The Mans Decree Novel Chapter 889 - 890

Chapter 889 Promise

“General Jackson, why don’t you make the introductions?” Kai said as his glance swept around the room.

Theodore nodded. “Gather around, everyone.”

Upon hearing the order, all the members of the Department of Justice came together and stood at attention, their faces happy and expectant.

“I’m sure you’ve all witnessed Mr. Chance’s strength. He’ll be training everyone from now on and helping you increase your abilities in the shortest time possible.

That said, I’m happy to announce that Mr. Chance is now officially the instructor at the Department of Justice. Everyone is to obey his orders, and if anyone dares defy him, you can leave immediately,” Theodore announced in a stern voice.

“If anyone doesn’t obey Mr. Chance, you’ll have to answer to me too,” Shane chimed in.

“Yes! We’re at your command, Mr. Chance!” the members replied in unison.

Kai’s display of power had already won the hearts of everyone, and even without Theodore’s reminder, no one would dare to defy their new instructor.

“Mr. Chance, why don’t you say a word or two,” Theodore urged.

Kai nodded. “Truth be told, I don’t have much time to spend teaching you guys. You’d still have to rely on your own training. What I can do, however, is write down and share the lessons I’ve learned through my cultivation so it can accelerate your progress. I can also get the Medicine God Sect to send us pills that benefit cultivation. With ample training and supplements, your skills will improve even faster.”

“Pills from the Medicine God Sect?”

Everyone, including Theodore, was stunned.

After all, it was a monumental task to ask for pills from the Medicine God Sect. Many people had tried begging for it, only to be turned down and chased away.

Furthermore, there were more than ten members in the Department of Justice, so why would Medicine God Sect willingly give out that many pills to them?

“Mr. Chance, the pills from Medicine God Sect are expensive and almost impossible to get for us ordinary folks. Besides, we have many members, which means we’d need a significant number of pills. Are you sure that’d be feasible?” Theodore asked while staring at Kai in bewilderment. “Or could it be that you’re on friendly terms with Medicine God Sect, Mr. Chance?”

A smile instantly crept across Kai’s face. “I’m not sure about any friendly terms, but as their lord, I’m sure my words will carry a significant weight.”

“Oh!” Theodore replied before realization struck him and almost reeled him back in shock. “M-Mr. Chance, what did you say? L-Lord? Are you saying you’re the Lord of Medicine God Sect?”

“Why else would I have made such a promise if I wasn’t?”

Kai’s words shocked everyone to the core. He had given them surprise after surprise, and they no longer knew how to react to them.

It was a few minutes before Theodore finally snapped out of his daze, face flushed with excitement.

Oh, my goodness. Who knew Kai had such an impressive status too? Now that he’s the instructor at the Department of Justice, does that mean we’d be able to get our hands on any pills we want?

All of a sudden, a voice rang out. “You’re the best, Mr. Chance!”

Before long, everyone else started chiming in, “You’re the best, Mr. Chance!”

“You’re the best, Mr. Chance!”

Many members ran toward Kai and lifted him into the air as they continued to cheer. They were all so excited that they didn’t know how else to express their emotions.

Theodore, too, stared at Kai with gratitude in his eyes. With Kai joining them, the Department of Justice might finally be able to escape its current embarrassing state and soar to greater heights. Even with the support of the various sects and powerful families, there was no doubt the reputation of the Department of Justice had suffered over the years.

Chapter 890 Connections

Kai spent an entire night writing out a manual for learning techniques and handed them to Shane the next day, urging him to lead the other members in mastering the tips and lessons. With that done, Kai shared his plan of making a trip to Medicine God Sect. Not only could he use the chance to get Axton to cultivate pills for the Department of Justice, but he could also finish formulating the jet melding cream to relieve Tommy and Phoenix’s pain.

After hearing Kai’s plans, Theodore couldn’t help but feel a nagging sense of unease. “Mr. Chance, why don’t I make this trip with you? As you know, many people in Jadeborough have their eyes on you.

I may not be as powerful as you, but I still have my status and reputation. No one will dare lay a hand on me.”

Kai smiled in return. “General Jackson, with the international competition approaching, I think you should stay and watch over the Department of Justice. Don’t worry about me. I’ll be fine on my own.”

“Very well then. But if there’s any trouble, please call me immediately, Mr. Chance. After all, I do still have some connections in Jadeborough.”

Indeed, if it hadn't been for Theodore's connections and ingenious means, he wouldn't have successfully become the general of the Department of Justice in Jadeborough.

"Sure!" Kai replied with a firm nod.

However, just as he was about to leave the Department of Justice, Kai suddenly stopped and turned toward Theodore. "General Jackson, do you know where Shadow Estate is?"

"Are you thinking of going there, Mr. Chance?"

"I'm acquainted with their patriarch, Leviathan Zare, so I thought of dropping by."

As it turned out, Kai had been away from Leviathan for more than a month. But now that he knew Shadow Estate was one of the regiments in Dragon Sect and under his wing, Kai was even more eager to visit and get pills formulated for them too.

Theodore quickly pointed out Shadow Estate's location, which was smack in the middle of a forest on the outskirts of Jadeborough.

Not long after, Kai followed Theodore's directions and arrived at Shadow Estate. The sprawling estate and majestic buildings that greeted him left him in awe. Kai had never thought that Shadow Estate would be so luxurious, and its magnificence only proved that they were no ordinary folks. Ah, no wonder no one dares to offend Colin. He isn't all that powerful, yet people fear him because of Shadow Estate.

Kai walked up to the main door, only to see two Shadow Estate members standing guard outside. They looked stricken with grief, and it didn't long before Kai noticed the black mourning wreath hung on the door.

"What happened here?" he asked, feeling his heart skip a beat.

Da*n it. Something must have happened and resulted in a death. Otherwise, why would there be a mourning wreath, and why would the guards look so crestfallen?

The guards glanced at Kai and suddenly tensed up, drawing their weapons on him. "Who are you? What are you doing here?"

"I'm friends with Mr. Zare. What happened in Shadow Estate?" Kai once again asked worriedly.

"Mr. Zare's friend?" the guard asked dubiously. "If that's the truth, then you would've known about what happened here. Fess up! Are you a spy from the Shalvis family or Thunderstorm Sect?"

Both guards unsheathed their swords immediately after, ready to attack.

"I've already told you that I'm Mr. Zare's friend. If you don't believe it, go ahead and let him know that Kai Chance is here. You can report it to Colin too if you like," Kai hastily explained.

One of the guards gaped at him. "Kai Chance? Y-You're Kai Chance?"

"Yes! I'm Kai Chance!"

"H-Hold on a minute. I'll report this right away..." the guard replied before dashing into the estate.

The guard came back within minutes, except this time, Colin followed behind.
