The Man's Decree Chapter 437 - 438 (The Man like none Other chapter 437 - 438)

Spencer's entire body stiffened, and his expression turned awkward after following Kai's line of sight to the back of the hall.

"You're a talented man, Kai. It'll be beneficial for you to join Herb Palace," Tristan commented as he came out from the back.

Spencer shot to his feet and stepped away from his seat, offering it to Tristan.

"Mr. Bailey," he greeted respectfully.

Tristan took a seat opposite Kai. With a smile, he said, "Let me introduce myself. I'm Tristan from the Baileys of Jadeborough. You feel like an old friend of mine despite this being the first time I'm meeting you."

Kai smirked, "Would you have sneaked around in the back and hid from me if I were your old friend?"

Kai felt a presence hiding in the back the instant he stepped into the hall. Using his breathing technique, he could sense the latter's internal energy had already reached the Grandmaster level.

Tristan smiled awkwardly after being pointed out by Kai. "Kai, the reason I didn't show myself-

With a wave of his hand, he stopped Tristan's explanation. "You don't have to explain to me. I'm not interested in your reason. I'm here because Herb Palace has the medicinal herbs I need. I'm not planning to join it, but I can give you the prescription for the revitalizing pill. Know that you can't even make it despite having the prescription. So, in exchange for the revitalizing pill, I want the herbs for it."

Tristan frowned at the finality in Kai's words. He thought the latter would be eager to join Herb Palace after he revealed his identity. Everyone knew the Baileys of Jadeborough. It was a fact that one's future was brighter if one had strong support from the Baileys. However, Kai didn't care for that at all.

"Kai, I know you're in a pinch lately. You might have killed Zachariah, but he had a brother, Derek, in Jadeborough. Even though they weren't close, they were blood-related. Derek will surely avenge his brother's death. I also heard the four elders of Crescent Sect had made their moves and headed toward Jazona. I can help you with all of these if you join Herb Palace. You will be under the Baileys' protection," Tristan said, his gaze pinned on Kai.

"I will handle all of these myself. At most, I'll kill anyone who comes at me."

Kai had spoken it in a low tone, but it sounded arrogant to Tristan.

Tristan sneered, "Have you ever heard of arrogance bringing misfortune?"

"If you think I'm arrogant, there's no longer a need for us to discuss."

Kai rose and turned to leave.

"Kai, wait. I want the prescription for the revitalizing pills. Give me a price."

Noting Kai's insistence on not joining Herb Palace, Tristan could only resort to getting his hands on the prescription.

"I've told you it was pointless to give you the prescription. You won't succeed in making it," Kai stated.

"We have plenty of herbologists in Herb Palace, and there aren't any drugs they can't make. Perhaps, you don't have the prescription?"

Spencer challenged Kai after hearing how he belittled Herb Palace on multiple occasions.

"If you insist on the prescription, I can give it to you, but you need to trade it with half of the herbs from Herb Palace," Kai bartered casually.

Tristan and Spencer were initially baffled by his request, then Spencer's temper spiked at Kai's greed.

“Do you know how many herbs there are in Herb Palace? You’re greedy for asking half of it!”

The creases on Tristan’s forehead deepened. “Your revitalizing pills are indeed efficient, and the base cost for it is low, but requesting for half of the herbs from the entire Herb Palace for it is too much. Aren’t you overestimating yourself?”

“What if I add on the prescription for this pill?”

Kai reached for a green pill from his pocket and threw it toward Tristan. Tristan scented a waft of fragrance coming from his hand when he caught the tiny object.

The Man’s Decree Chapter 438 (The Man like none Othere chapter 438)

Spencer’s pupils constricted with surprise when he saw the pill in Tristan’s hand. “Th-This is-”

“This is the boosting pill. It has a stronger effect than the revitalizing pill. Its main function is to boost the internal energy and power of martial artists. It could also heal any internal injury.”

Tristan’s and Spencer’s jaws dropped at Kai’s description.

Kai had created the boosting pill for Phoenix and Tommy, but he left one for himself.

“Were you the one who created this pill?” Tristan asked.

“If you don’t believe me, there’s no need for any further discussion.”

With a wave of his hand, the green-colored pill flew back into his palm.

“Kai, the Baileys are willing to offer ten billion for your prescription. Also, I promise to assist you in dealing with Derek and Crescent Sect. How about it?” Tristan offered sincerely.

"I told you that I will deal with my own problems. I'll only agree to exchange the prescription for herbs." Kai retorted as he shook his head.

Tristan frowned at his rejection. He couldn't decide for over half of the herbs in Herb Palace.

The Baileys had put in their utmost effort to obtain and deliver those valuable herbs to Herb Palace. The herbs' resources were limited, so he was reluctant to lose over half of the herbs to Kai in a blink of an eye.

Then, Kai spun on his heel to leave, seeing no response from Tristan. He had only taken two steps when a group of men poured in from the entrance and surrounded him.

Kai guessed these men had been lying in wait from the start. They wouldn't have barged in if he agreed to Tristan's request.

Kai's expression turned hard as he looked over his shoulder at Tristan. "What is the meaning of this?"

"You should be smart and make the right decision. No one has ever rejected Herb Palace. You can only leave once you hand over the prescription," Spencer answered coldly instead of Tristan.

"So you're planning to steal it from me in broad daylight?" Kai chuckled.

"It doesn't matter how you put it. Hand over the prescription, or else..."

"Or else what?" A fierce glint shone brightly in Kai's eyes as he narrowed them.

Spencer's entire body shivered, feeling the murderous intent within Kai's gaze. After sneaking a peek at the silent Tristan, he threatened, "Or else you'll be gone from this world."

"With just the lot of you?" Kai laughed. His disdain was distinct in his voice when he said, "I changed my mind. I want all the herbs from Herb Palace delivered to my house. Otherwise, I'll annihilate the entire Herb Palace because of your threat."

Kai was looking for an excuse to get his hands on the herbs from Herb Palace.

Since Spencer had so kindly offered it by threatening him, he would gladly accept it.

“Haha! Have you lost your mind, brat? Do you think you’re invincible once you’ve defeated Zachariah? You have a huge ego to think you can annihilate Herb Palace... Hahahaha” Spencer laughed at Kai’s big talk. However, Tristan continued to stay silent with a dark look.

Kai snorted. Without replying, he strode toward the exit.

“Stop him!”

A few men rushed toward Kai under Spencer’s order.

Without halting, a powerful wave emanated from Kai toward those men. They were all pushed backward after meeting head-on with forceful energy.

Rage flowed through Spencer at the sight. “I’ll fight you.”

“Stop!” Tristan shouted.

Spencer stopped in his path and watched as Kai left.

“Mr. Bailey...” Spencer cast a puzzled look at Tristan.

“Let him leave for now. We have better things to do. We’ll deal with him after the Martial Arts Gathering.”

Tristan whirled around and returned to the back.
