The Man's Decree Chapter 435 - 436 ( The Man like none Other chapter 435 - 436 )

Jesse followed him out. Lionel seemed to have aged a decade within seconds. Looking frail, he said miserably, "Please give my room to Mr. Chance. I don't deserve it."

Jesse nodded and conveyed the message to Kai, who gladly accepted the offer and moved into the room at the far end of the hallway.

At nightfall, the streets turned lively.

Kai suggested, "Jesse, why don't you accompany me to roam around this place? Let's see if there's anything interesting."

Jesse nodded vigorously. "Sure, Mr. Chance. I'll bring you to Trader Street. It's a temporary area built to facilitate the trading of special goods between martial artists."

Shortly after, they arrived at the vibrant Trader Street that was filled with an excited buzz.

There were shops selling herbs, medicines, jades, cauldrons, swords, and a wide array of weapons!

As Kai walked around the area, he was disappointed to see that there was nothing impressive. All the goods were regular items that could be easily found elsewhere. He was looking forward to finding a unique spiritual tool that could help him cultivate an ultimate shielding tool for Josephine.

Jesse noticed his downcast face and explained, "Mr. Chance, all the good stuff are usually taken to Herb Palace as soon as they appear. You can't find anything extraordinary here. That's one of the reasons why Herb Palace is organizing this Martial Arts Gathering."

As Kai listened, it suddenly dawned on him that he still has some revitalizing pills. So, he queried, "What are the procedures to sell something here?"

Jesse shook his head “There’s no specific protocol to follow. You just need to find a space and set up a stall.” He then added, “You have something you want to trade, Mr. Chance?”

“Yup, I want to sell some of my revitalizing pills.”

Saying so, Kai spotted a vacant area and occupied it immediately. Then, he whipped out the pills.

Jesse examined the dark-colored pills in Kai’s hands. Feeling dubious about it, he questioned, “What are these pills called, Mr. Chance?”

“Revitalizing pills,” Kai replied casually.

“Oh, I see.” Jesse had not heard of it before.

A subordinate from Herb Palace past them coincidentally and caught the name of the pills. He took a quick glance at Kai subconsciously and left at lightning speed.

Soon, the butler from Herb Palace, Jeremy, rushed over with his subordinate.

Prior to this, Spencer had instructed Jeremy to look for the revitalizing pills. As the latter was busy organizing the Martial Arts Gathering, he did not get a chance to visit Yeringham and Horington. Now that he heard the news about someone selling the pills at Trader Street, he knew he had to go see it for himself.

Jeremy gave Kai a once-over and asked, “Hey, young man, what are these pills called?”

“Revitalizing pills,” Kai answered honestly.

Without saying a word, Jeremy picked one up carefully, smelled it, crushed it into pieces, and then tasted a pinch of it.

Seeing his abrupt actions, Kai furrowed his brows. “How dare you smash my pill into powder before even indicating your desire to buy?”

Jesse swiftly whispered, “Mr. Chance, this is the butler from Herb Palace. It’s highly likely that he will buy everything that you have to offer.”

Hearing so, Kai finally understood his intention and nodded firmly.

After tasting the pill, a sparkle appeared in his eyes. "How much is one of these pills, young man?"

"Two million," Kai answered nonchalantly.

"Okay, deal! I want all of them," Jeremy said decisively. Then, he ordered his man to count the pills. "By the way, young man, can you tell me who cultivated these pills?"

"I did it myself," Kai said proudly.

"You?" Jeremy stared at him in amazement.

"Count them fast and transfer me the funds as soon as possible. I want to head back and get some rest." Kai could not be bothered to convince Jeremy that he made the pills himself.

When Kai was about to leave upon receiving the money, Jeremy called out, "Young man, I wonder if you have some time to make a trip to Herb Palace? The Palace Chief would like to meet you."

Kai hesitated for a while before nodding his head. "Sure!"

It was also his intention to meet the Palace Chief. If we could share a strong bond, I might be able to take advantage of the excellent resources at Herb Palace.

Kai let Jesse return alone while he followed Jeremy back to the palace.

Meanwhile, Spencer was over the moon to know that his subordinate had found the person who knew how to cultivate the revitalizing pills. It's a piece of awesome news to the palace if we could hire him or discover the ways to cultivate the pills.

However, when Spencer met Kai for the first time, he was rather disappointed. He's only in his twenties? Can someone his age cultivate the revitalizing pills? Shouldn't it be an experienced person who has worked on it for decades?

"Palace Chief, he's here," Jeremy reported politely.

Spencer nodded as he scrutinized Kai. "You're the one who cultivated the revitalizing pills?"

Doubts laced his tone of voice. He could not help but remain suspicious. After all, it was very normal for scammers to come up with attractive stories in order to gain access to Herb Palace.

"I can leave now if you don't believe me," Kai uttered placidly and then turned his head to leave.

His response caught Spencer by surprise. Instantly, he stopped him from taking a step further. "Don't mind me thinking out loud, young man. I've never seen such a young alchemy master, that's why. Please, have a seat."

There was no reason for Kai to leave right away. Upon accepting Spencer's apology, he chose to stay.

"Serve us some tea." Spencer gestured at Jeremy.

Smiling, he turned to Kai. "How should I address you, young man?"

"Kai Chance," the lad replied.

As soon as Spencer heard the name, he gaped at Kai in disbelief, and so did Jeremy who overheard it on his way out.

"Are you the one who killed Zachariah?" Spencer wanted to confirm his identity so badly.

"Yes, that's me." Kai was not astonished that they knew who he was.

It would really make his jaw drop if the people from Herb Palace had not heard about it at all since the incident had happened some time ago.

“Hahaha... Wonderful! Impressive!” Spencer let out a hearty guffaw. “Have you received the herbs from an earlier trade with Herb Palace? I commanded them to handpick the most premium ones for my newfound friend.”

“Palace Chief, is your main agenda of bringing me here just to make friends?” Kai grinned.

Spencer chuckled. “Since you asked, Kai, let me be honest with you. I wish to know the method of making the revitalizing pills. Additionally, I’d like to invite you to join Herb Palace if you don’t mind. Once you’re in, not a single soul in Chanaea would mess with you, let alone the whole of Jazona. Feel free to make any requests, and I’ll be sure to fulfill all of them where possible.”

Kai smiled. The Palace Chief of Herb Palace has the audacity to say such a thing? Doesn’t he know that there’s an abundance of capable and talented individuals within the several billions of people in Chanaea? What is a mere Herb Palace?

Yet, he did not refute Spencer.

Looking across at the far end of the hall, Kai said, “I shall present all of my requests to the person who makes the rules here. I’m afraid it’s not your decision to make.”
