent.

‘Bastard, you’ve killed your old man!’ Chu Zhengting cursed over the phone in desperation, ‘You’re a dog who’s not good enough, do you know that because of you, I’ve ruined my decades-long foundation this time!’

Of course, Chu Zhengting knew very well that on the surface, it looked like it was Chu Yuan who had scolded Jiang Hao, and Jiang Hao who was ready to kick their Chu family out of the south of the city project.

But in reality, now Chu Zhengting had long ago pressed all his fortune into this place, just waiting for the time when he had won the big project, so that he could do a turnaround.

But now the Chu family has been kicked out of the project, and all that they have paid for has gone up in smoke all of a sudden.

The Chu family has very little liquidity on its books right now, and this time, it’s completely in a desperate situation.

Chu Zhengting’s side was silent for a while, and Chu Yuan could also hear the lamenting sounds coming from the phone, and after a moment, there was actually the sound of Chu Zhengting crying in grief and anger.

At this moment, Chu Yuan seemed to have thought of something and froze in his tracks.

This was because he knew that the kind of despair his own father felt could never be faked.

That meant that what his own father had just said was all true?

It was hard to believe that his own family had really been kicked out of the City South project? How could that be possible? His own family still had Liu Guohao as their backer, so how could they have been kicked out of the City South project.

But if that was the case, then how could one explain the matter at hand? After all, his own father, who was really angry, was also really crying.

Chapter 400 – Disappearing from Chu Jiang

‘Dad, is what you said true or not? Did our family really get really kicked out of the south of the city project? How is that possible?’ Chu Yuan said incredulously, ‘Don’t we have Uncle Howe? Isn’t he the head of the entire City South project? Without his word, who could kick us out!’

Even now, Chu Yuan still could not believe what was happening in front of him.

Because he felt that it was all too magical, simply unbelievable.

You know, their Chu family is Chujiang’s largest engineering equipment company, which project without the Chu family’s participation, it can be said to struggle, after all, many large, and expensive equipment, the entire Chujiang only Chu family has.

Once the Chu family left the project in the south of the city, wouldn’t many projects have to be halted?

What’s more, their Chu family has Liu Guohao as their backer.

In Chu Yuan’s view, Liu Guohao is already the boss of Chu Jiang’s south of the city project, without his authorization and consent, who would dare to kick their Chu family?

It was hard to believe that Liu Guohao had done this?

The relationship between his own family and Liu Guohao has always been very good, not to mention that the Chu family has recently given Liu Guohao a large sum of money, for reason, Liu Guohao could not have done such a thing.

Chu Yuan was confused, waiting for his father to give him an answer.

The Chu Zhengting on the other end of the phone kept sighing and said sadly, ‘Of course it’s true, do you think I would play such a joke with you? You think Liu Guohao is omnipotent? He’s nothing before people’s investment in the south of the city project, and you’re still pretending to be a tiger, you’re crazy! You little son of a bitch, you’ve ruined something big this time, hurry up and tell me who you’ve offended!’

Hearing Chu Zhengting’s words, Chu Yuan’s head felt like it was about to explode. Originally, he had been lucky, but now it seemed that his family had been kicked out of the City South project, and it was a nail in the coffin.

How could such a thing happen?

Who had he offended?

Chu Yuan almost immediately thought of Jiang Hao, because this guy had just said that he would kick his family out of the City South project, and it had not been ten minutes since he had said that, and his father had called.

What the hell is going on here? Chu Yuan felt that this matter was so detailed and frightening that his scalp was about to explode from thinking about it.

It was hard to believe that this unimpressive looking little yakuza really had heavenly energy to kick his family out of the city's south project?

'Impossible, absolutely impossible!' Chu Yuan gritted his teeth and whispered up to himself.

'How is it impossible, Liu Guohao just called me, it's only been less than five minutes before and after!' Chu Zhengting said, 'Hurry up and tell me, who exactly did you provoke? If our family really ends up being kicked out of the city's south project, you'll see how I'll deal with you!'

As soon as Chu Zhengting's last words left his mouth, Chu Yuan's entire body couldn't help but be lifted.

He was completely dumbfounded and completely at a loss for words, not expecting at all that this unimpressive looking Jiang Hao would be so capable, really kicking his family out of the City South project in a matter of minutes?

Who the hell was he?

The more Chu Yuan thought about it, the more panicked he became in his heart, and for no apparent reason, he felt his fire rising.

He clenched his teeth and did not react for a long time, obviously at this moment, he did not know what to do, because he did not think about this outcome at all.

As for You Yun, who was now beside Chu Yuan, and the middle-aged man, they all looked appalled at this moment.

Although they had not fully heard the call just now from Chu Zhengting, they were right beside Chu Yuan and had heard the most crucial words clearly.

'No way! Who exactly was that person just now?' The middle-aged man beside Chu Yuan said with a dismayed expression, 'And he really said what he said?'

This man was simply dumbfounded, he also didn't expect at all that Jiang Hao would really do what he said, saying that he would kick the Chu family out of the south of the city project, just a few minutes before and after, and it was done?

