In Love, Never Say Never Chapter 1731

Chapter 1731 Betrayed

Anyway, I was not as noble as Joseph.

“How dare you try to shift the blame to the innocent? You were the one who slapped Joseph three times. Chanaea is a place of law. Do you really think you can bend the truth as you want?”

Rebecca displayed a cold smile. “Sue me then. Come on!”

Her rogue face awakened my profession as a lawyer. My mind thought about whether to use the labor law or the personal safety protection regulations to file a lawsuit against her. Yet, in the end, I could only stare at her helplessly.

Indeed, she got the point. Without Joseph’s cooperation, there was nothing I could do.

Noticing that, Rebecca continued to provoke fearlessly. “Why? Are you afraid? I thought you were a talented lawyer, but you’re just a woman who relies on men. There’s not much difference between you and me. At least, I will own up to it. How about you? You acted like you were a kind and independent woman, but all facts are to the contrary. You’re a bloody hypocrite! You...”

“Enough.” Ashton’s voice put the whole room into dead silence. Rebecca indignantly swallowed back her words.

The atmosphere in the corridor turned extremely tense. A while later, Ashton broke the silence again.

He shifted his gaze toward Joseph, who was waiting for his order. "Go to the HR department for the transfer procedure. You will go to the branch office in Smealand today."

Joseph kept silent for a while, but he did not rebuke. "Okay."

Is that how Ashton treats a partner who worked for the company for over ten years? Joseph is the victim here. How could Ashton cast him out only to please Rebecca? This is absurd!

I could not bear to see Joseph getting mistreated. "No way. I'm afraid I have to disagree with this. Joseph is not going anywhere. He will stay here in K City! Ashton, are you out of your mind? I know you feel that you owe Rebecca, but Joseph is innocent. How could you make him pay for what you did? And do you know how unreasonable Rebecca was just now..."

Ashton did not let me finish my sentence. "It's included in his salary."

He looked me in the eyes and repeated to make sure I heard it. "I pay him a high salary. With that, I buy not only his working ability but also his pride."

I could not believe those words came out of Ashton's mouth.

Use the money to buy someone's pride? How could he say such a thing? He's changed totally. I can't believe this is part of his plan. He keeps letting me down.

Noticing my expression, Rebecca clapped her hands in rejoice. "Bravo. That's indeed the man I used to like. Compared to me doing it myself, it's more exciting to watch you teaching them a lesson for me! Hahaha..."

What a lunatic!

Just then, Nora, who had been keeping silent, suddenly walked up to me. She pretended to tidy my hair as she whispered to me. "If I were you, I won't stay here any longer. Do you know what status we are now? We're the shareholders of Fuller Corporation. That's right. Nat and I are now the big shareholders. We've bought your shares!"

I narrowed my eyes, trying to recall if I had recently signed any crucial documents. "That's impossible. Without my signature, Ashton has no right to access our shared assets."

In Love, Never Say Never Chapter 1732

Chapter 1732 I Am The Clown

Nora's smile grew wider upon hearing that. "You're right if we're talking about shared assets. But did you forget? You're dead once. So all those shares were automatically transferred to Ashton's name. And now Ashton has given them to Nat. You didn't see this coming, did you? Scarlett, how does it feel to be betrayed by your loved ones?"

I did not need to ask Ashton anything as his gaze had revealed everything.

I would be lying if I said I was not shocked by this. In fact, the shock was so intense that my heart went numb.

Since the day I woke up, the only identity verification I had done was the card that Marcus gave me. As for the procedures such as share inheritance mentioned by Nora, they did not go through formal legal processes. I just assumed them to be valid.

First, as troubles kept happening since then, I did not manage to find the time. Secondly, as I was finally able to reunite with my family, I spent all the time hanging out with them. Plus, Ashton and I did not care much about wealth and money. I never expected my carelessness would lead to such a big catastrophe.

Without capital, Ashton's absurdity could still be limited. However, with Fuller Corporation's support, his deeds might bring him at least twenty years in prison.

If this is a show, I'm the only clown on the stage.

At that moment, all I knew was if I lost my calm like a clown, I would be playing right into Nathaniel's game.

Casting a cold look at Nathaniel, I bit my lip and forced myself to calm down.

Nathaniel's eyes were filled with excitement as he noticed the turbulences in my heart. It was as if his favorite drama had finally started, and he could not wait to watch the following plot.

"Nora, come here." He acted like an innocent gentleman as he uttered casually, "Please don't treat me with hostility. I merely gave my suggestion. I didn't expect Ashton to be so outstanding. I've told you he is talented in this."

I did not respond to Nathaniel as I stared at Ashton calmly, hoping to find a slight clue that he was being forced to do what he did.

Nevertheless, all I got was a cold response.

"Fuller Corporation has always belonged to the Fullers, so I have the ultimate right. The financial support for you and the kids won't be affected at all. The whole family will still be the same."

I sneered as deep sorrow filled my heart. "Family? The head of the family is moving toward death. Do you think we still have a family?"

Ashton lowered his eyes with a deadpan look. "I am way smarter than you think."

He meant he was utterly confident of surviving in the grey zone of the law.

Most outlaws had the same mindset like him.

However, he was born a rich kid, and he should not ruin his life like that. Helplessness slowly eroded my whole body as I almost lost my balance.

Just when Rebecca was about to interrupt, Ashton ended the conversation abruptly. "Please send Mrs. Fuller back."

He was talking to Joseph.

Rebecca immediately expressed her dissatisfaction. "No. He's coming with me today."

Ashton cast a look before telling Rebecca. "I'll go with you."

Everyone was stunned momentarily by his gesture. Rebecca shrugged her shoulders. "I don't mind it."

Upon saying that, she grabbed Ashton's tie and walked toward the elevator boastfully. "Let's go."

With that, they disappeared from everyone's sight.

A few seconds later, Rebecca's arrogant voice came from the elevator. "Eunice, what are you waiting for? Come now!"