This was the Chu family, and there was still Liu Guohao behind it, so he did it so easily? What kind of astonishing background did this person have to have?

Just thinking about it, the middle-aged man felt a chill run up his back and his body shivered.

At that moment, when he looked at Chu Yuan again, his eyes changed slightly.

In the past, he had treated Chu Yuan with respect, because he knew that Chu Yuan was the only person who could help him get into the City South project, and that was why he had followed him around like a dog.

But after Chu Zhengting's phone call, the middle-aged man suddenly realised that he didn't have to treat Chu Yuan the way he did before.

Damn it, your own family has been kicked out of the south of the city project, how can you possibly help me?

The middle-aged man's face changed abruptly as he looked at Chu Yuan and asked again, 'Young Master Chu, your Chu family, has it really been kicked out of the City South project?'

He pointed at the middle-aged man and shouted, 'What are you talking about? Are you happy that our family has been kicked out of the south of the city project? What the hell do you mean?'

If it was in the past, Chu Yuan would have pointed at his nose and scolded him like this, the middle-aged man would probably have just lowered his head and silently kept his mouth shut.

But this was not the past. I used to be a dog for you because you could help me.

Now that you are in a difficult position to protect yourself, how dare you talk to me with such an attitude?

As soon as Chu Yuan pointed at the middle-aged man's nose and finished yelling, the middle-aged man suddenly raised his head and let out a cold laugh with his mouth.

Then he raised his hand violently, and with all his strength, he punched out.

'Boom!'

The punch hit Chu Yuan's face. Chu Yuan was unprepared and was directly knocked back several steps, finally staggering against the wall.

'What do you want? What's wrong with you? How dare you hit me?' Chu Yuan shouted violently, his eyes full of rage.

Obviously, even if he had thought out of his mind, he had never thought that this middle-aged man, a guy who usually acted like his pet dog, would one day dare to swing his fist and hit himself.

This made him angry and even more a little baffled, he couldn't figure out what was going on with this guy.

The middle-aged man, however, laughed unconcernedly, 'Beating you? I've had enough of you these days, little bastard. I was only obedient to you because I was begging you. I think you're the one looking for death!'

Hearing those words from the middle-aged man, Chu Yuan suddenly came to a sudden realization.

This guy had just heard the phone call between himself and his father, and knew that his family had been kicked out of the City South project, so now his original form was revealed.

Sure enough, this kind of people change their faces really fast, just like turning over a book.

‘Damn, good, you said this, then you don’t blame me!’ Chu Yuan said sinisterly, ‘Hmph, if our Chu family is kicked out of the City South project, then you don’t want to get in either, hmph, and don’t you think it’s a bit premature for you to turn against me now? Even if you don’t get into the City South project, my Chu family is still a first-class family in Chu River, don’t you dare to offend me, aren’t you afraid that I will break your family?’

If it was possible, Chu Yuan would hate to kill this guy right now.

This kind of wallflower who saw the wind and the rudder was often more disgusting and annoying than the kind of person who had a deep hatred with them.

The first second he was smiling and laughing with you, but the next second he was stabbing you with a knife, for this kind of person, even if he was killed a hundred times, he would not feel sorry.

Chu Yuan thought this in his heart and was ready to do so, he was already prepared, he would start using his own connections later and clean up the next middle-aged man first.

This is called killing the chicken to make an example of the monkey, to set an example for others, to see who would dare to watch their Chu family in trouble and come up to kick them again in the future.

Only Chu Yuan’s threat was, in the middle-aged man’s opinion, simply a bit ridiculous, and he even had a look of shame and laughter on his face.

‘Come on, don’t dream about it.’ The middle-aged man scoffed, ‘Don’t think I don’t know, your Chu family has long pressed its entire fortune into the south of the city project, now that you’ve been kicked out, it’s simply a bloodbath, not to mention the money lost, now your Chu family’s books are on the verge of running out of even the most basic liquidity, it’s basically a matter of minutes before the capital chain breaks, by then your Chu family I’ll see if you can still be arrogant then!’

The middle-aged man’s words tightened Chu Yuan’s heart.

He was a member of the Chu family, and he knew the current state of the Chu family better than anyone else, and he gritted his teeth, for what the middle-aged man said was completely correct.

‘Damn, it seems that this dog has mapped out everything up and down our Chu family during the time he has been close to me!’ Chu Yuan could not help but sigh in his heart.

But even so, he would not concede, and then he said, ‘Do you think that because you have the details of our family, you can conclude that our Chu family is dead this time? You think that because you have the details of our family, you can conclude that our family is dead this time? Even if we don’t have any money on our books, when the time comes, as long as my father goes out and says so, it won’t be a problem to get a few tens of millions. You’re so naive!’

Chu Yuan continued, 'You can be as naive as you like, don't worry, I've already remembered you, you wait for me, as soon as my Chu family gets over the immediate difficulties, I promise, let you and your bullsh*t company, completely disappear from Chu River!'
